Milky Way.

More than one hundred thousand people were waiting in a corner on a huge platform in Planet Royal of the Royal Region. A small corner could fit more than one hundred thousand people, so one could tell how huge this platform was.

On the other corner of this platform, all kinds of luxurious flying vessels and ships were parked neatly.

There were at least ten thousand of them, from the small custom-made black-horned ships to the huge Milky Way Battleships and all kinds of big-sized ships. All sorts were gathered here.

All of the flying vessels and ships here had one similarity.

They were all carved with the word 'Barlowe'.

These were the vehicles for the royal family of the Milky Way Empire, the Barlowe family.

Rumble!

After a while, a luxurious ship carved with the word 'Barlowe' landed. Astrid led Emerald and Ms. Madrigal out of the ship after the hatch was opened. Then, Atlas, the head of White Tiger Hall, and more than a hundred members of White Tiger Hall exited.

"Welcome back, Princess Astrid."

A voice cried out.

Then, more than a hundred thousand people's voices could be heard, making a sound as loud as a tsunami.

"Welcome back, Princess Astrid."

Astrid led her people forward. Soon, she walked toward a square-faced middle-aged man.

“Astrid is here to see you, Father,” Astrid said respectfully. “You’ve suffered a lot, Astrid. It’s great that you’re fine. No one will dare to bully you on Planet Royal anymore,” the middle-aged man said. The square-faced middle-aged man was the Milky Way Empire’s emperor and Astrid’s father, Emperor Nimbus.

A man who was at the top of the Milky Way.

Moreover, he was the strongest person in the Milky Way so far. His strength had surpassed Infinity Rank and was almost at Eternal Realm.

If he took another step forward, he would become the first person in Eternal Realm in the Milky Way.

He would have great achievements and eternal glory.

However, it was not easy to do so.

In such a long time, no one in the Milky Way had ever achieved Eternal Realm.

Even the ones who could achieve partial Eternal Realm were rare.

Nimbus was among the strongest in the Milky Way over so many years.

He also had the most potential to take this step forward and reach Eternal Realm.

After all, he was less than a thousand years old.

Which one of the Infinity Rankers in the Milky Way was not more than a thousand years old?

Compared to them, Nimbus was very young.

Once he could enter Eternal Realm, Nimbus would be the number one emperor for all eternity in the Milky Way, garnering admiration from countless future generations.

“Father, I was wrong. I shouldn’t have snuck out so willfully and made you worry,” Astrid sobbed.

“Haha! Even though we’re worried about you, since you can come back safely from the Sangruil Sinners’ flawless plan, it also indirectly means the empire is flourishing. The Sangruil Sinners who showed up are just buffoons,” Nimbus guffawed.

The Sangruil Sinners showed up for the first time after so many centuries and attacked aggressively.

Not only did they disregard human interest and work with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan from the galaxy beasts, but they also risked everything and implanted the beasts' genes to improve their strength. One had to know that this was very dangerous. Once their body repelled the genes, the person with the implant would surely die.

Even if they did not, if both genes did not match completely after implantation, there would be severe consequences. The person with the implant would be a half-beast, half-human monster.

However, their strength would also skyrocket.

Even the current king of Sangruil, Moe, could stop Emperor Nimbus from advancing. Nimbus witnessed the result of the Sangruil Sinners isolation after so many centuries. The two fought for three hundred rounds and were evenly matched. In the end, both sides lost. The Sangruil Sinners who appeared again should not be underestimated.

They were not the same people who were chased and killed by the empire hundreds of years ago.

After they worked with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan, they could compete with the Milky Way Empire.

Since the Sangruil Sinners dared to show up again, everyone knew that the empire would not be peaceful anymore.

After Nimbus failed to save Astrid, he was distraught and thought that the Sangruil Sinners would capture Astrid.

If that happened, he would be in a dilemma.

He was even ready to sacrifice his only daughter if forced.

Even if Nimbus was reluctant, he had no choice.

The Sangruil Sinners were working with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan, so Nimbus could not let them take over the Milky Way.

