

Pregnant With Twins: My CEO's Tricky Love

Chapter 31 I'll be Alone Forever

Ivan subconsciously took a look at Georgia kneeling on the ground. For some reason, he felt at that moment that he might have done something wrong.

However, this scheming deceived Robert and killed Wendy.

What was more, she looked so much like that woman who used to cheat on him.

He was not a saint, so why should he help this woman's daughter?

At that thought, Ivan followed Maisie to the elevator and was ready to leave.

Georgia seemed to wake up in despair. She looked at Ivan was about to walk into the elevator and wanted to rush in to beg him.

However, as she was ready to stand up, a bodyguard in black stopped her.

As the elevator's door was about to close, Maisie said to her in a cold voice.

"Miss Lane, I have to force you to stay here to avoid further entangling Ivan. Anyway, you don't cherish the last time to spend with your daughter."

Georgia did not understand but kept struggling. The elevator's door closed, and Ivan completely disappeared in her line of sight.

Then, the bodyguard pulled Georgia to the room, Georgia thought she could leave.

But, with pain, Georgia fainted directly.

Maisie took Ivan to the elevator, but Ivan felt uneasy.

Originally he could be deceived Maisie, but Georgia appeared suddenly and his Auntie knew everything.

He could be into trouble

He followed his Auntie to the parking lot, and tentatively asked.

"Auntie, I have an operation in the United States, now I gotta go to the airport. Can I leave now?"

Maisie looked at Ivan coldly.

"Ivan, before you have an operation, you always require that patient to get a private plane for you. I've just checked with the airport and there's no private plane to pick you up on your departure."

Ivan could not help sighing.

"Auntie, I really don't know where Robert is now. Let me go, and I didn't operate on that woman's daughter, did I?"

Maicie frowned more deeply.

"Ivan, Robert is stubborn. Ever since he was a child, he has always had his own thought. I can no longer control him."

"He did not my phone. And I want to ask what is going on here? You promised me not to operate on Georgia's daughter, but you secretly went back on your words, why?"

Ivan's parents had been travelling around the world since he was a kid. And he was brought up by his Aunt.

She was like his second mother.

In addition to that Wendy died, Ivan seldom saw his aunt's sad eyes. Perhaps Robert really hurt her heart.

Ivan had determined to explain to her.

"Auntie, you know, Robert is always soft-hearted and attached great importance to blood relations. That woman took her daughter to do a paternity test, and it said that her daughter's father was Robert. How could he let his daughter die, so he asked me to come back for operation."

Maisie did not speak with a darkened face and Ivan continued to explain.

"But he hates to be cheated, so he took two blood samples, and the results of the other came out a few days later, and it turned out she was not his daughter. When he heard about that, he was angry and sad, so he asked me not to help with the operation."

Hearing that, Maisie's face was still cold, as if she was really angry.

"Auntie, that woman is good at cheating and even falsified the paternity test. Robert was just cheated."

Ivan added. Maisie took a deep breath and then said.

"I know, Ivan, sorry to disturb you today. Go home, I know where Robert is now."

Ivan looked at his aunt turned toward her car, and felt his aunt's back sad, which made him dare not come forward.

He picked up his phone and tried to contact Robert.

But he failed to get through at all.

Half an hour later, Maisie came to the cemetery in a car.

When she got out of the car, she walked deftly toward her daughter's grave.

Sure enough, the cemetery of her daughter stood his son. She came to her son.

"Kneel down at your sister's grave and tell her you nearly saved the daughter of her killer --"

Maisie looked at the picture of her beautiful young daughter on the tombstone above and said in a cold voice.

Robert closed his eyes, and after a while, he opened his eyes and knelt down.

"Robert, you have grown up, I can't control you any more. But you must always remember how your father did to you and your sister, and to me."

"He almost drove us out of the family for a woman worked in a club and we almost became vagrants. If not you were so clever that you got attention from your grandfather, we would have been beggars."

"You have a lot of ideas in your heart, although I don't approve, I respect your choice. If you disobey me for Georgia, like your father disobeyed your grandfather for that woman, you will be no longer my son."

Maisie shed tears.

"Mom, It is my fault, I'm sorry."

Robert knelt on the ground and said in a gloomy voice.

"I want you to swear, if you marry this woman in the future, your mother will die tragically. Robert, do you dare?"

"Mom -"

Robert raised his eyes to look at his mother.

"How can I swear on you!"

Maisie looked coldly at her son and her voice was chilly.

"You dare not swear, is it because you are afraid that you would be tenderhearted to Georgia? And you can't completely ignore her?"

"Robert, am I right?"

Robert hung down his eyes and said sadly.

"Mom, I would never joke about your body."

"But don't worry, if I were tenderhearted to Georgia, I swear I will lose the person I love most, I won't have a child, and I will be alone forever. Mom, is that ok?"

Chapter 33 Revenge Back

"I helped you falsify the paternity test. You are suspected to have killed Robert's sister. If the Annie is not Robert's daughter, Robert will never agree to help you contact Dr. Ivan."

Laurence admitted what he had done over the phone.

Georgia's hand trembled violently. If Chester cheated her, what was that for?

"Mr. Knight, by now, I don't know where I went wrong... Now, I just want a funeral to Annie..If you can help me find Annie's body, I'll do whatever you want me to do in the future."

"Don't worry, I will do my best to help you."

After hanging up the phone, Georgia decided to make a scene in the hospital. Annie's body was lost in the hospital. The hospital had an inescapable responsibility.

Georgia and Vanessa blocked the door of the dean's office. From morning till noon, the dean finally came out at twelve o'clock.

"Miss Cooke, Miss Lane, the hospital is responsible for this matter, but we have been trying to find her. Please go home first and patiently wait for the news."

Vanessa sneered.

"You said so yesterday. but you didn't do anything but held off the time!"

"Dean, if you don't give a explanation today, I don't mind putting this matter to the network, so that the netizens and media know how unscrupulous your hospital is, even lost the patient's body!"

Georgia calmly threatened the dean.

The dean's face changed for a moment, but then he laughed ironically.

"Miss Lane, you killed a person and bribed a doctor to produce a false paternity test report. When you go to the press about your daughter's body, do people believe you, or do they think you're a liar?"

"You -"

Georgia looked at the dean with widened eyes and her chest up and down out of anger.

If she could, she would really like to smack him.

Vanessa took Georgia's hand.

"Georgia, don't impulse, let's think of other ways."

Georgia was afflictive, but she could do nothing about it.

The dean's words made her angry, but it was a painful reality.

If she really went to the media, according to the strength of the hospital, they could completely reverse the public opinion and discredit her appeal to find her daughter's body .

Georgia was pulled away by Vanessa. They went to the hospital garden and continued to think of a way.

However, after a few words of discussion, Vanessa fainted to the ground.

After being sent to the hospital, Vanessa was known that she had not eaten any food from yesterday to today, so she fainted.

Georgia had a stomachache. She hadn't had food for two days and even taken a sip of water.

However, at the thought of Annie, Georgia did not dare to fall down. She had to be strong. When Annie was alive, she did not give Annie a healthy body, did not give her enough love.

Now, since Annie left her, she could not give up Annie's body.

She had to make her leave this world with a clean body.

After buying porridge for Vanessa outside, she managed to eat half a bowl.

She had to replenish her energy. She couldn't fall down like Vanessa.

Even though it was hard to swallow, she forced herself to eat it.

Mr. Knight's phone rang at this time.

Georgia had just finished half a bowl of porridge but vomited a lot in the bathroom.

"Mr. Knight, have you got any news about my daughter's body?"

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More
Surprising Facts About La'Tecia Thomas You Probably Didn't Know
Perturbed, Georgia asked and was afraid that Mr. Knight got no news.

"Georgia, your daughter is not dead."

"Mr. Knight, what are you talking about? Is Annie really alive?"

Georgia froze.

"Georgia, your daughter was in serious coma in the operating room. I found out that your father Owen transferred your daughter. Since the doctors refused to tell you the truth, Owen must did it intentionally."

Annie wasn't dead...

Georgia desperate heart got placatory.

However, at the thought that Annie had been taken away by Owen, Georgia was full of fear.

What was Owen going to do with Annie!

"Mr. Knight, do you know where Annie has been moved to by my father?"

How is Annie doing now?"

Georgia was filled with fear.

Owen sent her to the freak's bed, so Georgia could not imagine what Owen would do to Annie.

"Georgia, Annie had been transferred to Anya Hospital, under the name of the Simpson family. I can do nothing about it. I think, Owen is afraid that you will deal with him, so, he transferred Annie, so that you will be obedient to him."

Georgia's heart was full of resentment.

She must save Annie.

"Mr. Knight, thank you for helping me find out these things. My father is not good to me, so he he can not be good to my daughter. I must get back Annie."

"Georgia, if it is other hospitals, I can help you and take back the child, but I have no way to the hospital of the Simpson family. We have been infighting for years, so they would not help me."

Laurence's tone was apologetic.

Georgia shook her head.

"Mr. Knight, you have helped me a lot. If it weren't for you, how could I know Annie is still alive? Thank you."

Mr. Knight said, "I think I need to tell you that Emma committed suicide a few days ago. She lives in the same hospital as your and she was supposed to be discharged from the hospital this afternoon. If you want to find Owen for your daughter, you may see him at the hospital today."

Georgia clenched her palm. Her fingers was too shaky to hold the phone.

Owen, Emma, Flora, Eden...

These people destroyed her and now they controlled Annie.

She decided to live a peaceful life with Annie and even repressed the hatred in heart.

She just wanted Annie to grow up in a safe environment.

But they did not give her that hope.

In that case, why should she forbear any more?

Georgia bit her lips, and the blood trickled down so slowly that she hardly felt the pain.

She could tolerate all the pain for the sake of Annie, and she could also be the world's most vicious devil for her.

"Mr. Knight, thank you for telling me this information."

Georgia hung up the phone and went to the reception desk to ask which ward Emma lived.

A VIP ward on the tenth floor.

Georgia walked to the elevator and pressed the button to the tenth floor.

Chapter 34 I Will Marry Her

Emma was lying on the hospital bed.

Originally, she should have changed the hospital gown at this time, waiting to be discharged.

However, Robert went to the hospital to see her.

She had been quietly in the hospital for so long and done what the doctor told her.

Therefore Robert thought that she really committed suicide and that she was really hurt deeply.

Now, finally this man was guilty.

"Robert, the doctor said, I am fine now and can be discharged from hospital. If you are busy, you don't have to wait for me here."

Robert stood next to Emma's bed with complex mood.

He thought that the person who cheated him was Emma, he even ignored the suicide of Emma and felt she was acting...

"Emma, I am sorry, if you have request, you can tell me and I will compensate you."

As Robert said that, Emma bowed her head, looking sad.

"Robert, we have known each other for so long, this misunderstanding has been removed, why do you still think of me in that way? I don't want anything, I just want to be with you, I just want you to love me more..."

Emma said and sobbed.

Robert stood silently for a long time without speaking.

Emma lowered her head with tears. She was perturbed and wondered if Robert would like to marry her now.

As she was thinking what to do, the ward's door was opened. Emma and Robert walked toward it.

Georgia walked to the ward step by step.

Their face changed.

"Where is Owen?"

Georgia's face was cold, and she said gnashing teeth.

"Sister, I know you have been misunderstood that father does not love you, but, when you were in school, you skipped the classes and had fight with others, and even had affairs with many boys and had abortion, so Dad could only be strict to you to make you correct your behaviors. Even if hate him, you should not call his name -"

Emma rebuked her solemnly and Georgia sneered.

"Emma, you had better tell me now where Owen is, otherwise, your family will never live in peace!"

"Georgia!"

Robert shouted the name of Georgia. He looked at her with a darkened face and said angrily.

"Emma is about to get married with me. My fiancée's father is my future father-in-law. I have not investigated that you cheated me, now, you still want to make trouble to the Lane family! Georgia, do you want to go back to prison?"

He only felt disgusted about her. Georgia clenched her fist and sneered.

"Robert, if you have the ability, send me to prison again, but before that, you may see the bodies of your father-in-law and your wife. Do you want to test how crazy I am now?"

Robert uncontrollably walked toward her and grabbed Georgia's neck. Georgia just sneered.

"What, are you trying to strangle me? Then it is not me who will be sent to jail, but you!"

"Georgia, you deceived me, why do you make yourself look wronged! Do you realize how disgusting your face looks right now?"

Robert roared.

He should strangled this woman to death, but, when he saw her eyes with hatred in it, he failed to do so.

"Robert, let her go, no matter what, she is my sister, let her go, OK?"

Emma hurried to stand up from the hospital bed and said worriedly.

Georgia confronted with Robert. They ignore the words of Emma, and Emma's fingernail pinched into her palm.

"What are you doing?"

Owen walked in from the outside of the ward and asked doubtfully.

Robert finally let go of Georgia, and then looked at Owen.

"Uncle, Emma and I have decided to get married. I will tell my mother about it, and please find time to discuss the timing and arrangements of the wedding with her."

Owen nodded.

"Robert, you finally get married with Emma soon. I will talk with your mother about it."

Robert nodded and then he looked to Emma.

"Emma, I need to return to the company. After you discharged, be happy. If you are interested, you can now choose the designer for wedding dress, and I will contact the designer."

Emma blushed and nodded. Robert looked to Owen again.

"Uncle, I have something to deal with, I gotta go."

Owen nodded.

After Robert left, Georgia who was silent finally said to Owen.

"Give my daughter back, otherwise, I will tell your things to the media and let you be notorious, and let the whole nation people know you sold your daughter to seek glory!"

Owen darkly looked at Georgia and said coldly.

"Georgia, I don't know what you are talking about. Go ask the hospital where your daughter is, why do you come to me?!"

Emma coldly questioned.

"Georgia, are you crazy after your daughter died? Why do you come to my Dad for her!"

Georgia felt her heart painful. She looked at Owen angrily.

He took Annie away and lied to her that her daughter was dead.

What a wicked man!

Georgia suddenly rushed forward to catch Emma, and then put the knife she had prepared on Emma's neck.

"Georgia, you are crazy! Let go of your sister!"

Owen shouted anxiously, but Georgia laughed wildly, until tears flowed out.

"I have checked the news of the hospital, Owen, it is you who took my daughter and put her in Anya Hospital. You also let the hospital deceive me that my daughter is dead! I warn you, if you don't give back my daughter now, believe it or not, I will cut Emma's neck and let her die in front of you!"

Emma's body trembled violently.

She could feel that the woman was really going to kill her!

With the cold knife on her neck, she felt so close to death for the first time.

"Dad, she really will kill me! Give her back her daughter!"

Emma roared anxiously, but Owen had a calm face.

"Your daughter is dead. I don't know who told you that false story.

Georgia, I don't have your daughter!"

Still quibbling!

"Owen, I warn you for the last time, give back my daughter, otherwise, I kill Emma immediately!"

Georgia moved the knife and Emma's neck oozed out of the blood.

It hurt. Emma screamed and Owen was panic.

"Don't move, I'll call someone to give you back your daughter now!"

Flurried, Owen took out the mobile phone and told Flora to transfer Georgia's daughter to the hospital.

