Chapter 503 Don't Worry About Him

"You don't say! I'm trying to play dumb while waiting for her to make a mistake so that I can catch her red-handed," Hayden answered.

Upon hearing the kid's reply, Colton was surprised by Hayden's wits, wondering why he had failed to notice his son's intelligence all this while. However, he quickly shifted the focus of their topic as he stared at the boy and asked, "What about your mother? Do you know how disappointed and heartbroken she is to see you become so mentally ill?"

Hayden kept his head down in a guilty and sympathetic manner when he was reminded of Nicole. At the thought of his mother's tearful look, he couldn't help but feel a stab of pain in his chest.

However, he knew he had no choice but to play dumb, or his enemy would immediately come after him. "I'm sure Queenie is behind his, and the only way to catch her red-handed is for me to be patient while playing dumb," Hayden said confidently.

Colton sighed upon hearing his son's words as he begrudgingly acknowledged Hayden's quick wits despite his young age. "In that case, do what you think is right, but mark my words, boy—don't disappoint your mother."

as Colton heard Hayden's words, his mood was lifted because he was happy to hear how his son referred to him as his father. At that moment, he finally understood why Hayden was so well liked by his mother and sister,
