Chapter 1141: A Group of Tourists. Ordering Her Around

Country A was an underdeveloped country with an incomplete judicial system.

If crimes like abducting women, stealing, and murders were to happen in Country Z, the police would have been investigating them and capturing the criminals to put them behind bars! Hence, Country Z citizens were unable to empathize with Country A's backward living environment be it in 1999 or now.

There were even foreigners who came to Country A and died but no one reported the deaths to the police. It was just how Country A was as a nation.

Right now, Yun Jian understood what Elisha said as she stood at the counter. She nodded in silence.

"Mn, thank you." Yun Jian had to express her thanks since Elisha was giving her a kind reminder.

Not only was Elisha a beautiful young woman, she had a kind heart. She nodded back at Yun Jian with a smile.

Yun Jian then asked her a few more things in Country A's language which the latter answered them all. Her parents had gone to the marketplace. As they chatted, Yun Jian listened to Elisha as she mentioned some of their family matters.

Elisha's parents were farmers. They had brought what they had to sell in the market today to earn some income. As for Elisha, she stayed home to watch over the inn.

As both of them got to this part, impatient noises came from the door.

"Ugh, gosh! It's all your fault! It's a summer vacation and you guys have to spend it here in this stupid place! We almost died in the desert walking there for so long and finally there's an inn!"

"Xiaochu, this isn't my fault. They insisted to come to Country A saying they want to look for treasure here. I think it's all bullsh*t, there's nothing here!"

What attracted Yun Jian's attention was that the noises were conversing in Chinese.

Country Z locals? Yun Jian squinted. She did not expect to run into her fellow countrymen in a place like Country A.

It was then five youths who looked like university students in their early twenties came in through the door. There were two young women and three young men. The pair, a guy and a girl, who walked in front were no doubt the two people who had spoken just now.

Suddenly seeing Yun Jian's facial features that looked like they could come from the same home country, the girl who walked at the back could not help being delighted as she came over and asked Yun Jian in a composed but also excited tone, "Are you from Country Z?"

When she saw that Yun Jian did not respond after a pause, the girl pointed at herself and introduced, "I'm Ning Xia. That girl's my friend, Lin Xiaochu, and..."

Ning Xia pointed at the people behind her and introduced them one by one before looking at Yun Jian in anticipation and brimming delight of meeting a countryman abroad.

Bumping into a countryman overseas, especially where one's own countrymen were rare, was a happy occasion.

"Yun Jian," Yun Jian replied simply stating her name in Chinese. She received Ning Xia's smile in return.

As for Lin Xiaochu, she did not even spare Yun Jian a glance as she moved to stand before Elisha. She even glared at Yun Jian when she passed her. It was until she stood before Elisha that she was struck with the sudden realization that she and her friends did not know how to speak Country A's language.

Lin Xiaochu then abruptly recalled that Yun Jian had been conversing smoothly with Elisha in Country A's language when they came in just now.

"Hey! You, yeah, you! You can speak Country A's language, right? Interpret for us, tell the Country A woman that we want to stay here!" Lin Xiaochu ordered Yun Jian in a not-too-friendly tone.

Chapter 1142: Loony Xiaochu Feels Proud Out of the Blue

"Xiaochu, how can you behave like this?" Ning Xia felt embarrassed hearing Lin Xiaochu's tone. She then turned to Yun Jian and spoke up apologetically, "I'm sorry, Yun Jian. Xiaochu's always been like this. Don't mind her."

"Who's minding who? Ning Xia, whose friend are you? Whose side are you on, huh!" Lin Xiaochu shrieked angrily when she heard what Ning Xia said.

Yun Jian narrowed her eyes. She had a decent impression of Ning Xia but this girl named Lin Xiaochu... She did not even want to be bothered with her the moment she saw her.

"I..." Although Lin Xiaochu was Ning Xia's friend, she had put her in a dilemma.

It was during then a girl spoke up in Chinese that did not sound quite accurate, "S-stop arguing. I can understand a little bit of Chinese."

Yun Jian turned back slightly to see Elisha who donned a cloak and had covered her face from the bridge of her nose with it, leaving only two inky eyes, spoke up.

Elisha could understand and speak Chinese? Yun Jian was not too surprised by it but Ning Xia, Lin Xiaochu and their companions were.

Lin Xiaochu, especially, glanced at Elisha in surprise before shouting at her after she recovered from the shock, "You can speak Chinese?"

"My... grandmother is from Country Z, so I know a l-little bit of Chinese," Elisha answered slowly in an unfamiliar tone.

“Why didn’t you speak up earlier when you can speak Chinese? You’re doing it on purpose!” Lin Xiaochu cried.

“On purpose? What does it mean? I can only speak a little bit.” Elisha could only speak a little Chinese, so she could not completely understand what Lin Xiaochu said.

