

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 941: Old Fool

Xie Qiao was just making a casual guess.

This fortune-telling, after all, relied on 30% calculation, 30% contrast, and the rest was based on guesses. Not to mention...

She had actually come here yesterday and secretly sized up the surroundings.

This old fraud would come here every morning, When he had nothing to do, he would wander around. When he saw the boys playing on the street, he would become very kind. Yesterday, he even helped a little boy who had fallen down. He bought a piece of tanghulu for the boy and said, 'Daddy will buy it for you!"

Due to that, no woman had ever scolded him for being shameless.

Therefore... She suspected that this old man had a son who died. When he met those children, he could not help but miss him. She could not tell that from his face clearly. It must have been a long time ago.

At this moment, she did a good job of swindling.

'When Xie Qiao mentioned *son', the fraud's expression changed.

Xie Qiao had an unfathomable look on her face. "How is it? Is this penniless master accurate? I can figure out where your calamity came from. You've killed people before, and there were more than one. Even if you did not do it yourself, it must have been because of your mouth. Now that the evil debts have accumulated, your old age will definitely be bleak. All the disasters will come, and you won't have a good ending."

These words were half true and half false.

However, they were mostly true.

This was a professional fraud. It was common to deceive people and harm others. It was inevitable that some people would die after being deceived, just like that little girl. Although he did not kill her personally, she died because of him.

She had just made a divination and could calculate some things. This old fraud would have some disasters in the next few days, and blood would be shed.

Of course, these minor disasters were nothing at all. Almost everyone's luck would fluctuate a little every once in a while. As long as they did not hurt their family and did not interfere with their lives, it would not be a big deal. They could just bear with it.

However, now, these minor disasters could be used to deceive people.

At this moment, this fraud looked terrible. He was even a little angry.

He had said all these things in the past, but now that Xie Qiao was the one who told his fortune, he could not help but feel angry when he heard it.

“Even if you say these things, I won’t be scared. Don’t you just want to swindle money from me? I know this method very well!” The old fraud was still quite firm.

Xie Qiao smiled slightly. “This penniless master is the sole heir of the Water Moon Temple, and my name is well-known in the capital. I’m different from a fraud like you. Since I’ve opened my mouth, I definitely won’t lie casually. If you don’t believe me... take note of what happens these few days. This penniless master dares to say that you will definitely have money and physical losses.

“This penniless master is fated to meet you. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have said so much to you. I even wanted to give you some silver. If you have thought it through, go to the largest house on Ruyi Street and look for me,” Xie Qiao said. After she finished speaking, she stood up and was about to leave, however, just as she stood up, she seemed to have thought of something. She said again, “Do you know that when a father sins, it involves the children as well? You have a heavy debt of sin. Your son will not have an easy time either.”

After saying that, Xie Qiao left, not forgetting to leave the small piece of silver there.

The old fraud’s face trembled a few times, and his expression was complicated.

Jiang Jinlu hurriedly followed.

After walking a few steps away, he hesitated and said, “Senior Sister... Why did you use his son to deceive him? Although this person is a fraud, isn’t mentioning his son like adding salt to the wound? It’s not very... moral.”

Moreover, he could not understand.

His senior sister said that this fraud was her fated person, and she even gave him silver.. What was the reason for that?
