

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 2748

They have been blindfolded for a long time, let alone a good night's sleep.

Now that the situation is unreliable, they can finally rest assured.

In this situation, the Lab of the Gods is simply too satisfied...

It's slack everywhere, it's just great.

Late at night.

The Leviathan in the special container under the Energy Power Plant of the War Eagle Country began to stir.

According to the time of Doctor Dark's potion, the effect of the medicine was over at this time, and they all regained consciousness.

All aspects are recovering a little bit.

There is not much time to attack.

Although they are restless, the energy and electromagnetic fluctuations that can be emitted are all covered by the energy power station.

The only person who can find anomalies is the personnel of the Warhawk Nation Energy Power Plant, which has the authority of Black Hawk agents.

Even if they find out, they will open one eye and close the other.

Others don't even want to find out.

In this regard, the Gods Laboratory is very relieved.

Except for the war eagle abroad, others don't want to find out.

However, it is impossible to find out if the Eagle Nation is biased.

"Confirm again! Leviathan related devices are all ready! Nothing happens!"

The system has been installed in the special container of Leviathan.

Then all open at the same time.

Through the instructions sent in advance, all Leviathans were led to Daxia and launched a fierce attack on Daxia.

It can be said that everything is ready, just wait for the time to come.

Time passed by every minute and every second.

It's three o'clock in the morning.

There are still three hours.

Everyone in the Lab of the Gods was so nervous that they were sweating coldly.

Even if Mr. X had been drenched with cold sweat long ago.

Too nervous.