“Hi, we’d like to stay here.” Just when Lin Xiaochu was going to keep lashing out, a guy who was tall with above average looks stepped out to dissolve the awkwardness.

“Sure.” Understanding what he said, Elisha proceeded with the procedure for Ning Xia and her group to check in.

Yun Jian could clearly see Lin Xiaochu reeling in her insolent attitude once the guy who stepped up to resolve the tension spoke. She had even looked up at the guy wearing a shy girly expression.

After the guy took care of the check-in procedure, he went to Yun Jian to introduce himself and asked, “Hi, I’m Hu Qirui. I apologize on behalf of my junior who was rude to you just now. I’d also like to ask if you’re alone? Are you planning to go to the catacomb like us too?”

There was only one catacomb within eight miles in radius here. Foreigners who came usually had the catacomb as their destination.

“I’m not alone,” Yun Jian answered only the first question.

Lan Su and Ya Dang were taking a rest upstairs, causing Hu Qirui to assume that Yun Jian was on her own.

“Senior Rui, this girl obviously can’t be bothered with us. Why do you care?”

Lin Xiaochu glared at Yun Jian who spoke to Hu Qirui but since she was speaking to the guy, her voice was sweet with an intentional cutesy squeak.

Hu Qirui opened his mouth but said nothing ultimately.

Elisha then told Ning Xia, Lin Xiaochu and their friends what she had told Yun Jian earlier, regarding the lack of safety in Hasa Village. Upon listening to Elisha, Lin Xiaochu felt proud out of the blue as she looked at Yun Jian and bragged, “The five of us aren’t scared. We’re in our university’s Taekwondo club!”

Lin Xiaochu took a pause before boasting even more proudly, “Oh, right, Senior Rui is a third Dan Taekwondo black belt expert! With him here, the person won’t be his rival even if someone really dares come!”

Chapter 1143: A Night Ambush and Her Dexterity

As Lin Xiaochu spoke, she purposely turned to glance at Yun Jian, looking exactly like she was saying, “We know Taekwondo. What about you? You know nothing! Hope you meet the bandit and cry for help!”

“Xiaochu, don’t say that. What I know now is barely adequate for campus. It’s still useless when it comes to being in the outside world.” Hu Qirui had a good sense of self-awareness and was able to see where he stood.

However, Lin Xiaochu retorted right after he spoke, “Senior Rui, you’re just being humble!”

The girl had spoken with her gaze on Yun Jian, her eyes oozing with a strong hint of provocation. After a two-second silence, she continued to scoff, “Humph, don’t come begging Senior Rui or us to save you if anything happens later!”

Yun Jian threw Lin Xiaochu a fleeting glimpse before turning to head upstairs. She usually ignored people like this.

“Pft, please, what’s she being so cocky about?” Lin Xiaochu began to gripe when she saw it.

Just as she said that, however, Hu Qirui chided, “Xiaochu, don’t be rude!”

Lin Xiaochu listened well to Hu Qirui since she felt differently for him.

The group gradually fell into silence.

Yun Jian had already gone up to the second floor during then. While the inn was quite tattered, it had plenty of rooms. Yun Jian shared a room with Lan Su while Ya Dang had a room to himself.

Not too long after Yun Jian went back to his room, Hu Qirui and his friends carried their luggage upstairs noisily, staying not too far away from Yun Jian’s room.

The night descended upon them soon. There was no fluorescent light in the inn and candles were usually used for illumination.

Right now, Yun Jian was lying on the bed and gazing at the stars and moon in the sky through the broken window that could not even block the chilly wind from the outside. There was no connection in Country A, so cellphones were unable to make calls.

“Yun Jian, you haven’t slept?” Lan Su turned and went closer to Yun Jian to ask.

“Mn,” Yun Jian replied with a soft hum and stayed silent.

When Lan Su thought that Yun Jian would not be speaking more, the latter said faintly, “I’m going to sleep now.”

She was about to shut her pretty eyes after speaking when she suddenly seemed to have heard something. Her long eyelashes fluttered open before they could close.

“Yun Jian, there’s a noise.” Lan Su opened her eyes as well.

Sleep slipped away from both of them instantly.

“Mn.” Yun Jian nodded first before telling Lan Su softly, “Sleep.”

What she meant by the word was naturally for them to fake sleeping. After spending so much time with Yun Jian, Lan Su understood it right away.

Both Yun Jian and Lan Su closed their eyes.

In the dark, the shaky door without a lock was opened and someone sneaked in making as little noise as possible. A while later, Yun Jian could feel the silhouette watching her and gulping hungrily.

From the moonlight, it could be seen that the shadow was stretching a hand toward Yun Jian. Three seconds before the hand could touch Yun Jian's cheek, her leg that had been laying limp on the bed raised up and turned 90 degrees to kick the shadow who wanted to furtively touch her face.