They confronted for more than half an hour, and Flora finally ran to the ward.

As soon as she saw Georgia was holding a knife on her daughter's neck, Flora was angry.

"Georgia, you are crazy, let go of Emma!"

Georgia felt she was calm at this moment.

"Where is my daughter, or I'll kill her!"

With that said, Georgia's knife was almost about to cut again Emma's neck.

"Mom, let her see her daughter, now... This mad woman would dare to kill me..."

Emma was afraid and burst into tears.

"Take Georgia to see her daughter."

Owen said wearily.

"I... I'll take you to see your daughter. She is in intensive care unit on the tenth floor. Let Emma go!"

Flora went out trembling. Georgia followed her out with knife on Emma's neck.

After a few minutes, Georgia finally saw Annie lying inside the intensive care unit in a coma .

Anan looked very bad with tubes all over her body.

Pain hit her heart. Georgia felt that she was about to fall down.

She made her strong and kicked Emma to Owen and Flora.

Owen suddenly gave a slap on Georgia's face.

"You devil! You are no longer my daughter!"

Georgia raised her head and saw only hatred in Owen's malicious eyes.

Georgia gently stroked her painful cheek and warned Owen coldly.

"I warn you not to do anything to my daughter again, or I will come to you with a bomb. Don't think I can't do it!"

Owen felt Georgia's tone chilling.

Georgia turned quietly to her daughter, and Owen dared not do anything.

After that, Owen took her daughter out of hospital.

In the car, Emma asked with doubts.

"Mom, when you transferred Georgia's daughter and lied to her that her daughter died, wasn't it a secret? How did Georgia know that her daughter was taken away by us?"

Although it was not clear why the paternity test said that Annie was not Robert's daughter, in order to avoid further troubles, Emma and her parents decided to take away Georgia's daughter after discussion, lest they had nothing to threaten Georgia when she came to them. Georgia cared much about her daughter. As long as they used her daughter to threaten her, Georgia would not dare do anything. However, Georgia got the news and threatened them with a knife. Emma felt Georgia really dared to kill her if they did not give her Annie! Now, Georgia had her daughter back and held more hatred towards them.

That was not a good sign!

"Emma, at the time you used Chester, did Mr. Knight save her? She has no other helpers. It must be Mr. Knight who helped with the investigation. That man is capable and had several times if infighting with the Simpson family. We better not go against Georgia for the time being, lest an accident."

Emma still did not feel relieved.

"Dad, we can't guarantee that Georgia won't retaliate us! She must be convinced in her heart that we made the car accident!" _____

Chapter 35 Who Knows if They are Father and Daughter

Owen had a stiff face, with his fingers slowly beating his knees.

"We have to find out why Laurence helped Georgia. We have to break the link between them. Georgia was full of hatred for us now, and if given the chance, she will surely make us suffer."

Owen's eyes were so vicious that Emma feared, but she firmly nodded.

"Dad, you're right. We have to do it first!"

Owen nodded. Georgia thought of Chester, and she asked in fear.

"Dad, Chester knows what happened in that year. He has no evidence in hand, but he is a potential hidden trouble."

"Mr. Knight did something to him and now he has no money and his life is miserable. I will get rid of him."

With that, Owen's face became less gloomy, and then he smiled faintly to Emma.

"Emma, we will take care of it gradually. Now you should let Robert marry you as soon as possible."

Emma blushed. Robert had promised to prepare the wedding. She cut her wrist to commit suicide, and now she had her gain.

"Dad, you're right. The thing I need most is to be Robert's wife."

Everything else can be put off."

"Did Robert agree to marry you?"

Flora asked doubtfully.

Emma nodded and told her mother that Robert came to the hospital in the morning.

"Emma, that you hurt yourself was not in vain."

Flora grabbed his daughter's hand and said in an excited voice.

"When you get married, I'll ask your brother to come back to the wedding. He's been enjoying himself abroad and I haven't seen him for ages."

The Lane family was happy and harmonious.

When they got home, Emma asked Flora in her bedroom.

"Mom, Dad has been cold to Georgia and wanted to kill her more than I do. Is Georgia really Dad's daughter?"

Emma was afraid of her father.

If Georgia was her father's daughter, and her father wanted to kill her, which made her afraid that one day she did things that affect his interests.

In that way, her father would abandon her without hesitation!

Flora showed disgust on face.

"Georgia's mother betrayed your father, as to whether they are father and daughter, I do not know. I dare not ask him since your father had a hot temper! Emma, don't be afraid. Your father still loves you and your brother."

Georgia stayed outside the ward of Annie for a long time, and then she found aseptic clothing from a nurse and went inside the ward.

Annie's face was pale, She was still so small, and now she had tubes all over her body.

Georgia's heart ached uncontrollably.

The doctor told her that Annie's heart was so weak that no one but Dr. Ivan could operate on her.

However, Annie missed the best time for the operation.

It was a miracle that Annie was still alive.

However, Annie could not wake up now, she would probably sleep for a long time.

Surprising Facts About La'Tecia Thomas You Probably Didn't Know

Her daughter was so young, but had to go through so much torture.

Georgia was so heartache that she could not breathe. She knew that she should go to Dr. Ivan for help.

But he did not agree to help her.

Now, Annie could only live in the hospital. Georgia hoped that there was a doctor from United States agreed to operate on her.

Before then, however, she must earn enough money to keep Annie in the expensive ward.

She could not stay in the intensive care unit for too long, so she left the ward reluctantly.

She made a call to Mr. Knight.

"Mr. Knight, I got Annie back."

"Congratulations."

Mr. Knight's voice was sincere. Mr. Knight helped her a lot, Georgia thought she could not ask too much.

But she really had no one to help.

"Mr. Knight, Annie is in a coma and in a very bad condition. The doctor said that the hospital ward and medical expenses costs tens of thousands of yuan a day, maybe about 500,000 yuan a month. But I have no money now. I... I know it's presumptuous, but I can't find anyone else to borrow money from."

"If you can lent me money, I can do anything you want. Please save my daughter."

As Georgia said that, Mr. Knight fell into silence for a long time. Georgia was about to despair.

"Georgia, do remember what I said last time? If the operation succeeds, you come to work for me, but the operation failed."

Georgia answered anxiously.

"Yes, I remember. I promised to work for you if the operation was successful."

Mr. Knight laughed at the other end of the phone.

"If you want me to help you, I'll pay for your daughter's medical expenses and even send someone to keep her safe. But promise me that you'll come to work for me at once."

How could she refuse Mr. Knight's proposal, but she did not know her value to Mr. Knight.

"Mr. Knight, I can work at any time. I just don't understand. I'm just a ordinary person, I might not be able to repay your kindness by working for you."

Mr. Knight laughed at the other end of the phone.

"Georgia, I have investigated your past. I hope you don't mind. You learned biological pharmaceutical in college and you had advanced study in the area of lung cancer targeted drug, but, when you published your papers, someone published your experimental data ahead of you, and became a copycat, all people scolded you. In addition, you got expelled by school. At that time, everyone in academia scolded you, and you have to give up your studies....."

It was in the past, but Georgia could not forget the disappointed and disgusted eyes of his classmates and tutors.

No one believed her.

She paid a lot and begged a lot of people, but she was thrown out of school and of the lab.

From then on, not a single research institute nor a single company wanted her.

She was forced to abandon her research program, and soon after, she was in prison.

"Mr. Knight, all people thought I was the plagiarism and thought I had academic misconduct, why do you think I was wronged? It had been long, do you find the evidence that I was wronged?"

"Georgia, I believe you."

"The person who copied you is called Percy Chow. In all these years, his research has not progressed at all, and I have reason to suspect that he did not understand what you were doing at the time, and therefore did not know what you were going to do next."

Chapter 36 Destroy Your Job

"I have a pharmaceutical company. You can work there. If you have a targeted drug for lung cancer developed, do you still think you have value? If this drug is successfully researched and sold on the market, it will be billions of profits. I think to help you is worthy."

Georgia felt her palm trembling.

"Mr. Knight, do you really believe me?"

Georgia's dream had always been to develop drugs that could cure human diseases.

She thought she had lost the hope for that.

However, she still had a chance to pursue her dream.

"Georgia, you are talented and capable. Go ahead and make your own achievements. I will arrange you to go to the research office immediately. Until then, I'll give you shares of the company and before that I will pay for your daughter's medical expenses."

"Mr. Knight, I will try my best to repay you for your kindness. I can go to work anytime."

"Put your own things in order and go to work next Monday. I will tell the people in the institute, you can go there directly."

After hanging up the phone, Georgia was informed by the hospital that Annie's operation cost had been paid in advance.

Georgia was thankful for Mr. Knight. She slowly walked to Vanessa's ward. She must tell this good news to Vanessa.

Vanessa had not sobered up, and Georgia could only wait patiently.

At ten o'clock in the night, Vanessa finally opened her eyes.

She looked around in a daze, and then she saw Georgia sitting next to her bed.

Georgia's face was pale and her eyes were red and bloodshot.

What had happened before the coma came to her mind at once, and Vanessa asked fearfully.

"Georgia, have you found Annie's body?"

Georgia hugged Vanessa tightly.

"Vanessa, Annie is alive. My father took her away and lied to us that she had died. Don't worry, I've got her back!"

Vanessa looked at Georgia with widened eyes full of excitement.

"Georgia, are you serious? You did not deceive me?"

"It is true, Vanessa, but Annie's condition is not good now, she is unconscious, and now in intensive care unit. go, I will take you to see Annie."

Georgia stood up and was ready to take Vanessa to see Annie.

However, as she stood up, the last strength to support her suddenly disappeared.

Georgia fell directly to the ground.

And then she had been fainted for two days.

Georgia was kept alive by daily injections of glucose.

The doctor told Vanessa that Georgia was so tired that she had to go into shock.

When she had enough rest, she would wake up.

Vanessa finally felt relieved. Annie did not die, and Georgia would wake up after enough rest.

Everything was full of hope.

The consciousness of Georgia was in confusion all the time. The exhaustion of the body made her not want to wake up.

She again and again dreamed of Annie. Every time, when she ran to Annie, Annie disappeared immediately in front of her.

Georgia again and again looked for the traces of Annie, but again and again lost her.

In her dream, she was tormented by repeated losses and became physically and mentally exhausted.

She did not know how long the dream, nor how many times to see Annie bleeding in front of her.

Finally, Georgia caught up with Annie. Annie did not disappear, but looked at her mother smiling.

"Mom, you finally got me."

Georgia's tears instantly flowed down.

"Annie...My Annie..."

Georgia embraced Annie tightly, with more and more tears flowing down.

Inside the ward, Vanessa found Georgia constantly shed tears and called the name of Annie, she was to wake her up.

In the dream, Annie pushed her mother away.

"Mom, time to wake up."

Georgia woke up suddenly.

"Annie..."

Georgia shouted Annie's name and Vanessa hurried to hold her hands.

"Vanessa, you finally woke up. You have been asleep for two days."

Vanessa held Georgia with excitement.

Georgia came back to her sense and realized that it was just a dream. It freaked her out.

"Vanessa, where is Annie, how is she?"

Vanessa smiled.

"Don't worry. She is in stable condition and will leave the intensive care unit soon..."

Georgia became less flustered.

After a few talks, Georgia and Vanessa went to visit the unconscious Annie.

Annie seemed less pale than before.

Georgia felt finally relieved.

After that, Vanessa brought Georgia a bowl of porridge.

After having porridge, Georgia was ready to ask Vanessa about the past two days, Vanessa's phone rang.

"Director Wood, what is it?"

Vanessa answered the phone and asked politely.

"Vanessa, you don't need to come to work from tomorrow. The company will settle your salary and the liquidated damages will be sent to your account."

Vanessa's face suddenly turned pale.

"Director Wood, is there something I did wrong or something I didn't do well? Please give me another chance. Please..."

Vanessa cherished her job in LIN, because Alfred used his connections to prevent her from taking a job elsewhere.

LIN was her last place to work.

"Actually, Vanessa, I admire you very much. However, when you came to work here, it was actually the instruction of your superior. This time, it is also the instruction of your superior to let you leave. I am sorry that I can't change that. You can think who you have offended."

Director Wood hung up the phone directly after that.

Vanessa put down the phone and looked upset.

"Vanessa, what's going on?"

Georgia asked with concern.

Vanessa sighed helplessly.

"Georgia, I think it is Robert's help so that I can have a job in LIN, but I was informed to leave the company. It was said that it was the instruction from superior. I guess Robert is in anger and he took the job back."

Vanessa tried to speak easily, and Georgia's eyes turned red.

"Vanessa, I'm sorry."

"Georgia, it is not your fault."

Georgia afflictively closed her eyes at the thought of Alfred's coercion and Robert's revenge.

After a long time, Georgia opened her eyes and said.

"Vanessa, leave this city. Robert may continue to revenge me, I can't bring you into trouble."

"Georgia, what are you talking about?"

Vanessa asked painfully.

"Annie is still in the hospital, how can I leave! You only have me, how can I leave you alone? Even if I am to leave, you should leave with me"

Georgia closed her eyes tightly, with tears flowing down.

"Vanessa, your life is still bright, you can pursue happiness. If you stay here, Alfred misunderstood you, and in order to revenge me, Robert will be angry at you. I'm really afraid you will be in trouble."

"I had promised Mr. Knight that I would go to work in his research institute. I can't leave here. Mr. Knight paid for the medical treatment in advance. I have to keep my words to work for him.”

Vanessa stared at Georgia with surprise.

"Georgia, what is the job Mr. Knight offered. Will you continue your research?"

Georgia explained.

"Vanessa, I was calumniated for plagiarism and no one in the academic research institute accepted me. I thought I could not continue my dream in my life. However, Mr. Knight gave me hope, he let me go to his research institute to work, I can continue my dream, so, I can not leave here, even though Robert may continue to revenge me..."

Hearing that, Vanessa smiled.

"Georgia, it is good, you can restart your dream, can continue to do research, I am really happy."

"In the past five years, I brought Annie up. I watched her grow up little by little, how I am willing to leave her? Besides, Annie is not in good condition now. I can't leave."

Vanessa took Georgia's hand and sighed softly.

"I know you want to keep me out of danger, but when you are in danger, I hope I can help you. Georgia, I'm not leaving. This city is where I live with Annie, and where I grew up. I did not do anything wrong, I did not break the law, so I am not leaving."

Georgia felt her eyes sore and her voice was already hoarse.

"Vanessa, I'm afraid I'm getting you into trouble..."

"I'm not afraid, Georgia. You are stubborn and even crazy. I must keep an eye on you, I can let anything happen to you."

It was not negotiable.

Georgia sighed lightly.

"Vanessa, if there is danger in the future, you must leave here and never come back."

For the time being, the two reached a compromise.

Since Georgia decided to go to work in the institute, she had to quit the job in the club.

One day, after waking up, Georgia went to the club and planned to resign.

"Gigi, as you said, you need a lot of money right now. I wouldn't advise you to quit the job."

"Cooper, I found a day job, sorry."

Georgia was firm to leave.

Cooper laughed.

"You can have part time here in the weekend. You know, you can make money fast here. I think you should not give up this job and our club has always been free. If you give up, it is a pity.”

