

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 174

"Yep. It's me. I know her more than you do. She's a bitch. If it weren't for her, I'd have married Drake."

Paula believed her easily. "You hate her, don't you?"

"What do you think?"

Paula obtained her answer from the hatred in Cecelia's eyes.

After a moment, she asked, "What do you plan to do?"

"I cannot do anything to her, but you can."

Paula's eyes lit up. She thought Cecelia's words made sense.

Although her father's company had suffered a slight loss earlier, she didn't think it was a big deal.

After all, Sophia's company wasn't THAT influential.

"What do you think I should do?" she asked.

"You'd better shoot her."

Paula nodded, feeling Cecelia was right.

"All right. I'll figure out a plan. After I kill Sophia, don't forget to thank me."

'Humph! Stupid bitch!'

Cecelia smiled at her, "Of course, I will."

The following day, Oakaid Pharmaceutical Company was shrouded in nervousness and stress, which had never happened before.

All the employees were watching the company owner, who had never shown up in the company.
