Chapter 551 The Chow Family and Princess Anna

They got insider information that Alfred's biological mother was in contact with Isabel.

Isabel should be on Alfred's side now, but still, she took away Vanessa and her children. Georgia couldn't figure out why.

“I'm going to call her.”

Alfred gave Isabel a call silently.

“Mrs. Chow, this is Alfred. We had a deal that you'll help me if I help you. I also promised that I'll give back all the shares to you guys once you guys found the Chow's family lost bloodline. I will leave the Chow family and not bring anything monetary with me. So, why are you doing this to me?”

Isabel didn't think that she would be found out so soon. She didn't think that the investigation could lead directly to her.

She was in Svero now and Princess Anna was right next to her.

She stood up and walked towards the Balcony. She said to Alfred.

Chapter 552 Put All Eggs in Her Basket

“We can only start investigating Isabel first. Let's hope that she leaves us some clues so that we can find Vanessa.”

Elsie started to feel bad upon hearing Georgia.

“I should’ve thought of a way to secretly bring my sister and her child back before she and Alfred got together. Then all of this wouldn’t have happened.”

“This isn’t the time to blame yourself. Isabel admitted that she brought Vanessa and her child away. Let’s investigate Isabel and find out who’s backing her up. Let’s see if we can uncover something to threaten her. It’s obvious that she just wants to take over the Chow family’s power and influence. She just didn’t want the second wife’s son to win. This is her weakness, and we should hit where it hurts the most.”

After that, Georgia walked up to Alfred.

“You’ve been around Isabel for a long time. You should know about her weakness, right?”

“Are you trying to say that we should try to get a hold of her weakness and threaten her?”

Alfred asked. Georgia answered by nodding.

“She took away Vanessa and her child. She said that she will protect them, but who knows for how long is she planning to keep them. Who knows that if she will keep her promise? We need to force her to bend to our will. I don’t believe that she has no weaknesses.”

“Her only weakness is her lost child. The Chow family has been investigating this matter for many years and yet they have never been able to find any clues about her child. Other than that, she doesn’t really care about anything else. I think the only way to make her hand Vanessa back to us is to find her lost child.”

“She already put all eggs in her basket. If she doesn’t win this, then the second wife will win. Once Dickson wins the right as a successor and inherits all assets, it’s no use even if she finds her child again. In short, she wouldn’t feel threatened by anything else but her child.”

“So, you’re saying if we can’t find her child, there’s no way we can threaten her. Is that right?”

Alfred nodded wistfully.

“I’ve been around Isabel for a very long time. Maybe not long ago, another one of her weaknesses and worries would be Old Mr. Chow finding out about my background. But now, Old Mr. Chow is standing on her side. Hence right now, there’s nothing that she should be afraid of. She’s betting on her life to fighting with Dickson. She wants to ensure her child to be the successor. She wants to find her child and wants them to inherit the Chow family.”

“What if we destroy the Chow family? Of course, I know that this is easier being said than done. But if the Chow family is destroyed, then she wouldn’t care about the money anymore. Because then even if her child is found, there’s nothing left for them to inherit anymore.”

This was a desperate measure. Georgia was implying that she wanted to use the SY Group’s and maybe even the Simpson family’s influence and power to defeat the Chow family.

Though, without any preparation, their collected power wouldn’t be enough to bring down a big family like the Chow family.

Chapter 553 Screaming In The Middle of The Night

Georgia sat up and asked.

‘How long have I been asleep? Where are the kids?’

‘You’ve been asleep for almost four hours, and the kids are downstairs playing. Rick came over today to give them a day of lessons, but he won’t be coming over tomorrow. He’s got something going on at school.’

‘It’s getting dark outside. When you get older, you can’t stand to stay up any longer and you must get a good night’s sleep to make up for it. Robert, you didn’t sleep with me?’

‘I slept for a couple of hours or so to get refreshed, and then helped you continue reading this information. I found out something strange.’

‘What is it?’

Georgia asked with interest.

‘Didn’t Alfred send over the information about the lost kid that the Chow family has been investigating over the years? I looked at the evidence and information that came out of the investigations over the years and found that they never went to the orphanage to look for him. Logically, the lost child is most likely to have been adopted by orphanages, but it is a bit strange to me that they have never checked the orphanages.’

Hearing what Robert had said, Georgia was interested too.

‘Are there any other leads?’

