David quickly turned around and entered the kitchen. He would continue to numb himself by busying himself.

When he was done, he did not bring it out of the kitchen.

Instead, he placed it in the kitchen. Only when all the dishes were almost done did David finally take them out. "David, come and do me a favor." While David was busy, Pearl's voice came from the bathroom. "Miss Pearl, what's wrong?" David replied. "Help me get the clothes on the sofa." "Oh, alright, I'm coming." David walked over to the sofa in the living room, picked up Pearl's nightwear, and was about to give them to Pearl. Suddenly, he was stunned. 'Did that girl do it on purpose? The bathroom is so big, so couldn't she put her clothes in it? Isn't she deliberately asking me to take it for her?

'Oh no!

I'll leave immediately after dinner.' If he stayed a little longer, he did not know if he could control himself. Then, he walked to the shower with Pearl's nightwear. "Miss Pearl, they're here," David said. At this moment, the bathroom door opened a crack and Pearl popped her head out before holding out a hand.

David handed Pearl the clothes.

"Darling, do you want to come in and see if this fits me?" Pearl said.

"Miss Pearl, I'm begging you, please stop teasing me, okay? I'm also a normal man. You're playing with fire like this," David closed his eyes and said bitterly. "Why don't you feel like a man to me? How boring," Pearl took the clothes and shut the door.

David continued to make dinner.

Then, Pearl came out of the bathroom in her nightgown. David asked Pearl to sit down and eat.

"Miss Pearl, come taste it. It's been a while since I made this. I wonder if my skills worsened," David said.

Pearl looked at the food on the table and was in disbelief.

David knew how to make so many dishes.

She thought David only knew how to make instant noodles. Plus, all of them looked appetizing.

She was a little hungry now.

Pearl took one of the dishes and had a taste. 'It's good! 'It's so good! She figured that it was more delicious than any of those delicacies she ate before. Of course, this might be because she was hungry, and more importantly, David was the one who made these.

Once a woman gave a man her heart, everything he did would be perfect to her. "How is it?" David asked. "Pretty good. They taste amazing," Pearl grinned and answered. "Have more then." The two were having dinner happily. Capital City International Airport.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 742

A luxurious private jet landed.

After the plane stopped, a young man in his thirties walked out of the plane. He was followed by two middle-aged men.

Those two turned out to be halfway to God Rank. The two people who were halfway to God Rank walked respectfully behind the young man.

One could tell that the status of this young man was pretty high.

"Someland, I'm here! If I want to conquer Someland, I'll start with the Someland women!" The young man stepped out of the cabin and shouted.

Since it was a private jet, no other passengers heard it.

Of course, he would not care even if someone was there because his status was too high.

The young man stepped down from the cabin to find that the ground was already covered with a red carpet. At the same time, people were lining up on both sides of the carpet waiting for him. When they saw the young man walking down, they all shouted in unison, "Welcome, Mr. Walt, please offer us guidance." This young man was Walt Mosley, the second in line of the Mosley family, which was also one of the three most mysterious families in the world. As one of the five major forces in the world, the Mosley family and Mosley Financial Group had investments in all corners of the world, hence Somerland was no exception. In addition, these people were employees of Mosley Financial Group in Somerland.

Walt ignored these people, stepped directly onto the red carpet, and walked a few dozen meters. Under the leadership of Irwin Cash, the general manager of Mosley Financial Group in Somerland, he got into a special stretched version of a luxury car and drove away.

Not everyone could have someone drive the car directly onto the tarmac to pick them up.

"Mr. Walt, let me introduce myself. My name is Irwin Cash and I am the general manager of Mosley Financial Group in Somerland. After we learned that you are coming, we have arranged the best place for you. Do you think we should go back to the company or your accommodation first?" Irwin asked cautiously. Irwin was the general manager of Mosley Financial Group in Somerland and held a very high position. However, that was only to outsiders. This young man was the second-in-line heir of the Mosley family behind Mosley Financial Group.

His status was a few levels higher than Irwin's. He was someone that should be looked up to by countless people.

One word from this young man could decide his life or death.

