

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 173

Sophia was too upset to reply to him. However, she needed to finish the work.

Passing the contract to him, she explained, "This is a share transfer from the Frost family. I took 4% and left the rest 6% to you. If it's OK for you, sign the contract and release their cargo."

Drake stared at the contract. 'She would never have taken the initiative to see me if it weren't for this contract, right?'

"Have you made the decision already?" he asked.

Sophia didn't know how to answer for a moment.

"All right. I'll sign it." Drake picked up his pen and signed.

When Sophia took over the contract, she panicked. Somehow, she had a lot of words but got a lump in her throat.

In the end, she uttered, "I gotta go. See you."

Drake watched her receding back, wondering if she meant "see you around" or "see you never".

After the contract took effect, Drake quickly released the Frost family's cargo.

The Frosts had suffered a significant loss this time. Earlier, they lost several million dollars. In addition to the transferred shares, their loss reached almost a billion.

Therefore, the Frost family had no energy to do something against Sophia's company for a while.

Seething with rage, Rhett called his wife. "Listen to me carefully. Keep an eye on your daughter. If I suffer a loss because of her again, I will sell her to the person who could help us."

"What are you talking about, Rhett? Paula is our daughter."

"I said so because she's my daughter. She let me suffer such a big loss. If I hadn't given Sophia Lawson our company shares, would our family have survived this time?"

Mrs. Frost didn't know many things about the business field, but she could tell how severe the consequences were from how sad her husband looked.
