

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 759: Not Him

The maid servants rushed in to take a look. All they saw was that the second young lady, Dong Yiyun, looked as if she had been raped!

The screams almost woke everyone in the Dong family up.

An hour later, the room was filled with cries. Madam Dong was holding her stepdaughter in her arms, and her heart ached terribly. Dong Yiyun had also woken up. She did not feel anything, but...

She was dumbfounded by what happened.

“Are you going to tell me or not?! Who exactly is the adulterer?! He’s simply audacious, daring to barge into the residence and do such... shameless things!” Master Dong could not contain his anger.

“I didn’t...” Dong Yiyun shook her head. “Father, I don’t know anything... You’re lying to me, right? How could I... Impossible!”

“When will you be as sensible as your sister!” Master Dong was so angry that he was trembling. “If you don’t tell me the truth, I’ll poison you to death with a cup of poisonous wine so that you won’t embarrass your sister!”

Dong Yiyun’s eyes were also red with anger.

She did not do anything, why did they not believe her?!

Moreover, there was a thief in her house, and she was raped. Why did her father not investigate it for her?!

“Father, don’t talk about my sister like that. She didn’t want that to happen either. P-Perhaps that man was too aggressive. She didn’t dare to resist...” Dong Xiyun stood forward.

Madam Dong’s eyes were filled with resentment as she looked at her nominal eldest daughter.

Although her second daughter was not her biological daughter, she was raised by her. Her personality was simple and she was not as well-rounded as her sister, Xiyun!

“Do you... know who that man is?!” Master Dong tried hard to suppress his anger in front of his eldest daughter.

“I-I’m not sure...” Dong Xiyun looked worried.

“It’s you who harmed me! Was it you? I’m your biological sister, remember?! Why do you torture me over and over again?!” Hearing her sister’s words, how could Dong Yiyun not understand?

She was not sure?! What was she talking about?!

Dong Xiyun’s face was filled with sadness. “Sister, I’m not trying to set you up. It’s just that I won’t be able to hide it after something like this has happened. There were so many maid servants and grannies in the courtyard who had heard it. If someone were to spread it, wouldn’t your reputation be ruined? Why don’t you... confess and get married openly? It’s better than... sneaking around secretly...”

Dong Yiyun was so angry that she wanted to kill someone!

It was her fault, her fault for being too naive!

She thought her sister would change. Even when the Fourth Prince came over to ask her sister about her preferences and even said that her sister seemed to be particularly concerned about Young Lady Xie, she tried her best to put in a good word for her. She was wrong. She should not have been so foolish and let others plot against her for nothing!

However, she could not understand. This was her biological sister. Why did she wish for her to die?!

“Who is it?!”

“Father, didn’t I say earlier that my sister likes First Young Master Xie? I think there are quite a few guards in our residence. The only one who can come and go without a trace and even use such dirty tricks like sleeping incense, perhaps... it was that bandit...” Dong Xiyun said hesitantly.

Dong Yiyun felt as if her brain was about to explode. “It’s not him! “There’s no one. I didn’t commit adultery with anyone. It’s my sister who’s spouting nonsense and harming me! Mother, he saved me twice. He’s not a bandit! It’s my sister who’s framing me. I’ve never crossed the line in any way...”

She cried, but she was mad.

She wanted to calm down, but she could not.

In comparison, it was as if one of them had been exposed and the other could not bear to continue covering up.

Madam Dong trusted her second daughter, but she would not be the one who could call the shots for this kind of thing, while Master Dong firmly believed what Dong Xiyun said..