"I am not in the mood to care about the nonsense in the company. I'm here to conquer that Somerland woman. Moreover, conquering her in Somerland will be more enjoyable than conquering her elsewhere," Walt said.

"It's her honor to be conquered by you, Mr. Walt. There are so many women in the world who are after you, Mr. Walt, but they can't get you. Who do you want to conquer, Mr. Walt? I'll get her for you right away," Irwin said while flattering Walt. "You're not bad, I approve of you." "Thank you, Mr. Walt, I will definitely take you as my only guide in the future," Irwin said excitedly. "Do you know how East League Capitals' position in Somerland is?" Walt asked. 'East League Capitals?'

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Irwin thought for a moment. There is indeed such a new emerging company.

It was said that their valuation was nearly 10 trillion in just half a year. Furthermore, they had a strong background. Otherwise, it would be impossible for them to achieve this. Mainly, the boss' information had been kept a mystery so it was a little thought-provoking. "East League Capitals is a newly-formed company. From what I heard, they have a very strong background and the boss is a very mysterious person," Irwin answered. "Their background is strong? How strong? Is it as strong as my family?" Walt asked jokingly. He was not even bothered by East League Capitals.

As the second-in-line heir to the Mosley family, he had such confidence. The Mosley family was one of the five major forces in the world. Although Somerland was also one of the five major forces, could a small capital company represent Somerland?

Not to mention that Somerland was about to be met with disaster and it was in a hopeless situation. Soon, it was going to be removed from the five major forces.

"Mr. Walt, you're hilarious. How many forces in the world can be compared with the Mosley family? It's just a small new company. Compared with the Mosley family, it's like an elephant and an ant. There is no comparison at all." "It's good that you know." "Is the woman you fancy from East League Capitals, Mr. Walt?"

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 743

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 743

"Yes, she is Miss Pearl Warner, the general manager of East League Capitals," Walt said, looking like he was infatuated.

Ever since he met Pearl at a high-end party, he had been utterly fascinated by her.

Pearl suited his taste too much.

Of course, there was also a reason why he changed his taste in women so quickly.

There were countless women around him, and it was not easy for him to meet one who could move him. He thought he could take her down easily with his status. Unexpectedly, he was rejected by the other party three times. It was the first time he met a woman who dared to reject him after discovering his identity. This also aroused his strong competitive spirit.

The more beautiful and rebellious a woman was, the more fulfilling it would be when he conquered her.

However, before Walt made his next move, Pearl suddenly returned to Somerland. When Walt fancied a woman, she would not be able to escape from him even if she ran away to the ends of the world.

Thus, he also went to Somerland at once.

Walt had no shortage of women, but as long as he was attracted to someone, she had to become his woman.

No one could be the exception.

of course, Pearl was not allowed to be an exception either. "Mr. Walt, don't worry. With your identity, even if she is the general manager of East League Capitals, she would not dare to refuse you. Also, I heard that East League Capitals were making arrangements in the country recently. If they offended you, East League Capitals should not even think about leaving Somerland. Even if they are remain in the country, I will make their life a living hell."

Walt peered at Irwin.

'I have been rejected three times.

'Not dares to reject me?' However, what Irwin said at the end was right, Pearl was not the same as the other women he met.

It could be seen when she still dared to reject him after she learned who he was.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Which one of the other women was not jumping at the chance to curry favor with him?

However, Pearl was not the same, so he could only use other means to force Pearl to obey and get into his bed willingly.

Moreover, he wanted her to get on top of him willingly.

Walt had a fetish and he liked it when women got on top of him.

If he wanted that to happen, he needed to the woman's permission, regardless of if they consented or not.

Hence, he would never force it.

If he merely wanted to dominate Pearl, how would she have the chance to come back to Somerland?

Walt would have slept with her forcefully a long time ago. Since he had this fetish, he was slowly planning step by step to make Pearl come to him.

This also gave Pearl a chance to escape back to Somerland. of course, even if she escaped back to Somerland, she still could not escape his grip

However, he still needed to call Pearl to tell her he was in Somerland so that she could be prepared.

