Pregnant With Twins: My CEO's Tricky Love

Chapter 25 Peace Before the Storm

"You mean Georgia seduced Robert and cheated Robert that that child was his daughter?"

Owen nodded.

He stood up and then knelt directly in front of Maisie.

"Ma'am, it is my fault, it is me raised such a wicked daughter. I am sorry."

"Georgia grew up without a mother. She hates me, and she is jealous of Emma. She would take away everything Emma likes. I did not expect the she did that again since she was released from prison, and even wanted to rob Robert. I'm sorry, Ma'am."

Maisie clenched her ten fingers tightly. So the woman worked in the club was Georgia. How could she give birth to Robert's child!

Maisie hated her a lot.

This woman killed her daughter, and now she came to her son!

"Why does Robert believe Georgia's words and believe that the child was his?"

Mother looked at Owen and asked coldly.

"Robert said the paternity test proved that the baby was his. But, who knows if that paternity test has been falsified? I know my daughter well, Ma'am."

"Georgia has been cheating since she was a child. She is very scheming and used to playing tricks. What's more, she had many boyfriends since she studied in middle school. She was not sensible at that time and even had several abortions. Ma'am, I didn't believe my daughter's words, but Robert did and thought Emma had deceived him."

"Otherwise, why Emma got suicide!"

Owen said sadly, looking like a pathetic father.

Maisie's nails almost got into her palm.

"Where is Georgia? I want to see her."

Then she would kick her out.

"Ma'am....."

Owen seemed to feel depressed.

"If I tell you the whereabouts of Georgia, and Robert knows it, the Lane family will be over."

Maisie did not insist. She stood up darkly and then made a call to her secretary.

"Find out Georgia's whereabouts immediately, and the hospital where her daughter is now living."

Maisie waited the news in the hospital. The secretary moved fast. It only took half an hour for the secretary to call back.

"Ma'am, Georgia works in a club as a dealer, and I have sent her address to your mailbox. Her daughter is adopted by a person named Vanessa. Now her daughter is living in the central hospital. The ward is..."

Hearing that, Maisie found that Georgia's daughter was in the hospital when she stayed.

She came to the elevator according to the address the secretary told her.

About five minutes later, Maisie came directly to Annie's ward and opened the door directly.

In the room, Georgia was talking with Annie.

A strange middle-aged woman walked in with cold face. Georgia wondered who she was.

Before she said a word, the middle-aged woman slapped ruthlessly in her face.
"Bitch!"

After that, Maisie looked at the crying girl on the bed.

"This is your daughter. Who is the father?"

Georgia felt her face burning. She was confused about this middle-aged woman's query.

"Who.....Who are you? I have no vendetta against you. Why did you beat me?"

Georgia questioned. Maisie said angrily.
"Who am I?"

"Six years ago, you killed my daughter. Now, you are trying to seduce my son and let him raise your child. Georgia, shame on you. Why did God make you die?"

"I heard your daughter has a heart attack. I think this is what you deserve for all your evil deeds!"

Hearing that, Georgia's eyes suddenly became red.

Annie's illness was the deepest anguish in her heart.

This middle-aged woman was Robert's mother.

"Auntie, I know you have a misunderstanding about me. It is true that Annie is Robert's and my daughter. Robert has done a paternity test. As for the car accident, I wasn't the driver, I was set up..."

Georgia tried to explain.

"Shut up, you are not qualified to call me Auntie!"

Maisie shouted angrily.

She tried to slap her again, but Georgia avoided it, which made Maisie furious.

"Bitch, how dare you quibble! There is evidence from the traffic accident police that you killed my daughter with your car, and now you still want my son to raise the wild child born by you. I will not allow Ivan to operate on your daughter!" With that, Maisie looked at Annie who was crying in the bed.

"And you, your wicked and selfish mother killed my daughter, and now wants to get close to my son. Since you have a heart attack, you should be ready to die! This is the punishment to your mother!"

Georgia was angry. She was going to argue with Maisie, but Annie cried loudly.

Maisie took a hateful look at Georgia and Annie, and then she turned away. Georgia could only tightly embrace Annie and coax her.

"Annie, don't cry, it's my fault. I didn't protect you."

Annie was still crying. Georgia felt that her heart was like bleeding.

She wanted to protect her daughter, but, she still let her get hurt again and again.

"Auntie Georgia... is it true? I.....I am your daughter, and what about my Mom? Am I not my her daughter?"

Annie asked sobbing, which stunned Georgia.

When she argued with Maisie, Maisie said Annie was her daughter.

Georgia did not know how to explain, and Annie did cry louder and louder.

"Annie...You are your Mom's daughter, you are also my daughter, you have two mothers. Annie, don't be afraid, ok?"

Annie did not understand this explanation; she only feared.

"But other children have only one mother. Why do I have two mothers? I only want one mother..."

Annie cried loudly, and even fell asleep crying directly in Georgia's arms.

Georgia was distressed. She always failed to protect her daughter.