‘No more for now. Anyway, their search for the child just kept going back and forth from one place to another, but they could never find any more evidence. There are so many people, and it’s really hard to find a child who was lost at birth.’

‘Elsie and Wilson are supposed to have gone back to rest too. Have they called us again? I don’t know if Elsie can get a break or not. She looked too tired.’

‘They’ve gone back, but they haven’t called you. I don’t know what’s going on either. Are you still going to work tomorrow? You’re worried about Vanessa’s condition and you have to go to work. Why don’t you take another day off tomorrow to rest at home.’

Robert was a little distressed.

‘That won’t work.’

Georgia just shook her head.

‘Anyway, you’ve been keeping an eye on Vanessa for me and getting someone to look into her affairs. I can only send my men to spend their energy looking for Vanessa, and Isabel, and the Chow family’s feud, too. It’s best to find that lost child. But it’s not like I can do much to help. Since I have some free time, I’ll have to go to work at the lab. As you know, Travis’ wedding is the day after tomorrow and I’ll have to take half a day off that day too. I’ve been delayed all day today. I don’t want to take another day off.’

Chapter 554 Emilia's Master Personality

It was only when they got inside that they saw that Emilia was clutching her head and hissing in pain.

She looked like a drunken person stumbling around but kept shouting and her voice was full of pain.

Ivan was right next to her and watching Emilia worriedly.

‘Emilia, I’m right here. Don’t you be afraid! I’ll stay with you ...’

Ivan tried to walk up and take Emilia’s hand, but Emilia cried out in pain.

‘Get away from me, get away! Don’t come near me.’

‘Emilia, no one can hurt you anymore. I’m Ivan. Don’t you remember me? I’m not going to hurt you. This is a safe place and those people who bullied you are gone. They’ve all disappeared.’

Ivan spoke again patiently, but Emilia still screamed in pain.

‘Don’t you come over here! I forbid you to come over. I forbid any man to come near me. Get out.’

Georgia stepped forward this moment.

‘Emilia, it’s Gigi. Do you remember me? I’m here, and this is my home now. We are in D City. We are in the country. There are no bad people here who can hurt you. Will you calm down for a moment and talk to me?’

Somehow, Georgia realized from Emilia’s ‘I forbid any man to come near me’ that Emilia hated men now.

She didn’t know what had happened to Emilia but knew that she must have been humiliated.

At this moment, Emilia finally calmed down. She saw Georgia.

The next second, she suddenly hugged Gigi and cried out in pain.

Everyone was shocked, and no one expected Emilia to be sober at this moment.

Chapter 555 The Arrival of Zac

Emilia nodded affirmatively.

‘As you tell me these things, it will always be hard on me if I don’t make it clear. I have to go and see them.’

‘But in your current condition, I’m worried about your other personalities coming out and causing you problems.’

Georgia gave a look of disapproval.

‘I can’t believe I’ve become one of those people with schizophrenia in a TV show and separated several personalities. It’s ridiculous.’

‘By the way, tell Ivan not to take care of me anymore. I don’t even know how I’m going to repay his kindness when he continues to take care of me like this. I don’t want to owe him.’

This comment made things even more difficult for Georgia.

‘Do you have to? He knows about it after all and he has been getting a lot of specialists to treat you. Robert and I have a lot on our plate these days. My best friend, Vanessa, is missing and I can’t be there for you for the time being. If you don’t want Ivan by your side, then you need to find someone reliable to look after you too. In your current condition, you can’t be left alone. Because at any time, you could be irritated and have an unexpected condition.’

‘Isn’t there a professional doctor? It’s getting late now. Let’s have the specialist come over tomorrow so I can have a chat with him. I’d also like to know exactly what my situation is before I decide what to do next.’

After this, Georgia walked out and spoke to Ivan.

‘She’s still in the main personality and her mood has smoothed out, but you can’t talk about Eric or the past. I explained everything to her about Margie and her father, and also about her current mental state. She asked that a doctor be brought over tomorrow and she wants to find out for herself what her condition is.’

When Georgia finished, Ivan turned to her and assured her.

‘I’ll arrange that right away. Can I go in and see her now?’

‘Ivan, I hope you don’t feel bad. Emilia says she doesn’t want you to keep looking after her, but I also know she certainly can’t do it alone. I will sleep with her tonight and tomorrow I will arrange for a reliable person to look after her. You can find a reliable person too. I would like to arrange for a female doctor to look after her, or a capable female bodyguard. I think she’s a bit of a man-hater at the moment.’