When he thought about how he would make this rebellious strong woman take the initiative soon, Walt felt very excited. He took out his phone and called Pearl. At this moment, Pearl was having dinner with David.

Ring ring ring!

Her phone rang When Pearl took a look at her phone, her expression changed. After looking at David who was still eating, she did not answer but instead, she hung up. Back to Walt. When Walt heard the dial tone on the phone, his brain could not register what was going on for some time.

She hung up on him? How long had it been since the last time this happened? No, according to his memory, this had never happened before. Then, he called Pearl again. Before Pearl could east after she hung up the phone...

Ring ring ring!

The phone rang again. "Miss Pearl, who's calling you? Are you not going to answer?" David lifted his head and asked. "N-No, it's from overseas. It's about work and I don't want to talk about work now. It'll affect our mood during dinner," Pearl answered.

"Alright, don't answer it. Since you're back, you should rest for a few days. You should just ignore all work-related matters for the time being," David said.

David did not take it to heart too.

Back when he established East League Capitals, it was to make more money to get lavish points.

Since he had spent the money, it did not matter how much he got in return.

Therefore, David did not care much about Pearl's work "I... I should just answer it. Maybe it's something urgent and they need me." After Pearl said that, she grabbed her phone and went to the window before answering. "How have you been, Miss Warner?" After Pearl answered the phone, she heard Walt's voice on the phone. "Can I help you?" Pearl asked coldly. She was not as flirty as when she talked to David just now. "It's been a few days, but I miss you so much, Miss Warner. I'm so sad that you're so cold to me, Miss Warner." "If there's nothing important, I'll hang up now. Goodbye." "Wait," Walt said quickly.

"Go on," Pearl only said two words. "I want to invite you for dinner, Miss Warner. I'm wondering if you have time. Let me remind you that you've rejected me three times in total and you're the first woman who dares to reject me. Even though I like you, this is not something you should be proud of. If you reject me a fourth time, you and everyone around you will suffer the rage of my family. Please think carefully before you answer," Walt said in a deep voice.

Pearl was shocked.

This day had finally come.

When she learned who Walt was, she knew this would happen sooner or later.

Once the other party lost patience and decided to use the Mosley family's name on her, she would not be able to resist.

David and the East League Capitals behind her could not resist them either,

This family was too powerful.

They were so powerful that they made her hopeless.

She could not even think about resisting. When she was in the car, she wanted to tell David to see if there was anything David could do. She knew that Walt would not give up easily. However, after thinking about it, she gave up. It would only be added to David's troubles if he knew. It was impossible to compete with the Mosley family. Once they angered the Mosley family, the East League Capitals that they worked so hard to get to where it was today would be wiped out in an instant. Fortunately, she had returned to Somerland. Even if she wanted to accept Walt's invitation, it was impossible. "Mr. Walt, I really want to accept your invitation, but I'm sorry, I'm back in Somerland now, how about I accept your invitation when I go back next time?" Pearl said.

Her voice was no longer as cold as before. She just hoped Walt could let her go. "Oh? Really? What a coincidence! Actually, I just arrived in Capital City in Somerland. Where are you now, Miss Warner? I'll pick you up now," Walt said with a grin.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 744

'What?'

Pearl felt dizzy. Walt actually followed her to Capital city in Somerland?

It had only been three hours since she arrived and he actually followed her.

It seemed that he would not give up until he had her. Pearl felt a little aggrieved.

The person she liked kept pushing her away while the person she did not like followed her all the way here to find her. 'What should I do now?' She seemed to be at a dead end.

Walt had clearly lost his patience.

If she rejected him again, either she, East League Capitals, or David, would suffer the wrath of the Mosley family. East League Capitals would not be able to resist the family behind the world-renowned Mosley Financial Group. She even heard abroad that the Mosley family was one of the actual controllers behind Falconia.

Only the Somerland government could compete with a family of this level. However, why would the Somerland government go against the Mosley family for an ordinary woman like her?

It was obviously impossible!