Maisie said she would stop Dr. Ivan to have operation on Annie. Flurried, Georgia picked up the mobile phone and made a phone call to Robert.

"What is it? I'm in the office now."

Robert's voice was very gentle, but Georgia could not help but cry.

"Mr. Simpson, your mother has just come to Annie's ward..."

Chapter 26 A Woman Works in a Club

Robert stood up immediately and asked with concern.

"Was Annie frightened?"

"Annie cried to sleep. When I had an argument with your mother, she said that Annie was my daughter, and Annie cried violently."

Georgia tried to maintain calm, but Robert could hear helplessness in her voice.

"Wait at the hospital. I'll be there."

With that, Robert stood up and walked outside. He got the secretary to have the car ready.

Half an hour later, Robert came to the ward.

Annie was still asleep, Robert felt his heart soft looking at Annie.

"Don't worry, I'll talk to my Mom."

With Robert here, Georgia did not feel panic anymore, as if she had someone to rely on.

"Mr. Simpson, your mother knew what I was, and did not believe my explanation. She said she would not let Dr. Ivan operate on Annie. Can you do something about it?"

His mother was paranoid and stubborn, and Robert knew that.

Now, his mother certainly did not believe that Annie was his daughter, but felt everything was Georgia's plot.

"Don't worry, I'll fix it."

Georgia felt relieved gradually.

But she still felt unease.

When they were silent, the door was opened again.

"Georgia... I don't know what Alfred had done, and I can't find a job at all..."

Vanessa spoke sadly to Georgia as soon as she entered the room.

In the middle of her speech, she saw the man standing in the ward.

Feeling embarrassed, Vanessa greeted the man apologetically and then looked at Georgia.

"Sorry, were you chatting? I will go out..."

With that, she turned and walked out of the room.

Georgia was worried about the situation of Vanessa. As she was hesitant to go out or not, Robert said.

"Go talk to your friends. I'll watch the child."

"Thank you."

With that, Georgia walked out of the ward and caught up with Vanessa who was ready to take the elevator.

"Vanessa, you said that you couldn't find a job. What was going on? What did Alfred do?"

Georgia took Vanessa's arm and asked with concern.

Vanessa felt afflictive, and leaned on Georgia's shoulder and burst into tears.

"Georgia, you know, my major is clothing design. After I got fired by Alfred yesterday, I submitted my resume to many design companies, originally, I had several interview today."

"But today they all called and told me I don't need to take the interviews. I asked one of the companies and found out that they had been told that I wasn't allowed to be accepted. I thought it over and over, and it must be Alfred who did this, and he was getting back at me..."

Vanessa adjusted their mood, but she could not hide sadness on her face.

Georgia was worried.

She knew the panic of not getting a job.

"Vanessa, it is impossible that Alfred could do anything. There will always be a way. Don't worry."

Up to now, Vanessa could only comfort herself like this.

"Vanessa, what is it between you and Mr. Simpson? Why he is in the ward?"

Vanessa asked about Robert who was in the ward.

Thinking of Robert's mother, Georgia felt it would be better not to tell her the bad things, less Vanessa would be worried.

"Robert likes Annie very much. He comes to see Annie at this hour."

Inside the ward, Robert looked at Annie gently. He put his hand gently on the soft cheeks of Annie.

This was his daughter.

He would protect her, love her, let her become the happiest little princess in the world.

"You.....Uncle, why are you here, where is my mother?"

Annie suddenly opened her eyes, and she asked in panic.

"Your mother is outside. I'll call her in."

Robert stood up and went out of the room.

At this time, Georgia and Vanessa were talking standing in the corridor not far away. Robert walked over to them.

"Annie is up and wants to see her mother."

Georgia and Vanessa stopped talking at once, turned around and went into the ward.

Remembering that Annie was crying, Georgia explained to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, something happened in the morning. Annie now knows that I am her mother. Help me explain, Annie was crying to sleep."

Vanessa was anxious.

When they went to the ward together, Annie looked at his mother, and then at Auntie Georgia. She was confused.

"Mom -"

Annie opened her arms to Vanessa.

Vanessa hurried to pick Annie up.

"I am here. How do you feel now? Are you ok?"

Annie shook her head and asked with tender voice.

"Mom, why is Auntie Georgia also my mother?"

Looking at her daughter who was confused, Georgia felt her heart sour.

Robert stood up and walked to Georgia.

He suddenly took Georgia's hand.

"Don't worry, the child will naturally be intimate to her mother. She was confused, and she will like you and be close to you."

Georgia felt that his hand hot. As she wanted to break free, the man suddenly let go of her.

Georgia felt lost for a while, and felt her mood strange.

"I hope, Mr. Simpson, that what you said will come true."

Vanessa thought for a moment and explained to Annie.

"Annie, it's not just you. Other kids have several mothers, too. They're called godmothers, but I didn't ask you to call that."

Annie did not understand.

"Is Auntie Georgia my godmother?"

Mom, will you leave me?"