Georgia hesitated.

Chapter 37 Anorexia

The medical expenses of Annie cost hundreds of thousands of yuan every month. She had no idea when her research progress would have breakthrough. It was impossible to rely on Mr. Knight for the rest of her life.

She also needed to earn more money.

Besides, she was allowed to work part-time every week, which was hard to come by.

"Cooper, you are right, I should not give up this job. I'll come to work every weekend. Thank you."

When Georgia returned home, she told Vanessa about her decision.

"Georgia, since you have made up your mind, I have nothing to say, but you must protect yourself."

Georgia nodded and she asked Vanessa.

"Did you still get rejected?"

Vanessa sighed.

"All of my resumes have gone nowhere. Alfred was just an ordinary person before. I don't know why he's so powerful now."

"What are you going to do, Vanessa? Shall I ask Mr. Knight to give you a job?"

Vanessa immediately shook her head.

"You already have asked Mr. Knight to help you a lot. If you ask him to give me a job, he might think we are greedy and shameless, just forget it."

Georgia felt it was the truth.

However, Vanessa had talent in fashion design and she really didn't want Vanessa to waste her talent.

"Georgia, let me take some time off. If I really can't find a job related to fashion design, I will change my career."

It made Georgia sad.

She wanted to say something, but Vanessa looked at Georgia with a frown.

"Georgia, you look like losing weight. I will take out the weight scale, and you weigh yourself."

Georgia was to refuse, but Vanessa went straight inside and came back a few seconds later with the scale in her hand.

"Georgia, stand up and weigh."

Georgia had no choice but stand up. It was 39 kilos.

"Vanessa, I'm fine. I've just lost a little weight."

"What do you mean you are fine! Georgia, you were 45 kilos, but now you are just 39 kilo, you will get sick!"

Vanessa frowned and said with disapproval.

"You must eat at once. Georgia, I will cook for you immediately."

With that, Vanessa took Georgia directly out of the house to buy food.

They went to the supermarket in the community. Vanessa pushed a cart and picked vegetables. Georgia silently followed her.

She dared to tell Vanessa that she had serious problems in eating.

No matter what she ate, she could not swallow it.

Even if she forced herself to eat it, she would uncontrollably rush to the toilet and spit it out.

That was why she had been losing weight so fast recently.

Georgia was not willing to put her body in a weak condition. And she knew she had to protect Annie.

But there was nothing she could do about the fact that she could not swallow the food.

They bought two potatoes, a cabbage, green peppers and eggplant, plus some seasoning.

Vanessa then bought a fish, chops, and some chicken legs.

And then they pushed a cart to the cashier.

However, after few steps, they ran into Rachel who was shopping.

Georgia wanted to pull Vanessa to one side did not want her to be hurt by Rachel.

That woman was a white lotus flower, and Georgia knew it very well.

"Miss Lane, Miss Cooke, long time no see."

Rachel came over and greeted them. Vanessa subconsciously seized Georgia's palm.

Georgia could feel Vanessa's hand shaking.

"Hello, Miss Scott."

Trying to control her emotions, Vanessa greeted Rachel politely.

Rachel raised her eyebrows and smiled.

"I heard you were fired from your job, Miss Cooke. See, that's what you got for abandoning Alfred! And your adopted daughter is in a coma.

You are being punished by God."

"Rachel!"

Georgia roared angrily.

"Don't think I won't hit you, stop speaking nonsense!"

Instead, Rachel laughed mockingly at Georgia.

"Miss Lane, how ridiculous you are now. You'd been in prison and your daughter has a heart attack. You're a complete loser. But you killed people, you should blame yourself that your daughter got sick. Even if your daughter dies, this is your retribution."

Georgia's eyes instantly turned scarlet, and she clenched her fists, gritting her teeth.

"You can say that again!"

"Georgia, everyone knows that you have done! You killed a person and gave birth to a child in prison. After you were out from prison, you seduced your sister's fiance, trying to steal him. What's more, you made a fake paternity test and deceived him that your daughter is his daughter. All classmates have known your shameless thing. I am just telling the truth. What can do you?"

"Your daughter is in a coma. This is the retribution for all your wrongs!"

Rachel was particularly arrogant and her eyes were full of ridicule!

Georgia felt furious. She got mad and rushed to Rachel and gave a slap on her face. And then she grabbed her face and beat her.

Georgia had lost too much weight and was not in good physical condition, so she did not have too much strength.

Rachel was to win.

Vanessa hurried to control Rachel's body.

So two of them beat Rachel together. Rachel became angry from surprise and in the end begged crying.

However, with more anger in heart, Georgia beat Rachel ruthlessly.

When the police came, Rachel's face had become a pig head and there were scratches all over her body.

There were monitors in the supermarket, and it showed that Georgia was the one started the fight. Rachel would not forgive her and wished to beat her back.

Finally, the three were taken to the police station.

At first, the police advised Georgia to apologize and make a peace privately.

But Rachel had to have her wound test and wanted to send Georgia to prison.

And Georgia, had no intention to apologize.

The worst result was to stay in prison for few days and she was ok with that.

But she felt guilty that Vanessa was in prison too.

"Vanessa, sorry to drag you down."

Vanessa laughed out loud. _____

Chapter 38 In the Prison

"Georgia, actually I am glad. I felt you had lost your spirit recently, as if you were living in another world. I was worried that you are psychological wrong. With this fight, I felt you have your spirit back and you came back to be lively. When we fought with the bad guys, we were happy and carefree. And not I fought together with you and was imprisoned with you, I don't regret it."

When they were in the university, a nasty naked guy rushed out to molest them on their way to school at night, they beat that guy hard.

Those memories of youth were really too long ago.

Long enough to make her doubt that her life had even had such a period of youthful days.

"Vanessa, sometimes I really miss the past, but there is no turning back in life."

Vanessa felt sad when she thought of the past, but what had happened today made her happy.

"Georgia, in fact, I have long disliked Rachel. She made me suffer so much, and I feel super good that we beat her together, even if we get in prison for a few days."

Georgia looked at the beaming Vanessa, she couldn't help laughing.

"It's really good to beat that bitch."

They looked at each other and let the things happened today behind their mind.

However, after a while, the prison door was opened. Rachel came in.

She had a swollen and gloomy, looking at Georgia and Vanessa with vicious eyes.

"Listen, I have a lawyer and I will suit you. And you will have to compensate me."

Georgia came forward and laughed.

"Rachel, just suit. You can hire a lawyer, I can too. Do you think you own the court? What do you think you are?"

Rachel was angry with her chest up and down. And she looked towards Vanessa."

“Vanessa, Alfred and I will have the wedding next month. I told you that you can’t have him, he is my man.”

Vanessa laughed.

“Rachel, since you are getting married, how do you still come to me? I am not with him anymore, why do you still guard against me? It is funny, is that you are not as good as me in Alfred’s eyes?”

Rachel was so angry about that.

“I know you still like Alfred, but he will be soon my husband.”

She said proudly and then turned to leave.

Looking at the door closed, Vanessa laughed bitterly with her head lowering down.

“Vanessa, if you still like Alfred, are you going to let him get married with others? You had loved each other and I know you have not moved on.”

Georgia knew Vanessa well.

She felt that Alfred would not care what happened to Vanessa.

But Vanessa was afraid to tell him the truth.

Because she feared that Alfred would think she was dirty.

“Vanessa, so what if I have not moved on? It has been six years, I still miss him, I still love him, so? He has a fiancée and will get married soon. If I tell him the truth, will he mock at me or pity me?”

Georgia sighed.

“Never mind, it is just a man. Just move on, and you will definitely will meet the right man.”

Vanessa said sadly, “I hope so, I don’t rely on man anyway and it don’t matter I can’t meet the right man.”

After being silent for a long while, Vanessa asked.

“Georgia, you asked me if I still love Alfred, and how about you, do you still remember Travis Armstrong?”

Travis Armstrong?

Hearing his name, Georgia felt sore in heart.

It was faint and bitter.

Someone would always be in the memory of the youth.

“Vanessa, it had been ten years. He might have been married and have children. I have not think of him for long and I had moved on.”

They had planned to stay in the prison for a few days, but in the middle of night, they were allowed to leave.

“Someone bailed you. Come out.”

Georgia took Vanessa out of the prison and saw a man in his thirties in black.

He carried a black case. When Georgia and Vanessa came out, he walked over.

"Hello, Miss Lane, I am Mr. Knight's assistant, you can call me Alan."

Georgia nodded but he was surprised.

"Did Mr. Knight bail me? How could he know I am in prison?"

"Miss Lane, when Mr. Knight called you, your phone was answered by the police, so he got the case and told me to bail you and your friend."

Georgia nodded and felt guilty that Mr. Knight had to help her again.

"Miss Lane, Mr. Knight told you not to think too much and just do your job.:

Looking at him, Georgia nodded.

"I know, Alan, please thank Mr. Knight for me."

After finishing the bail procedures, they were about to leave.

But at the door, Ivan came toward the police station.

Thinking of the day she begged this man to help, but this man refused her indifferently, Georgia instantly clenched her fist.

Ivan was a doctor, he can refuse the operation that he did not want to do and perhaps it is the right of this genius doctor.

However, Georgia was not magnanimous and could not face this man calmly.

Annie was in a coma now and so weak...

She could not help hating.

Georgia took Vanessa directly to pass by Ivan. She did not take a second look at him.

Ignorance was her best forbear, otherwise she was afraid she would really go mad uncontrollably.

Ivan subconsciously turned to Georgia, who moved fast and ignored him.

He walked into the police station. And then he dealt with the bail procedures for Ben.

Ben drunk and fought. Ben had no relatives and friends in D City. Ivan, as Ben's boss, had to come to the police station in the middle of night to take care of it.

When they walked out of the police station and got into the car, Ben apologized.

"Boss, it is my fault, I am sorry."

Ivan asked while driving the car.

"Why fought?"

Ben's face fell into depression.

"I went to a bar to relax and met my ex-girlfriend's current boyfriend. He said something provocative to me. I got drunk and couldn't contain myself."

Ivan nodded and said in a serious tone.

"Remember, don't do it again."

Ben nodded. After a while, Ben remembered something and asked.

"Boss, do you know who I saw when I got here?"

Ivan subconsciously thought of Georgia and he asked.

"Who?"

"Boss, it is the dancer we met that day when we came back to home. She seems to be the mother of the child you almost operated on. When I was arrested in, I saw the woman was also arrested in. I asked out of curiosity and I learnt that she fought. That the woman got beaten had wounds all over her body and her face was swollen. She is so thin, but she is tough!"

Ben sighed, but Ivan remembered the look of that woman.

She seemed to have lost a lot of weight.

After sending Ben home, Ivan went back to sleep.

When he woke up the next morning, Robert called and asked him to get measured for the best man's suit.

They talked for a while. Thinking of what happened last night, Ivan asked.

"Brother, my assistant got into a fight in the middle of the night and I went to the police station to get him bailed. Do you know who else I saw at the police station?"

Robert was at the Lane's, so was his mother. Both parents were discussing the marriage preparations, as well as the wedding date.

"Who did you see?"

Robert stood in the balcony and asked casually.

"Brother, I saw Georgia. She got in a fight with a woman yesterday and ended up in jail, but when I arrived, she was out on bail."

Georgia...

Robert's face suddenly became cold.

The five fingers holding the phone became instantly stiff.

"I'm not interested in knowing about that woman, Ivan."

Robert's voice was deep and cold.

"I'm sorry, but when I saw that woman yesterday, I found her had lost a lot of weight and was taken to the police station because she got into a fight. She looked miserable. I thought you would like to hear that."

Ivan sighed over the phone.

"It's normal that she is miserable now. I haven't even begun to retaliate and she is only going to be more miserable!"

Robert said angrily.

At the very thought of her, the rage in his chest seemed to run from place to place, and he wanted to torture her.

These days, Robert did not want to have any news about that woman.

As his mother required, he was seriously getting his wedding ready.

"Ivan, I was too aggressive just now, sorry. Make sure you take the time to take measurements and choose the designs you like."

Ivan nodded.

After hanging up the phone, Robert went back to the living room and sat down on the sofa.

"Robert, your mother and my parents have decided on several wedding dates. Please see which one is better." _____

Chapter 39 Deciding the Date of Marriage

Emma took Robert's arm, and then handed card with the selected time to Robert.

"Robert, choose a date, so that we can prepare for the wedding."

Maisie said so.

In the past, she did not urge Robert to get married and even hoped that Robert find her a daughter-in-law made her more satisfied.

Emma was unqualified in her eyes.

However, perhaps it was the intuition, perhaps it was the instinct, she felt that woman called Georgia would bring changes.

She wanted to determine the wedding date immediately, so that Robert and Emma can get married as soon as possible.

"I see."

Robert nodded at his mother and then looked carefully at the selected dates.

One was the 8th of August, three months later, which sounded very auspicious.

One was October 18th, in five months.

The last date was March 15th, the beginning of next spring.

When Robert's hand was on August 8th for a long while, Emma felt her heart beat fast.

"Robert, I think August is good. We can hold the wedding in an island and have a honeymoon at the beach. I have always wanted to go to the beach with you to dive and play in the yacht..."

Emma said excitedly and wanted Robert to set the date in August.

She did not want to linger long, lest there would be a change.

Robert hesitated for a long time, and then he put his hand on the date in March.

"Mom, let's hold the wedding in March next year. It will be cool and there will be more than half a year. It will have enough time to plan a grand wedding."

Hearing that, Emma's face became gloomy uncontrollably.

She took a few deep breaths, trying to show a perfect smile, but it was still stiff.

Maisie looked at his son suspiciously, but she nodded.

"Ok. Let's get ready now and we can take our time."

It had been settled

Flora said.

"That is an auspicious date. I read the almanac that it said that couple get married on this date would have a happy life."

Maisie nodded.

Owen looked at his daughter.

"Emma, don't you like to hold your wedding in a sea of flowers? March next year will be perfect, and I will fill the wedding with flowers you love."

Emma nodded to her father. She knew she can't be disrespectful, she must be dignified and happy.

Emma grabbed Robert's hand with a smile.

"Robert, I want the French designer Liszt to design a wedding dress for me, I like his style very much. I will wear a beautiful wedding dress to marry you."

Emma smiled sweetly to Robert. Robert nodded, but felt empty.

As if there was a point in his heart that was getting empty and he couldn't find anything to fill it up.

Both parents had a meal together. The wedding details were mainly decided by Emma and Maisie.

Robert had no interest in doing that. After the meal, he decided to leave for work.

Emma personally saw him off.

"Robert, if you don't want to get married, I'll tell my parents to postpone it."

Emma looked clever.

Robert stopped his pace for a while, then, he gently embraced Emma.

"Don't think too much, feel at ease and wait to be the bride. I will try to meet your requirement. I will contact designer named Liszt, don't worry."

Emma stood on tiptoe and kissed Robert's cheek gently.

"Thank you, Robert, I love you."

Robert stiffened, smiled at Emma, and then sat in the car.

"Drive."

With that, Robert closed his eyes to have a rest.

But his mind was in mess.