'What should I do? 'What am I supposed to do? 'Who can tell me?' Pearl's mind was a mess at that moment.

"Miss Warner? Haven't figured it out yet?" Walt's impatient voice came over the phone. "... I'm not free today, can we do it... after a few days?" Pearl pleaded softly. "Miss Warner, do you think you can escape even if you delay it for a few days? Stop dreaming! If you're a woman I fancy, so what if you run to the ends of the earth? Believe it or not, within three minutes, all the information surrounding you from your birth to the present will appear in my hands, so you should be a good girl and obey me. And I have given you many opportunities, so don't test my limits again, or you won't be able to bear the consequences. Where are you now? I will come to pick you up right away," Walt said, without giving Pearl any chance to question him.

He did not intend to be gentle with Pearl when he came to Somerland this time.

He immediately mentioned his family to put pressure on the other party so that she would get into his bed obediently. He had wasted enough time with Pearl. His time was invaluable.

"No, let's do it tomorrow. I can't do it today. I promise you, you can come to pick me up tomorrow," Pearl said, holding back tears.

She knew she could not escape this time.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Once Walt got serious, she had no way of saying no. Originally, she thought that he got rid of him after she came back to Somerland.

However, she was too naive.

Even Somerland would not easily offend a family of this level.

"Okay, then I'll give you another chance. I'll pick you up tomorrow. I hope you can dress nicely. Oh, and I prefer women who know how to take the initiative. If you make me happy, you'll get countless benefits. I won't disturb you today then, goodbye." Walt hung up the phone. Pearl held the phone and looked out the window in a trance. Although she was temporarily relieved, what should she do tomorrow? After calming down, Pearl decided in her heart and walked back to the dining table. "Miss Pearl, what's wrong? You don't look so good," David asked.

"No... It's nothing. It's just that there are some mistakes related to work and I scolded them. It's been taken care of now," Pearl replied.

"I told you not to worry about work for the time being. Take a good rest for a few days, and leave the matters abroad to others. Don't leave the country for a moment."

"Okay, I get it."

The two continued to eat.

Pearl had been eating with relish before she answered the phone, but now she had clearly lost her appetite.

David could feel the change within Pearl.

Things were definitely not as simple as she said.

However, he did not probe.

Pearl did not want to tell him, so it would be useless to ask too as it would put her in a difficult position.

After eating, David said after cleaning up, "Miss Pearl, you must be tired. Rest early. I'll go first."

When Pearl heard that David was leaving, she hurried over to stand in front of him and said, "David, can you stay with me?"

"Miss Pearl, is something wrong? Can you tell me? You've been a little bit off since you answered the phone," David asked as he looked into Pearl's eyes.

Pearl's eyes flickered a little. "No... It's nothing. I just want you to accompany me."
"Alright then," David said helplessly.

He knew something happened to Pearl. However, she refused to tell him, and he could not do anything about it. David chatted with Pearl for a while, but Pearl's mind was somewhere else.

At the same time, David was indirectly asking what was on her mind.

However, Pearl pretended like she did not hear him.

When David felt that it was about time, he got ready to leave.

At this moment, Pearl seemed to have made a huge decision.

She stood up and said to David, "David, I'm asking you for a favor and you have to say yes."

"Miss Pearl, just tell me whatever's on your mind. You can tell me ten, let alone one. Don't worry, I believe I can help you solve whatever it is," David said confidently.

He thought Pearl was finally ready to tell him what was on her mind. "Can you stay tonight?" Pearl mustered up her courage and said, her face red.

'Huh?'

David was stunned at that moment.

He never thought that Pearl would request this. He would solve all problems for Pearl, but not this. After Pearl said that, she ignored David's reaction and walked next to him. Then, she held him gently and said, "Can you stay? Please?"

"Miss Pearl, don't do this," David said while struggling.

"Why can't you accept me?" Pearl asked with a sob.

She had decided

She could not offend Walt for the sake of East League Capitals, David, and everyone around her.

If not, no one could endure the wrath of the Mosley family.

Since she could not reject him, she would give the most precious first time to the person she liked.

