

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 224

Lifting his attractive brows, Drake explained, "This community is one of my projects. Who's so bold to break in?"

Sophia put the axe back into the hose box and mocked, "You are the intruder, aren't you?"

Upon hearing her remark, Drake curled his lips into a smile. "You are right. I broke into your house and stole your heart away."

The staff working on the scene were amazed.

They thought Drake had gone too far by doing the PDA in their presence.

Sophia blushed crimson. Coughing slightly to cover her embarrassment, she asked, "What are you doing here?"

"I brought all my belongings here."

Sophia was startled. "Why?"

"You are here alone. I can stay here to protect you."

Sophia couldn't utter a word as she was impressed by his reply.

She hurriedly strode into the room, trying to move out his belongings.

"I can stay by myself. I don't need your protection. You've gone too far, Drake Riley!"

However, Drake pushed her away gently and hinted at the staff to continue. Then he dragged her into her bedroom.

"Sophia, I can do it if you want me not to go too far. However, you cannot provoke me."

Leaning against the wall, Sophia gazed at him without blinking. "So, my brothers' departure wasn't a coincidence, right? You've done something behind it."

Edwin and Charles left, and it looked normal. However, Bard was also sent away, which seemed fishy. That was why Sophia suspected it.

Besides, they left within the same week suddenly.

Drake planted a hand on the wall, raising her chin with the other.

With a triumphant smile, he answered, "You are right, Sophia. It's not a coincidence. I did it."

"Impossible! Travis sent Bard away. You couldn't have convinced Travis." That was the point that Sophia didn't understand.