Annie was so frightened that she grasped Vanessa's arm tightly and her tears began to fall.

"Annie, I will always stay by your side. Auntie Georgia is not a godmother, she is your biological mother, I am your foster mother, and you can always call me Mom. But don't worry, Auntie Georgia and I will always be by your side. Neither of us will leave you."

Annie was confused, but after making sure her mother would not leave her, she became less afraid.

Georgia dared not come forward. She could only look at Annie and Vanessa closely holding each other.

After a long time, Annie looked at Georgia.

"Auntie Georgia, I like you, but, I like Mom more. Will you drive my Mom away?"

Georgia shook her head.

"Annie, I have no right to drive anyone away. You will always be with your mother."

Annie's fear in the heart reduced some. She looked at the man beside Georgia doubtfully, thinking of the quarrel between the strange woman and Auntie Georgia.

Annie asked suddenly.

"Auntie Georgia, who is this uncle?"

Annie had seen this uncle to her ward for the second time and her mother and Auntie Georgia did not drive him out, Annie knew that he should be a friend of her mother and Auntie Georgia.

"Annie, he is Auntie Georgia's friend, you can call him Uncle Robert."

After Georgia said that, Annie asked.

"...Is he my father?"

No sooner had the words been uttered than a hush fell over the air.

Georgia didn't know what to say, and Vanessa didn't know what was going on.

Robert stepped forward, and walked to Annie and took her hand.

"You're right, Annie. I'm your father."

Annie, however, cast down her eyes awkwardly.

"I...I'm not used to calling you Dad, I don't know you..."

Robert was disappointed, but soon he smiled gently.

"It is ok. Call me whatever you want to, and I will try to make you know me."

Annie raised her head and then seriously looked at Robert.

"Thanks for coming to see me, Uncle."

Robert knew that Annie was still small and he could push her so hard.

He turned around and looked at Georgia.

"I still have some things to do, so I gotta leave. Take good care of Annie."

With that, Robert said goodbye to Annie.

"Annie, I have something to do. I'll see you next time."

"Good-bye, Uncle."

Annie said politely.

After Robert got in his car, he thought of what Vanessa had said in the ward, he made a phone call to his secretary.

"Secretary Dean, look into Vanessa's situation. I heard she can't find a job now."

"Got it, Mr. Simpson."

After asking the secretary to postpone his schedule, Robert made a phone call to his cousin Ivan.

Ivan was sitting stiffly in front of Maisie, Robert's mother.

"Auntie, what do you want to say? You look at me and don't say anything, it makes me panic."

The whole family knew that Maisie's character was stubborn and aggressive. Ivan was not used to talk to her.

Maisie suddenly came to him early in the morning, Ivan only felt that there was trouble.

"Ivan, I need your help."

After a long time, Maisie finally said.

"What is it, Auntie?"

Ivan said without hesitation.

"Didn't you promise yesterday to operate on Robert's daughter? I want you to refuse to help Robert."

Ivan was stunned at a draught.

"Auntie, that is your granddaughter, you don't want me to have the operation?"

As Ivan said that, Maisie's eyes became cold.

"Your cousin was cheated by a woman. She is just a woman works in the club. She is used to lying and cheating. And she just wants to you have the operation. You don't need to pay attention to her."

Chapter 27 Paternity Test Report

Maisie's words made Ivan shocked.

As he was about to ask, he found his cell phone rang.

Ivan quickly picked up the mobile phone. It was Robert calling, he subconsciously refused to answer the phone.

"Why don't you answer the phone?"

Maisie asked.

"Just a troublesome client, pestering me to have an operation, in fact, it is just a minor operation. Any doctors can do it, never mind."

Ivan made it up calmly. Maisie did not doubt her but asked.

"Will you agree with me?"

Ivan knew his aunt well, if he did not agree, she would always pester him and even used her connection to make it big.

"Auntie, since brother got cheated, I won't have the operation."

Maisie nodded with satisfaction.

"Good. I'll tell your brother and he won't bother you."

Ivan nodded.

"Auntie, don't worry, there will be no mistakes."

Maisie got the answer to her satisfaction and left before long.

Ivan hurried to call Robert.

"Ivan, why didn't you answer my phone?"

Robert had returned to his office, he asked the reason why Ivan refused to answer the phone as he picked up the phone.

"Did my mother call you?"

Ivan took a deep breath.

"Brother, you are clever. She came to my apartment early in the morning and stared at me for more than ten minutes, I am so scared."

Robert frowned deeply.

He knew it would be complicated if his mother knew the truth.

He wanted to hide it, but he failed.

"I know. My mother doesn't know the truth, so don't listen to her. Now that you're back, hurry to the hospital to see patient and study cases. I'm sure it will be only a minor operation for you."

Ivan burst into laughter over the phone.

"Brother, I know the character of my aunt. So, I agreed to her on the surface so that she could feel at ease. But, brother, should you explain what is going on. I've always been curious, you know."

