

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 171

Drake sounded excited. After all, they didn't have a pleasant morning, and Sophia wanted to throw him out.

But now, Sophia took the initiative to call him.

"It's me. I'm in the lobby of your company building..."

Before finishing her words, she heard Drake hurriedly order, "Stand there. Wait for me."

Sophia was about to refuse and tell him she could go upstairs, but he ended the call.

The security guard was watching her all the time.

Somehow, she told him, "He said he would come to pick me up in person."

The security guard gaped at her in disbelief with a mocking smile as if he was sure she was faking it.

He had seen many women coming to the Riley Group for Drake, but no one had ever let him go downstairs in person.

Sophia read his mind but didn't explain.

The security guard kept an eye on her, afraid she would suddenly rush into the elevator.

Suddenly, the elevator doors slid open. A man rushed toward them.

Drake saw a security guard stop Sophia at the clocking-in machine.

Paul, who got downstairs with Drake, snapped, "What's going on? Why did you stop Ms. Lawson?"

The security guard was baffled. He had no idea what was going on.

"Look at her carefully. In the future, if this lady wants, let her enter."

The security looked at Sophia in confusion.

"For the sake that you are working hard, I will keep you staying. If it happens again, you'll be fired."

Sophia said leisurely, "It's alright, Paul. It's no big deal. I didn't make an appointment with Drake. Don't blame him."
