

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 154

Cecelia looked at him, "I did nothing, Flynn. Trust me."

Flynn turned to Drake, as if inquiring if that was true, but Drake didn't seem to want to say anything.

"Take her away."

Cecelia was anxious. "You can't do that, Flynn. If we leave, they'll get what they want."

Flynn glanced at Drake and Sophia.

He had been well aware that they were destined to be together and nothing could separate them.

Then he sighed helplessly, "Let's go, Cecelia."

Cecelia shook her head. "No, I can't. Drake's mine."

"Let's go." Flynn patted her shoulder gently.

"I can't. I really can't."

Cecelia had a weird feeling that Drake and she would be over if she just left.

"Cecelia."

"Please, Flynn. You know I've loved Drake ever since I was a child. If I can't be with him, it will kill me. I mean it."

"Cecelia." Flynn called her again, running out of patience.

"You know I really love him, Flynn." Cecelia grew desperate as she continued her words.

As her elder brother, Flynn also felt distressed for his sister.

But Cecelia should better cut it off with Drake to save herself the pain.

There was no use for her to stay here.

"We should go." He carried her and went away.

"No. Flynn." Cecelia kept screaming, but eventually her voice faded in the air.

Drake and Sophia were left alone.