Knowing his cousin's temper, Robert showed a smile.

"That woman was the one who killed Wendy, so my mother was angry, but since the daughter was mine and she had been six years in prison, I would not do anything to her for the time being.

Ivan, don't mind that. You just need to prepare the operation plan right away. I asked the doctor. The child needs to have operation as soon as possible.

Ivan knew Robert, who was uninhibited on the surface as him.

In fact, he was the most responsible person, and he took care of the family at young age.

Otherwise, he and his mother would have been driven by his father since his father was crazy and ruthless.

"Brother, don't worry, I will arrange immediately. And I will hide it from Auntie. But, since that woman is the murderer who killed Wendy, you have to consider the child's future."

"I know."

Robert heaved a heavy sigh.

It would be nice if Georgia could come up with evidence that the killer of the car accident was not her.

Annie was re-done a general examination in the afternoon. When worked at the club in the evening, Ivan, wearing a white gown and a mask, personally went to the hospital to see Annie lying on the bed. After that, Ivan discussed the operation plan with other doctors. The next morning, Robert made a phone call to Georgia.

"Dr. Ivan has got the operation plan ready and the time for the operation is in three days."
Georgia was pleased and immediately told the good news to Vanessa.
"Georgia, we are really lucky. Let's leave this place after Annie gets better."
Georgia was puzzled about that.
"Vanessa, we both grew up here. Do we have to leave here?"
Georgia was reluctant to leave her hometown. She loved the place where she grew up, even though it brought her too many painful memories.
"Georgia, I sent out many resumes yesterday, but none of them had effect. No one is willing to accept me. I know all these are Alfred's revenge on me. Leaving here, I can get away from Alfred. I don't believe Alfred has the right to control the whole world."
"And you, Annie is the daughter of Robert. The Simpson family is powerful, which is beyond our imagination. I am afraid that after the operation, they will take Annie away. Georgia, we have to leave here."

Vanessa was enlightened by that.

Yes, Annie's identity had come to light.

Now Robert was gentle to her, but, who knew if Robert would take Annie away, and stop her from seeing Annie again.

However, Annie was in poor health.

After the operation, she certainly needed to recuperate gradually and even follow-up observation.

Georgia was not willing to take risks.

Annie's life was in the first place in her heart. She could choose to leave Annie for her health.

"Vanessa, I can't promise you to take the risk unless I make sure Annie is completely recovered."

Georgia seemed to be determined, and Vanessa smiled wryly.

"You're right, I was worried. Annie's operation is important. She's always weak. I can't put her into danger. As for work, I'll find a way."

After Vanessa said this, the two were silent for a long time.

Before long, Vanessa's phone rang.

"Hello?"

Vanessa asked politely since it was an unknown number.

"Is this Miss Cooke? I am the executive director of LIN. I have read your resume, your design style is very bold and distinctive, if it is possible, you can come to work tomorrow..."

Vanessa's eyes immediately lit up.

She chatted with LIN's executive director for a while before she settled on work.

A few minutes later, Vanessa hung up the phone and looked excitedly at Georgia.

"Georgia, I found a job. It's LIN, the top brand of clothing in the country."

Georgia was happy for Vanessa. There would be always a way out.

"Georgia, LIN is the clothing brand under the Simpson family. Did you ask Robert for help?"

Vanessa asked, feeling puzzled.

Georgia was muddled at a draught however.

"Vanessa, I didn't ask Robert for help."

Georgia thought of the thing that happened yesterday.

At that time, Robert had heard Vanessa said that she could not find a job.

Was it really the help from Robert? With doubts, Georgia picked up the phone to go to the corridor, and was to call Robert.

However, Robert was on the phone at that moment.

Inside the office.

Robert talked to his assistant in the United States on the phone.

"You said the report had just come out. What is the result?"

The assistant's voice was in trepidation.

"Mr. Simpson, based on the report, Annie Cooke is not your daughter."

Chapter 28 She's Tricking Him

Robert stopped his pen on signing the document.

"Say it again."

"Mr. Simpson, the paternity test report of the United States says Annie is not your biological daughter."

The assistant spoke louder this time.

There was a long silence.

"I see."

Robert hung up the phone, stood up and walked slowly to the window.

The paternity test in the United States was a secret, and it could not be falsified.

However that done in China had a higher chance of being falsified.

Mr. Robert was inclined to trust Georgia, and wanted to give her a chance.

But, he was the most ridiculous person.

Robert rubbed the middle of his eyebrows, there was depression lingering in his heart.

The telephone rang again, it was from Georgia unexpectedly.

Robert looked at the mobile phone ring so darkly and then hung it up.

After a while, Georgia made another call. Robert put through the phone.

"What is it?"

Georgia did not know if it was the illusion and felt feel Robert's voice was colder than it was before.

"Mr. Simpson, Annie's mother, Vanessa was admitted by LIN. I would like to ask did you help her?"

Georgia had been trying to be polite and gentle. Listening to Georgia's voice, Robert wonder how dirty her heart was and even took use of her daughter.

