

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 2990

Everyone was scared.

Disasters such as tsunamis and earthquakes have all come everywhere.

Various strange images also began to appear.

Even rays of light similar to aurora appeared in the sky, colorful.

The world has become bizarre.

But the one who can observe the direction of the South Pole is to find that the sky over there is completely black!

The night and the day are clearly distinguished in the naked eye.

And the night seems to be expanding?

This is clear to the naked eye!

not only.

Severe storms and howling, lightning and thunder in the air, and abnormal magnetic fields have led to various situations.

at the same time.

Animals all over the world are starting to flee frantically.

Mainly all wild animals, all running from the deep mountains and forests.

All wild animals that everyone has never seen before.

They are actually already alert.

From the moment the super spirit veins erupted, they were aware of it.

Much faster than people.

At that time they were running.

It's only now that it enters everyone's eyes.

Until this time.

The forces from all sides that took a wait-and-see attitude finally realized that something was wrong.

This is unprecedented horror.

How can earthquakes spread all over the world?

too frightening?

“what!!!”

There were shouts everywhere, and countless people on the street were fleeing.

Are all looking for a refuge.

There are also many people fighting each other.

chaos!

It's messed up everywhere anyway!

Those on the sidelines panicked this time.

Right now there is no preparation...

Even these powerful people don't know where to flee?

You can't stop this posture no matter where you flee!

“Boom...”

The shaking posture of the earth is getting more and more fierce!

The storm is getting stronger and stronger!

Anything that is impacted directly shatters everything.

Who is not afraid of this? ? ?

Cao Zhiguo and his party have been observing at the Atlantis project base.

They really spared their lives to observe.

Because if the “dragon veins” underneath broke out with a little carelessness, they would be the first to be shattered.

Just observed for a long time.

This is nothing at all.

When they arrived, they almost knew about the failure of the interception.

Then the spirit veins will definitely explode.

It's just that there is no movement here.

That can only show that this super spiritual vein is not the same as the super spiritual vein of Antarctica!

“Send the message right away!”

Cao Zhiguo ordered.

Send one by one, send the message out.

...

The message reached Yan Longwei soon after.

At this time, Daxia’s various items are also coming to an end.

They accelerated again and again, plus the time Levi Garrison bought.

Enough for them to finish.

At most one more hour.

All finishing work can be done, and then the entire Daxia can be hidden in a safe island or other hidden place.

All the major allies breathed a sigh of relief when they saw this movement.

Fortunately, I followed Daxia to build a safety island.

Otherwise, now that this catastrophe comes, there is no place to hide.

Not to mention whether the island can stop the catastrophe, but at least there is a place to hide.

Unlike other parties, now knowing that the catastrophe is coming, there is no place to hide.

This is the most desperate! Fortunately!

Everyone has at least half the probability of surviving!

Most people have taken refuge in the safe island.
