

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 4019 -

“stop!”

Just as the two sides were preparing to fight, an old voice exploded in everyone’s ears.

Immediately after, a figure flew like lightning, and just came between the guards of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce and Levi Garrison and others.

Levi Garrison looked at the prestige, and saw that the visitor was an old man with red hair.

“See the president!”

The guards said respectfully in unison.

The red-haired old man waved his hand, and the guards straightened up again, glaring at Levi Garrison and the others.

“Can the little friend show the old man the weapon in his hand?”

The red-haired old man asked with a smile.

Everyone was a little confused when they heard the words, so they all looked at the red-haired old man in doubt.

Levi Garrison was also a little puzzled, but he could feel that the red-haired old man was not hostile.

“Can!”

Levi Garrison did not refuse, and threw the sword in his hand.

The red-haired old man caught it steadily, and carefully observed it with burning eyes.

Everyone saw that the expression on the old man’s face changed from shock to joy.

“Sure enough, it is a rare peerless weapon!”

The red-haired old man couldn’t help but sighed.

Peerless Divine Soldier?

Everyone in the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce shouted in surprise, and invariably turned their attention to the sword in the hands of the red-haired old man.

“You all step back, don’t bump into the distinguished guests.”

The red-haired old man waved at the guards with a clear reprimand in his tone.

Then he turned his head to look at Levi Garrison, and said very gently, “I wonder if my little friend can come to the hall for a chat?”

“Can!”

Levi Garrison agreed immediately.

Murong Qingxue let out a long sigh. The tension with the sword just now scared her a lot.

Gongsun Yueying was a little disappointed. If she had just fought a double battle, she would have taken the opportunity to escape.

Levi Garrison and others followed the red-haired old man into the welcoming living room.

After some innocuous greetings, Levi Garrison learned that the red-haired old man’s name was Wei Shuyang, and he was the chairman of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce in Longyang City.

Wei Shuyang turned and asked, “Would Mr. Ye be willing to use these three weapons as bargaining chips in exchange for Tianxing Iron, Fire Gold, etc.?”

“sure.”

Levi Garrison agreed without any hesitation.

Although Levi Garrison is not afraid of a head-on conflict with the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce, he does not mind ending the problem by peaceful means.

What’s more, the serious peerless magic weapon in Wei Shuyang was just forged by him.

Even with the background of the Xingyue Divine Sect, a sword of this level can still forge a lot of finished products.

Seeing Levi Garrison agree so happily, Wei Shuyang was quite surprised, but it also confirmed his speculation.

“Mr. Ye, all the materials you requested are here.”

“As for these, I gave them away in the name of the Chamber of Commerce.”

Wei Shuyang said with a smile.

Tianxing iron, fire gold, and dragon stone were neatly arranged in front of them, and they were even much higher than what Levi Garrison had requested.

Coupled with the gift of many high-quality natural materials and earth treasures, this transaction Levi Garrison can be regarded as a fruitful harvest.

“By the way, this is an exclusive seal of the Intermediate Taiyi Chamber of Commerce. Please accept it from Mr. Ye.”

Wei Shuyang said solemnly.

Levi Garrison produced the seal and found that it was carved from top-level dragon vein spirit crystals.

Gold borders are inlaid around it, and a yin and yang fish pattern is printed on the middle part, which is extremely delicate.

Levi Garrison asked curiously, “What is the use of this seal?”

“Mr. Ye, this is the exclusive seal of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce. With this seal, you can enjoy discounts in any branch transactions of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce! It is a distinguished guest of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce!”

“And the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce has a protection mechanism for seal holders, and they can seek protection from the powerful Taiyi God group at any location.”

Wei Shuyang explained patiently.

“Seeking protection?”

The corners of Levi Garrison’s mouth rose slightly, where else did he need protection?

But driven by curiosity, I couldn’t help but ask: “Show the seal, what level of protection can the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce provide?”

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 4020 -

“Mr. Ye, please listen to me in detail.”

Next, Wei Shuyang introduced the protection mechanism of Taiyi Chamber of Commerce in detail.

Levi Garrison only learned the details. It turned out that there was a force protection organization under the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce called Taiyi God Group.

The masters in the Taiyi God group are like clouds, and it seems that the weakest ones are probably the elders of the large sects.

This seal in Levi Garrison’s hand can be protected by a strong Taiyi God group.

The seal hierarchy of Taiyi Chamber of Commerce is strict.

The different colors on the edge of the seal represent the level of grade, from top to bottom, there are six grades of black, purple, gold, silver, copper and iron.

The edge of Levi Garrison’s seal is inlaid with gold borders, which represents the golden color and can be ranked in the middle of the seal.

In other words, the higher the color level of the seal, the greater the power that can be exercised in the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce, and the income obtained will also be greatly increased.

If you have a high-level black and purple seal, you can even get the protection of dozens or even hundreds of Taiyi God group powerhouses.

That is unimaginable!

It even walked sideways throughout the Kunlun Ruins!

At the same time, all the top resources of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce will take priority over its transactions, after all, the chips required are also the most preferential.

“President Wei, how did you get these high-level seals?”

Levi Garrison asked curiously.

If you can get the black and purple seal of the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce, then it is equivalent to an extra powerful ally.

If you want to gain a foothold in the Kunlun Ruins in the true sense, relying on your own strength is not enough.

It is precisely because of this that Levi Garrison used his powerful combat power to occupy the magpie's nest to control the Xingyue Divine Sect.

However, in the vast Kunlun Ruins, it is not a long-term solution to take a sect of this level as the foundation.

Especially now that they have offended a large sect like the Sun Moon Divine Fire Hall, the middle sect is even less important.

Wei Shuyang said with a smile: "The value of the items traded with the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce reaches a certain amount, or they are enough contributors to the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce.

Also, those with high status will receive higher-level seals. "

"Just like Mr. Ye's level of peerless magic, as many as we have in Taiyi Chamber of Commerce."

"I see!"

Levi Garrison suddenly realized that Wei Shuyang's implication was to let himself do more transactions with the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce.

Wei Shuyang asked tentatively, "Mr. Ye, did you agree?"

"Of course, if there is another peerless weapon in the future, Taiyi Chamber of Commerce will be my preferred trading partner."

Levi Garrison said with certainty.

Wei Shuyang was overjoyed and said with a smile, "It's so good, I look forward to more cooperation with Mr. Ye."

"By the way, President Wei, is there a large dragon vein in the area under the jurisdiction of the Longyang City Taiyi Chamber of Commerce?"

Levi Garrison continued to ask.

Large dragon veins are also a necessity for forging top-level divine weapons.

At the very least, it must reach the level of the dragon veins that were snatched from Tianying Mountain last time, and the forged magic weapon can achieve the expected effect.

"Mr. Ye, I'm really sorry. There are only small dragon veins in Longyang City. I'm afraid it will be difficult to meet your needs."

“As for the large dragon veins, I can send a letter to other Taiyi Chamber of Commerce branches to ask, but even if there is one, it needs to go far away.”

“You must also know that although the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce has many branches, the large dragon veins are generally occupied by top sects. Even if other branches occupy the large dragon veins, the location will definitely be relatively remote.”

Wei Shuyang said a little apologetically.

Levi Garrison was a little disappointed, but he quickly calmed down.

After all, the dragon vein is relatively easy to handle, and it is really impossible to go to the big sect to snatch it.

There is no need to travel so far to the Taiyi Chamber of Commerce branch to find it, it is a waste of time.

“Can President Wei tell you about the clues about the divine bone?” Levi Garrison asked again.