If not, the humans in the Milky Way would be drowned in catastrophe. Nimbus did not know what the Sangruil Sinners were thinking. Did they not know that anyone who was not in the same clan would not have the same goals? Galaxy Beasts loved to eat humans, the most efficacious living creature, and they were also the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's favorite.

However, Nimbus never expected his daughter to be so lucky to return safely. This was such a pleasant surprise.

"Father, I can come back safely this time because of my savior. Not only did he save me, he even sent me safely to the Royal Region. If it were not for him, I would have fallen into the hands of the Sangruil Sinners." "Don't worry, Astrid. I will definitely reward the hero that saved my daughter. Where is he right now? Why didn't he come back with you?" "Father, David has to take care of something, so he couldn't come. He promised me he would come to Planet Royal to find me once he's done."

"Alright, I want to meet him when the time comes." "Father, there's something that I encountered on the way back that I want to talk to you about after we get back," Astrid said.

She had not forgotten about Burke making her savior David a wanted criminal in the empire.

However, Astrid had no idea that Rainos, an important figure in the military, had learned of this earlier and had urgently pulled Burke over to admit to his mistakes.

Ramos was about to sacrifice Burke in exchange for the entire Lutgen family's safety. "Alright, we'll talk when we go back. Go see your mother. She has cried so much for you these days."

Astrid then saw the beautiful woman next to Nimbus.

"Mother!" Astrid cried out. "Astrid!" The beautiful woman cried.

The mother and daughter held each other and cried. After a while, Astrid looked at the dozens of young men behind Nimbus and said, "Hello, Brothers."

"We can finally be at ease now that you're back, Astrid. We've been so worried." "Yeah. I feel like my life has lost all color when you're not around. It has been so quiet and dull. It's great now that you're back."

"Astrid, you can't be so willful next time. Even if you want to go out, you have to tell Father so that he'll keep you safe. You have no idea how worried we were when the Sangruil Sinners were hunting you."

"Don't worry, Brothers. I won't be so willful anymore."

“Alright, let’s talk when we get back,” Nimbus waved his hand and said.

The group followed Nimbus down the platform and returned to the Royal Palace. More than a hundred thousand people followed behind them. Below the platform were multiple luxurious palaces. This was the Royal Palace, where the royal family, or the Barlowe family, lived.

Nimbus and Astrid sat facing each other inside the Royal Palace.

“Astrid, tell me what you encountered. Tell me, how did David save you?” Nimbus asked.

Astrid started telling Nimbus in detail how she was being chased by the black-robed men and then had one of them catch up to her. She used her trump card and killed the man unexpectedly. Ultimately, she ran to Planet Boundless, and to save the countless humans on Planet Boundless, she chose to lead the black-robed men away. Eventually, David appeared out of nowhere to save her.

After she said that, Astrid continued, “Father, I noticed the Sangruil Sinners were all half human, half-beast monsters under their black robes. They should have a gene from a galaxy beast called the Nine-Headed Serpent implanted into them. I think they did that to raise their power to fight us.”

“Yes, they are indeed working with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan. You don’t have to worry about this. I will take care of them. Judging from how the Sangruil Sinners defeated the palace guards, they should have a Celestial Ranker among them. How old is David? Where does he come from? How could he defeat them so easily?”

“I didn’t ask him how old he was, but I don’t think he’s too old. He’s very powerful as well. He even killed the strongest Sangruil Sinner in less than three rounds after he turned into a beast and his strength increased. As for where David is from, he said he returned from exploring outside. He even told us many stories about his adventures. At the same time, he also asked us a lot about the Milky Way.”

After thinking for a while, Nimbus said, “Astrid, you have to introduce me to David after he comes to Planet Royal. I have to thank my daughter’s savior.” “I got it, Father,” Astrid answered.

Nimbus was not curious about David’s strength.

Instead, he was even more worried about whether David was a Sangruil Sinner spy.

Did he purposely do all that to get on Astrid's good side?

Then, he would get close to her so that she would trust him enough to tell him all secrets of the Milky Way Empire.

