

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 667: It was Her

Xia Yayun's eyes turned red.

So what if they had captured Yuan Lingyin? Did she not come back alive?! She did not have to be someone's consort either. Was that not great?!

Why did Xia Yayun have to be captured and brought to prison, and people kept coming to humiliate her?!

There were ghouls constantly blowing at Xie Qiao's ears, and there were still quite a number of them hovering up and down.

The criminal division was filthy.

Seeing Xia Yayun's angry face, she thought for a while and said, "Young Lady Xia, think about it carefully. Without Dong Xiyun, what would your life be like? I heard that when you were in the Royal Academy, because Dong Xiyun went against Young Lady Xie, you even made a bet with her. Later, because of Dong Xiyun, you became the aunt of the Dong family by accident. Now, because Dong Xiyun said something bad to you, you did this to Young Lady Yuan..."

"Young Lady Xia, didn't Young Lady Dong make use of your impulsiveness and viciousness to make you teach others a lesson for her?"

"Now that you have become a prisoner, she will still be the Fourth Imperial Concubine. You even... helped her get rid of Yuan Lingyin. Young Lady Yuan is smart and good-looking. She's also naive and likable. Her family background is quite great. She would indeed be a strong rival for her favor."

Xie Qiao had nothing more to say.

This case had already been settled. Even if Xia Yayun tried to bite Dong Xiyun, it would not be of any use.

After all, Dong Xiyun really did not interfere in this matter!

She only whispered a few words into Xia Yayun's ear.

Her hands were clean.

Xia Yayun was stunned.

Xie Qiao left after saying that.

Xia Yayun remained silent for a day before she suddenly snapped and screamed like a maniac. Unfortunately, she would be transferred to the women's prison at the administrative office very soon. It would be impossible for her to see the light of day again in this lifetime.

After taking one wrong step, the rest of her life would be ruined.

Trusting the wrong person can ruin one's life.

Xie Qiao met with Dong Yiyun and Yuan Lingyin and explained the situation clearly to them in front of the ghouls.

Yuan Lingyin's biological mother sighed. "I didn't expect it to be that young lady... In the future, my daughter will marry somewhere else and have nothing to do with her. I can finally rest in peace."

Otherwise, how could her daughter fight against such a scheming and terrifying young lady?

Dong Yiyun was trembling with anger. She was too ashamed to see her good friend.

How could she have such an eldest sister?!

When had she ever slandered Xia Yayun?!

Although she had indeed refused to meet and play with Xia Yayun, was it unreasonable?

Xia Yayun was her aunt and her status was awkward. How could she play with the unwed young lady?!

Dong Yiyun recalled many things that had happened since she was young. Now, it was as if her mind had been enlightened and she suddenly realized things now.

Back then, she had told her eldest sister that Xie Pinggang had saved her from the kidnappers.

Not long after, news spread that Xie Pinggang had failed in pursuing her eldest sister and had almost used force. At that time, she was really heartbroken.

Also, there were many times they had taken a fancy to the same food, clothes and items, and... they would always end up in her eldest sister's hands.

She had thought that she was just a petty person, but she had never thought that she was vicious.

In the past, she thought that she would try her best to avoid conflict with her sister. She was really... too foolish!

The two young young ladies were greatly shocked.

As for Xie Qiao, she put away the ghouls and sent it back to the Fortune Pavilion.

Now that the culprit had been found, the Hou family of Nan'an felt even more grateful to the Crown Prince.

This case should not have been handled by the criminal division.

It was the Crown Prince who got intel and brought the people of the criminal division to save his daughter in time. No matter what, he would never forget the favor..