After arriving in the company parking lot, Robert picked up his mobile phone and called Secretary Dean.

"Secretary Dean, send me Georgia's present address."

"Mr. Simpson, I will send you as soon as possible after I have it."

After being held in the prison for several hours last night, Georgia had been sleeping since returning home.

Vanessa went out early in the morning to do her recent part-time job.

Georgia got up and made herself a bowl of noodles.

However, even if it was her favorite taste, she could not swallow it.

After eating half a bowl of noodles, Georgia finally rushed to the bathroom to vomit.

She threw all the noodles into the trash can, then put on her clothes and went out with the rubbish.

She did not want Vanessa to find her had a problem in eating.

Otherwise Vanessa would be worried about her.

After that, Georgia went to the hospital to see Annie.

After spending several hours in the hospital, Georgia returned home.

She would go to work tomorrow, Georgia felt uneasy about it.

She ironed her clothes for work and cleaned the house.

Georgia even had made a dinner when Vanessa returned home.

"Georgia, I was so hungry that I had my supper first. The dishes are still hot. Eat now."

Georgia was afraid of Vanessa found that she had a problem in eating, so she told a lie.

Vanessa did not doubt it, but finish the dinner happily.

After cleaning up the kitchen, Vanessa asked with concern.

"Georgia, you will go to work tomorrow. Have you got everything ready?"

Georgia was excited.

"Vanessa, I have ironed all my clothes for work tomorrow, but actually I don't need them. I have to wear a white coat when I get there. I may be too excited."

Vanessa laughed.

"I was the same when I applied for my first job. Georgia, work hard, only when you become successful and strong, it is the greatest revenge on your enemies."

The next morning, Georgia put on her clothes and went to Mr. Knight's MU Research Institute.

After she had given her name to the guard, a handsome man in his thirties with wire-rimmed glasses came out shortly afterwards.

"Are you Gigi Lane? Hello, my name is Simon Booth. I should be older than you, you can call me Simon. The professor asked me to come out to pick you up."

The name Georgia Lane had been notorious in the scientific circles, and Georgia did not want her reputation to be associated with the research office of Mr. Knight.

So, she asked Mr. Knight to change her name into Gigi Lane, so that she could work in the institute.

"Simon, hello, I am Gigi Lane, thank for picking me up."

Simon did not expect that this girl was so beautiful.

It was said that where would be a person to join their research team, Simon thought she was here for reputation.

But seeing that this girl was so beautiful, his eyes became bright and he was enthusiastic to her.

Chapter 40 Crazy Stalking

"Simon, can you tell me something about our research team? I'm new here and don't understand a lot of things. As a matter of fact, I haven't been in the research room for several years, so I'm not familiar with many things. Please help me."

Simon would like to do that. They talked while walking.

"There are a lot of research teams, and you don't have much contact with other teams in normal times. You can get to know them gradually. I will mainly introduce our team to you."

Georgia nodded.

"Simon, if there is anything I should pay attention to, or something I should avoid, please tell me."

Simon couldn't help laughing.

"You can rest assured that we are all absorbed in our studies and there is not so much intrigue."

"There are 20 people in our team. The leader of our team is my professor, named Benjamin Lee. He is currently working in the Didu Central University, where I am from. After I graduated as a PHD, I joined this team and now I have been working here for a year."

Georgia nodded. Feeling excited.

Professor Benjamin Lee was an outstanding researcher in the field of targeted drugs for lung cancer. If Georgia had not had an accident, she would have found a way to meet Professor Lee and then communicate with him about the research direction.

Now she got the chance.

"Besides the professor and me, there are 15 men and three women in our team. They are all in their thirties and have graduated from various universities. Our team members are very young. You won't get to know them all in a day. I'll introduce you to them when you get in."

Georgia thanked.

"Thank you, Simon."

Simon felt this girl beautiful, polite and kind, which made his heart beat fast.

"Gigi, the tutor went abroad to attend the seminar last week. You can't see him today. You can get to know the members of the research institute now."

Professor Lee was absent, Georgia felt it was a pity.

After a while, Georgia finally walked to the research center of the team led by Professor Lee.

"Ladies and gentlemen, here's our new member, meet each other --"

As soon as Simon came in, he enthusiastically clapped his hands and called for everyone to come and see Georgia.

A moment later, a crowd gathered.

Georgia and a group of people shook hands and introduced each other. Most of them were silent. After they introduced, they went back to continue their research.

Georgia was impressed by a few people.

One was Ernie Lloyd who had no hair. Everyone said he was very smart and humorous. And he even said to Georgia with his hair in a self-mocking way.

The other was Aston Powell. He was super handsome that Georgia inevitably remembered his face.

But he looked very cold and seemed not like her.

Georgia had remembered the three women inside the research institute.

One was Natalia Wong, who was about forty years old. She looked dull and precise and did not say much.

One was a fat girl about thirty years old with a pair of black glasses. She was short and fat, but she looked kind with a smile. She was Sapphire Stone, a master.

The last one was only twenty-six years old, two years younger than Georgia. Her name was Anaya Mitchell, lovely and beautiful.

However, Georgia felt Anaya was not friendly to her.

The first day was mainly to get familiar with the members of the research institute, as well as the current progress and all kinds of experimental data.

Simon finally took Georgia to see various equipment in the laboratory.

Looking at these experiments, Georgia felt familiar.

But she still had a lot of work to do to keep up with what everyone was doing.

After six years, she was far behind.

All day long, everyone was busy with their own research, and there was nothing wrong.

When it was time to leave work at 6 p.m., Georgia had planned to visit Annie in the hospital.

However, Simon has organized the welcome dinner.

Ten people attended, and Georgia could not refuse, and could only follow them to have a dinner.

When they finished, Georgia settled the bill.

Then, she took them to a KTV.

Many people got drunk while singing, and Georgia was forced to drink some alcohol.

When she arranged herself in the restroom, Anaya walked to her.

"Gigi, do you like Aston?"

Georgia shook her head.

"How can I like him, I just met him today,"

Anaya felt relieved.

"Since you don't like her, if you go after him, or take him from me, I will never let you go."

Flabbergasted, Georgia looked at Anaya left the rest room. No wonder she was not friendly to her, she had taken her as an imaginary enemy.

Georgia felt that handsome Aston clearly did not like her.

Anaya was really thinking too much.
With this in mind, the door of the rest room was opened and Georgia saw Sapphire coming in.
"Anaya likes Aston, but she was paranoid. Unluckily Aston doesn't like her, just ignore her."
Georgia nodded. She did not want to get involved.
After singing a few more songs, they took a taxi home.
Until the majority of people were gone, only Simon and Georgia were left in the road outside the KTV.

"Simon, take a taxi home, and rest early. We have to go to work tomorrow."
Simon drank a little wine and he was dizzy.
"Gigi, you are a girl, I should send you home."
Georgia wanted to refuse, but Simon had stopped the taxi and then pulled Georgia into the car.
"Let's go!"
Simon told the driver.
Georgia could only give him her address.
About an hour later, Georgia arrived at her community.
She got off and was ready to tell the driver to send Simon home.
However, Simon followed Georgia out of the car. They stood at the door of the community.
"Simon, here is the community I live. Get in the car and have a rest....."
Simon was drunk and said.
"Gigi, I think you are beautiful, can you be my girlfriend?"
Georgia felt embarrassed. Before she said anything, Simon directly hugged her.
Georgia struggled violently. When she was ready to warn him sternly, Simon fell down.
Georgia could only catch him and help him into the car.
After she gave the driver money and told the driver to send Simon home, Georgia turned to the community.
Suddenly, however, she saw Robert sitting a black car parked next to her.
Why was he here?
And when did he get here?
Georgia had doubts, but, Robert just took a cold look at her and then rolled up the window. The car disappeared in the line of sight of Georgia.

Georgia feared for some reasons.

She had the impression that she had seen the car several times today, as if it had been following her.

Inside the car, Robert's eyebrows were very gloomy.

After Secretary Dean gave him Georgia's address yesterday, Robert came to Georgia's community.

He looked at Georgia went to the MU Research Institute and she seemed to have a job.

After staying in the car in silence all day, he saw Georgia coming out with a group of men and women in the afternoon.

One of the men was very close to Georgia.

Later, these people went to dinner, to sing, and finally Georgia and a man intimately sat into the car.

Now, they embraced and were reluctantly to leave.

This woman seduced men in everywhere!

He was still holding a fantasy to this woman, Robert felt him ridiculous.

As he got home, he called his secretary.

"Investigate MU, and then find out what Georgia is doing at MU now. Also, look closely into Laurence's past and business dealings and don't miss any valuable leads."

Georgia united Laurence to cheat him and play with him!

His revenge had only just begun.

Georgia took the elevator to go home.

However, no sooner had the elevator door opened than Georgia saw Vanessa struggling at the door, while Alfred holding and kissing Vanessa.

Vanessa looked miserable.

Georgia immediately rushed to Alfred, and then took the bag to hit Alfred's head hard.

"Alfred, let go of Vanessa!"

Alfred felt pain from head and let go of Vanessa. Then he looked at Georgia with his fierce eyes.

"Get lost! It is between me and Vanessa. Georgia, if you intervene again, I will be rude to you!"

Alfred's face was malicious. He grabbed Vanessa's wrist, looking like a devil.

Vanessa struggled angrily.

"Alfred, you and I broke up a long time ago, you are absolutely crazy!"

"I am crazy, Vanessa, I have been crazy since the day you insisted on breaking up with me! I tell you, I will repay you a thousand times more for the pain you inflicted on me!"

With that, Alfred directly shook off Vanessa.

Vanessa fell to the ground.

Georgia was mad with anger.

She had thought that this man still loves Vanessa.

But he was so cold-blooded!

Georgia took the bag to beat Alfred desperately.

However, Georgia was too thin and her strength was much less than Alfred's.

Alfred pushed Georgia down to the ground directly!

"Vanessa, your previous works are suspected of plagiarism, which has brought tens of millions of losses to the company. I tell you, I will immediately let the legal department sue you!"

Vanessa stared at Alfred, but Alfred directly turned to the elevator, and the elevator door was immediately closed. _____

Chapter 41 He Has Nothing but Hate for You

"Vanessa, what does Alfred mean?"

Georgia immediately asked with concern.

Vanessa's face was pale. She kept shaking her head.

"I don't know...I have no idea what Alfred was talking about..."

Georgia got up from the ground and grabbed Vanessa's arm.

"Vanessa, let's go in and talk."

Vanessa was helped back to the indoor and sat down in the sofa.

Georgia poured a glass of water and handed it to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, don't panic, have some water first."

Vanessa took the glass and drank a glass of water, but her hands were still shaking.

"Georgia, I'm afraid. I saw TEBB's fashion show these days, the clothes in it are very similar to the design I submitted before. What Alfred just said should not be false, I.....I don't know who's behind the scenes, Alfred...He will take the opportunity of paying me back now!"

Georgia looked at the frightened Vanessa, feeling depressed.

"Vanessa, it was just the end of the relationship, why Alfred forced you? Since he was to marry Rachel, why should he do this?"

Vanessa's expression suddenly became sour.

"Vanessa, things were too complicated, in fact, I did not tell you all."

"By that time, you were already in prison, and I was raped and I had a baby in my belly. I didn't even know if it was Alfred's or those beasts'. Alfred's grandmother passed away, and his relatives and friends forced him to pay off her debts. That was when I broke up with him."

Vanessa said and burst into tears.

"At that time, Alfred was living a very difficult life. I told Alfred coldly that I disliked his uselessness and lack of money. He knelt downstairs for a day and a night, but I didn't go down to see him! Even, I pretended to be with a rich second generation to deliberately humiliated Alfred several times, after that, he left in despair. He should hate me. I did a lot of things to humiliate him."

Georgia felt sad and surprised to the fact that Vanessa had been through so many things.

"There must have been a compelling reason for your determination to break up."

Vanessa turned her head, with her voice choking.

"My belling was getting bigger and I wanted to abort the baby. The doctor told me that my endometrium was thin and there was a chance that I would not get pregnant again. In addition, I inexplicably believed that the child was Alfred's, I wanted to give birth to it, otherwise, I really would not have another child in my life. However, I could not tell Alfred these reasons and asked him to wait for the moment the baby was born and then take a paternity test to see who the father was."

"If the baby turned out not to be Alfred's, I could not even imagine what would come to us. I could only break up with him. Besides, at that time, a stranger sent me videos and photos of me being insulted. I almost broke down mentally. The person told me to leave Alfred. I did not want Alfred to know it and I got pregnant, so I could only leave."

Georgia's expression became serious at once.

"Vanessa, you were caught on video?"

Vanessa nodded with a bitter smile.

"Georgia, I am a ridiculous person, for that ridiculous self-esteem I dared not report to the police, I don't even know where I was raped. I only know I got drunk in the gathering and I was raped by a group of men. When I woke up, I was home, I didn't even know how to report to the police!

"Would the person who shot the video was Rachel?"

Georgia felt that Rachel had the motivation to do it.

Since she knew Alfred, Rachel had been secretly trying to undermine the relationship between Vanessa and Alfred.

Georgia couldn't help doubting Rachel.

"Georgia, I don't know... I wanted to check, but I don't have the courage..."

Georgia did not ask again, it was Vanessa's painful memories.

And if she continued to ask, it would only make Vanessa depressed.

"Vanessa, why was Alfred here tonight?"

"My part-time job ended at five o'clock in the afternoon, and I came home to have a bath. I heard a knock at the door, and I thought you were back. But when I opened the door, I saw Alfred standing drunk at the door."

"I had not done anything, but Alfred directly hugged me, and then kissed me. I was struggling hard, and then you came back."

Georgia nodded and sighed

"Vanessa, Alfred is now a successful man. He feels that you humiliated him and now he wants to get back at you. Vanessa, do you want to leave here or not? I don't think he will give up."

Vanessa hesitated.

Georgia grasped Vanessa's hand with a solemn expression.

"Vanessa, I'll take care of Annie. I'm really afraid that Alfred will drive you crazy. You still love him, but Alfred hates you. I don't want to see you tortured by him."

Vanessa smiled wryly.

"Georgia, let me think about it."

Georgia did not say more and asked Vanessa to have a rest and not think about it.

Georgia woke up as soon as morning broke.

She came to Vanessa's room. Vanessa had tears on her face, she was in pain in her dream.

Georgia felt distressed. She made a phone call to Mr. Knight.

After that, she made two bowls of noodles and called Vanessa to wake up.

When they were sitting at the table to have breakfast, Georgia said.

"Vanessa, in fact, the doctor said last time that the medical treatment in the United States is better, and there are more experts in heart surgery. I asked Mr. Knight today, I want him to help send Annie to the United States for treatment, which is also good for Annie. Vanessa, please go to the United States to help take care of Annie. I will come to the United States to take care of Annie with you after I complete my promise to Mr. Knight to make progress in targeting drugs for lung cancer."

"Mr. Knight said, as long as this domestic research is successful and the lung cancer targeted drugs came to the market successfully, he will set up a research office in United States. Then I will come to United States to be with you and Annie."

Georgia knew it was not good to make decisions for others.

However, Vanessa was indecisive.