"Is it important? Georgia, do you feel you have my daughter, and you have nothing to be afraid and can point your fingers at me?"

"Georgia, remember the relationship between our two, you killed my sister."

Her heart seemed to have been pricked by a needle, as if there was continuous spreading all over her body.

"...Mr. Simpson, I'm sorry to be so abrupt..."

Flurried, Georgia hang up the phone. These two days, Robert had been very gentle towards her, which actually let her have the illusion they were equal. However, from the beginning to the end, this man hated her.

"Georgia, why are you crying?"

Since Georgia had not been back to the ward, Vanessa came out and found that she was squatting on the ground, crying. Georgia quickly wiped her tears and then tried to show a smile to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, I'm fine, I just could not control my mood. I am fine..."

Vanessa could only hold her hand.

"Annie wants to play chess with you. Don't think too much. As long as Annie can have an operation, nothing in this world is worth your fear."

Georgia nodded and followed Vanessa back to the ward.

Robert did not go back to his apartment and he cancelled the plan to visit Annie. For a night, he sat in his office in silence. At dawn in the morning, Robert smiled at himself with self-mockery. Immediately, Robert made a phone call to the hospital, and at the same time, he asked his secretary to investigate the doctor to have the paternity test in the domestic hospital.

"Mr. Simpson, do you mean to have another paternity test?"

When the dean heard Robert's command, he asked in surprise.

"Yes, Annie is now in your hospital. You find a reason and draw her blood, then, ask the test section do the test in the fastest speed. It is goes wrong, you will lose your job."

"Yes...I know, Mr. Simpson, don't worry, I will keep an eye on that."

The dean hung up the phone gingerly, and then, he called the doctor of the heart department to come.

Annie would have operation the day after tomorrow. And Vanessa would go to work in LIN today.

Now only Georgia was in the hospital with Annie.

Annie did not care which her mother was. As long as the two mothers was with her, Annie felt nothing different. Now, Annie had called Georgia Mom Georgia.

"Mom Georgia, will that Uncle come to see me again?"

Annie and Georgia sat in the garden and Annie suddenly asked that.

Thinking of Robert's indifferent attitude, Georgia did not know how to answer.

"Does he dislike me? He said he's my father, but I never saw him when I was growing up."

Annie was dejected. Georgia almost could not control the depression in her heart.

"Annie, he is just busy. He did not know he had a daughter before. You are so lovely, he will like you."

"Really?"

Annie looked at Georgia with expectation.

"Of course. You are the loveliest child in the world. Both father and mother love you very much."

Georgia smiled and then hugged Annie and kissed her on the cheek.

Annie's cheeks reddened. She was shy and uneasy.

"Mom Georgia, I will have the operation the day after tomorrow, will Uncle come to see me?"

Probably every child was longing for father's love, even though Annie was not familiar with him the day before yesterday.

Georgia could not refuse her request. She only wanted her daughter to be happy forever.

"Annie, Uncle will come and see you, I promise."

After talking for a while, Georgia and Annie returned to the ward.

As they finished lunch, a doctor came in with a nurse.

"What is it, doctor?"

Georgia walked to the doctor and politely asked.

"Take blood for test. The operation is on the day after tomorrow. We need to know the daily condition of the patient."

Georgia did not doubt that she went to Annie's side, and then covered her eyes when the nurse drew blood.

After that, Georgia made a phone call to Robert.

This time, Robert picked up quickly.

"What is it?"

Robert's voice was still cold.

"Mr. Simpson, Annie said she wanted to see you before the operation. Can you come?"

The paternity test result would come out on the day of the operation, Robert agreed after a few seconds of silence.

"I'll be there."

It was the third day.

Annie's operation was at nine o'clock in the morning.

Ivan drove to the hospital early in the morning.

Originally he was going to the hospital with Robert, after all, it was his daughter's operation and he would be there.

But, Robert rejected his request.

Ivan felt strange, but he was a doctor and could not change the time to operation.

The driver was Ben. After Ivan got off, he went to the elevator.

However, when he was in the elevator, he saw a familiar person.

"Miss Lane, you...Why are you wearing a hospital gown? Are you ill?"

Ivan found wound on Emma's wrist and she seemed to have cut her wrist?

Because his cousin had an illegitimate daughter, did Emma commit suicide for that?

After all, she was his cousin's fiancée.

He guessed but he was still gentle and polite.

Emma was shocked to see Ivan here.

She knew that Ivan was Dr. Ivan and that Georgia's daughter needed Dr. Ivan to have operation on her.

Before, Robert found Ivan back to have the operation, but Robert's mother stopped that, right?

And during these two days, she had been contacting with Maisie.

After she revived, Maisie was concerned about her, and she was flattered about it.

In the past, Maisie actually had been critical and dissatisfied towards her.

In the past two days, she told Maisie something about Georgia, which made Maisie disgust Georgia deeply.

