

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1507

Chapter 1507

"Nek, you are thinking too much. I can tell you the result of your request right now. I don't agree," Nova directly refused.

"Lady Dream, don't you want to reconcile? I, Nek Simmons, am a Saint regardless of the situation. Is this asking too much?" Nek asked, feeling a little unhappy.

'Isn't it too much?'

Nova was speechless.

Not only was it excessive, but it was also making things hard for her.

"Nek, if every Saint in Star Kingdom came to me and asked for the seven fairies like you, where will we get enough seven fairies for all of them?"

"This is the condition for us to reconcile. If this incident hadn't happened, I wouldn't have come to take the seven fairies away for no reason!"

"From a certain point of view, the seven fairies are also the faces of the Iridescent Sect. They are well-known in Star Kingdom, yet you want to take them all away with one sentence. Do you think this is really possible?"

"Why not? When the time comes, Lady Dream, you can declare to the outside world that I, Nek, have paid enough."

"The Iridescent Sect will never lie to others and ourselves."

"Since you are so disrespectful, there is nothing I can do. Either have Celeste come to see me and let me confirm whether your words are true, or ask your reputable elders to come forward. I actually don't want to do this, but you gave me no choice, so I can only talk to the reputable elders of your sect," Nek said helplessly.

He was actually gambling.

He bet that Nova would be unwilling to get the reputable elders.

After all, the four reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect had not been seen for some time.

They had now accepted a disciple and had announced that they would show themselves at the ceremony three months later.

Therefore, now, they must be teaching their disciple in retreat, and they would not want anyone to disturb them.

However, if Nova asked reputable elders to come forward, Nek would definitely change his mind immediately.

“You...”

Nova stared at Nek speechlessly.

‘How could this scoundrel become a Saint?’

She could only lament the injustice of God.

All the Saints she had seen in the past were modest gentlemen.

This was really the first time Nova had seen a Saint like Nek.

He was not like a normal Saint at all.

Nova had no idea Grandmaster Simmons was previously been seriously injured and had already begun slowly declining.

While Nek broke through to Saint Realm, he also consumed the last vestiges of the Simmons family.

It was not until he broke through, held a grand celebration, and received gifts from Star Kingdom’s countless forces, that he healed.

Hence, Nek was naturally unwilling to waste the few remaining resources of the Simmons family on the seven fairies.

He would save as much as he could.

“I will only let you take one of them at most,” Nova said in a deep voice.

Nek was overjoyed.

He knew he was right.

Nova really did not want to disturb the four reputable elders of the Iridescent Sect.

However, he answered with a straight face. “Five! I want to take five of the seven fairies away.”

“Impossible! Just one! Take it or leave it,” Nova said through gritted teeth.

“Lady Dream, how about you and I take a step back? I want three.”

“Two! You can’t have more!”

“Okay! Deal! Thank you for making it happen, Lady Dream,” Nek replied with a sudden smile.

Not everyone could take the seven fairies of the Iridescent Sect without paying any price.

Nek never thought of taking all the seven fairies away in the first place.

He knew that this was unrealistic.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1508

Chapter 1508

The reason he said he wanted all of them was to paint an illusion for Nova and at the same time give both parties room to bargain.

He was already very satisfied to be able to end up taking two of them away.

“Just tell me after you’ve chosen the girls. Goodbye!” Nova turned around and prepared to leave after finishing speaking.

She did not want to stay here for another moment.

“Lady Dream, wait!” Nek yelled.

“What else do you want?” Nova stopped walking and asked without looking back.

“Lady Dream, I heard that this year’s seven high priestesses are almost complete. I want to reserve one of the seven high priestesses to be my wife so that the Simmons family and the Iridescent Sect will be a family. I hope you can agree.”

Nova turned around, looked at Nek, and asked in disbelief, “You’re even asking for the seven high priestesses from this year?”

“Of course! The seven high priestesses are the treasures of the Iridescent Sect, so of course, I want one of them,” Nek replied solemnly.

“Nek, don’t go too far.” Nova was already on the verge of exploding.

'This shameless person was not satisfied taking away two of the seven fairies and he still wanted one of the seven high priestesses.

'Does he know how much resources the Iridescent Sect needs to spend to cultivate one of the seven high priestesses?

'There are quite a few big shots in Star Kingdom who married the seven high priestesses, but they all paid enough.

'Nek's wanting to have one for free is simply wishful thinking.'

"Lady Dream, don't get me wrong. I'm not going to take the seven high priestesses for nothing. I will pay whatever price I need according to the rules of the Iridescent Sect. I, Nek Simmons, will never cut corners."

"Pay the price? You'll follow the rules?" Nova asked in disbelief.

"Certainly! I have already requested two of the seven fairies for free. How could I dare ask for one of the seven high priestesses for nothing? Besides, I know that your noble sect spends a lot of resources cultivating the seven high priestesses." 1

'This still sounds like something a decent human would say.'

Nova's expression softened a lot.

If Nek was willing to follow the rules of the Iridescent Sect, he was qualified to marry one of the seven high priestesses.

"We have just found all of the seven high priestesses. The identities of these seven will be announced to Star Kingdom in three months at the disciple acceptance ceremony of the reputable elders. However, it would take some time to cultivate them. If you are willing to wait, Lord Simmons, I will notify you when the time comes."

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1509

Chapter 1509

Shortly after Nova left Nek's place, Nek also left.

He was going to choose two of the seven fairies in the VIP hall.

At this time, Celeste also arrived at the VIP area.

She asked where David was while she was on the way, so she went straight to the VIP hall.

Celeste stepped into the room and immediately interrupted the performance seven fairies' performance. "Greetings, Elder Red!" The middle-aged attendant stepped forward and greeted her respectfully.

