

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 170

Rhett wanted to fight back but failed. He answered in an ingratiating manner, "Ms. Lawson, how are you? I apologize if I'm interrupting. Could you please have mercy on me and tell Mr. Riley to let go of the Frost family? I'm sorry. It was all my fault before."

"Huh?" Sophia was surprised and asked, "What made you apologize, Mr. Frost? I doubt if I hear it wrong."

Her words pissed Rhett off. Inwardly, he cursed her. If Drake hadn't helped her, she wouldn't have been so arrogant.

"Yes, Ms. Lawson. It was all my fault. Please stop torturing our family. My family might be ruined in my hands if it goes on."

"Mr. Frost, before you made a move, didn't you consider the consequences?"

Sophia's words rendered Rhett wordless.

"You know what I think? Mr. Frost, you did those things because you didn't think Drake Riley would help me. From the beginning, you look down on me. Then I taught you a lesson. What's wrong with it?"

Rhett had never seen such an arrogant woman.

He seethed with rage but had to answer patiently, "Yes, Ms. Lawson. You are right. I was too... I do apologize."

"If the apology works, why do we need cops?"

Rhett looked annoyed. A while later, he asked, "Ms. Lawson, do you mean you won't let go of the Frost family?"

"Kindness to my enemy is cruelty to myself. If I let go of you, who knows what you'll do to me next? I don't want to take risks."

Chloe breathed a sigh of relief while listening to their conversation.

She had thought Sophia would forgive the Frost family.

Paula's father couldn't do anything. He had thought about and tried many ways recently but failed. Therefore, he had to call Sophia this morning.

"Ms. Lawson, please tell me your requirements. I'll do everything you want. Please let go of us."

"Well..." Sophia thought for a moment. "In this case, I need to think about it."

Gritting his teeth, Rhett almost blew up. 'I gave her an inch, she'd take a mile. What a bitch she is!'