According to what Maisie said, Ivan and Robert agreed not to have operation on Georgia's daughter.

However now Ivan was in the hospital, was there any mistake?

According to time of the paternity test, Robert should have known that Georgia's daughter was not his own daughter.

Emma had doubt about it, but facing Ivan, she showed a soft smile.

"Something happened to me the other day, and I was so desperate that I did something unfilial to make a fool of myself."

Ivan nodded. Emma admitted her suicide.

He felt embarrassed to ask any more questions.

"Miss Lane, have some rest."

Ivan comforted her with a few words.

After that, they did not say anything again. And then Emma walked out of the elevator, while Ivan continued to take the elevator to the floor for operation.

Emma went back to her ward and immediately made a call to Maisie.

"Auntie, I saw Ivan in the hospital. Is he going to have an operation? Is it Georgia's daughter?"

Hearing that, Maisie looking at the newspaper turned pale on face.

"Are you sure it is Ivan?"

"Auntie, Ivan and I even had a few talks in the elevator. It's true. But I'm not sure whether he operates on other people, so I call you."

Maisie became angry with her chest up and down.

If Ivan was to have an operation on Georgia's daughter, it meant that her son had been cheating her, and Ivan helped him with that.

No, she had to go to the hospital.

She would never allow her son to help the person who killed her daughter!

"Emma, stay inside the ward, I will be in the hospital and see what was going on."

With that, she immediately asked the butler to get the car ready.

Emma hung up the phone and told her father about it.

"Dad, do we need to get involved?"

Owen was silent for a while, and then he made up his mind.

"I will go and check. You don't have to show up, in case Robert suspects you."

At this time, Georgia and Vanessa were talking with Annie.

Annie was so young that she must be afraid of having an operation.

Georgia and Vanessa kept telling funny stories to ease the tension of the operation.

By this time Robert was already sitting in the dean's office.

The dean handed the latest paternity test report to Robert.

Chapter 29 This is Your Retribution

"Mr. Simpson, I have been keeping an eye on the test, and they do not have the courage to falsify the report."

Robert nodded. He did not check the document immediately.

It was eight o'clock in the morning, and the operation was an hour away.

The dean felt Robert's eyes were bleak and cold, so he did not dare to ask anything.

Robert tapped his fingers, and the silence was broken by a ringing phone.

"Georgia, what is it?"

Robert put through the phone, and the dean felt Robert with a sinister look in his eyes at this moment.

"Mr. Simpson, the operation will be held in an hour. You promised to see Annie before the operation, and Annie is waiting for you now."

Georgia said holding the phone and smiled at Annie.

Annie sat in the wheelchair with a peaceful expression.

Robert was silent for a long while before he said.

"I'm on my way. I'll be at the hospital in a few minutes."

Georgia felt relieved hearing that.

Last night, she had nightmares all night, as if there would be something wrong with the operation today.

So far, thankfully, everything was smooth.

Georgia hung up the phone and smiled to Annie.

"Uncle is on his way. Don't worry. He will be here before the operation."

After Robert hung up the phone, he received a call from Secretary Dean.

"Mr. Simpson, I have found out the reason why the last paternity test report was falsified."

Robert stood up and left the dean's office.

"Go ahead."

"Georgia and Laurence know each other, the report was falsified by Laurence's man by bribing."

"Bang!"

Robert punched the wall, then his five fingers were bleeding.

But the anger and resentment in his heart seemed to accumulate.

This kind of woman sure knew Laurence.

He was almost taken in!

He should have known that the women worked in the club had no heart!

He didn't realize it until today.

"Mr. Simpson, what is going on?"

Secretary Dean heard a loud banging sound on the other end of the phone and asked anxiously.

"I am ok, you continue to investigate Georgia's past, and Laurence's, carefully investigate the relationship between these two people."

Secretary Dean said yes before hanging up the phone.

Robert silently looked at the blood on his finger, then walked step by step toward the elevator.

"Mom Georgia, it doesn't matter if Uncle doesn't come. I didn't have a father before anyway."

After waiting for a long time, Annie had not seen Robert, so she said that sadly. Georgia was distressed and ready to make a call to Robert .

At this moment, Robert not far away was walking to them, which surprised Georgia.

"Annie, look, Uncle is coming, he is here to see you."

Annie raised her head, and sure enough, Uncle was walking towards her. Annie was smiling.

When Robert arrived, Georgia found Robert's left hand covered with blood, with a bloody document in it.

"Mr. Simpson, what is wrong with you hand?"

"Uncle, are you ill?"

Annie found that too and felt worried.

Robert did not even take a look at Annie. He looked coldly at Georgia and then sneered.

"Georgia, do you still remember your commitment?"

"If the paternity test proves that Annie is not my daughter, I will not let Dr. Ivan operate on her, remember?"

Georgia's palms began to feel cold.

"Yes, I remember... Robert, the paternity test report says that Annie is your daughter. Do you want to go back on your words?"

Robert directly threw the document on the ground.