‘Why wouldn’t she want me in there? Just because she’s sick of men right now?’

Chapter 556 The Deal With Riley

The moment she answered the phone, Georgia hadn’t reacted that the person calling was Tammy.

‘Hello, may I ask who you are looking for?’

As Georgia uttered the words, a woman’s voice came on the other end of the line.

‘Georgia, don’t you remember my voice?’

‘What’s up?’

Georgia finally remembered that it was Tammy’s voice. What was she doing calling her?

‘I came to the country and intended to have some fun. You’re kind of my cousin. Shouldn’t you guys treat me to a meal when I’m here?’

‘You guys ...’

Georgia laughed.

‘You mean you want me to bring my family to have dinner with you and pick you up. Miss Wilkes, is that what you mean?’

‘What do you mean?’

Tammy asked with a sullen look.

‘I think you know exactly what I mean.’

Georgia sneered and hung up, while Robert asked curiously.

‘What’s wrong? Who was it that called? What’s got you so upset?’

‘Tammy called. Why are you so attractive? I think Tammy came to the country just to pester you.’

Georgia’s comment made Robert laugh.

Chapter 557 The Day Before The Wedding

‘Do you want me to have a blood transfusion every day? It’s damaging to a normal person’s body too. I don’t mind if the blood is given to her bit by bit to see how she reacts. Riley, I can help you, but it’s based on not harming my body. I have parents and children and I can’t take my health lightly, but I will do my best to help you. As for the findings of this experimental base, both Gigi and I can do without them. We also don’t care how much it’s worth and how much money we can make in the future.’

‘Gigi just wants me to get healthy quickly. She didn’t want me to become different from the ordinary people, that would scare her. I also don’t need to be different from the average person and then invite more and more danger to my family and children. I can try the blood transfusion treatment you mentioned, but not too much.’

‘I understand what you mean. As long as you agree to try a blood transfusion, it’s making progress. But I hope you won’t tell Miss Lane about this.’

Robert thought about it for a moment and agreed.

Gigi was already worried, and the slightest thing would make her sleep badly. And with so many things unresolved at the moment, he couldn’t let Gigi continue to worry about him.

‘Now that you’ve agreed, come with me first.’

Riley stood up, then led Robert out of the room.

They ended up outside a ward with very tight security. Riley used several codes to unlock the door and walked inside, going through several doors for security.

Robert saw a bed inside with a woman lying in it, who appeared to be lying inside a shrouded glass window. She had an IV drip in her hand, was very pale, and looked very thin.

‘She’s been in a coma like this for years, hasn’t she?’

Robert asked with a heavy heart and Riley nodded.

Because many parts of her brain nerves have been damaged and some have even been declared dead, but I have been reluctant to let her leave this world. I want the doctors to work out a way to make her brain nerves come alive. I don’t want her to die.’

Immediately, a nurse walked in, carrying some tools.

Riley spoke up to Robert.

Chapter 558 Punishing Someone as a Warning to Others

The both of them gathered up all their trusted subordinates and told them to check everywhere in the hotel that they were going to hold their wedding in.

They rented the whole hotel. Of course, the hotel was one of the hotels under the Duran family.

Ever since they decided to hold their wedding there, the hotel temporarily stopped their business. For half a month, they were preparing for their wedding.

Sarah didn't care about the losses. She wanted to have a perfect and extravagant wedding. She wanted to leave herself and Travis good memories.

Even though a small accident had occurred, she still wanted to ensure that the wedding would finish smoothly.

There were no other guests in the hotel. This meant that they only had to check the wedding guests who were coming tomorrow and the hotel workers carefully.

The hotel had a lot of workers, but she asked only a fourth of them to stay to prepare for the wedding.

She investigated the background of the remaining workers thoroughly. Only then did she decide to keep them.

There was a possibility that these workers might betray her if someone threatened them, or even threatened their families.

But she wouldn't let uninvited guests in. Everyone who came in would have to go through a security check. There was a low possibility that the hotel workers would suddenly gain the ability to murder someone or possess a gun.

She checked the insides of the hotel, going through every part one by one. Then, she told her trusted subordinates to check the hotel workers again. She also asked her trusted bodyguards if they saw anyone suspicious.

On this day, Travis and Sarah spent the whole day checking for suspicious people and reviewing the hotel's security.

Georgia got to finally rest for a while around noon. She walked outside and saw Robert.

“Why are you waiting for me here? You can go home and rest if you’re done talking to Riley. I can only head home at night.”

