

His Scarlet Queen Luna Chapter 5

"Yeah, mum I don't know what to do why would the moon goddess do this to me. I am the future werewolf king for goodness sake I can't have a weak luna.." I said exasperated.

" don't worry Zane I am sure she knows why certain things happened. If that girl was weak then she would have never been chosen to be a Luna much less a queen. Look at me I am not a werewolf but I am the queen right?." She said smiling sweetly.

"Yeah, I guess you are right.. but mom you aren't ordinary. You are a freaking Phoenix.." I said and immediately regretted using the word.

"Sorry.." I muttered and she sighed.

"Yes I am but it's still the same I am not a werewolf still right.? Look what I am trying to say is that you need her she isn't ordinary but someone special you can't be able to rule without her human or not she is still your mate the only one who can love you the way you deserve and...." mum was cut off by the door open.

"Hey baby.." she said getting up going to hug my dad.

"hi love.." he said hugging her back.

I watched how they were looking at each other showing affection I wish I could have that as well.

I admire my parent's love story a lot. dad accepted mom before he even found out that she was a Phoenix. He didn't care whether she was human or not.

Maybe Scar isn't really a weak human maybe there is something special about her that will make her a great Queen.

"good night love birds.." I said getting up running up the stairs to my room as I heard them chuckle.

They were still standing there hugging each other as if they haven't seen each other for days while it was only a day. I hope I can get such from the scar.

"Zane I found the information.." Aaron's mind linked me.

"Yes tell me.." I said sitting on the bed in the guest room.

"Her full name is Scarlet Reyes she lives with her mom. dad unknown and is fifteen years old. Birthday 30th march.." he said.

" okay thanks," I said cutting off the link.

Her birthday was two days ago wow I should get her a present.

Scarlet Reyes, I smiled and my wolf purred at the mention of my mate's name.

"Uh ha, the big bad alpha is purring.." I teased him.

"shut up human.." he snorted blocking me off and I chuckled. I was now finally able to get some sleep thinking about my mate.

SCARLET

I woke up with the rays of sunlight hitting my face I smiled snuggling deeper into the silk comforter.

My eyes widened since when do I have a silk comforter.?

I got up and wished I hadn't. I fell back on the pillow groaning in pain while clutching my head. 'what happened' I muttered to myself.

This time I slowly got up sitting on the bed while looking around the room did I get kidnapped?? no wait if I was then I should be tright? Looking around the room it was huge with huge Windows on either side that were covered with creamy white silk curtains. While I was admiring the room, I didn't notice the fact that I wasn't alone.

"Good morning princess." I was startled by a voice that sent good shivers down my spine. I quickly turned my head earning myself a whiplash.

"Uh..." I groan.

"careful princess you might hurt yourself.."

"Z...Zane?" I looked at him wide-eyed. oh no, what am I doing with Zane? Where is Val? Did he abandon me? What happened at the party last night? How come I don't remember. My breathing had become irregular I was panicking

"shhh, deep breath in out in out that's it," Zane said rubbing my back and I was instantly calm.

"W...e..ream I," I asked in a whisper.

" You are at my place..." he said smiling.

"What? why am I here weren't I suppose to be at my house and where is Val he was supposed to be with me..." I said getting angry how can Val abandon me and let me spend the night at a bad boy's house.

"Well you were too drunk and some boys haraed you I saved you and brought you here."

"What about Jenna weren't you suppose to be with her?" I asked and he sighed getting up.

"I will bring you some pills for your headache in the meantime you can take a shower in there.." he said pointing to a gla door.

I nodded my head softly and went into the shower. Thank God I still had my previous clothes on I strip down and washed with the muscling soap that was in his bathroom.

Since my dress was covered in sweat and alcohol I took one of the shirts that were in the room and wore it. I came out to find him sitting on the bed with a water bottle in his hands he eyed me up and down making me pull the shirt down a little.

I felt uncomfortable at his intense gaze but at the same time pleased that he was looking at me. Why was I even pleased I don't like him?

he shouldn't be looking at me like that.! He stared at me for a while before shaking his head and handing me the pill and the water.

I felt something inside me it's like I wanted him to do something but he didn't want to. Sigh

I was about to take it when my finger slightly brushed his. A strong wave of electric current rushed through me which made me quickly withdraw my hand. It wasn't the kind where you almost die but the kind Which makes you feel shivers good ones.

"Did you feel that..?" I whispered and judging by his facial Expression he surely felt it too. This time I grabbed the water bottle and the pill without touching him Then chewed the pill and gulped down the water which made me feel a lot better.

"Thanks.." I said looking at him and our eyes locked just as always they were filled with that emotion I didn't know he didn't look like the bad boy everyone knows, he looked.....different. The kind I can't really describe.

After staring at each other for what felt like decades I finally broke eye contact.

"I will bring the dress to you once it's washed come let me take you home.." he said and I gave a small nod not even making eye contact.

Why was the bad and meanest boy in school being so nice to me maybe it's because of Jenna...

We went downstairs into the garage getting into this nice black car that screamed expensively. I looked at it in awe looking back at him I saw him smirk. Quickly lowering my head I got into his car and he drove off. A comfortable silence filling the atmosphere. My thoughts were everywhere. I was seeing Zane in a different light. He is a bad boy, right? How is it that he came to my rescue? Bad boys are considered bad people they don't help people they make trouble.

Why did he help me? Why did he bring me to his home?..

"We are here.." he said and I looked to find my house in view. What the__

"How did you know where I live.?" I asked him susiously. I remember not telling him that. has he been stalking me.?

"See you at school." was all he said before driving off while I looked at the retreating car in bewilderment. What just happened? I shook my head and entered the house. oh no I left my phone at his place dang it.

Luckily mom had already gone to work. It was around 7:50 I went into my room and changed grabbing my backpack eating breakfast and going to school.

The school hallway was empty I was major late. I went to the secretary's office and she gave me the pa.

Giving it to my physics teacher I sat on my seat at the back a few seconds later Zane the bad boy walked in straight sitting on the desk without even acknowledging the teacher who just shrugged it off and continued the lesson while I didn't miss the curious teenage eyes which were looking at me.

I wonder what happened at the party last night. And how is it possible that Val abandoned me I thought we were best buds...

The bell broke my chain of thoughts I gathered my books and headed to my second cla history which I shared with Sky thinking of which I don't think I saw her at the party yesterday..

"Hey, sky.." I waved at her which she smiled.

".Have you heard the rumors.?" she asked.

"What rumors?." I asked confused.

"Zane and Jenna, had a fight yesterday at the party because of some chick I didn't hear her name and haven't spoken to Jenna yet have you seen her?" She asked me.

"No, I haven't we will see her at lunch maybe.." I said as the teacher began the lesson explaining about the world war and stuff.

Lunch came by quicker than I thought. We sat at our usual table but Jenna was nowhere in sight.

"Maybe she didn't come to school." Sky shrugged.

"Yeah I guess so," I said. Now I was even more curious to know what happened. Jenna and Zane had a fight but they have only been together for like half a day... Is it normal for couples?

I was so engrossed in my thoughts I didn't even notice Zane the bad boy staring at me gosh I hate him for making my best friend suffer.

I looked at him and gave him the best glare I could muster. He looked at me confused than hurt then confused again. He is such an idiot...

"I think I might murder him if he broke my friend's heart." Sky said. "And I won't spare the chick who did this to her." my heart skipped a beat.