This was not impossible. Rather, it was quite likely. However, Nimbus would only know for sure after he met David.

The father and daughter chatted for a long time before they stopped.

After they parted ways, Nimbus went to an old building in the Royal Palace.

After a few barriers, he came into the innermost secret room.

Once Nimbus entered the room, he started coughing his lungs out.

"Cough cough cough..." At this moment, he could not suppress the injuries sustained while fighting with King Moe of Sangruil.

Of course, if Nimbus were severely injured, Moe would be no better.

He was even more seriously injured than Nimbus. Moe was just a peak Infinity Ranker.

However, once he turned into a beast, he could reach partial Eternal Realm and be on the same level as Nimbus.

After all, Nimbus was genuinely at partial Eternal Realm, while Moe was only at partial Eternal Realm after a surge.

As the fight continued, Nimbus would gradually regain the upper hand,

However, Moe relied on the strong defense of the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan.

Even though Moe was at a disadvantage, Nimbus still could not defeat him in a short period.

In the end, the two used very strong techniques and suffered injuries.

“Nimbus, take this medicine.”

An old man with white hair and a white beard walked out of the secret room and handed Nimbus a red pill.

After Nimbus took it, he swallowed it in one go.

His coughing immediately stopped.

“I’m fine. Don’t worry about me, Wildred,” Nimbus said to the old man.

“I’m guessing the Sangruil Sinners were very aggressive this time to have made you like this,” the old man sighed.

“Indeed. Moe wasn’t my opponent, but he got to the same level as me after becoming a beast. So, I can’t look down on him. If all of them are like this, it will be very troublesome,” Nimbus said.

“I’m not worried about this. There’s a strong possibility of repulsion after implanting the Nine –Headed Serpent gene. So even if they’ve researched that for a hundred years and found an improvement, not everyone will succeed. I’m guess only half of the people that disappeared back then remain, or maybe less. Even if all of them become powerful, they won’t pose much threat to the empire.” “What are you worried about then, Wilfred?” Nimbus asked.

“I’m worried about the Nine–Headed Serpent Clan crossing the distance and coming here from the Beast Galaxy. Will they work with the Sangruil Sinners to attack the empire? If they do, then we’ll be in danger,” the old man answered.

Nimbus shuddered

He said, “That’s not possible, right? Beast Galaxy is a level 5 civilization. According to the Universe Convention, they can’t attack a civilization of a lower level. If not, they will be punished by all the galaxies. How else could the Milky Way survive until now? We would be captured and raised to be their food source long ago.” “That’s why they work with the Sangruil Sinners from the Milky Way and even implanted their genes into the humans. As long as they can come here quietly and help the Sangruil Sinners take down the Milky Way, they can do whatever they want to the humans in the Milky Way after the Sangruil Sinners control us. Then, they will gradually turn the Milky Way into their farm.”

“Those Sangruil scum! Don’t they know the humans in the Milky Way will be in a dangerous position if they do that? Once the Nine–Headed Serpent Clan infiltrates us, the Milky Way will never be able to make a comeback,” Nimbus said through gritted teeth. “They have been blinded by hatred. They think they can control the development of things if they’re careful. However, do they think stray dogs like them can control the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan, a powerful species ranked top ten among the galaxy beasts?” Wilfred shook his head and said.

“Wilfred, what should we do then? I can’t even take down Moe, so what should we do if the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan comes over?” “Nimbus, even if they want to come, they will do so quietly and slowly. They wouldn’t come all at once as it will be too obvious. We still have time. What you need to do now is recuperate and then break through to Eternal Realm. All problems will be solved once you’re at Eternal Realm.”

“Wilfred, it’s not easy to get there! No one in the Milky Way has ever done this,” Nimbus said with a bitter smile.

“I know it’s hard. However, this is the only way. Also, you will solve all your problems in one go. As long as you’re in Eternal Realm, we’ll be able to handle whatever the opponent throws at us, and we can even fight back. If not, we can only hope that the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan never dares to come here.”

“I got it, Wilfred. I will try my best.”
