

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 2867

“Yes, we think the commander-in-chief! It is useful at this most critical moment! It will take us to fight the ultimate battle! Instead of retreating and retreating!”

“The enemy we are facing now is not only Daxia’s own business, but also the business of all our coalition forces! You can’t take our losses to buy Daxia time!”

“The commander we want is fairness and justice! It will not be partial because it is a certain country. He will treat each country as his own!”

“You can’t just retreat because of Daxia and dare not fight!”

...

Until now.

Everyone vented all the dissatisfaction in their hearts.

Levi Garrison smiled: “You sincerely don’t recognize me as the commander, do you? You are going the other way, right?”

“But here I have the final say, Levi Garrison! I am the commander in command! You have to listen to me! Even if I give any order, you have to implement it!”

“Once you disobey my order, you are breaking the rules, and I will punish you!”

“Yes! Wrong! The commander is the biggest here, everyone must listen to the commander!”

“But you won’t be the commander-in-chief soon!”

Everyone said.

Levi Garrison frowned: “What do you mean???” He had a foreboding feeling.

This bunch of idiots may be going wrong.

There must be something big.

If the commander is really replaced, then the problem will be big.

Now it seems that these idiots really did it.

“A long time ago, we jointly wrote a letter suggesting the replacement of the commander-in-chief!”

“But we have been watching your performance since then! If you perform well, command you to continue to do it! But again and again we are disappointed!”

“You have always had no good way to face the enemy! You can only retreat and harass blindly! There is no real way! We have all lost ten lines of defense, you still have no way!”

“Then prove that there is absolutely no way for you to go to the Lab of the Gods! In front of absolute power, any conspiracy is useless! You can only do it with real swords and guns!”

...

Everyone said one after another.

It also talked about the replacement of the coach.

“We don’t deny your commanding ability! You made everyone amazed before! But at this critical moment of life and death, you have no choice but to replace you. Change to someone with ability!”

Levi Garrison was anxious, and immediately said: “Everyone believe me, everything is under my control! It’s just that I still need a while! But I can guarantee the least casualties! Try not to harm the vitality of any country!”

“Really, everything is under my control! Anyone who knows me knows that I don’t fight unprepared!”

...

When Levi Garrison said so, many people got loose.

There are not a few people who have dealt with Levi Garrison, and many of them really know Levi Garrison.

Hearing him say this, one by one hesitated.

Believe it or not Levi Garrison?

What if he really has a way?

If he rashly pulls his position as commander-in-chief.

Then the loss can be huge.

“I don’t care if you have a way? I want to ask if you can defend the eleventh line of defense and the seven nations behind you?”

Someone asked directly.

He doesn’t care about so much!

Don’t talk so much!

Who can’t speak big words!

Whether it can solve the current dilemma is the first!

When these words came out, everyone stared at Levi Garrison.

As long as his plan can be kept, everyone still believes in him and follows him.

Levi Garrison shook his head: “Sorry, I can’t keep it! I still need a little bit of time!”

“Therefore, the eleventh line of defense and the seven nations behind you will still have to be abandoned for the time being! But they will be retaken soon!”

The words came out.

Everyone was disappointed.

This kind of crisis.

Everyone can't wait.

This battle must be fought.
