I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 828

David watched the two ladies enter campus before he got into his car and drove off.

Only for a few Greenwood University students to stand in his way when he started the engine.

One of them stood on David's left.

Knock knock knock!

He knocked on David's car window.

David sighed in exasperation, Helen of Troy indeed.

These people had only come to look for him because they saw him send Celia and Selena to school.

He had a feeling that something would happen, so he did not send them off in the campus, yet they still spotted him anyway.

If he had known that this would happen, he would never have gotten out of the car.

David's identity and status were different now, and he did not wish to get into conflict with anyone else.

No one present was important enough to warrant his explanation, and he did not want to fight with them. Even so, these students were acting high and mighty in front of him, which annoyed him.

Since they had come to trouble him, David rolled his window down and decided to play along.

"How can I help you?" David asked.

"You! What's your relationship with our two goddesses, huh? Why did they come to school in your car?"

David looked the student up and down.

He was not ugly, with a buzzcut, earrings, and donned in branded clothing The student was probably some trust fund kid.

David felt slightly confused. He did not understand how people like this got into Greenwood University.

In David's understanding, Greenwood University was the world's most distinguished academy, and only geniuses with exceptionally good results got in.

Considering this student's outfit, he did not look like a genius to David As such, David deduced that this student got in because of his powerful family, like Selena did thanks to the King family.

"I'm f*cking talking to you here! Are you deaf or what?"

The trust fund kid started to get annoyed at David's lack of response.

David frowned in irritation.

If the student spoke nicely, David would be down to answer his questions, but this student was impolite and David wanted to hit him.

"How does that matter to you? Even a dog knows better than to stand in a person's way. Leave before I get angry," David replied expressionlessly. "Pfft! Do you even know who I am? How dare you act so arrogant on my territory! Do you want to die? You think that because you drive a Benz G-Class you're suddenly all big and mighty? Even the nannies at my house can drive G -Wagons. Answer my question or you won't get to leave!" The trust fund kid shouted.

David wanted to laugh.

The trust fund kid had no fear at all.

Even as a member of the Somerland Parliament and being at partial Super – God level whilst protecting billions of Somer descents, David did not dare to claim Greenwood University as his territory.

In terms of cars and money, no one could beat David.

At this moment, David felt the desire to embarrass this trust fund kid, so he replied, "They're both my girlfriends and we're all living together. Can you even imagine how it feels? Have you even experienced it before? Let me tell you, it feels so good! Haha..."

Then, he stepped hard on the gas.

Vroom vroom vroom!

The car sped off, shocking the trustfund kids around his car and causing them to jump back. They watched David drive off and their handsome faces twisted into something wretched.

“F*cking b*stard! Just you wait! I’ll find you and make you regret offending me!” “What do we do now, Mr. Mont?”