She could not see Vanessa being hurt by Alfred.

What was more, Robert at any time might retaliate against her, and then she would bring trouble to the people around her. She could not let Vanessa stay here.

If they were in the United States, the Simpson family and Owen could do nothing to them. Annie would be safe.

Georgia was really afraid of Annie being robbed again!

Vanessa didn't answer her right away. She finished a bowl of noodles in silence.

Finally, she smiled faintly at Georgia.

"Ok, Georgia, I go to the United States to take care of Annie. When will Mr. Knight send Annie abroad?"

Chapter 42 Counterfeit of Academic Qualifications

"Mr. Knight said that the hospital in the United States needs to prepare several days in advance. There should be done on this Saturday. Mr. Knight will inform me of the specific time."

Hearing that, Vanessa nodded.

"These days I will take good care of Annie in the hospital, Georgia, you are certainly loath to leave Annie. Go to the hospital after work. Annie certainly hope you accompany with her."

Georgia nodded but felt sore in heart.

She had to make this decision, so, after weighing the pros and cons, she decided to let Annie and Vanessa go to the United States.

She wanted the people she cared about to live well.

Because, Georgia could not imagine how Robert would revenge her!

Georgia came to work by bus. It took her about 40 minutes from home to the institute.

The working hours started from nine o'clock, and Georgia didn't want to leave a bad impression on others.

So she got up at six in the morning.

When Georgia was to go out, it was 7:30.

When Georgia arrived at the institute, it was about 8:15.

By this time, the laboratory's door was open.

But there was no one inside. Georgia took around and found Aston looking at a file next to the computer.

Georgia came over and said hello to him.

"Good morning."

Aston coldly raised his head to take a look at Georgia. He did not answer, but lowered his head to continue to look at the file.

Georgia subconsciously took a glance at it, it was the lung cancer targeting drug meeting records of this year's global biomedicine conference.

When looking at all kinds of data yesterday, Georgia remembered that almost all the big figures from all over the world attended the conference and discussed their research progress with each other.

Georgia had been in prison for six years. Now she was eager to learn about the current research and its findings.

Yesterday she tried to find the text version of the meeting, but she failed to find it.

Now Aston had it.

"Aston, can you give me a copy of this meeting minute? I want to see it. I failed to find it yesterday."

Hearing that, Aston raised his head to look coldly at Georgia.

"Miss Lane, we are the only two here, you don't have to act. You can't understand this minute, so you don't have to pretend to me that you're trying so hard and that you know everything."

Georgia stared at Aston with wide eyes and then sighed helplessly.

"I don't know why you have so many misconceptions about me, Aston, but I really want to do research. I like to do research. And I hope I can make achievement."

Aston sneered.

"Don't act in front of me. It makes you look sick."

Georgia had no choice but to give up.

Well, she would ask someone else if they had a copy of the minutes.

Georgia turned to leave, but Aston warned her coldly.

"Miss Lane, I read your resume, it says that you graduated from Imperial University with a master's degree. I called my friends in Imperial University and they said there is no a graduate student called Gigi Lane. I advise you to keep a low profile, lest everyone knows that you have fake academic qualification!"

Georgia froze and then she turned to Aston.

"I don't want to explain. I do have something to hide. But I really want to do this job and make a difference."

Simon introduced to Georgia yesterday that Aston graduated from the Ivy League in the United States. He was capable and had high IQ. Aston chose to enter the Mu Research Institute because Benjamin personally found Aston. They had the same research direction in philosophy and shared the same ideal.

That was why he joined Benjamin's research team.

Aston found her resume had a problem, so he was angry.

Georgia understood Aston's dissatisfaction, if it were her, she would hate there was a member with false academic qualification.

Aston did not expect that this woman was shameless even if after being exposed.

And she even said she was going to make difference.

He stopped his work, stood up and waked to Georgia.

"Miss Lane, I've never seen anyone as impudent as you."

The man's eyes were disgusted, and his voice was cold.

Georgia felt upset and became silent.

She could not explain her identity, so she could not blame Aston for misunderstanding her.

"I'm sorry to have bothered you."

She looked up, not wanting him to see the tears in her eyes.

However, at the moment she raised her head, she found a chandelier shaking on the ceiling and was about to fall down!

And under the chandeliers stood Aston.

"Look out!"

Georgia rushed to him and subconsciously pushed Aston to the front. Perhaps she failed to control her strength, she pushed Aston to the ground.

And she pressed on Aston's body.

"Bang!"

The voice that behind was chandelier fell broken, Georgia's trembled.

The chandelier did fall down. It almost hit Aston's head.

They looked at each other in awkwardness. Their faces were so close that they could feel the breath of each other. The atmosphere was ambiguous.

"What are you doing!"

Behind came a woman's angry roar. Georgia supported herself up from the ground, but, she was too flurried, when her hand were on the ground, the broken chandelier glass got into her hand.

The fragment plunged into her palm at a draught.

"Ah -"

Georgia had cold sweat all over her body out pain, and she could not help but scream.

Aston got up and helped Georgia up.

Georgia's right palm was bloody, and that fragment was still in her palm.

Aston's face changed.

"I'll send you to the hospital right now."

With that, he hold Georgia up and rushed to outside quickly.

"Aston, let me help you..."

Anaya chased up and shouted, but Aston did not pay attention to her.

Anaya watched Aston holding Gigi left her line of sight.

She stamped her foot with envy.

Gigi must have pretend to be pitiful in front of Simon, otherwise, Simon would not be so anxious since he was an indifferent person.

The first time she met this woman yesterday, she felt threatened.

Now it had proved true.

Aston took Georgia into his car and drove toward the nearest hospital.

"Aston, it is just a small wound, the doctor can deal with it, drive slowly."

Georgia came back to her sense and she could endure the pain of the injury.

"Miss Lane, I just don't want to owe you! You saved my life today and I get you to the hospital. We're even! Don't worry, I won't divulge the fact that your academic qualifications are fake!"

Aston's voice was still cold, and he was shrouded in a kind of somber air.

Georgia looked towards him. Aston's side face was stiff.

Under that circumstance, she only wanted to save him.

In Aston's view, Georgia used this to threaten him to keep her secret, so his face was gloomy.

Georgia did not want to explain.

Aston should value knowledge very much. She thought when she made achievements, this man would respect her.

After arriving at the hospital, Aston helped Georgia to get the doctor bandaged her.

It was now two o'clock in the afternoon.

"Let's go back to the research institute, the wound has been bandaged. I temporarily do not experiment but read the data."

Hearing that, Aston coldly looked at Georgia.

"I have helped to ask for leave, you don't have to act with wounds to work. We don't need that. Even if you don't work too long, but if you have achievement, I will respect you, so don't have the evil thought and do nothing, but just please others so that everyone feel you are serious!"

Aston's eyes were disgusted.

Georgia smiled wryly.

"Ok, I'll go home today, but I'll definitely be back at work tomorrow.

The doctor said it's just a minor injury. Just don't touch the water."

"Suit yourself! Where is your home, I will send you back!"

Aston was still unhappy, nevertheless, he still send Georgia back to her community.

Georgia got off and then went to the window to thank him.

"Aston, I am home, thank you."

Aston nodded. He rolled up the window with a scowling face.

Then, he started the car and left.

Georgia returned home to change a suit of clothes, and then she went out again.

Yesterday she did not see Annie, so she decided to go to the hospital now.

Annie was now out of danger and no longer in intensive care.

But, she had a bad condition, so, Georgia let Annie live in the VIP single ward.

It would be quieter.

"Georgia, why are you here at this hour?"

When Georgia opened the door, Vanessa asked in surprise.

"The chandelier in the institute fell down, and it hurt my right hand, so I took a day off."

Georgia walked to the bedside of Annie.

Vanessa looked at Georgia's bandaged wrist and asked with concern.

"Is it serious? Just one day off?"

"Not serious, don't touch water these days and then have a check a few days later. I will go to work tomorrow. It's just a minor injury."

Vanessa nodded. Georgia had been sitting on the chair next to Annie's bed.

Georgia then took the story book and read it to Annie.

She went home at night.

And in the evening, Secretary Dean handed the investigation documents to Robert.

Chapter 43 Show Her what He Got

"Mr. Simpson, Laurence's recent business dealings, past experience, as well as the information of Mu are all in the file."

Robert sat in the study with his back to Secretary Dean, so Secretary Dean could not see his expression, and could only respectfully stand there.

"Put it on the desk."

After Secretary Dean put the file on the desk, Robert turned around and picked up the document.

Georgia did scientific research in MU. Robert sneered.

He had investigated Georgia's experience - academic fraud and plagiarism.

This woman liked to cheat others, whether in relationships or in school. Laurence put Georgia in such a major experimental project, he was really crazy!

Robert could not suppress his anger. During these years, Laurence would target at the Simpson family as long as he had the opportunity. He took their business for many times and even got them into troubles. Now, he had this woman to cheat him.

After having a careful look at his recent business, Robert made a call to his friend, Michael Homer. They had not contacted each other for a long time.

"Robert, what happened?"

Michael Homer was thirty years old and at the same age of Robert. They had business together, so they met once a year to discuss the cooperation plan for the next year.

"Michael, I have found out that you will meet with Laurence Knight to negotiate the oil base construction. You want Laurence's company to bid on the project?"

Michael bought a large forest in a small country in Africa and found a lot of oil.

So, Michael's next move was to set up a drilling base, and then he could sell the oil and make money.

This was a huge profit. Laurence contacted Michael and was to cooperate, which showed Laurence must be well prepared.

"Robert, Laurence had a good job in heavy machinery and overseas project on infrastructure construction these years. You want to join?"

However, he gives me a lot of benefits. Even if I know you, I also want to cooperate with Laurence."

"Michael, I can give you ten percent of interest, beside our Pharmaceutical Company will talk about the introduction of foreign drugs. At that time, I can be sure to find enough people to vote for your drug and get it through the review process."

"If it is ok, I will let our hospitals to popularize your company's several new medicines with all strength."

Michael gasped at the other end of the phone.

"Robert, since you are willing to make such a big concession, what do you want from me?"

Robert stood up slowly. He stood by the window.

"Haven't you two had scheduled to visit the oil fields on Friday? Control Laurence there for a year or half. In such a long time, his company will be hollowed out and become a complete empty box."

Robert's tone was somber and cool. Michael asked with amusement.

"What has this man done to you? Are you going to destroy him?"

"No, I've showed my mercy. He should have known from the day he tricked me that I would return the favor!"

Michael and Robert were both ruthless in business.

The power of that small foreign country was controlled by him, so it was not difficult to help, let alone there were so many interests.

"Robert, wait for my good news."

The two men reached an agreement.

Robert returned to the table and continued to read the file, after a while, Robert saw a familiar name.

He found that was in Georgia's team. Anaya was his cousin.

He heard from his mother that his cousin first studied clinical medicine when she was studying abroad, and then she turned to biological medicine.

And he heard that his cousin was working in a medical company's research institute, and now it turned out to be MU.

And his cousin and Georgia were now colleagues.

Thinking of Georgia's resume, Robert sneered. A plagiarist expelled from the school had no qualifications to enter the research institute to do research.

Robert found Anaya's contact information in the address book, and then made a call to her.

"Robert, what is it?"

Anaya was putting on lotion after her shower. She was so surprised to receive a call from Robert, who rarely talked or met.

"Anaya, are you busy tomorrow? I have something to talk with you."

Hearing that, Anaya felt nervous. Robert was cold and it must be a big thing if he came to her.

Anaya asked tentatively.

"Robert, is there a problem with my parents' company?"

Her family had a few small companies, relying on the orders from the Simpson family.

Anaya was actually afraid of him.

"Anaya, you think much, I want to chat with you about your new colleague. Wait for me, I will pick you up."

With that, he hung up the phone directly.

Anaya wondered if it was about Gigi since Robert mentioned 'new colleague'?

Thinking of the Aston took Gigi to the hospital in the morning, she became angry.

Gigi was clearly seducing Aston!

A new comer began to seduce Aston in the next day!

In those days, she changed her major for Aston, and came to the research team of MU for him.

Anaya absolutely would not allow others to rob Aston!

Georgia arrived at the laboratory at about eight o'clock this morning.

The first to arrive, as yesterday, was Aston.

She wanted to say hello, but, thinking of what happened yesterday, Georgia chose to be silent.

She walked silently to her desk, turned on the computer to sort out and study the materials.

After a while, Georgia felt a person standing behind her.

She turned around and found Aston standing coldly here.

"How's your hand?"

He asked.

"I am fine, it is not hurt anymore, I can read data these days."

She said with a smile. Xia nodded coldly, and then turned to leave.

When Anaya came in, she saw them talking and found Gigi was seducing him with a smile!

Anaya's face darkened.

This woman seduced his cousin and Aston!

If she had a chance, she would show this woman what she got. _____

Chapter 44 Deliberate Humiliation

Georgia did not know Anaya disliked her.

Every in the research institute was very busy and they had their task. Georgia was new here and her major job was to get to know the past experimental data of the team.

Ernie was the deputy director of their team.

When everyone arrived in the morning, there was a regular morning meeting.

It was about the recent experiments and the progress in their tasks.

When it was almost done, Ernie looked at Georgia.

"Gigi, how is the wound on your hand? If it is still serious, you can stay at home."

Ernie's tone was gentle. Georgia thanked him.

"Ernie, I'm all right. Thank you for your concern. It will not take long to heal, but I can't do the experiment for a few days."

Ernie nodded confidently.

"If you don't feel well, let me know at once, and I'll give you the day off.

It was an accident that the chandelier fell yesterday, but luckily you and Aston are all right. I've had all the circuits and appliances checked and repaired. This is not something to be taken lightly."

Everyone nodded in agreement. Ernie looked at Aston.

"Aston, you teach Gigi. She is new here and has too many things she does not understand. Please help her."

Hearing that, Georgia felt unease.

Subconsciously, she looked at Aston and sure enough, his face turned cold.

Anaya questioned.

"Ernie, Aston has many experimental tasks. How can he have time to teach others? Gigi is new and she might not understand Aston's research and, it also delayed the study of Aston! There are so many people in our team. Why do you have to ask Aston to teach her?"

Ernie was embarrassed, but his temper had always been gentle and humor.

He made this decision because Gigi saved Aston yesterday, and Aston sent her to the hospital even if he was a cold person.

He just felt they could get along.

Everyone in the team knew that Anaya liked Aston, so he felt headache.

"What do you think, Aston?"

Ernie asked Aston.

"I don't like to teach others!"

With that, Aston stood up and left the conference room.

Anaya looked at Georgia disdainfully, and then chased out.

Ernie looked at Gigi apologetically.

"Sorry, I am not considerate. I will ask someone else to teach you."

Simon stood up.

"Ernie, I picked up Gigi yesterday and I can teach her."

Simon seemed very enthusiastic.

Thinking of that the night before yesterday he said he wanted her to be his girlfriend, Georgia subconsciously wanted to refuse.

She stood up, and then refused.

"Simon, don't bother. If I have anything I don't understand, I can ask you. If you teach me specially, you will delay your job."

"Gigi, what you are talking about? It will not delay my job. You can rest assured that I will never delay my job."

