

Chapter 1337

Kingston asked Aino, "Princess, where are your parents?"

The little princess said in an adult-like tone, "Ah..."

Kingston smiled. "Little princess, you're so young. Why are you sighing?"

Aino continued sighing. "You don't know, but I used to think that, if my dad had another woman by his side, I would definitely feel bad for my mother, and I would definitely find a way to chase that woman away.

"However, if my mother had another man, I would be very happy."

Kingston said, "Hey! You're really an expert at deception."

Looking at Kingston mocking her like that, Aino was not angry at all.

She continued saying, "However, it's different now, because I know that if there was a woman who was cozying up to my dad, my mother and I wouldn't even need to do anything, My dad would handle it himself.

"So, now I'm not worried about my dad;

"So, now I'm not worried about my dad; instead I'm pitying my dad more and more."

"Hey! So you finally understand your father more. If your dad heard those words, he would definitely be extremely happy."

Before Young Master Ford got there, Kingston talked up a storm with the little princess.

Aino rolled her eyes. "Ah, right now, when I see other men next to my mother, I really pity my dad."

"Do you finally understand your dad?" Kingston asked.

"Yes! Of course! Who asked him to be my dad?!" the little girl groaned.

The way Kingston saw it, the little girl seemed like she really was feeling sentimental.

She might even be able to squeeze out a few tears.

He immediately consoled her, "Don't worry, your parents' relationship is quite good. It doesn't matter if there's a woman next to your father or a man next to your mother; none of them will be able to sway your parents' feelings!"

"Really?" Aino asked

"Really?" Aino asked.

"Most definitely!"

At that moment, Sabrina came out with Sebastian.

When she saw Kingston, Sabrina immediately remembered the conversation she had with Kingston during the day.

She had some things she wanted to ask Kingston, but Sabrina said nothing.

Kingston acted like nothing was up as he looked at Sebastian. "Young Master, you got up late today. I wanted to give you a call, but I was worried that I would disturb you. I came up because the timing is a little tight. Don't forget, you have a new contract..."

Kingston had wanted to mention that the contract was to be signed with Lori, but thinking about Sabrina, Kingston omitted the fact.

Sebastian plainly nodded. "I know."

He looked at Sabrina. "You drive Aino to the kindergarten and head to work after. I need to rush to the company."

Sabrina smiled. "Okay."

Looking at Kingston driving Sebastian away, Sabrina drove Aino to the kindergarten after having breakfast.

Because she was still thinking about Lori, Sabrina deliberately looked around the kindergarten when she arrived. When she did not see Lori, she asked Aino, "Is Jennifer still in your class?"

Aino nodded. "She's still there, but she doesn't seem very happy."

Sabrina prodded her daughter's forehead. "I understand. Let's give her more presents in the future, okay?"

Aino immediately nodded. "Okay, Mom! You're the best!"

Sabrina nodded at her daughter, and motioned for her daughter to enter the classroom.

When she left the kindergarten, Sabrina tried to look around again, and did not see Lori sending her daughter there.

That was strange!

Why had Lori been absent the past few days?

When she talked to the other mothers, they did not seem to have seen Lori either; she seemed to have disappeared.

When she talked to the other mothers, they did not seem to have seen Lori either; she seemed to have disappeared.

Sabrina's heart was a bit anxious, but she did not take it too seriously. She then drove to the company to work.

Sabrina did not like driving that much, so her skills were not the best.

When she slowly arrived at the company, she parked her car. Right as she was about to head upstairs, she received a call.

When she saw an unknown number, she answered, "Hello, who is this?"

On the other end, Lori was incredibly pleased. "Sabrina, guess where I am right now."
