

Right Person 502

Chapter 502 Play Dumb

“Understood,” replied Colton, nodding in response. When Anna saw Hayden, she sympathetically limped closer to the boy, her eyes filled with pity as her hand gently caressed the child’s head. “Can you hear me, Hayden? It’s me, Grandma.” Anna called out to Hayden in a soft voice, but her grandson couldn’t seem to hear her at all.

Instead, the boy only giggled in a silly manner seconds before he slowly began to drool. However, Anna wasn’t disgusted by that at all as she grabbed the napkin beside her and wiped Hayden’s mouth.

At the same time, she closed her eyes, her face written with exhaustion. “I’m going to get to the bottom of the truth myself and find out who did this to my grandson! No one can stop me from finding the wicked culprit!” Anna showed her determination angrily as Colton watched with his head down in silence.

After finishing her words, Anna turned around and walked out the door right away.

In the meantime, Nicole proceeded to feed Hayden with his meal and took him back upstairs. Although Hayden was mentally ill, he didn’t appear to be hyperactive as expected from those who were mentally impaired.

care of Hayden just like how she did when he was first born. Because of that, she was so sound self when he saw Nicole asleep. As he squinted, at the door and had his eyes glued onto the boy. When Hayden turned upward and slowly walked closer to the bed to comfort Nicole before he wrapped his arms around Hayden and carried him.

are you pretending to act like a fool?” In fact, Colton had long seen through Hayden’s pretense, but since he had no idea seen through him. At the same time, the man looked at the boy in a surprised manner due my boy! That’s the kind of spirit you should have even though you’re still a kid! Colton complimented Hayden on the inside while looking at the

is trying to harm me,” Hayden replied, his eyes looking and fixed his gaze upon the boy, asking, “Who is trying to harm hesitated for a while before he