

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 184

Noah looked at Sophia expectantly.

Sophia didn't want to disappoint Noah, but she was really unwilling to do so. However, Noah looked at her with an entreating expression.

She had to agree helplessly.

"All right. Look here."

The waitress let them pose like they were in love, and Sophia refused.

The waitress convinced her, "Miss, please be cooperative. It's our restaurant's promotion. After taking a few photos, you can return to your table with the gift. I promise the photos will not be exposed."

Her words relieved Sophia.

Sophia put on a polite smile and took photos.

"Thank you both. Here is your gift."

Sophia and Noah took the gift box over, in which there were two matching mugs. Sophia shoved it in Noah's hands directly after a glance. "For you. I don't need it."

Noah watched her return to their table, his eyes full of sorrow.

He knew Sophia had never thought of becoming his girlfriend, but he didn't expect her to be so rational. She was even unwilling to act to be his girlfriend.

Noah couldn't force her to take the mug.

On the other side, Cecelia received their photos with a triumphant smile.

She sent them to a reporter to release a piece of news online. Then the news notification was sent to Drake's phone.