At least she would not have any regrets this way.

She knew she could not be with David in this lifetime because after tomorrow, her body would be dirty and she would not be worthy of David.

If that was the case, she would give herself a wonderful night. At least, she would still have something to recall fondly in the future.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 745

When he noticed Pearl's craziness, David finally realized the seriousness of the matter.

'This girl has gone crazy!' He hurriedly pushed Pearl away. "Miss Pearl, calm down!" David exclaimed.

“David, please promise me! I don’t want you to be responsible. It’s just tonight! As long as tonight is over, we’ll go our separate ways,” Pearl cried.

“What the hell is going on? Miss Pearl, you weren’t like this before!” “Before was before! We’re in the present now.” “This is not fair to you!” “I don’t care! We will go our separate ways after tonight, I don’t need you to be responsible for me.”

-“But I can’t do that!”

“Why? Aren’t all men like this? Why can’t you be like them?” After Pearl finished speaking, she started to kiss David all over his body. David had no choice. This girl had gone crazy and she would not listen to him. He could only push Pearl away, press her on the sofa, and get up to leave quickly. Before leaving, he said, “Miss Pearl, you should calm down first! I will come to you tomorrow!”

“Boohoo!”

Pearl was thus the only one left crying in the large living room.

“Tomorrow?”

“Tomorrow will be too late.

‘Why couldn’t you agree to my last request? ‘Why? “Should I live my whole life in regret?’

At this moment, Pearl was so helpless and devastated.

It was so difficult for her to reach his conclusion.

However, David did not want to give her a chance.

She was remorseful right now. Why was she so stupid? Why did she beg to go to that party of the elites just so the company could develop better and faster?

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

It was because of that party that she met Walt, the man who refused to leave her alone. After she rejected Walt at the party, he asked someone to, directly and indirectly, tell Pearl who he was. It was still fine at first as he was still gentlemanly. After he was rejected three times, he bared his fangs and used his family to pressure her. After David fled, he let out a sigh of relief. He started tidying his clothes as Pearl had removed half of his buttons. Women were so terrifying when they went insane. 1 ‘What’s happening with Miss Pearl?’ David was curious. She must have met with something she could not solve, resulting in her doing that. However, she did not want to tell him, so what could he do? It should be because of that phone call during dinner. She was fine before, but her mood was off after she answered that phone call. Too bad he did not notice anything major back then, so he did not use his mind power to investigate. If not, he should be able to hear what she was saying at such a close distance. 'Whatever, I'll think about this when Miss Pearl calms down.' Tomorrow, he would come and ask what happened to make her suddenly act so crazy. After David left, Pearl sat on the sofa the entire night. She did not feel sleepy at all throughout the night. She could not sleep in this situation anyway. The next morning, Pearl's phone rang. She grabbed the phone with her shaky hand to take a look. When she saw the caller ID, her eyes narrowed.

Indeed, it was the name that terrified her.

Walt Mosley!

He could not wait anymore.

She had no excuse to put it off.

She did not want to answer.

However, he would lose his temper if she did not answer. The outcome was already predetermined.

What difference did it make whether it was earlier or later?

It was a pity that she could not get David to stay last night and give him what was most precious to her so that she could have something she could remember.

Am I that bad?

'Does he not want me even if I offer it?'

Anger appeared in Pearl's heart. 'David, you didn't want this. I hope you don't regret it.' Pearl picked up the phone. "Ms. Warner! How are the preparations going?" Walt's excited voice came over the phone. "I just woke up! Let me get dressed and call you later," Pearl replied coldly. "Good! I'll wait for you, Ms. Warner, but I hope you'll hurry up. My patience is limited." She hung up on Walt. Pearl got up, went to her suitcase, took out her makeup, and entered the bedroom. She sat in front of the mirror and started applying makeup. Since she had no choice. She could not give Walt any opportunity to give her a hard time.

She was told to dress up. If she showed up like this, she would piss Walt off. It would do more harm than good.

An hour later.

Pearl got up and looked at herself in the mirror.

Not bad!

Her figure and face were top-notch.