Then, the seven fairies also lined up in front of Celeste, bent slightly, and greeted respectfully, "Greetings, Elder Red!"

"You may rise. I'm here to find David," Celeste said.

"Thanks, Elder Red!" The middle-aged attendant and the seven fairies replied at the same time before stepping back.

At this time, David also came over.

"Celeste!" David yelled

"David, I have something to tell you. Where do you live? Let's go to your place and talk," Celeste said.

What she wanted to say to David could not be said in front of so many people, nor could it be overheard.

Otherwise, David's secret would be exposed.

If that happen, it would surely cause the entire Star Kingdom to stir.

"Uh... Celeste, I was brought here directly after I separated from you. I haven't gotten a place yet," David replied with a shrug.

"Elder Red, Master David's residence has been arranged. I'll take him to rest after Master David finishes his meal and the performance ends. Since you want to go now, please come with me, I'll take you there," The middle-aged attendant stood up and said.

Celeste thought about it.

'It's just a few words, so I'll just say it here.

'After I tell him, I'll ask him to leave the Iridescent Sect quickly, try to keep a low profile, and not attract other people's attention.'

David was born in a low-level civilization, but he could reach Eternal Realm before he was even thirty years old.

Celeste felt that it might not take many years for this kid to rise rapidly and become the brightest new star in Star Kingdom.

'I also have to work hard in the future.'

Even if she was a late Sovereign Ranker, she was more than two realms higher than David, the beginner Ruler Rank. This was despite the fact that she had lived nearly two thousand years while David was less than thirty years old

The gap between the two was quite big.

If Celeste did not work hard, it was likely that it would not be long before David surpassed her in one fell swoop.

"No, you ladies should leave. David and I can talk here." Celeste said to the middle-aged attendant and the seven fairies.

"Yes, Elder Red!"

The middle-aged attendant and the seven fairies replied at the same time.

When they were about to leave, another person came in through the door.

It was the Iridescent Sect's head Nova.

Nova was supposed to go back, but when she walked past this place, she spotted Celeste entering the room.

Nova was also very curious about the identity of this young man named David.

Thus, she came in after being driven by curiosity. At the same time, she also had something to tell

Celeste.

"Greetings, Lady Dream!"

"Greetings, Lady Dream!"

The middle-aged attendant and the seven fairies greeted Nova respectfully when they saw her.

Celeste turned and was startled when she saw Nova.

She did not expect Nova to come here and run into David.

'What should I do?

'If Nova learns of David's specific situation, then David will be forced into a disadvantageous position.' Although a little flustered in her heart, Celeste still greeted very calmly, "Lady Dream!"

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1510

Chapter 1510

David also greeted Nova politely, "Greetings, Lady Dream!"

Nova waved her hand, indicating that they should not be so courteous.

Then, she looked at Celeste and asked, "Elder Red, why are you here?"

"Lady Dream, I've come to talk to David about something," Celeste replied.

Nova looked at David again, and continued to ask, "Who is David? Why haven't I met this young hero before?"

Celeste was silent for a while. She contemplated and said, "Lady Dream, David is my friend."

She only said that David was her friend and did not explain too much.

This was because Celeste did not know how to explain David's identity.

To be honest, she could not be honest.

He was just a beginner Ruler Rank from a low-level civilization.

What were his qualifications to enter the Iridescent Sect VIP area and enjoy the highest level of service?

If Celeste stated David's specific situation, he would surely be qualified.

It would also shock Nova badly, but in doing so, would reveal David's secret.

Therefore, Celeste could only say that David was her friend.

He was a friend of the elder of the Iridescent Sect, so he was qualified to live in this VIP area, right?

'Friend?'

Nova was puzzled.

Judging from David's appearance, he looked like a young man with the strength of a beginner Ruler Ranker.

No matter how you look at it, the two sides were a generation apart.

'How did they become friends?'

However, Nova did not ask too much.

"Elder Red, are you finished? I need to talk to you too."

"Not yet, but if you need to talk to me, let's talk first! I'll talk to David later," Celeste replied.

"That's good, let's find a place to talk," Nova agreed.

The two had just reached a consensus.

Before they had time to leave, another person walked in from the outside.

As soon as Nek entered the room, he spotted Nova, Celeste, and the seven fairies. Therefore, he laughed and said, "Hahaha! I didn't expect everyone to be here, it seems that I came at the right time.

Upon hearing this voice, Nova frowned.

Obviously, she did not welcome this person's arrival.

Celeste stared at Nek for a while, feeling that this person was somewhat familiar.

Suddenly, she remembered that Lady Dream said that the scoundrel Nek was still living in the VIP area of the Iridescent Sect.

'Isn't this guy Nek who came to the Iridescent Sect to propose a marriage more than a thousand years ago?'

A cold light flashed in Celeste's eyes.

Apparently, she was still bitter about Nek quietly planting a mind seed on her without her consent.

However, Celeste quickly hid that cold light.

The opponent was a Saint, and she was a Sovereign Ranker. She was still far behind him in terms of power.

Plus, Celeste knew exactly what state she was in now.

After her alluring body was activated and caused her to turn from Star Kingdom's top talent into an ordinary person, making Master Eira's efforts to cultivate her for so many years go to waste, Celeste knew in her heart that her teacher no longer valued herself.

Instead, she was going to pour all her efforts into Lorraine.

Now, the rest of the Iridescent Sect still did not know the specific situation.

Over time, once the news of her fall from being a top genius was revealed, she believed she would receive countless criticisms.

Today's Celeste had no one to rely on but herself.

Without the protection of Master Eira, she could not have any conflict with Nek the Saint.