Georgia was to refuse, but Ernie nodded.

"Gigi, Simon is a key member of our team, with him to guide you, you will soon catch up with our research progress. That is it, no more talks."

With that, he announced that the meeting was over.

Georgia reluctantly smiled and was ready to walk out of the conference room. At this moment, Simon came over enthusiastically.

"Gigi, don't be sad for Aston's refusal. He is always like this. He uses to be alone and doesn't deliberately target you."

Georgia nodded but she knew that Aston really hated her.

"Simon, actually, you don't need to teach me, if there is anything I don't understand, I will ask you."

"What's wrong with you today? It seems to me that you want to keep a distance from me on purpose. Is there anything wrong I have done?"

Georgia shook her head.

That night, Simon was drunk perhaps he did not remember it.

Georgia could not persuade Simon not to approach her.

"Simon, I am afraid of bringing trouble to others. You are already busy. I don't want to burden you."

Simon laughed out loud.

"Don't worry, I work fast, absolutely I won't delay my job."

Georgia could only keep silent.

Think of the meeting data yesterday in Aston's hand, Georgia asked.

"Simon, I want a copy of the meeting minutes of this year's Global Biomedical Conference and Lung Cancer Targeting Drugs. Do you have it? Can you make a copy for me?"

Simon immediately patted his chest and said.

"I have a lot of meeting minutes, including this one. I send one to you. Turn on your computer, I will send to you later."

Georgia nodded gratefully and returned to her desk to turn on the computer.

However, before Simon had sent it, Georgia saw a document from Aston in her mailbox.

Georgia downloaded it and read.

In it, all the papers on biopharmaceutical technology and research on targeted drugs for lung cancer in the authoritative journals of the past decade were sorted out. In addition, the conference minutes attended by various biological giants every year were in it, especially the meeting minutes of the last five years.

Famous High School Dropouts That Still Found Success

Georgia was surprised. Aston suddenly sent her a message.

"Whether it's for show or for real, I've organized the information and sent it to you as a gift for saving my life yesterday. Don't set your sights on me."

Georgia felt it funny.

Aston obviously hated her to the extreme, but she saved him by coincidence, and not to repay her kindness was not in line with his character.

Ernie asked Aston to teach her in the morning. He was afraid that it was her idea and let Ernie say so.

In Aston's eye, she had connection.

She deleted several times above the keyboard, Georgia finally sent him two words.

"Thank you."

Aston did not reply, and Georgia had read the document carefully.

After a while, Simon sent her the documents too. Georgia said thanks and then downloaded it down.

Georgia spent the whole morning reading these materials.

It was twelve o'clock at noon and it was time for dinner. MU had its own canteen.

Georgia saw Simon walking towards her and seemed to be ready to take her to the canteen. Georgia subconsciously looked at Sapphire sitting next to her.

"Sapphire, let's go to the canteen for dinner."

Sapphire was stunned, but she nodded and then turned off the computer and stood up.

Georgia and Sapphire walked toward the outside, and Simon just walked over.

"Gigi, go, I take you to the canteen."

"Simon, Sapphire and I have made an appointment to have lunch together."

Simon was disappointed. As he was about to say something, others had called him for dinner.

"Simon, go ahead, Sapphire and I will go to the canteen."

Simon had to go first.

After watching Simon and the others in the elevator, Sapphire said to Georgia.

"Simon is approaching you. He likes you."

Sapphire's tone was affirmed. Georgia was embarrassed.

"You don't know Simon, he is stubborn. Now he likes you, he will definitely approach you passionately. Even if you refuse, he may continue to approach you persistently, unless he makes up his mind to give up."

Sapphire's words made Georgia helpless.

"It has nothing to do with him. I have more important things to do now. I don't have time to have a relationship and I may drag him down."

Georgia said helplessly.

Sapphire did not speak again. They walked slowly to the canteen. After getting the food, they found a table and sat down.

Georgia's right hand was hurt and she could only eat with a spoon now.

Plus she had anorexia, so she ate slowly and tried hard to swallow.

She didn't want anyone to find out anything was wrong with her.

Sapphire was kind, and when they were having dinner, they chatted a lot about the gossip in the research institute. Georgia got familiar with other colleagues in this way.

However, speaking of Anaya, Sapphire advised Georgia.

"I heard that Anaya's family is very rich and powerful. Do not provoke her, she wishes to drive all women get close to Aston within three meters."

Georgia knew it and she nodded.

"Actually Aston hates me very much, and it was an accident yesterday. I don't know why Anaya cares it so much, as if I have taken Aston away." Sapphire looked at Georgia with amusement.

"The reason is very simple. She used to be the only young beauty in the institute, now you are here and more beautiful than her, sure she will be nervous."

Georgia was speechless.

After finishing the work in the afternoon, Georgia packed up her things and was ready to go home.

However, when she bent down to organize the data, a familiar voice was heard.

"Anaya, is this where you work?"

Georgia's bones instantly became stiff, as if there was a chill spread to the whole body.

It seemed to be the voice of Robert.

Georgia stood up and looked toward the desk of Anaya. Robert really stood in front of Anaya.

"Robert, I said you don't have to pick me up from work."

Anaya was surprised Robert really came, but Robert was famous in D City, and she wanted to show off.

Anaya took Robert's arm, and then introduced him to everyone.

Everyone nodded kindly and Robert politely said hello to each one.

But when Anaya introduced Georgia, Robert's expression suddenly became cold.

"Is this woman a colleague of yours?"

Anaya knew his cousin liked Gigi, she was unhappy, but she had to introduce politely.

"Robert, Gigi joined us the day before yesterday."

Robert sneered.

"She came to seduce me a while ago and lied to me that she had given birth to my child. I thought Miss Lane is just a liar, I did not expect she do research too."

Robert's voice was irony, and all people inside the institute looked at Georgia with surprise._

Chapter 45 Shameless

Georgia dared not raise her head. She felt as if herself fall in an ice cellar.

She knew Robert would retaliate against her, but she did not expect Robert would be here and said those words.

"Gigi, I really did not expect you are such a person."

Anaya raised her and looked at Georgia disdainfully.

She really had not expected that her cousin's arrival would suddenly turn out like this.

She thought this woman had attracted her cousin's interest, so he came here to get to know her.

Now it seemed she was a shameless bitch to seduce men!

"Anaya, you are jealous of Gigi, so you ask your cousin to bully and humiliate Gigi!"

Everyone was whispering. Simon stood up and scolded Anaya.

"Simon, you are enchanted by Gigi and your brain is not sober!"

Anaya did not expect that Simon would accuse her, and she angrily scolded.

Simon ignored Anaya the shrew, he angrily looked at Robert.

"Mr. Simpson, I have heard of your name long time ago. I am glad to see you, but how can you slander an innocent woman!"

Robert remembered that he was the man Georgia embraced that night. It had just been two days, and this man had protected her. Good for her.

"Have I slandered Miss Lane? Why don't you ask her yourself what word I have said slandered her? If I did, I will apologize."

Hearing that, Simon turned pale on face from an angry look. He stiffly turned to Georgia.

Georgia hung her head and said nothing.

Simon's heart was suddenly filled with disappointment.

He originally thought, Gigi was a pure woman, but as other women, she was vanity.

"Gigi, you're a disappointment!"

With that, Simon angrily rushed out.

Everyone in the Institute could see that Simon liked Georgia Simon and knew that he was about to approach her.

Now the goddess turned into a gold-digger.

Several people laughed at Simon not far away.

Georgia felt humiliated and embarrassed, but, she could not refute Robert.

There was something wrong in the paternity test report. And it was done by Mr. Knight.

She couldn't explain it!

Seeing that Georgia was silent, everyone felt Robert was telling the truth.

"I did not expect that she was such a woman..."

"She must have slept with one of our leader, so she could join our scientific research team."

"What a shameless woman. She seduced men outside everywhere and came here to seduce Simon. She is a jinx!"

...

There were malicious speculation and insults. With her hands trembling, Georgia looked up to Robert.

"What do you want?"

Robert did not answer, but Anaya laughed at her proudly.

"Gigi, my cousin just told the truth, so that other men see your true face early! Why, dare you admit it?"

"What's all the noise? This is an office. This is a research institute! Is this the theatre where everyone goes to see a show?"

Ernie stepped forward and shouted at a crowd of onlookers.

Then, Ernie looked at Anaya and Robert.

"Anaya, have you forgotten the code of MU that we should not let strangers enter our office and laboratory? When you were in the orientation training, these were the key points of the training. Now is there water in your head, or your IQ is out of order? You take your cousin to have a quarrel here, do you feel proud of that?"

Ernie's humor and gentle voice became cold. Anaya felt wronged and when she was to say something, Robert spoke.

"I am sorry that it was thoughtless of me to enter your office. I shall be leaving immediately."

Ernie was silent, and Robert continued.

"There's something else I'd like to tell you before I go."

"What is it?"

Ernie asked expressionlessly.

Professor Lee was not here now, and he was in charge of the whole research team. He really did not want something happened to the team these days.

Robert looked at Georgia.

Georgia could see that Robert's eyes were cold and cruel.

At that moment, Georgia felt that her job was over.

"I heard you call her Gigi, but as far as I know, this woman's real name is Georgia Lane. I think, you are familiar with this name."

After that, there was uproar.

Wasn't Georgia the plagiarist who shocked the world a few years ago?

In those years, Georgia contributed to the international top academic magazine and published an amazing paper in the world.

There were significant discoveries and experimental data to support the research and direction of targeted drugs for lung cancer.

At that time, many people thought that a genius had come out.

However, the paper published by Georgia was proved to have copied the experimental data and paper of Percy Chow.

Percy Chow was Georgia's mentor.

The mentor personally accused Georgia of academic misconduct, thesis plagiarism and experimental data plagiarism.

In the revilement of the whole world, Georgia instantly became stray cur from genius.

Soon after, Georgia was expelled from the school.

In a shock, Aston who had been disgusted with Georgia looked at her standing in the middle of the crowd in surprise.

At that time, he wanted to find Georgia to exchange experimental data and experience.

His research direction was the same as Georgia's.

But, Georgia was confirmed plagiarism, so Aston found Percy Chow.

The communication with Percy Chow was not happy, and Aston doubted the authenticity of Georgia's plagiarism.

"She is Georgia Lane... the plagiarist copied paper from her mentor..."

"She looks decent, but secretly she is so shameless..."

"This woman was a plagiarist, with what she joined our team? We will have bad reputation because of that..."

A large group of people looked at Georgia with disdain and disgust.

Georgia listened to the insults around her and clenched her hands into fists.

"Ernie, the professor is not here, you have to protect the reputation of our team! If you don't expel her, others will think MU plagiarize!"

Anaya said to Ernie.

Others followed suit.

"Ernie, she is Georgia Lane, who is notorious in academic circle. Even if we do not plagiarize, we will be laughed at by others!"

"Georgia, leave MU!"

"Get out of here!"

"Get out of here!"

He could hear the scolding.

Ernie took a deep breath and then asked Georgia.

"Are you really Georgia Lane?"

Georgia raised her head to hold back her tears. Silently, she looked at her colleagues who she had only been getting along with for two days. The disgust and disdain in their eyes was just like the look in the eyes of the whole school when she was accused of plagiarism by her mentor. As if she was such a dirty piece of trash. It was so depressing. "Yes, I am Georgia Lane." Georgia said softly, and then admitted her identity.____

Chapter 46 Plan to Go abroad Fails

Ernie became very disappointed. "Your academic credentials and name are fake, Miss Lane, I am sorry, our MU team does not welcome. I don't want drive you out, please leave on your own." Ernie said. He looked around at the people and shouted. "It's time to leave work, don't gather here! Do you want to attract other departments to see the joke of our team?!" Hearing this, a group of people scattered like birds. Ernie did not take another look at Georgia, but directly turned around to leave. Georgia felt sore at heart. She dared not say anything, for fear that she would cry out. Robert walked close to Georgia and then sneered. "Georgia, I warned you before that cheating on me will make you suffer, and now it is just the beginning." With that, Robert turned to leave. Anaya looked at Georgia being like this, her eyes were full of schadenfreude. "Georgia, so you are that woman made a false paternity test to cheat Robert. You also killed Wendy! Why don't you go to die? You are live, I can't imagine how shameless you are!" Georgia just stood in silence. No matter how painful in heart she was, she could not burst into tears in the front of the people who laughed at her. Anaya failed to see what she wanted to see. Her cousin was leaving. She stomped and could only catch up with him. Georgia took a deep breath, turned to collect her things silently. She should have known that this was not a place for her. She had only been here for two days, so she did not have too many things.

Georgia put her things into her bag within minutes, stood up in the jeers and disdain of others.

She stepped out of the MU building.

Vanessa would soon go to the United States with Annie. Georgia did not want to tell her what happened today.

However, she was so sad and she went to the hospital now, she was afraid that Vanessa found she was in bad mood.

Georgia sat at the nearest bus stop of MU. She was silent for a long time.

Until a man approached her.

"Georgia."

Aston called Georgia's name.

"Are you here to laugh at me?"

Georgia gave Aston a bitter smile.

The man, who had always hated her, must have despised her even more now that he knew her past.

"I just want to ask you, after you got expelled from school, why didn't you do more research to prove yourself? If you didn't plagiarize, you kept working on your theory and got success, everyone would know the truth."

Georgia looked at Aston in surprise.

For a long time, Georgia lowered her head silently.

"Because I ended up in prison for six years. How could I do research in prison..."

Georgia's tone was very low. Aston did not speak again.

It was a long time before Aston said again.

"If you are really wronged, with your talent in those days, you can prove your talent now. Percy Chow had made no progress in his research in recent years. This is your chance."

He said that and left.

Georgia's tears fell down drop by drop.

MU was her last chance, and she squandered it.

And it was because of Robert.

Even if Mr. Knight found her other research institute, but, Robert would destroy it.

This man just wanted to see her being miserable.

She felt sorry to Mr. Knight and picked up her mobile phone to make a call to him.

However, no one answered.

After a while, Georgia made another call to him, but no one answered either.

Therefore, Georgia made a phone call to Mr. Knight's secretary.

This time, someone got through.

"Alan, I failed to get through Mr. Knight's telephone, so I want to ask you if it is inconvenient for Mr. Knight to answer the phone now?"

"I don't know. Mr. Knight took people to Africa to negotiate a business deal. That small country is not secure, and the infrastructure is not good. The signal may not be good now."

So it was, Georgia said thanks to Alan.

"Thank you, Alan."

Georgia hung up the phone, adjusted her mood, and took the bus to the hospital.

When she arrived at the hospital, it was more than eight o'clock in the evening.

"Vanessa, I'm a little busy in work today, sorry."

Vanessa shook her head.

"Never mind, work is the most important thing. In fact, we don't need to accompany Annie every day. But only when we see her, we feel relieved."

Georgia smiled. She sat on the chair next to the hospital bed, and then took Annie's hand.

"Vanessa, what did the doctor say today?"

"She is better now. Perhaps she will wake up after some days."

Vanessa's words comforted Georgia.

As long as Annie could be alive, it did not matter how much she suffered.

