Chapter 145

In the past few days, in addition to Junlin group, her husband also gave her a shock. She didn't know why, but it seemed that her husband suddenly changed and gave her a new surprise every day.

For example, from the first-class cooking skills, art, music, and later, when she needed to work overtime at home every night, the various work plans, project reports and project proposals.

Whenever she was confused and didn't know what to do, Joseph would come to her side and took a glimpse on her work. Then he would always enlighten her by telling her the rough direction. Moreover, often, Joseph could produce better quality work than her.

Moreover, when she struggled to find information about the Outer Region because she couldn't understand the language of the Outer Region, her husband, Joseph, could actually read it skillfully and even explain to her. The language of the Outer Region did not only contain English, but also some languages of various countries. But Joseph could do it, and he was very proficient in reading and explaining to her.

In addition to this ability, Joseph's driving skills were also top-notch. It was the night of the previous weekend. Leng Yijun insisted on taking her for car racing in Usmait City. Well, in the end, the moment her husband made a move, he immediately impressed the crowd with ease. His driving skills were unparalleled. There were also some professional racing drivers in the field that night, but even those professional racing drivers regarded her husband as the God of Car in Usmait City.

She was afraid that she would never forget the scene when she sat in the passenger seat and watched Joseph drive that night. The continuous drifts, the sound of the roaring engine, and the sparks caused by the friction of tires made her blood boil.

Besides, the car jumped and they immediately became the focus of the event.

In terms of fashion, Paige usually pick her own clothes before going out. But when she went out with Joseph for the past few days, she almost didn't need to pick the clothes for herself. He only needed to casually match the clothes for her, and she would easily transform into a different style, such as the style of a neighborhood girl, the style of a President and so on. It was easy for Joseph to design them, and he would teach her what kind of clothes she wore, how to do it, and what kind of temperament she could show.

In addition, her husband could actually do makeup, and his makeup skills were much better than hers, so he could often make her look super beautiful. Therefore, when Joseph helped her make up, Paige once thought that Joseph was a woman.

Well, in addition to various skills, he was also very proficient in all kinds of aspects. In short, he had given her another round of shock too. Over the past ten days, during the day, she was always shocked by everything in the Junlin Group. When she returned home, her husband was the one that gave her the shock.

After a period of time, Paige suddenly realized that she seemed to know very little about Joseph. She finally understood that her husband was definitely not a God of War who could only lead troops outside the border. On the contrary, he knew a lot of things. Almost all the things that he could do were top-notch. Paige finally believed that if he did not join the army, he could also live a good life in the city because he had too many skills.

But because her husband was getting better and better, well, in fact, Joseph was already very excellent, it was just that she did not realize it before. Therefore, when she found that her husband was getting better and better, she became increasingly anxious. Because he was also very handsome, his appearance and figure were top-notch. In addition to that, he was extremely excellent in all aspects with an unique temperament.

Therefore, in the past few days, when she was out with Joseph, there were always beautiful women on the road who wanted to talk to Joseph, which made her very angry. Although she knew that her husband would not fall in love with other women, she was also jealous.

It was in the blink of an eye that ten days had passed, and it was another Thursday night. There were only three days left before the press conference of the legendary founder of Junlin Group. Three days later, on the following Monday, the Junlin Group would hold the biggest press conference they had ever had for the last five years. At that time, all walks of life in Usmaït City and even the elites of the business circle of the entire Frogua would rush over to participate.

From tomorrow on, the Junlin Group would also stop all its business and work hard to prepare for the press conference. Because the press conference would require some huge personnel adjustments, and it would also announce the planning of the company for the following ten years.

So the business would be suspended for three days, Paige could finally take a breathe. After returning home and eating the meal made by Joseph, she went to take a shower. She put on a pair of black lace pajamas and lay on the bed, lying in the arms of Joseph. In order for her to rest better, she was made to exercise hard for a round on the bed. So she had no choice but to take another shower.

When she returned to her bed, she changed into a new set of white, lace-rimmed pajamas. Her long, white legs were exposed. Her skin had turned even fairer after he got her some new cosmetics a few days back. Joseph could not help but press down on her again, wanting to do it again. However, he was pushed away by her pleading for mercy.

“Don’t, I really can’t do it anymore. I still have to go to work tomorrow.”

Joseph said with a smile, “Are you still working tomorrow? Aren’t you there for a simple decoration of the venue as well as a rehearsal only?”

Paige nodded and said, “Yes, that’s right. The Junlin Group’s press conference will be held next Monday, so although we don’t have to work for the next three days, we won’t be idle. Moreover, this is the biggest press conference held by Junlin Group in the past five years, and it will be broadcasted to the entire world. Of course, we have to be well prepared.”

Looking at the longing look in her elegant eyes, Joseph couldn’t help but say, “Haha, it seems that you really like Junlin Group. How does it feel to work in Junlin Group? How does it feel to compared to working in the Usmaït Group?”

Hearing that, Paige immediately sat up excitedly and said to Joseph, "Honey, let me tell you, these two companies are incomparable at all. Junlin Group is too strong. It's a real world-class company. It's completely different from those in Smiyacia and Fofluidor, which has been in business for a hundred years. It's really amazing."

"Oh? Really? Haha, okay then, I'm glad that you like it." Joseph said with a smile.

Paige nodded and continued to ask Joseph, "Well, by the way, honey, will you go to the press conference of our group next Monday? I heard that the God of War of the Usmaim military, Wang Tianhai, will be there too. The Chief of the Police Department and the Municipal Administration Department will be there too. You are the commander of the Divine King Department, will you be there?"

Joseph scratched his elegant little nose and said, "Of course I will. Or do you think that your group would dare not invite me to the conference?"

Paige became even more excited. She nodded her small head and said, "Yes, Honey, I'm looking forward to it. Especially the scene of you chatting with that legendary founder of Junlin Group? Both of you are the best and most outstanding men. Hubby, do you think you'll become friends with that person?"

"Er..." Joseph was stunned.

How could he answer his wife's question? How could he become friends with himself? How could he chat with himself? He couldn't do that. So Joseph smiled awkwardly and said, "Well, I don't think so."

"Ah? Why? You don't have any friends around you, so I want you to make more friends. Oh, by the way, you are the Seventh Commander of the Frogua's military. Have you not seen the founder of Junlin Group with your authority?" Paige asked Joseph in confusion, because she felt that it should not be difficult for her husband to meet someone.

Joseph touched his nose and said, "Did I meet Fernando Dawson? No, I'm not interested in him. What's wrong?"

At this time, she felt that Joseph seemed to be a little angry. After all, she was another man in front of her husband. So she smiled and changed the topic.

"Well, if you don't want to see him, then don't see him. Anyway, you are the best."

Joseph smiled and said, "Well, what do you think of me then? In comparison with the founder of your company, who do you think is more outstanding?"

"Of course, it's you, my husband..." Paige made an eye roll while answering him.

"Hahaha, you don't even know how to lie."

Joseph caressed his silly wife's cute head dotingly. He's looking forward to her reaction on the press conference, when she realized that he was the President of the Junlin Group. It must be fun, right?

"Well, on the first day of next week, your husband will give you this little girl another chance to show off my domineering position as the President! I will let you know that even if your husband doesn't go to the military, he can take care of your strength for the rest of your life!" Joseph smiled, thinking that it was the right time for him to do so.

These days, Paige had grown up a lot. As she grew up, her acceptance ability became stronger, so it was time for him to expose himself more.
