

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 283

Sophia felt the same about this.

"Reckon that it's not his own idea. Perhaps, Olivia deliberately told him to get closer to me. When it's time for me to choose, I will be stuck in a quagmire. Once I choose to be your enemy, we may hold a grudge against each other, and we will gradually be apart."

Drake tossed a glance at her. He knew she was smart, but her savvy was still beyond his expectation.

"You're right. It's possible. Since that is so, you should know that once you refuse them, they will find ways against you!" warned Drake.

Sophia curled up her lips, "Yes, they will. But I'm not afraid because I have you."

"I think you will be on their side!"

Sophia raised her eyebrows and said, "Are you serious?"

Drake hurried to beg for mercy.

Sophia snorted. This man still played a joke on her at such a time.

Now that they had known about what each other thought in mind, they had nothing to worry about.

Then Drake, with Sophia, drove to the garage and got off.

Emma saw them come back with a smile on her face.

While Sophia was changing her clothes in her room, Emma quickly drew Drake to her and asked, "You two spent a lot of time in the car. What happened?"

"Nothing, mom. We just talked about some work stuff," said Drake.

Emma observed his expression carefully but found nothing weird, and finally, she felt hugely relieved.

"Get along well with Sophia, don't hurt her, will you?"