"Argh!" The person cried in pain and was flung several meters away by the kick.

The person was not expecting the girl to wake up or the level of her dexterity!

Chapter 1144: Thank You for Your Gift

The moment Yun Jian kicked the man, Lan Su rolled over on the bed and stood up to light the candles in the room swiftly. Ya Dang ran over from next door as well.

He came hearing the noise. When he saw the molester who was curled up in choked breaths due to Yun Jian's kick, he dashed over to seize the person. He then punched the guy's head and knocked him out directly.

"It's really not safe here," Yun Jian commented faintly crossing her arms in front of herself. At the same time, she smirked and said, "He has accomplices. Come on, let's go watch the drama."

Just a bunch of molesters and bandits and they wanted to take her on?

When Yun Jian used to be the secret agent Slashing God, elite assassins and people on the international chart had been after her thousands and hundreds of times, so she would not usually fall into a deep sleep at night.

As Yun Jian spoke, she had gotten to the worn down room door, turning slightly to tell Ya Dang, "Drag the guy out."

What happened in Yun Jian and Lan Su's bedroom similarly happened in Ning Xia and Lin Xiaochu's bedroom, Hu Qirui's room that he shared with two other guys, as well as the inn owners and Elisha's rooms.

It was not an individual bandit who robbed the house. It was a group of them.

Lin Xiaochu was currently captured to the door by a man who wore a cloak that covered his face and body.

"Mmph—mmh!" With her fair legs flailing, Lin Xiaochu was being grabbed out of her room by the outlaw.

Hu Qirui and others had come to the staircase by then, just in time to see her being abducted.

"Xiaochu!" Hu Qirui and the two other guys shouted.

Ning Xia was lucky. She did not sleep naked like Lin Xiaochu had, so the man chose to grab the latter instead of her.

“Ah! Let go of me! Let me go!” Another bandit rushed out of the room carrying Elisha.

Elisha’s parents chased after them with all their might, yelling, “Don’t! Please! Let go of my daughter... Please...”

Both of them caught up but were kicked away by the group of bandits.

It was obvious that the outlaws had planned this. They abducted Lin Xiaochu and Elisha but left a few of their men to stop Elisha’s parents and Hu Qirui and his two friends who rushed after them.

“D*mn it!” Hu Qirui and his two friends got into a fight with the bandits right away. Shortly, three of them were soaked in sweat and were on the losing end.

The trio were about to lose to the bandits who came prepared, entangled in the battle by them. One of the outlaws darted over to grab Ning Xia and was about to abduct her as well when everyone heard a clean swoosh of a knife traveling through the air.

In a blink of eyes, a butterfly knife impaled the temple of the bandit who was going to abduct Ning Xia and died on the spot with his eyes opened.

The frightening turn of event shocked everyone there. Even the handful of bandits who were left to keep the others at bay paused in horror at the sight.

Thud!

Before everyone could recover, they heard the sound of something heavy landing. They then saw Ya Dang throw the molester who wanted to assault Yun Jian earlier to the floor at the staircase of the second floor.

Unlike the frantic and panicking crowd around her, Yun Jian had both arms crossed in front of her chest as she looked down at the group who was watching her in terror with a smile like she was an outsider to the situation.

“There, thank you for your gift. I’m giving it back to you guys now,” Yun Jian told the bandits and kicked the molester who passed out, mercilessly kicking him down to the first floor through the railed hallway of the second floor.

Blood splattered from the guy immediately!

There was no one present who was not terrified into speechlessness then.

Chapter 1145: Women, Step Out. A Massacre

It had only been an instant but Yun Jian had committed murder—she killed two people!

Everyone there was shell-shocked and dropped their jaws at Yun Jian’s ruthless action. After all, she was only a teenage girl!

When Hu Qirui and his friends were checking in to the inn today and Lin Xiaochu boasted about Hu Qirui and their capability to Yun Jian, she had not dared retort! At least, to Hu Qirui and his friends, they assumed that Yun Jian did not dare fight back at that time.

It was until Yun Jian killed two people within a few seconds just now. Everyone who was present was intimidated by her brutality.

There was no fear in her. This was nothing like how a teenage girl should behave! With the excellent knife-throwing that killed the man, she was a devil! She was akin to the grim reaper from hell!

“You—you...” one of the bandits could not help crying out on the spot.

It was apparent that these outlaws had targeted Yun Jian and Hu Qirui’s group for a long time. They were even abducting Elisha, the daughter of the inn owners, today. Elisha was pretty, after all, and fitted men’s ideal.

Based on the initial plan today, the bandits had even strategized on who would be the easiest and the hardest to tackle. The conclusion that they came to was that Yun Jian was their easiest target because she was the youngest. Moreover, she did not have the mature look—delicate, at most. Without a doubt, though, she stood out in terms of beauty among the women.

