

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 300

"It's okay, Sophia. Don't worry. I will talk to the CEO when I see him!"

Chloe was speechless and kindly reminded Rodney, "You are not allowed to call Sophia her first name! You should call her Ms. Lawson!"

"Ms. Lawson? She's just the director of the personnel department..." Suddenly, Rodney realized something—Sophia was in the host's seat.

Everyone couldn't help laughing. What an idiot!

"You... You are the CEO?"

Sophia didn't want to talk to him, "Security, throw him out!"

The security guards were all well-trained and came in. They grabbed Rodney by the arms and started to drag him out.

"Sophia, how can you do this to me? Sophia!"

Of course, Hank understood why Sophia did so. She was clearly giving him and Spencer a warning that if they placed their man in this company, this would happen again.

"Well, let's continue the meeting!"

Since all the executives were here, of course, she would take this opportunity to announce something.

"As you can see, I fired Rodney Levy based on the company regulations. I hope you all will learn from this and know what you can and cannot do. I don't want such things to happen again and nepotism is forbidden here. If I found any of you offered jobs to your relatives or friends, you or the guys you hired would be fired."

Hank knew that she was warning him and Spencer.

If their men got fired, new employees would be hired and fully obey Sophia.

If Sophia insisted on such personnel changes, there was nothing they could do to stop it.

However, there would always be a way out.