"Yes, but someone deliberately falsified on it, so that I will raise the wild child.

Good for you, Georgia!"

As long as she was not a fool, she could understand his words.

Georgia raised her head to look at Robert angrily.

"Robert, do you think I made a false paternity test report and Annie is not your daughter?"

"It's the truth. Georgia, do you think you have Laurence on you back, so you can fool me? Unfortunately, I have sent a blood sample to the United States, and it tells me that Annie is not my daughter!"

Georgia's face was pale and her lips trembled.

"How can that be? You...You must be talking nonsense."

"Do you think I only have test in the United States? The report you have in hand was just had the day before yesterday. It is done in this hospital. And this report says that Annie is not my daughter, too. Georgia, how should I repay you to your deception?"

Robert's eyes were insidious and his voice was bleak, making her feel chill.

Georgia crouched down and, trembling, opened Robert's folder on the floor.

The folder was stained with blood, but when Georgia opened it, the results was clear and ruthless.

It said that Annie and Robert were not biological father and daughter.

Georgia's body trembled in disarray.

How could that be? If this report was true, could Annie still have the operation?

Georgia raised her head and was flurried extremely.

"Robert... Robert, I...I really don't know why the paternity test was wrong. I wasn't trying to lie to you, please...Please let Annie have the operation..."

By this moment, Georgia did not care the cause and effect, or who framed her, or Chester cheated her at the beginning. Georgia now just hoped that Robert could allow Annie to have the operation.

"Annie is innocent, she doesn't know anything..."

Georgia burst into tears, and even knelt down to Robert.

Robert looked coldly at her. After a long time, he laughed ironically.

"Georgia, I have told you, you will see the consequence for cheating me. Now it is the time for your daughter to pay for your sin."

With that, he turned around and was ready to go.

Georgia hurriedly pulled Robert's trousers and became panic.

"Robert...You can punish me if you want, I can even die, please don't be angry at Annie... Let her have the operation. She needs the operation now please..."

Georgia burst into tears, but Robert was indifferent.

This woman was just acting.

He must not relent.

"I will not relent even if you kneel here all day, even if you die at once. Georgia, you are the murderer who killed my younger sister. Why should I save your daughter?"

The man's voice was cold and unfeeling. Uncomprehensively, Annie looked at Georgia and Robert and then burst into tears.

"...I hate you...You bullied my mom. I don't want a Dad like you..."

Annie roared at Robert, crying.

Robert clenched his hand and sneered.

"I'm not your father, so you'd better ask your Mom who your real father is!

Perhaps she doesn't even know!"

Georgia's body trembled and her face was so pale that she could not say a word.

Vanessa stood up angrily.

"I thought you were a good man! Get out! Get out right now!"

Chapter 30 Save my Daughter

Robert no longer looked at Georgia crying on the ground.

He kept telling himself that this was her punishment for cheating him.

He absolutely would not believe her. No matter how sadly she cried, she was just acting.

Robert walked to the elevator and then left.

At this time, Maisie arrived at the hospital.

As she walked through the lobby, she made phone call to Robert.

But she failed to connect him, so she could only made a call to Ivan.

By this moment Ivan received Robert's notice to stop the operation.

He did not expect that his cousin would be so miserable that he was deceived by a woman worked in the club.

Although Ivan had not seen this scheming woman, he also felt angry for that.

What was more, Wendy was also his sister.

He had a natural aversion to such cruel, scheming person.

So, when Robert asked him to stop the operation, he agreed without any hesitation.

He packed up his things and was ready to leave the hospital,

As he changed into his clothes, he received the call from his Auntie.

Thinking of what happened to his cousin, he dared not answer the phone.

So he did not answer it and was ready to leave the country, lest he would be in trouble because of that.

However, as he was to go to his rest room, he saw his aunt coming towards him.

"Ivan, where is your cousin? Did he ask you to operate on Georgia's wild daughter today?"

With a cold face, Maisie walked towards Ivan angrily.

Ivan could not help but fear and he smiled to her.

"Auntie, he sure is in the company. And how could I have operation for Georgia's daughter? That woman killed Wendy, and now she cheated on my cousin. I would not do that."

"And, I promised you I won't help."

Maisie became less angry. She looked suspiciously at Ivan and asked with doubt.

"Since you won't have operation on her daughter, why are you here?"

Ivan felt his aunt believe him and laughed.

"Auntie, I am a doctor, it is normal that I have operation on patients. A rich man gave me 10 million and asked me to have a minor operation, that is why I am here."

"Ivan, I hope you don't lie to me. I have lost Wendy, and Robert is my only son now, I don't want him to get hurt."

Maisie was serious. Ivan continued to deceive her calmly.

"Auntie, why would I do that? My cousin won't do anything to make you sad. You may not have slept well these days and have been worrying too much."

Maisie's face was serious. Doubts were still in her heart.

When she arrived at the hospital, she had asked the dean about Ivan's operation plan.

The patient's name was not Georgia's daughter. Was she really worrying too much?

