

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 219

Much to her surprise, the cars approached her vehicle, forcing her to drive down from the overpass.

If she did, she would enter a remote village. Evidently, the stalkers wanted to do something terrible to her.

After Sophia parked her car, several bruisers got down from the vehicles and surrounded her.

"Hello, beauty! You drive well. I wonder if you are also hot in bed."

Although Sophia didn't get down from her car, she heard their voices and was sickened by their nasty looks.

"Get down. Don't you feel bored in there? Let's have fun."

They had thought it was challenging to let Sophia get off the car.

Much to their surprise, Sophia got down without hesitation.

The bruisers were stunned as the woman wasn't only good-looking but also had a curvy figure. They became excited.

"Beauty, we've been burning with lust recently and wanted to vent it out. Would you like to be fucked here?"

Narrowing her eyes at them, Sophia asked, "Did you force me to stop here for this matter?"

"Of course. We had a crush on you earlier, so we'd like to play with you. If you are smart, you'd better not fight back. We guarantee you can enjoy it. If you fight back..."

He broke off, but his threat was well passed on.

Sophia swung to them enchantingly, leaning against her car. "Who sent you guys here?"

Her every single movement turned the men on. Their eyes glimmered with lust.

"What are you talking about?"