Unfortunately, she would be owned by someone she did not like after today.

She got out of the bedroom and got changed. Pearl took out her phone, found Walt's number, and dialed it. "Ms. Warner, are you ready?"

"Where do I go?"

"Starry Night Hotel's luxury suite 1. Hurry up! I can't wait."

Pearl paused. "Didn't you invite me to dinner?" Pearl asked. "Dinner? I invited you to dinner last night, but today is different. Let's get straight to business! I can't wait, or do you not know what I mean? Do I need to be clear? I want to sleep with you. Do you get it now? Of course, you can refuse, but I advise you to think carefully about whether you and those around you can afford the consequences," Walt said with a smile. Pearl bit her lip until she injured it. Swallowing her grief, she said, "Okay! I'll head out right now."

"Then hurry up! Stop wasting time. I can't wait." Pearl walked out of the upscale apartment. She hailed a cab and headed for Starry Night Hotel.

Half an hour later. Pearl arrived at Starry Night Hotel.

She found luxury suite.

Knock knock knock! Pearl knocked on the door. The door opened quickly, revealing Walt's charming face. "Haha! Ms. Warner, you're finally here! I've been waiting so long." Walt leaned to one side to let Pearl in. Pearl entered the room but did not speak. "Ms. Warner, would you like a drink first? Otherwise, I'm afraid you won't be able to relax later!" Walt said with a smile. From his years of experience with women, Pearl was definitely a virgin.

It was one of the reasons he went after her.

Walt was no ordinary man. He did not want to sleep with women that other men had touched.

He had thrown several non-virgin women he had slept with straight into the ocean. Pearl was 25 or 26 years old—recently matured. She was incredibly beautiful and had such a good figure. More importantly, she was still a virgin.

That was a little hard to come by.

"Walt, I'm not going to talk cr*p with you. Just this once! Don't bother me anymore after this," Pearl said coldly.

"That depends on how happy you make me, Ms. Warner! As long as I'm satisfied, it'll make life easier for you and everyone around you. But if I'm not, I'm sorry," Walt said as he poured the liquor.

"I've agreed. What more do you want?" "I'll tell you what I want later. Have a drink first!"

Walt offered Pearl a glass of liquor. "I don't drink!" Pearl refused. "Are you not giving me any face, Ms. Warner?" Walt asked, narrowing his eyes. "... I don't know how!" Pearl explained.

"You must drink it whether you like it or not. Or else, don't blame me for not reminding you that your sacrifice will be in vain. After having my way with you, I will make you pay with everything you care about." "You..."

Pearl glared at Walt.

Pearl accepted the glass with trembling hands.

Walt touched Pearl's hand as their two hands exchanged the glass.

She almost lost her grip on her glass of liquor due to the shock "Yeah! It's nice. It smells good and feels smooth," Walt said as he put the hand to his nose and sniffed,

Ignoring Walt's gaze, Pearl finished the drink

There was an instant burning sensation in her throat.

It was the first time she had had such a strong drink. She only drank wine with low amounts of alcohol content when attending banquets.

However, she could hold her liquor,

She would not get drunk just because of one glass,

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

When Pearl finished her drink, she put down her glass, closed her eyes, and said, "Hurry up! Just this once today. Men like you have a lot of women. You're only after novelty. I hope you'll keep your word and never bother me again."

She said and cried,

At the same time, she told herself, 'Darling, I'm sorry! I can't give you the best thing I have. I won't bother you anymore because I'm no longer pure. Goodbye!' Walt watched Pearl lay on the bed but did nothing. "Ms. Warner, I think you're mistaken. I don't like passive women," Walt said as he sipped his hard liquor.

Pearl sat up in bed when she heard Walt's statement.

"Walt! Why do you insult me when I've agreed to your demands?" Pearl asked sharply. "How is that an insult? Didn't I tell you? I gave you two drinks in case you couldn't relax. How about now? Would you like another drink?" "You..." Walt rendered Pearl speechless. It was hard for a woman who had never done such a thing to take the initiative. Of course, if it was David, perhaps she would be able to. Just like last night.

