

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 278

Emma hadn't thought of this before.

"Okay, Drake. Just go for it."

"Sure, I will try my best."

Drake took out Sophia's results. Yet the diet therapist said, "I don't need it."

Drake looked at Emma strangely, as if asking, "Is this diet therapist a fraud?"

The doctor sat down, examined Sophia, and asked some questions. After a few minutes, the diet therapist had an idea.

"I'll prescribe some herbs to cook with food. During this period, avoid any irritating foods. You'll be fine in about three months."

Drake didn't think the diet therapist was reliable.

Emma held his hand and told him not to speak yet.

The diet therapist gave the prescription to Sophia. "Go to the pharmacy. Those things should be common."

Sophia took it over, but she got no idea what those herbs were about. However, since it was Emma that recommended the diet therapist here, she naturally trusted him.

"Okay, thank you, doctor."

"You are welcome!"

After that, the diet therapist intended to leave.

Drake was still suspicious. He thought the diet therapist should at least have a look at the Sophia's results.

He walked over and said, "Doctor, although my mother brought you here, Sophia's health matters a lot. I allow no mistakes. You don't even check her results..."

Before he finished speaking, the diet therapist said with a smile. "Mr. Riley, I know what you mean. I have encountered this kind of thing a lot. The medical device can be used to diagnose the disease, but it can't confirm its origin.
