

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 995 Would Not Hit People in the Face

Xie Pinggang was quite happy that Yu Xian had paid attention. "Master Yu, with your ability, if you were a few years older, we would have made a lot of military merits when we fought the barbarians together. It's a pity that you're not a man. Otherwise, we would have become sworn brothers!"

"So what if I'm a woman? From now on, you'll be my big brother!" Yu Xian also laughed heartily.

"No, you can be my brother, but I'd rather you not be my sister." Xie Pinggang was silent for a moment. "My father doesn't make much money, and our family business is small. I still have a younger brother and two sisters who have yet to settle down. Right now, only my eldest sister's dowry is left, and I'm almost out of money. If I have another sister, I won't be able to afford the dowry."

He was not from a poor family. There were people who sold their daughters and sisters to save up for their family business.

He could not afford to lose a sister.

The betrothal gifts and dowry had to go with his sister. After all, she was marrying into the imperial family, and he needed to spend a lot of money!

“That makes sense.” Yu Xian nodded. She felt that Xie Pinggang was really a good brother.

“I think that my useless younger brother will have to settle down after 20, and my younger sister will have to wait until 18 to discuss marriage. In that case, I still have a few years to catch my breath. When my eldest sister marries the Crown Prince and has a firm footing, I’ll think of a way to dig out the money from her hands. It’ll be the same...”

Yu Xian silently retracted her thoughts.

While they were talking, the two of them found a piece of paper and signed a contract.

That was not enough. Xie Pinggang even dragged Yu Xian into a spar.

Yu Xian had something on her mind and could not perform well. She was punched in the face, and not long after, half of her face was swollen.

When the steward saw Master Yu’s pitiful look, he could not help but feel sorry for her.

How was she here to be a martial arts master? She was clearly here to be a sparring partner.

She was such a nice woman, why did she have to do that?

She was beaten to such a state by such an unscrupulous thug, yet she still did not know how to show weakness and cry a little bit. She even exaggerated that the young master was doing well?! His fist technique had improved?!

Sigh. Although Master Yu had beaten the young master in the past and this was the first time she had been beaten, he still felt that Master Yu's small arms and legs were powerful...

Xie Pinggang did not care at first.

He had already beaten her up, it was not intentional.

When these two people sparred in martial arts, it was inevitable that they would be injured. Therefore, seeing that her face was injured, Xie Pinggang only bring the ointment for external injuries.

However, after a while, she finished applying the wound and came out. Xie Pinggang's emotions were complicated.

Master Yu's skin was really tender.

He was usually knocked around, and even if he was bruised, it would not stand out. However, this Master Yu had only been punched by him. Half of her face was bruised and swollen, and she looked very miserable.

She was a woman.

it was the first time Xie Pinggang had such an understanding. He was silent for a while.

He thought in the future... he would not hit people in the face.

it was not right. The bones in a woman's body were soft and thin, and they could not be hammered. The chest... No, the stomach... It was related to a woman's fertility. He could not hit that. Now that he thought about it, this person could not be touched?

Thinking of this, Xie Pinggang became depressed.

Yu Xian did not know what he was thinking. When she saw that he was listless, she thought that he was feeling guilty that he had hit her too hard.

"It's just a small injury. When I was in Dong'an, I was beaten up terribly. I didn't even make a sound. Your fist is not nothing. I was just careless this time. After I rest, I will definitely not lose." Yu Xian stood on her tiptoes, she patted Xie Pinggang's shoulder and said, "You really don't have to worry. It's nothing serious!"

Xie Pinggang kept mumbling.

He felt uncomfortable in his heart.

It was not easy to find an expert who could fight comfortably, and now it was not easy to learn from her?.