Unfortunately, this was a man she hated. She could not do it! "I said you have to make me happy first! Or I won't let you off the hook. I won't be happy with you lying there as still as a corpse. Even if you're with me all your life, I won't be pleased. Are you planning on being stuck with me for the rest of your life?" "No... No!" Pearl said and looked out the window in humiliation, trying to suppress the urge to cry. "It's okay if you don't know how. You can learn slowly!" Walt said with a chuckle. With that, he switched on the giant TV hanging on the wall. There were soon embarrassing images on the TV. Pearl did not look at the TV, but she knew what Walt meant after hearing the sound.

He wanted her to learn from the TV.

Walt waited for a while. When Pearl still did not look over, he snapped, "Ms. Warner, what's the meaning of this? Are you trying to piss me off? Do you want your hard work to go to waste? There's no way a virgin like you can please me if you don't learn. Think it through!" Pearl was about to bear the shame and turn her head around to watch TV. A cold, piercing voice rang in the room. "How do you like it? I can do it for you!" As if suddenly struck by something, Pearl slowly turned her head to look at the young man sitting on the chair, crossing his legs and pouring liquor when she heard the voice. She finally could not hold it in anymore. Her tears began to pour out like a tsunami. She felt like crying out loud.

However, she had a feeling that now was not the right time to do so. She hurriedly covered her mouth with both hands to prevent herself from crying.

"Who are you?" Walt froze and looked back at the young man sitting not far from him.

'When did this man start sitting here? 'I didn't even notice him. 'How is that possible?

'Who is he?'

He was the second in line to the Mosley family-one of the five top forces in the world. He was a late Dragon Ranker. A young man in his 20s approached him without him noticing

He was no fool.

The man was anything but simple. David ignored Walt. After pouring a glass of wine, he picked up the TV remote and turned the TV off. Then he got up, walked over to Pearl, and gently leaned Pearl's head against his stomach.

Walt dared not move or even say another word.

He felt a malicious pressure he was no match for washing over him and tightly surrounding him.

This man was trying to kill him!

More importantly, he found that he could not even resist. He would die if he made the slightest movement.

It was the first time since Walt was born that he felt the threat of death up close. He was filled with fear. A thick layer of sweat began to form on his forehead. Pearl could not control herself anymore. She reached out her hands to tightly hold the young man who suddenly appeared and wept. "Boohoo!" Her tears soon wet the young man's clothes. "Let it out, Miss Pearl! You'll feel better after crying. Don't bear everything by yourself," the young man said as he patted Pearl on the back Pearl cried even louder.

She needed to let off all the stress she had suffered.

Ever since she met Walt abroad, not a day had gone by that she was not depressed.

The Mosley family was too influential and strong.

She could not find a way to fight them. She also thought David could not fight them. It was why she did not tell him about it.

However, now that David knew, she would not have to hide it anymore.

She just wanted to blow off some steam right now.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 749

The young man who appeared suddenly was David, of course.

He did not leave after sensing something was wrong with Pearl last night. Instead, he spent the night opposite Pearl on the same floor. He bought two adjacent units in the apartment block-one for Pearl and one for himself. Of course, there was no way he would leave even if he did not own any units there.

Pearl was clearly in serious trouble. He could not just leave. What if something went wrong?

This woman was no less important to him than Celia.

He even felt they were equally important. Therefore, he focused his mind power on Pearl all night. Since Pearl said nothing, he would not be able to force her, so he could only use this method. When David spotted Pearl leaving the house in the morning, he quickly followed her. However, after leaving the apartment block, he went to get his car, and Pearl had left in a taxi. David did not know which way Pearl went, so he could only turn to the intelligence department for help.

It took extensive surveillance to determine the direction of the vehicle Pearl had gone in.

David followed after them.

It led to a slight time difference between the two.

Pearl had arrived at Starry Night Hotel a while before David.

David was comforting Pearl. He was relieved as a cold sweat broke out on his back. Although the time difference was short-just over 10 minutes, they could have done many things if Walt was impatient. Pearl might even have been raped. David thought about the possibility. He thought that not only Pearl would go mad, but he might also go mad if such a thing did happen.

