Chapter 17 Repercussions

Time will heal everything.

It's been a month since they never stops looking for Laura and Holly. They haven't found anything on them, Cameron was going insane at the same time.

Daniella tries to keep things sane for Clyde so she quit her job and make sure Cameron and Clyde are both taken care of. He has always been there for her now it was her time to be there for him.

Apart from Kyle and Dante visits, Carla to much Daniella's surprise visit them very often excusing that it was their packs fault for not really arrived on time. Her brother is also trying his best to deal with the rogues. So she always welcome her in and she has helped her out a lot with the boys.

Cora did drop by with Jem to check and her Daniella a week ago and she was amuse to watch them as they would make a hot werewolf couple with their pickering and arguments on how to handle Clyde.

Despite all that Dante never fails to prove her that he deeply regrets and is sorry for what he has done. Like two weeks ago he arrived on their door step on his knees telling her that he was sorry for everything that he has ever done not forgetting he send flowers with a sorry note attach to it every day.

People in the territory began to talk of her and Dante being intimately involved with one another. A lot of rumors popping up between the two of them but it didn't stop Dante from apologising to her over and over again.

Then a week ago he invited her to a dinner in which Daniella never shows up to even the lunch he has offer to her. She has also dismissed his help on finding Laura and Holly but only accepts it from Kyle, Carla and Kiev who was nothing but a good friend to her. He never stop coming by their house to check on her. Kiev even took her on a dinner and tries to make her and Clyde happy.

After another month Cameron has finally come out of his misery he was getting better with Carla moving around their house like it was her home for so long, long before Laura or her sister.

"Hey Carla, where's Cam?" she turn around from the fried pan on the stove "umm he went up to his room to change"

Daniella crosses her arms. "It's funny something is going on with you and him right?"

Carla flips the pancake then put it on the plate when it's cooked. She took a breath "No, I just help him as I have the same situation with him" she pressed her lips together. She slide the plate towards Daniella on the counter.

"Look I don't hate you but just know that he has a Mate and a child out there. I hate to see a girl like you getting hurt even though you kinda b* to me before with your questions but all is in the past."

Carla only nodded her head, "thank you Dani and I'm sorry again" she lit a smile to Daniella who in return smile back at her with reaurance.

Cameron came down with Clyde in his arms "were heading out" he walks to the door but Daniella stops him "Carla is coming with you" she gesture for her to go with him.

Once they were gone she sat down on the couch to rest as she was too exhausted. She hasn't really have a nice beauty sleep for the past months. So maybe now was the time to get that sleep to get another energy to look for her neice and Laura.

Her eyelashes were both heavily drooping ready to be consume by darkness only to be waken by the ring of her door bell.

She opened it to find Dante outside "Dani" he didn't finish as she shut the door in his face.

She knew that being rude to an Alpha was disrespectful but Dante didn't deserve a respect from her. Not now or tomorrow she was too tired to deal with him so she went back to sleep in her room ignoring the banging on their door.

Love Xox,
