

Revenge On My First Love Chapter 80

Harris paid no attention to this and said with a smile, "Well, our ribbon-cutting ceremony has begun."

They each had clippers in their hands and began cutting the ribbon.

After it was over, Sophia was ready to leave when Harris shouted, "Ms. Lawson, there are still pictures to be taken!"

You want to take pictures?

That's right, isn't that usually the case?

Just standing by Drake's side

Well!

There was a little distance between Sophia and Drake, and the photographer directed, "Ms. Lawson, Mr. Riley, you lean in closer."

Sophia got a little bit of a leg up on the test.

"Lean in a little more!"

Sophia came a little closer.

The photographer is really helpless, every time just a little bit, it is simply smaller than a millimeter, is nano?

"Ms. Lawson"

As soon as the photographer spoke, Drake reached out and took Sophia by the shoulders: "Okay, let's do this!"

Sophia was just about to struggle when she heard Drake whisper in her ear, "If you don't want everyone to focus on us, you can keep squirming!"

Sophia doesn't dare to move.

The worst thing is that the man actually blew a hot breath in her ear, and her cheeks instantly flushed.

A photo was quickly taken and Sophia was ready to go down quickly, but she didn't stand still and almost fell down.

"Sophia!" Chloe shouted from over there.

In the next second, Drake picked the person up first.

Everyone also looked at the scene and Harris smiled, "Nice, heroic rescue!"
