

Right Person 501

Chapter 501 Get to the Bottom of the Truth

Nevertheless, Hayden remained unaware of his mother's sadness with an innocent look on his face. In the meantime, Colton, who was standing aside, had nothing to say while staring at the boy in bed.

A few moments later, Nicole finally stopped crying and pulled herself together, turning her attention to Colton before she tearfully said, "Colton, could you please bring the chowder over here? Hayden is probably hungry now."

Colton nodded and walked out the door as Nicole helped Hayden sit up straight. Although Hayden was mentally ill, Nicole was grateful that he didn't behave like a loose cannon and only sat down quietly.

As she fixed her gaze on the child, Nicole failed to fight back her tears, which gushed out of her eyes. Nevertheless, she quickly sniffled and suppressed the sadness within her, forcing a brittle smile the next minute to hide her emotions.

"Hayden, no matter what you become, you'll always be my boy. I'll make sure you get cured, and even if you don't, I'll keep you fed for the rest of your life." Nicole expressed her feelings while resting her forehead on her son's.

he was still in good physical health. When she fed her son with his meal, he seemed to behave obediently even though his feeding the boy, Julia, who was accompanied by Richard, happened flustered ears, which indicated that she might have but when she saw his soulless eyes, she was stunned. It wasn't until a few moments later that she shifted her gaze to Nicole smiled bitterly with a nod, Julia's mind went black for a while until something came to her remember, Code:Z is being kept in the research center; perhaps I should go back and look sympathetic look, she was overwhelmed by her pity right away. Furthermore, she was

arm. "Thank you so much, illness had reached the ears of the now seemingly become unsound due to his impaired ability to properly speak. He could only utter a few incoherent words, not to mention