

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 802: She Belongs to Nobody

Even though Master Dong was old and his state of mind was still strong, he could not withstand the repeated blows in a single day!

How could this concubine of his have an affair with someone else?!

He turned around and glared at her fiercely.

“Nonsense! I didn’t!” Aunt Dan shouted hurriedly, a little flustered and exasperated.

When she was young, she was somewhat insensible. She had been seduced by the servant’s looks and sweet words and had done some things that she did not expect herself to do.

It had only happened once.

Who knew she was seen. At that time, she was scared out of her wits and was afraid that she would be hung by a rope. She acted impulsively.

After she reacted, she wanted to save the person!

However, she was afraid.

She was afraid that when her younger brother would complain to her mother, she would really be finished.

She ran away ruthlessly. Later on, she found an excuse to get her aunt to send away the servant and gave him money. That person did not dare to ask for more and was also afraid that the master family would be angry, so he left directly.

After so many years, she thought that no one would ever mention this matter again. Unexpectedly...

Master Dong immediately asked the steward to get a granny to tie up Aunt Dan!

This matter was not something that he could handle. He had always maintained a good relationship with his ex-father-in-law. Now, he had to inform him about this matter.

Aunt Dan did not even have the chance to resist before she was dragged away and locked up.

After avenging this little ghoul, Xie Qiao successfully took in another one.

The matter was finally done.

The people of the criminal division took the witnesses and evidence as well as Dong Xiyun with them.

They stuffed them directly into the prison cart and wandered across the city.

In the past, the criminal division usually caught people with vicious appearances. Now, it was a young lady dressed in silk. The moment the prison cart appeared in front of people, it attracted attention. Many people were curious about what crime this person had committed.

As Dong Xiyun had not been to the academy recently, Qi Huai was worried.

He thought about what had happened at the criminal division yesterday, so he came here early in the morning to take a look.

However, he saw the person he was thinking about in the prison cart.

He was greatly shocked.

“What crime did such a young girl commit?”

“I heard that she killed her own sister! She’s really vicious. She harms her sister from the same mother. She’s simply a hungry wolf that eats without spitting the bones!”

“She’s even a lady from an official family...”

“...”

Every word entered Qi Huai’s ears.

After hesitating for a moment, he actually turned around and ran away.

Dong Xiyun saw him. The moment she saw him, she was a little touched. She even wanted to say a few words to him. After all, he was the only one who would still look her in the eye after falling into such a state...

However, she did not expect Qi Huai to run away.

Before he left, she saw the shock and disgust in his eyes clearly!

She laughed sarcastically.

In the past, everyone envied her.

They said that the Fourth Prince had such an amazing sweetheart like her, and that she had such an outstanding confidant like Qi Huai behind her. However, now, she belonged to nobody.

They were all fake. These people gave up on her and abandoned her!

After she finished laughing, her expression gradually turned gloomy. When the children on the streets saw that, they could not help but jump into their parents' arms in fear.

If one really committed a crime after entering the criminal division, they would not be able to get out.

After all, Dong Xiyun was a delicate lady. She had never been to such a terrifying place before.

Inside the prison, she could hear screams, which were even more terrifying than the screams of ghouls. They rushed into her ears and were unforgettable!

“Let me out! Let me out! I don't want to stay in this d*mn place!” Her heart was trembling. The moment she stepped into the prison, she rushed to shout at the prison guard..
