

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 788: She's Done For

Dong Xiyun was really scared, but she did not understand what was happening to her. Was she frightened by what that witch said?

That was why she could see this illusion!

"Young Lady, what are you talking about? Who followed you? Y-You should get on the carriage..." The coachman was so anxious that he stomped his feet.

So many people were watching!

"Y-You should pester him! His skin is rough and his flesh is thick. You know me. I-I'm timid. I'm scared. Leave, Sister. Can you leave? I beg you!" Dong Xiyun begged.

However, the current Dong Yiyun was no longer the person she was when she was alive.

She was still the same person, but with resentment, she was no longer as naive as before.

Even when she saw the fear and nervousness on the face of the person she hated, she could not help but feel a little excited inside.

Her slender fingers poked Dong Yiyun's face.

As it was Dong Yiyun's spirit, her fingers directly penetrated, and then she laughed out loud.

The voice of a ghoulish was slightly different from that of a living person.

They did not have a physical body, so the voice was a little ethereal and seemed very unreal.

Initially, Dong Xiyun would not have heard it, but with Xie Qiao's talisman water, she could clearly hear her sister's excited cry.

The sun was setting, and the people in the market were ready to leave.

There were still many people on the street.

They walked past her and pointed at her.

"Oh my, I don't know what's wrong with this young lady. She looks fine, but why did she go crazy..." A lady pointed at her and smacked her lips, revealing a complicated expression.

Perhaps the voice was too ear-piercing, so Dong Xiyun could not help but look over.

However, the moment she looked to the side, she was so frightened that her legs trembled. She only felt that something had entered from the bottom of her trousers.

It was wet.

It was over. She was done for.

However, at this moment, she could not think too much as she saw many things. Some were floating in the air, and some passed through people's bodies. Those ghouls were all kinds of things. There were all kinds of them!

Especially not far from her, there was a ghoul crawling on the ground. His intestines were all over the ground. As he crawled, the bloody wound was dragged over.

As the ghoul crawled, suddenly, the head of a ghoul beside him dropped and rolled. It reached Dong Xiyun's foot.

The headless body hovered over and stood in front of Dong Xiyun. He picked up his head and grimaced. "You... can see my head..."

"You can see us..."

"She came out of the Fortune Pavilion, right? She has the smell of the Fortune Pavilion. She's the one who was cursed by the master!"

Legend had it that the master of Fortune Pavilion had once frightened a person, causing many ghouls to follow that person, scaring him to the point of madness!

The master had even used cow's tears to smudge another couple's eyes, but she had given the couple talismans to protect them!

This living person in front of them...

She did not have a talisman on her, so she was not the master's customer!

So, they could tease her!

The dead were much more bored than the living. They were excited now that a person who could see them but could not resist them had suddenly appeared.

Almost instantly, all the ghouls on the street crowded over!

Dong Xiyun was so scared that she was trembling. Her mouth unconsciously opened a little, but an eye was stuffed into her mouth just like that!

She kept vomiting and could not help but shed tears.

The ground under her feet was wet and looked too attention-seeking.

The coachman was so scared that he started to drag the young lady into the carriage.

The young lady had lost a lot of dignity.. He had to bring her home quickly!
