

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 164

Emma tossed a glance at Baron as if implying that he was getting her into trouble.

Baron came in front of Olivia and stopped her from getting closer to Emma, "Olivia, what are you doing?"

Olivia was embarrassed so much. She squinted at Emma and said provocatively, "Baron, Ms. Glass is your ex-wife, and I should say hello to her, shouldn't I?"

"That's enough. Give me a second!" said Baron whose attitude towards Olivia was not that good, making her more embarrassed.

Olivia's face darkened. She could do nothing but gazed at Baron. After all, there were so crowded here.

Baron ignored her and turned his head towards Emma, "Emma, where do you live in Sealand? Do you get used to it? If you need help, just tell me."

Emma darted an impatient look at him and said, "Good, please do me a favor now!"

Baron got closer to her eagerly, "Whatever you want."

"Please leave me alone!" said Emma.

In front of so many people, Emma just put him on the spot.

However, Baron didn't get angry about it but bowed his head and said, "Emma, I know you still hate me since I was a badass before. It's OK..."

Emma bypassed him and walked towards the principal of Sealand University with Sophia as he was speaking.

"Mr. Rangel, sorry, I was held up by something," said Emma.

Mr. Rangel had noticed it and replied, "It doesn't matter. It was that I didn't think it through and asked you over at this time."

"Not a big deal. I haven't celebrated a birthday for you over these years. This year, I get the chance since I happen to stay in Sealand this year. And I should come here."

Mr. Rangel was gratified. He liked Emma most because having such an excellent student was awesome at that time.