"Vanessa, I will be in the hospital with Annie tonight, you go back to have a rest, it is not comfortable to always sleep in the hospital."

Vanessa nodded and then she went back to her apartment.

Georgia had been looking at Annie. Till midnight, she finally got drowsy.

The next day, Georgia got no reply from Alan all day long.

Annie and Vanessa were scheduled to leave on Saturday, which was arranged by Mr. Knight.

Georgia had not got any notice from Mr. Knight, and she made a phone call to him again.

But there was still no answer.

She had bad premonition, so she asked the hospital about the matter that Annie was to be transferred to the United States.

The doctor told her that the American hospital had turned her down. Georgia almost freaked out, and she subconsciously felt that it was related to Robert.

He said he'd get back at her.

First he destroyed her job, and now he was going to hurt Annie?

Georgia was extremely afraid. Annie was now in a coma and she could not be hurt again.

She really didn't want to go through the pain of Annie's death again.

The desire to transfer Annie became stronger and stronger. Georgia asked the attending doctor, in addition to the hospital refused her, which hospital in the United States would accept Annie.

Georgia made a phone call to that hospital. The person who answered the phone was enthusiastic, but the cost of American medical treatment was expensive.

She failed to contact Mr. Knight now, so she has to raise money.

At the very least, she would have 3 million so that the hospital in the United States would accept Annie.

She quit her job in MU now, but she still worked in the club.

She made a decision in her mind.

When she told the club that she wanted to start working six days a week, the club didn't refuse.

Georgia was very popular. If she was willing to come back to work, the manager welcomed her.

Georgia did not tell Vanessa about this.

She only told her that her departure for the United States might be delayed for a while.

Georgia could only put it off.

In the afternoon, Georgia came to the club. For more money, Georgia decided to do more work – dance in the club.

Her injured hand did not prevent her from dancing.

The club's commission was high. In addition to the dancers' basic salary, they can get 80% of the reward from the customers.

When Georgia arrived at the club, she put on a short black lace dress and started dancing in the middle.

In order to get a lot of tips, Georgia made herself very attractive.

The men watched with increasing enthusiasm. The atmosphere was almost explosive.

Robert stood not far away and looked darkly at the dancing woman. He sneered.

"Call your manager over here."

Robert gave orders, and then went to the VIP box and sat down.

Georgia was not the only dancer. After her dance, she returned to her dressing room to remove her makeup and put on the dealer's clothes.

Although the injury on hand had an impact on the deal, but Georgia felt she could endure it.

And inside the Robert's box, the manager had come in respectfully.

"What can I do for you, Mr. Simpson?"

"Ask your dealer Gigi to come here and deal cards."

Robert said.

"Mr. Simpson, wait a moment, I will arrange immediately."

Georgia now walked to the backstage and put on her clothes.

She put a simple makeup on herself and the manager came over.

"The VIP guest in Box 708 told you to be there and deal cards, get ready, Gigi."

"Ok."

Georgia got ready and walked to the elevator.

A few minutes later, Georgia knocked on the door of Box 708.

"Come in."

The man's voice was low and cold. Georgia felt her heart sank.

This was the voice of Robert.

Georgia did not want to go in. The man thought she had cheated on him and that she had killed his sister.

He must have come here to humiliate or torture her.

Georgia turned and walked to the manager.

"Manager, I don't want to go to that box. Please ask him to change someone else."

The manager was surprised. The club always did not force people, so he nodded and then came to Robert's box.

"Mr. Simpson, Gigi suddenly has stomach pain, so she can't come today. If you have the need, I can arrange someone else."

Robert sneered.

"Cooper, I said let Gigi come here. If not, I don't mind your boss throwing you out."

"Mr. Simpson, I see. I'll ask her to be here at once."

Cooper wiped the sweat from his brow, and then immediately turned and walked out of the box.

Georgia saw the manager came to her. Before she did anything, the manager knelt down at her feet.

"Gigi, please go to the box. Mr. Simpson said that if you don't go in there, he'll turn me out. This is the only job I have right now. My family is sick and I need money. Gigi, please!" _____

Chapter 47 Throw Money at Her

Georgia tightly pressed her lips. She did not want to go in there, but, she did not want to bring trouble to others.

Robert was pushing her.

After taking a deep breath, Georgia walked to Robert's box.

After Cooper walked out of Robert's box, a middle-aged man came in.

"Mr. Simpson, what a coincidence, I did not expect to see you here.

Why are you alone?"

He was Ralphy Porter. During this period of time, he had been trying to work with Robert's company.

Before this, Robert had refused to meet and him, because he had a better partner.

Theoretically, he did not need to pay attention to Ralphy, lest he would pester him.

But, he thought Georgia would be here soon.

After thinking for such a moment, Robert smiled to Ralphy slightly.

"Mr. Porter, I just have a sit here, we can talk about the cooperation."

Ralphy was just here to take a chance and he did not expect Robert to agree.

Ralphy sat on the sofa opposite Robert in surprise.

"Mr. Simpson, do you want some young ladies?"

Ralphy always liked to have some young ladies around to active atmosphere when talking about business. This club's young ladies were pretty, so, he asked Robert.

Thinking of Georgia, Robert darkened his face.

He shouldn't care about this woman. Maybe if she was ruined, he would not care anymore.

"No, I have called one. You may be satisfied."

As they were talking, Georgia had been at the door of the box. She knocked on the door again.

"Come in."

It was still the cold voice of Robert.

Georgia went in and found that there was an unknown middle-aged man inside the box.

She was confused. She hung her head and introduced herself.

"I was Gigi, Sir. Do you want to play cards or games now?"

"Mr. Porter likes to drink, Gigi, pour a glass of wine to Mr. Porter."

Ralph was flattered. He had thought that Mr. Simpson called only a woman to himself.

Now it seemed that Mr. Simpson was good to him.

It looked like there was a good chance that the deal would be concluded.

Georgia's face turned cold.

"Mr. Simpson, I am the dealer, if you play cards, or game, I can help you.

As for the wine pouring, I can ask the manager to send a few more people to you."

Robert scoffed.

"Mr. Porter, how do you like this woman?"

Ralph felt something was wrong. He could only nod his head stiffly.

"Mr. Simpson, she is pretty, but she has a hot temper, shall I ask the manager to change someone has a good temper?"

Robert stood up, walked to Georgia, and poured a bottle of red wine to Georgia.

Instantly, Georgia was drenched, like a drowned chicken.

Ralph widened his eyes in shock.

"Robert, what are you doing?"

Georgia said in a cold voice.

Robert stood beside Georgia and then coldly smiled.

"Georgia, what you are pretending in a club? Aren't you here to seduce a man? When you seduced me, I found out the truth. Now I have changed you a rich man, so that you can have a chance to earn money. Have I done my best?"

"You..."

Georgia looked at Robert angrily. She stood up and was ready to leave.

However Robert grasped her wrist directly.

"Your daughter now is unconscious. Living in the hospital for a long time needs a lot of money. Georgia, if you leave now, I will ask the boss to dismiss you, so that you no longer have way to earn money and then your daughter can only wait for dead."

"Also, do not expect Laurence Knight to help you, he is now trapped in Africa. I am not sure if he can come back alive. Georgia, your backer has fallen."

Georgia froze suddenly.

She had failed to contact Mr. Knight and felt anxious.

Now, it turned out that Robert knew something happened to Mr.

Knight.

"What did you do to him?"

Robert laughed.

"This is just a little revenge on him for playing me with a fake paternity test. Georgia, everything has the price. Laurence deserves it."

Georgia took a deep breath and closed her eyes.

Annie's daily treatment cost tens of thousands. She had to earn money and she could not lose this job.

Turning around, she asked.

"Robert, if you want to humiliate me, or get back at me, feel free to do it."

With that, she showed a charming smile.

Then, she went to Ralphy and poured him a glass of wine.

"Mr. Porter, please drink."

Ralphy perceived something between the two people.

He was afraid to accept the drink handed over by Georgia.

Robert sat down on the sofa and laughed.

"Mr. Porter, if you can let this woman be with you, I promise to give you that business order."

"Are you serious, Mr. Simpson?"

Ralphy was surprised.

"Sure, Gigi loves most the money. Mr. Porter, just give her money."

Robert thought he could enjoy Georgia's painful expression by saying this.

However, Georgia laughed hearing that.

"Mr. Porter, Mr. Simpson is right. As long as you give me enough money, I am willing to do anything..."

Georgia sat directly beside Ralphy.

Ralphy took the wine handed over by Georgia. He drank it out and looked at Georgia with sexual interest.

"How much money do you want?"

"Mr. Porter, I don't despise money, of course, the more the better."

Georgia said and poured another glass of wine to Ralphy.

As Ralphy drank more and more, he took the card out of his bag and handed it to Georgia.

"Miss Lane, here is two million. Is that enough?"

Georgia just smiled and took the card from Ralphy.

Ralph thought Georgia was willing to be with him now. He was in a daze and only had this gorgeous woman in eyes.

Unsteadily, Ralph seized Georgia's hand, and then pressed her under his body.

He had been drunk, and completely forgot Robert was there, also forgot where he was.

He just wanted to have this beautiful woman.

There was the sound of clothes being torn and the man's body was moving closer and closer.

Chapter 48 Sell Yourself

Georgia closed her eyes and her tears began to flow down.

Since the man wanted revenge on her, she resigned him.

As long as Annie was alive, she could bear anything.

The smell of the man was so unpleasant that it made her want to spit out.

Georgia repressed herself and did nothing.

Anyway, Robert wanted her to be humiliated.

There came a loud noise. Georgia opened her eyes in shock.

Ralph was beaten to the ground.

Then, Georgia saw the Robert kicked Ralph out of the box.

After the box door closed, Robert darkly walked to Georgia.

"Georgia, for two million, you plan to sell yourself to Ralph. How can you be so cheap?"

Georgia laughed coldly.

"Mr. Simpson, I am cheap, for money, I can do anything, and you knew it!"

Robert could only feel the anger in his chest.

He threw a black card directly to Georgia.

"There are five million in it, please me, and I'll give it to you."

"Robert, you are so funny."

Georgia laughed derisively.

Robert looked darkly at Georgia.

"What, despise five millions?"

"No."

Georgia gave him a charming smile.

"I won't despise money. Don't you want me to surrender the money? I had surrendered."

With that, Georgia walked to Robert and then pleased this man.

Robert thought he would be very happy, but he only felt agitated.

Pushing away this woman, Robert sneered.

"Go away, I hate you for being dirty."

Georgia put on the clothes, then, returned to the dressing room in the backstage.

She began to remove her makeup.

At that moment her mobile phone rang.

"Hello, is it Miss Georgia Lane?"

It was the voice of a middle-aged woman.

"I am. Who are you, please?"

Georgia politely asked.

"Miss Lane, hello, I am from the financial office of the hospital. Your daughter Annie today's medical expenses have not been paid up to now. You had someone to pay for it before. Can you come and pay as soon as possible?"

Georgia promised to go to work in Mr. Knight's research institute, and Mr. Knight promised to provide Annie's treatment cost.

So what Robert just said was true.

Something really happened to Mr. Knight.

Otherwise, the hospital would not ask her to pay.

This was Robert's revenge. Georgia took a deep breath, with her tears falling down.

But she could not be brought down.

"How much will it cost? Can you extend the time for three days? I will come to pay as soon as possible."

The person on the other end of the line was silent for a while, and then the middle-aged woman finally spoke.

"Miss Lane, your daughter's daily treatment costs around 10,000 yuan, we will give you three days. If you fail to pay the bill after three days, we can only inform you to take your daughter to leave the hospital. Sorry."

"Ok. Thank you for giving me three days."

With that, Georgia put the phone on the dresser.

Her job in the institute had been successfully destroyed by Robert.

The job at the club was her last one and she couldn't lose it.

She needed a lot of money. If she was only a dealer, she could not earn enough money for Annie's medical expenses. Georgia took off her clothes and looked at herself.

This body, perhaps, was the only value of her.

All Robert wanted was revenge and shame on her.

If only she completed his wish.

Georgia put on herself with an enchanting makeup.

Immediately, she dressed herself in sun-top and hot pants.

She looked gorgeous and sexy.

Georgia took a lipstick and painted herself.

After a long time, Georgia walked to Layla.

"Layla."

Layla looked at Georgia in surprise.

Rarely had the woman dressed herself so sexily.

"Gigi. What can I do for you?"

"Layla, the other girls in the club are all trained by you. I am short of money and need a lot of money. Layla, please arrange customers for me."

"Are you sure?"

Layla had persuaded Gigi many times before to come to her here to make money, but this woman had refused.

Except the last time she asked her for help, but after that, the woman went back on her word.

She had always wanted to train Gigi. After all, Gigi had the best looks and body.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

If she trained her, absolutely the customers would spend many on her.

However, she was free and she could not force her.

Now, Gigi actually came to her.

"Layla, I won't go back on my word."

Georgia solemnly looked at Layla without hesitation.

Layla looked at Georgia calmly for a long time, and then she smiled.

"Well, from today on, I will train you. You can rest assured that I will let you earn a lot of money."

Georgia nodded.

"Layla, I may need 100,000 yuan in a few days, or at least 10,000 yuan for medical expenses every day. I don't care what the customers look like, as long as he spends enough money."

Layla was surprised and then she laughed.

"Gigi, it is just ten thousand a day. Linda who has the worst performance earn at least five hundred thousand a month, excluding the gifts. You're so pretty, don't worry, I won't hide your beauty."

Georgia forced a smile.

At this point, there was no turning back.

Self-respect, dignity were nothing in front of life and death.

She just wanted Annie to be alive.

"Thank you, Layla."

"Gigi. For men, what they can't get is the best. If you are casual, it will only make you worthless. Come, let me take you to change into your clothes."

Layla took Georgia to the cloakroom, where there were a lot of clothes.

"Gigi, you are gorgeous, there's nothing wrong wearing sexy clothes, but we have to dress up and make men think it is necessary to takes time, effort and money to get you. Only then can you have a man controlled in your hands."

Georgia nodded.

Immediately, Layla took out a blue skirt.

"Put on this dress. You have fair skin, with this dress, you will look noble and men will think you are untouchable. Remember, don't please a man easily, but let a man please you."

Georgia put on the blue herself.

Then, Layla took Georgia to a separate make up room.

"I'm going to redo your makeup. You can't make your makeup look kitsch. It makes men look down on you. So, I will give you a noble cold makeup. Gigi, I will make you a cold beauty, and your smile is the pursuit of men. Do you understand what I mean?"

"Yes."

Georgia answered.

"Good."

Layla smiled, and then did Georgia makeup.

When the makeup was finished, a cold noble woman appeared inside the mirror at a draughts.

Georgia was cold on face, but there was endless sadness in the heart.

"That's right, Layla, isn't it?"

Layla nodded with a smile.

"Gigi, I have also encountered many hardships, but I survived. My enemies are all dead. As long as you are alive, you can have a satisfied day."

Georgia smiled slightly, but as if her heart was empty.

After that, Layla turned to a cabinet and took out a few of jewelry.

She put a diamond necklace around Georgia's neck.

And she wore pearl earrings above her ears.