He would not be able to take it. Luckily, he made it in time!

Walt pretty much figured out their relationship when he saw Pearl holding David and crying.

David consoled Pearl, and his murderous intent faded away for the time being.

Without the murderous intent, Walt quietly took out his cell phone and dialed a number.

He knew he was unlikely to be a match for the young man.

He could only ask for help. Luckily, he brought two half-step God Rank masters with him when he came to Somerland. The mysterious country was quite dangerous! A random young man had terrifying powers.

David noticed Walt's action, but he did not stop him as he continued to console Pearl.

Two middle-aged men soon appeared in the room.

They each stood next to Walt.

Their job was to protect Walt. They would show up as soon as they got the news. Besides, they lived right next door. It was just that David showed up so quietly that they did not even notice. They heard Pearl's cries, but they thought Mr. Walt was having fun. "Mr. Walt!" The two half-step God Rankers shouted in unison. With two half-step God Rankers by his side, Walt felt much more confident. "Who are you? How dare you spoil my fun? Do you know who I am? Can you bear the consequences?" Walt asked. David ignored Walt.

He continued patting Pearl on the back Walt was angry to see that he was ignored. However, he did nothing. The malicious pressure David gave him had just traumatized him. In his opinion, it was not safe as he only had two half-step God Rankers. Who knew if the young man had brought anyone else? He was in Somerland after all, not his own country. It was better to be cautious.

Pearl had almost finished venting by now.

She stopped crying She let go of David and looked up at him.

David looked down and gave Pearl a warm smile.

“Da... David, it... it's not what you think Walt didn't force me! I... I did it voluntarily,” stammered Pearl.

She did not want David to make an enemy of the Mosley family.

She did not know David's background, but she thought David was no match for the Mosley family no matter what his background was.

David smiled and shook his head. He gently wiped the tears from Pearl's face. A little reflection gave him a general idea of what had happened.

The guy Walt must have a powerful background.

'He had his eye on Pearl.

'But Pearl refused.

'As a result, he uses his status to pressure Pearl and get her. 'He even followed Pearl back to Somerland. 'Perhaps Walt's identity is so powerful that Pearl thinks I can't compete with him. 'Thus, she never told me. 'She chose to bear it silently instead.

'She wanted to sacrifice herself to protect me. 'This led to the chaotic incident last night. 'She knew she could not hide, so she wanted to give me her virginity. “Then, she'd sacrifice herself to solve this issue. 'How simple! 'And very cliché!

'But that's what happened.' “Da – David! Thank you for coming, but you'd better go! I like Walt and want to be with him,” Pearl said, fighting back the pain in her heart. She was afraid that David would start a feud with the Mosley family to avenge her. He had no chance of winning at all.

“Miss Pearl, you're really a bad liar! If you liked Walt, would you hold me and cry for so long?” David said with a smile.

Pearl immediately tried to push David away.

However, David stopped her. “Don't worry, Miss Pearl. Leave it all to me. Okay? Believe me! When have I ever let you down?” David leaned over and whispered in Pearl's ear. “No! No! No! It's different this time, David. You're no match for him! They're a powerful family. They really are. Hurry and leave! Leave me alone. He promised to spare everyone around me if I made him happy,” Pearl said as she shook her head and cried. David suddenly found himself to be a failure.

He was an unparalleled peak God Ranker master. However, he had to be protected by the woman around him. He knew it was due to his character. He was always thinking about stability. He was always trying to keep a low profile. He did not want to show his strength until he was invincible.

It caused people around him to have no idea how strong he was. If Pearl knew a little about himself, the events today would never have happened.

He almost caused himself to regret it for the rest of his life. Therefore, David figured he should start showing some fangs today. ‘I should show the power befitting of a peak God Rank master. ‘I should stop being such a scaredy-cat. ‘Who else did he need to be afraid of?

‘No!

‘Peak God Rank is the strongest in the world.

‘And I’m a peak God Ranker.

‘Why should I be afraid?’