After Ivan said a few words to coax Maisie, Maisie's face became slightly relaxed.

"Since such, Ivan, It is me being impulsive. Sorry, I disturb you to work."

Ivan laughed, feeling relieved.

"Auntie, never mind. Go back and have a rest. There are many germ in the hospital, don't stay long."

Maisie nodded. Ivan sent his aunt to the elevator and was ready to make her leave.

But as the elevator's door opened, Georgia showed up with a nurse.

"Miss Lane, this is Dr. Ivan."

The nurse walked out of the elevator with Georgia, and introduced him pleasantly.

Georgia fell to her knees at the feet of Dr. Ivan, looking at this young and handsome man.

"Dr. Ivan, please save my daughter, Annie... just had a heart attack. She's in the emergency room now. The doctor said only you have the operation, could it be successful..."

Soon after Robert left, Georgia was notified by the hospital that the operation was cancelled.

Georgia and Vanessa were desperate. They dejectedly pushed Annie back to the ward.

On the way, Annie suddenly turned pale on the face and had a heart attack.

Out of panic, Georgia shouted at the doctor, and Annie soon was sent to the operating room.

However, Annie's condition was very serious, and the doctors of the hospital dared not to operate on her.

They only told Georgia that if she wanted the operation to be successful, she could ask Dr. Ivan to help since he was at the hospital.

It was the only chance for Annie to survive.

So, under the leadership of the nurse, Georgia came to this floor to find Dr. Ivan. As she saw the man at the first glance, Georgia did not hesitate to kneel down to plead for help.

"Georgia, how dare you ask Ivan to have operation on your wild daughter!"

A middle-aged woman's voice was heard. Georgia raised her head and was shocked to see Maicie standing in the back of Ivan.

Georgia's face turned pale.

She knew how much Robert's mother hated her.

She would never allow Ivan to have operation on Annie.

Georgia had a great sense of despair, but now she did not care about it but begged Ivan for help.

"Dr. Ivan, you promised to operate on Annie, and as for the money, I'll give you the market price, please... please....."

She was crying sadly, but Ivan sneered.

"As far as I know, you are just a club dancer now. Are you sure you can afford the price of my operation?"

Dr. Ivan's tone had disgust and malice.

Georgia raised her head in surprise and caught Ivan's loathing eyes.

"Dr. Ivan... I'll try to give you the money, but Annie can't wait now. She really can't wait..."

"Annie is only five years old... Dr. Ivan, please save her, please give her a chance to live..."

Ivan had seen too many people crying in the hospital because their families were seriously ill.

Georgia was neither the first nor the last one.

Even though he felt depressed to her crying and felt her despair.

However, at the thought of that night Georgia danced in the club, Ivan recalled a woman cheated him by dancing.

That woman was as pitiful as Georgia was right now, and they looked alike. "Miss Lane, I'm a doctor, not God of Death, and even if I were God of Death, I wouldn't help the daughter of a woman who works in a club. I read the case report, your daughter became ill because you were in prison and did not develop well in your womb."

"You were in prison because you killed my cousin. Everything has its cause. Miss Lane, don't you understand that your daughter's illness is your retribution? You killed a man, and now God will take your favorite child. Fair enough, isn't it?"

Georgia's body completely collapsed on the ground.

The man's voice was so cold that she felt as though she were in the middle of a winter, and the cold inside her was freezing.

Georgia felt her lips and teeth cold, and her words had lost the soul.

"But.....But I didn't kill her... it was not me... My daughter is not guilty, I did not run over your cousin..."

Georgia murmured, and her body was shivering.

Maisie directly gave a slap in the face of Georgia.

"Miss Lane, you now know how desperate it is to lose your daughter. When I looked at Wendy's body, looked at her covered with white cloth, do you know, I wanted to rush to the prison to kill you?"

Maisie laughed bitterly and darkly.

"But God has eyes. He made your daughter sick and let you see your daughter can not get help from Wendy's brother. This is your retribution!"

Georgia looked at Maisie, with bitter but excited eyes.

This woman wanted her daughter to die...

Georgia raised her arm and slapped herself repeatedly in the face.

Maisie looked at Georgia's move with surprise and asked in a cold voice.

"What are you doing?"

"Ma'am, please save my child...

please... As long as you agree to let Ivan have operation on my daughter, I can die after that. I would like to compensate your daughter with my life, please....."

She begged, kneeling on the ground and slapping on her face.

Maisie was surprised to hear that.

She burst into laughter and then she shed tears.

"Look at you, Miss Lane, how much you care about your daughter, as much as I did...You know how I feel now that I see you in pain? I feel good. I hate you for six years, and I was in pain for six years."

"Now I see you in such despair, I thank God that he is not blind. Rather than kneel here, I advise you to go to your daughter at once and say one last word to her. Otherwise, like me, you will see her body when you see her and can't talk to her anymore."

Maisie sneered and then looked to Ivan.

"Ivan, let's go, I have questions for you."