Then, Layla out platinum bracelet, diamond ring on Georgia.

Georgia was surprised.

"Layla, what are you doing?"

"With all these, men will think it is inappropriate to get you at the usual price. It must be a lot of money, a lot of presents. Do you understand?"

Georgia bowed her head and then laughed with self-mockery.

"I see."

When everything was done, Layla laughed.

"Come on, I'll show you out today, and remember, don't smile easily."

"Ok."

Georgia followed Layla out of makeup room. When they walked in corridor, the men looked at Georgia secretly.

Georgia kept a cool expression.

"Gigi, I take you to know Mr. Graham first. His name is Brian Graham. His family runs a real estate company and he has always been generous. He does not like to be flattered by women, and the colder the beauty, the more he likes it. All you have to do is not to offend him, but to be a cold beauty to him all the time, and to smile in the right time."

Finally, Layla took Georgia to a big box.

"Mr. Graham, this is my sister Gigi, she is new here and wants to know more people. I wonder if you can give her a chance."

Layla was the procuress of the club. As soon as he heard that Layla had a new girl, Brian Graham raised his eyebrows and looked at the woman behind Layla.

Seeing her, Brian's eyes became bright.

He liked to be in this club, because the girls here were much prettier than those of other places.

She was almost the most beautiful woman he had seen in all his years at the club.

She was the one after his heart.

"You are beautiful. Why don't you smile?"

After Brian said that, Georgia came forward to him, and poured two glasses of wine.

And then she gave him one of them.

"Mr. Graham, I don't like to smile. I'm cold. I hope you don't mind it."

With that, she drank the glass of wine in her hand.

"Good!"

Mr. Graham shouted with joy, and he drank up the wine that Georgia had handed him.

"Gigi, come and sit on me. I'm not familiar with you. We need to get to know each other. Talk about hobbies. It's more approachable." _____

Chapter 49 You're Too Cheap

With that, Brian looked at Layla.

"Layla, you don't need to be here now. Gigi and I have something to talk in private."

Layla looked at Georgia.

Georgia nodded to Layla.

"Layla, you can go, I will have a talk with Mr. Graham."

Layla looked at Georgia carefully and then nodded.

"All right, entertain Mr. Graham."

After Layla said that, Georgia sat beside Mr. Graham.

"Gigi, why are you sitting far away from me? Come, sit on me, I will hold you firmly."

Georgia coldly looked at Mr. Graham with a trace of smile in her eyes.

"Mr. Graham, you are too fat. If I sit on you, it will be very hot."

Brian liked the cold beauty, he had a quirk.

He did not like the woman who flattered him.

He liked this cold woman, she refused him but she made him feel there was hope.

This was Brian's favorite feeling. He enjoyed the cool feeling of gradually conquering the iceberg beauty.

With this thought, Brian laughed.

"Relax, Gigi, I will lose my weight, then you need not be afraid of being hot."

Georgia nodded gently, without a trace of smile in her eyes.

However, she volunteered to pour two glasses of wine.

"Mr. Graham, it is the first time to know you, I propose a toast to you."

Georgia said and drank it up.

Brian of course would not refuse her. He drank it up and asked.

"Gigi, what do you like to do at usual time?"

"Mr. Graham, my life is simple. Usually I watch movies, watch TV series at home and occasionally go shopping."

Brian felt bored.

Although he knew that what the beauty said was not necessarily true, he was just having fun.

"Gigi, I have a three-story villa by the lake. No one lives there. If you like, you can live in it at any time."

Georgia knew what Brian meant, she shook her head.

"Mr. Graham, there are many mosquitoes by the lake, so I can easily be bitten by mosquitoes when I go out. I like dry places."

Brian found it very interesting to talk with Georgia. He laughed.

"It is simple, I have a 300 square meter of big house in the center of the city, where the floor is high and dry. I can show you some day."

What he could not get was the most precious. Georgia shook her head again.

"You and I are still not familiar with each other, and I always feel that indifferent sleep is meaningless. If we have a familiar feeling and intimate attachment to each other, that is the pursuit of life."

"You mean you are still unfamiliar with me?"

Brian looked very excited, obviously he liked the feeling to be rejected. Georgia nodded.

"Mr. Graham, we just met today. I think, with your taste, you're sure to impress any woman."

Brian could not help laughing loudly and Georgia stood up instead.

"Mr. Graham, I'm tired today. I want to go home early and rest."

Hearing that she was about to leave, Brian felt reluctant.

"Gigi, it's still early."

"Mr. Graham, women will age quickly if they don't have a good sleep."

At this, Brian laughed again.

"All right, I want to go now. Come on, I'll send you home."

Georgia refused at once.

"Mr. Graham, I have a ride home."

Brian looked at the cold but pretty face of the woman, his heart became more and more hot.

There was competition, no wonder she were scornful of his ingratiating.

It seemed that he had not done enough.

"Gigi, we just met today, I think you have time to send me out."

Georgia knew she could not refuse him all the time.

"Mr. Graham, let's go, I'll see you off."

They walked out of the box together. Georgia personally sent him to the parking lot and returned to the elevator until the car had gone.

However, as she walked a few steps, a car drove fast over and was about to hit her.

Subconsciously she wanted to avoid it, but her limbs seemed stiff for a moment.

As the car was to hit her, she closed her eyes, feeling desperate.

The sound of the car's sudden brake was heard. Georgia opened her eyes and found the car had stopped.

She really thought the car was going to kill her.
She wanted to ask the driver if he was crazy!
However, Georgia saw Robert opened the door and walked down.
"Did you just try to kill me?"
Georgia failed to control herself and questioned Robert angrily.
Robert looked at Georgia coldly.
"I saw you seduced Brian, so I asked your boss. You became a prostitute from a dealer. Georgia, you are clever, know to earn more money while you are young."
Georgia took a deep breath and then smiled to Robert charmingly.
"Mr. Simpson, I need money, so as long as I can earn morning, I can do anything. If you give me money, I can immediately serve you, and absolutely I will please you."
Robert hated her self-depraved appearance, but, he did not want to see this woman had a happy life!
Turning around to take out a small bag from the car, Robert picked up a pile of money, and then scattered them directly on the top of Georgia's head.
Georgia felt the money was like a sharp knife, thoroughly stabbing in her heart.
"This is twenty thousand, Georgia, is it enough to have you for a night?"
Robert coldly asked. Georgia looked up at the man.
Then she laughed.
"Mr. Simpson, I am now the most popular girl in the club. Mr. Graham said he would give me a villa. Twenty thousand one night is not enough."
Robert only felt the anger inside his chest more and more turbulent.
He pulled Georgia into the car and threw the card at her.
"Five million, enough?"
Georgia did not allow herself to cry in front of Robert, she laughed suddenly.
"Five million one night sure is enough, Mr. Simpson, you are really generous."
"You're so cheap!"
Robert darkly roared. He took Georgia's hand and was ready to get in the car.
Georgia shook her head.
"What, do you want to go back on your words?"
Robert said in a sarcastic manner.
Georgia shook her head, squatted down, and then picked up the money

Robert threw on the floor one by one.
"This is the money I sell myself. I can't just leave it on the floor."
Robert looked at the woman picked up the money and put in the arms.
For some reason, Robert felt depressed slightly.
This was this woman's retribution. Robert said to himself.
After that, they got into the car. Robert started the car.
About half an hour later, Robert took Georgia to a downtown apartment.
Before the light was turned on, Georgia was thrown directly into bed.

Chapter 50 Get Out

The moon was dim outside the window.
Georgia could not see the man's expression at all.
But his movement showed the slightest bit of pity.
Obviously it was hot to embrace, but, Georgia only felt cold.
After all clothes were taken off, Georgia took Robert's hand.
"Mr. Simpson, you haven't told me the password of card, it is not a deal yet."
Robert felt his heart stabbed hard.
"Georgia, you are so cheap that make me feel sick."
"Mr. Simpson, this is what you want to see. I now can only live by selling myself. You revenge is successful."
Georgia was calm. With a move of Robert, Georgia screamed out of pain.
"The password is 000111."
Robert coldly said.
After the ups and downs, Georgia did not feel a trace of comfort.
She felt pain in her body. There was no love in the man's movements, only torture.
After that, Georgia only felt exhausted physically and mentally.
The man turned on the light and went straight to the bathroom.
After the shower, he walked out in a towel, looking at Georgia's eyes without a trace of emotion.
"You finished. Take your money and cards and get the hell out of here at once!"
Feeling sore in heart, Georgia put on the clothes one by one.
Under Robert's sneering gaze, she put the money and the card in her bag.
After Georgia left, Robert felt a big hole in his heart.

No matter what he did, his heart seems to be always empty
Georgia took a taxi back to the hospital late at night.
She did not immediately go to Annie's ward, but sat down on the first floor and shed tears silently.
There were few people in the hospital at night, but there were still emergency patients, nurses and doctors walking around.
No one would pay attention to a woman in tears.
There was separation and death happened in the hospital every day.
They were many crying there.
Georgia was just one of them.
No one would care why she was crying or what she was going through.
Georgia didn't stand up until 8 a.m.
Holding the card, Georgia went to pay Annie's medical expenses.
If she became a devil in hell, Annie could be saved, she would rather be a devil.
When she couldn't find a way to live, she would use Robert's money.
Even it was him made her miserable.
She had no claim to pride.
However, thinking of that Mr. Knight had helped her a lot and she might have brought Mr. Knight into trouble, she felt sorry.
Georgia made a call to Alan.
But no one answered.
She tried several more times, but there was still no answer.
Georgia realized that something wrong did happen to Mr. Knight.
She wanted to help, but she did not know what to do.
Annie's plan to go abroad could not be terminated, so she contacted the hospital in the United States again.
Robert did not cheat her, that card really had five million.
She paid Annie 50,000 yuan for hospitalization expenses.
With the rest of the money, she wanted to send Annie to the United States for better medical treatment.
The negotiation with the American hospital was smooth. What Georgia needed to worry about was to talk about the transfer with the domestic hospital.
Annie needed to be watched by medical staff at all times, especially on the flight.
This must have the cooperation of domestic hospital.
Before, Mr. Knight said he would arrange it.
But, Mr. Knight was not in trouble, and Georgia could only talk with the dean.

Georgia thought it would not be much trouble, but the dean rejected her.

Without even a reason, Georgia was thrown out of the dean's office. Vanessa was with Annie during the day. Georgia did not even dare to go back to the ward.

She was afraid Vanessa would find out that she had lost her job at MU. In a daze, she had sat in the coffee shop for a night. Suddenly her face turned pale.

She forgot to take the morning-after pill.

Flurried, Georgia ran to the drugstore.

And then she breathed a sigh of relief until she took the medicine into her stomach.

It was already 6 p.m., Georgia decided to go to the club in advance.

She had no connections and had offended Robert.

After thinking, she felt only she had a backer stronger than Robert could she have a chance to live.

But, who dared to offend the Simpson family?

Georgia couldn't find a way, and she thought she could find someone with the hospital's resources.

Then she could send Annie abroad.

With this idea, Georgia arrived at the club at seven o'clock and said her request to Layla.

"Layla, I want to send my daughter abroad for treatment. I have collected the money needed in the United States, but now the domestic hospital does not agree with the transfer. I want to find someone who can help me in this respect."

"Usually at eight o'clock, the customers will come. I will see if someone could help you with this, and I will let you know."

Georgia was grateful to that.

She got dressed and put on her makeup, and then waited for Layla's news.

At about half past eight, Layla walked to Georgia.

"There is a middle-aged man named Callum Clark in Box 1007 on the tenth floor. He has invested in many hospitals. You can turn to him for help. But, he is always lascivious, if you ask him for help, you must please him."

Georgia understood what Layla meant. Callum was not Brian. In the face of Brian, she could pretend to be a cold beauty.

Callum only enjoyed ingratiation, which meant she might have to sell her body.

But, anyway, she was forced to sell by Robert.

It was just another sale. Why should she be melodramatic?

Annie would die if she did not get timely treatment, she must let Annie go abroad for surgery!

Perhaps the effect was not as good as that if Ivan had the operation, but it was a hope at least.

"Layla, it just needs to please a man. I can do whatever he wants me to do."

Georgia was then brought to Callum's box.

Unlike yesterday, there was no one else in Brian's box. He just wanted for Georgia to chat and have fun alone.

And there were already three girls in Callum's box.

They were in Callum's arms, talking and laughing. And Callum kissed casually on the faces of two young ladies.

As for the other young lady, she danced taking off her clothes in front of Callum, and she was to be naked.

Georgia's arrival quieted the box for a moment.

"Mr. Clark, this is my newest girl, she is the best, do you want to know her?"

Callum casually glanced at Georgia, and then his eyes became bright.

He asked playfully.

"Whether or not she is the best, I will know after we sleep together.

What is your name?"

"Mr. Clark, you call me Gigi."

Georgia showed a charming smile. She walked to him and bent down to take his hand.

"Mr. Clark, I have long heard of your name. Can I have a close contact with you tonight?"

Callum liked beauty to seduce him and say she admired him.

He did not care what these beauties thought in their hearts, but as the money was given, they would kneel at his feet and please him.

This woman was beautiful and said good words to please him. With force, Georgia was directly pulled to sit on him.

The other two women were squeezed to the sides.

"Gigi, since you admire me, you can't just talk about it,. You should be active."

With that, Callum pointed to his cheek, indicating Georgia to kiss him.

Georgia knew this was her chance.

Enduring nausea, Georgia leaned close to the man's cheek.

But as she was approaching, a man's voice was heard.

"Mr. Clark, you are really lucky to have many women around you.

Everyone is so beautiful. Do you want to introduce one to me?"

"Dr. Ivan, I've been waiting a long time, and you're here finally."

There was about to talk about business. Callum had no interest to joke about women anymore, he pushed Georgia away directly.

Georgia hung her head and did not dare to raise her head to see Ivan.

The other women in the box sat to one side.

Ivan did not find out Georgia was there. He sat on the sofa, and then laughed.

"Mr. Clark, many people seek me to perform an operation, only your price is the most sincere. But I still can't believe you really decided to give me 10 percent of your stock just for a surgery."

Callum poured a glass of wine and laughed.

"Money is nothing compared to death, Dr. Ivan. Everyone in my family wants me dead, and even though I am fully prepared, I can't be sure that no one will play tricks on me during the operation. But you are different, you have the Simpson family on your back. No one can threat. More important is, your operation never failed. I think it is worthy to pay ten percent of the shares to save my life."

"I can make money at any time, and if I die, my enemies will laugh and dance on my grave."

Ivan laughed aloud. He did not lack of money.

However, he would not refuse such a sincere invitation.

"Mr. Clark, since such, I agree to perform an operation to you. You arrange the time and I will study your case these days."

The two men talked and laughed.

After drinking for a while, Callum looked at the woman inside the box.

"Dr. Ivan, it is not funny enough that just both of us drink. What do you think of asking the young ladies liven up a bit?"

Ivan nodded, and Callum looked at Georgia.

"Gigi, dance for Dr. Ivan. I don't know how you look like when you dance."

Georgia stiffed. She had to stand up and stood in the middle of the box.

Ivan froze instantly._____
