

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 163

Noah didn't give her the chance to finish her words. "Sophia, as I said, I don't mind."

"But I do. I've slept with Drake. I can't sleep with someone else. I just can't do it."

"So, are you going to accept Drake?"

"Of course not. I just... don't want to fall in love or get married anymore. In fact, ... It's nice being single."

Noah didn't like her idea. "Sophia, listen to me, though you have this idea for now, you'll slowly forget what has happened after you're with me."

"Noah, come on, you have many choices about your girlfriend. Don't waste your time on me."

"It doesn't matter. I like wasting my time on you."

Sophia suddenly didn't know what to say.

"How long will you stay there?"

"I don't know yet."

Sophia couldn't tell Noah that she didn't want to go back.

If she did, no one could force her to stay.

The reason she didn't go back was that Drake was still very important to her.

"Okay, I see." Noah hung up the phone

Sophia then threw herself into the work.

When the phone rang again, it was afternoon, and it was Emma calling.

"Sophia, do you have time tonight?"

"Yes! Ms. Glass, what's the matter? "

"My teacher, who is now the principal of Sealand University is holding a birthday banquet tonight. Would you like to go there with me?"

Sophia was surprised. "But Drake..."

"Let's not talk about him first," Emma said, "My teacher said he would love to meet my student. I call you because you happen to be in Sealand. But you can just say it if you are busy."