“I haven’t been waiting for too long. Lunchtime was coming up soon, so I thought of waiting for a bit to have lunch with you. I also haven’t talked to Antonio and your other colleagues for a long time. So, I wanted to have lunch with you guys.”

Robert and Georgia went to the lab’s canteen.

Antonio sat down together with them.

Chapter 559 The Wedding Day

It had been so long, and Dora had gotten the lesson she deserved. It was time for him to meet his aunt.

Randy had to ask his men to take Dora upstairs. Robert parked his car in the car park and then took the VIP lift to the top floor with a bunch of bodyguards escorting him.

Robert arrived before his aunt and sat in his office. He was bored looking at the plans that had recently been submitted by the planning department, but few of them caught his eye.

After a few minutes, the door to the office opened and he saw Randy walk in with Dora.

Dora was tied up, her face was covered in cuts, her hair was a mess and her clothes were also in rags.

She looked particularly miserable and as soon as she came in, she knelt down in front of Robert.

‘Robert, it was me who did wrong, it was me who was ungrateful and whimsical. Please spare me. I will never do anything like this again to anger you. I will not show my face in front of them, whether it is you, or your wife, or anyone else around you. Please spare me.'

'Do you know what you did wrong, Auntie?'

Robert asked indifferently, but Dora looked at the man in front of her with trepidation.

During the past period, she had experienced what it was like to be in hell.

Hounded to pay her debts, punched and kicked by men from the casino, and locked up in various places to be tortured, she had been bullied out of her life.

All she wanted was for Robert to leave her alone, and she was truly regretting what she had done earlier in provoking him. How could she be so whimsical as to think that she would be able to take advantage of Robert and get away with it for the rest of her life?

She was relying on the Simpson family, and the Simpson family was now in Robert's hands. If she pissed off Robert, she would be abandoned by the Simpson family.

Anyone on the outside could bully her from then on, and she had only now realized that.

'Robert, you are the pillar of the Simpson family. I understand that my only support is the Simpson family. Without the Simpson family, I'm nothing. I shouldn't have done anything to hurt you or your loved ones. Please let me go and I will do anything stupid again. You can send me out of the country and let me live in exile overseas. You can even keep me in one place under control as long as you don't let those people hound me to pay them back again. I can't stand the way things are now.'

Robert laughed indifferently.

'Auntie, now that you understand this, let me tell you something. When you're done, I'll let you go. After that, you'll stay in that country forever and not come back, and no one will bother you with your debts, and I won't let you out again. You can live there for the rest of your life in peace.'

Dora asked excitedly.

'If there is anything you need me to do, just say it. I'll get it done.'

Chapter 560 Attending A Wedding

‘Are you sure?’

Georgia asked in surprise.

‘Since they told me they checked this out, at least it’s accurate. I’ve asked them to send the information over. I don’t know if Wilson has made any progress. Why don’t you send this information to Wilson and ask him and Elsie to check out that orphanage too? It would be nice to get something.’

‘You’re right about that too. We’re not available today, so we’ll leave that to Wilson and Elsie. The two of them can check out that orphanage.’

Elsie and she were friends and knew Travis, and it was logical that he would invite her to the wedding.

It was just that because of what was going on with Vanessa, Elsie wasn’t in the mood for anything else right now.

So she won’t be attending today. Because Elsie herself felt that going to someone else’s wedding with a sad face might upset the bride and groom, she might as well not go.

Travis would not force her either.

But Georgia had been invited by Travis himself. He had said he wanted her to attend the wedding, so Georgia would not leave in the middle of it.

Unless she had to, she would keep her promise to Travis to attend his wedding, even if she knew it was dangerous.

And, of course, she and Robert will protect each other.

After putting on her make-up, Georgia reached for her phone and called Elsie.

‘Have you guys gone out yet?’

‘Not yet. Wilson and I just finished breakfast.’

Listening to Elsie’s still raspy voice, Georgia spoke up with distress.

‘Don’t boil yourself up. There’s no other news from Vanessa at the moment, which could also indicate that she is in a safe place and is just being controlled. We can’t fall first. Robert has got some information for me about the possibility that Mrs. Chow’s lost child went to an orphanage. That information is being sent now and Wilson should be receiving it soon. Tell him about it and you two can study the information later. If you’re free, go and check out the orphanage yourselves. If you’re not available, have your people look into it. I have a wedding to attend today, so I can’t come and deal with this personally for now.’