Although she did not have the sexy, alluring charm that men liked, her perfectly delicate face and slender figure with curves at the right places made her the girl these outlaws were fighting to have. Furthermore, she seemed to be the easiest catch based on preliminary observation.

What these bandits had never expected was that Yun Jian who looked like she was the easiest target turned out to actually be a murdering maniac!

She had killed two people within seconds!

Hu Qirui and his group were thoroughly dumbfounded.

As for now, the bandit who was obviously the leader and had witnessed Yun Jian’s flying knife just now pulled a pistol out from his belt instantly.

“Ah! A gun!” The inn owners paled once they saw the bandit head pull out a pistol.

Pistols were prohibited in Country A, so this pistol was clearly brought in illegally, not that the government cared. It was thus understandable that this bandit head owned a gun.

Nevertheless, Hu Qirui and group were only university students. They were just ordinary students prior to this. How could they have possibly seen a real gun? They froze in fright upon seeing the bandit head flash his pistol.

“Women, step out! Otherwise, I’ll kill everyone here!” Assuming that he had managed to intimidate everyone in the inn, including Yun Jian, the bandit threatened rather arrogantly.

He spoke in Country A’s language once and actually repeated it in Chinese. It seemed that he knew how to speak Chinese as well.

Yun Jian squinted. She was still standing a distance away with her arms crossed as she told the outlaws in Chinese, which Hu Qirui and friends could understand, "Same to you. Not one of you think about leaving here alive today."

It had been a long time since Yun Jian could kill in such a carefree manner. Country Z was governed by law but no one would know even when she killed someone in a nation like Country A.

After she spoke, she took the stairs down, one easy step after another.

The bandit who held the pistol was shocked by Yun Jian's composed presence. Just when he thought about moving, he saw Yun Jian make a move!

Then, everyone in the inn witnessed a terrifying scene that they would not be able to forget their entire life...

Chapter 1146: Her Speed. Weak, She Comments

Yun Jian slowly walked downstairs with a small smile. From her expression, purely, she looked just like an innocent teenage girl.

The outlaws downstairs could not help being stunned by Yun Jian's seemingly innocent face but they thought, 'Is this pretty little girl really the murderous demon just now?'

She did just kicked the unconscious molester down from the second floor mercilessly! For a sleeping person to be kicked down from a higher place, he might survive one story's height if he were conscious but that molester would surely die from what Yun Jian did.

That was what everyone thought when Yun Jian came to the middle of the staircase. Suddenly, her expression changed and she withdrew the smile she had been wearing.

The next second, all of them saw a scene so horrifying they would not be able to forget their whole life.

As Yun Jian stood in the middle of the staircase and had yet to come downstairs, she chambered her legs and sprang up—jumping over ten meters high!

The height she jumped in addition to the height of the staircase allowed her to land in front of the outlaws. Before Yun Jian could land, the bandit holding the gun reacted; he raised the pistol and pulled the trigger, wanting to shoot Yun Jian who was hopping down from the air.

"Watch out!" Everyone felt anxious for Yun Jian while Ning Xia cried out nervously.

Ning Xia had a good impression of Yun Jian. If it were not for Lin Xiaochu, Ning Xia might have already been friends with Yun Jian now.

Hu Qirui felt his heart clench in trepidation as well but he caught Ya Dang and Lan Su who were together with her out of the corner of his eye. Why did the two of them not look worried at all? Were they not worried for their friend? That bandit had a pistol! Yun Jian would not be able to fight him even if she had wings, would she?

While he thought about that, Yun Jian was already closing in the distance to the bandit. The man was scared. Once he recalled how Yun Jian had killed his partners without batting an eye, he felt his heart quiver.

“Die! Young lady, you forced me to do this!” the bandit growled before he made a move and pulled the trigger.

The second before the bandit pressed down on the trigger, Yun Jian had leaped and landed before him. She extended her long leg and kicked the bandit’s wrist with the gun swiftly.

There was nothing surprising about the kick but what terrified everyone was Yun Jian’s singular kick had bent the bandit’s wrist bone! They could even hear the loud crack of the bone of the man’s wrist from where they stood.

The wrist of the bandit holding the gun was bent. While he had been aiming at Yun Jian with the pistol in a straight arm, his grip on the gun remained solid despite Yun Jian kicking his wrist and that resulted in him aiming at himself instead when his wrist bent.

The gun was now aimed at the bandit’s heart due to Yun Jian’s kick. He had already pulled the trigger by then and it was too late to take it back.

A bang sounded and died down.

The bandit shot himself on the deadly spot and succumbed to it immediately. Before he passed, he exclaimed in terror, “This... is impossible...”

How could a young girl exist in this world who could break his wrist and make him kill himself in such a fast speed? She was even faster than his pistol!

The bandit fell to the floor right after he said his last words. Before he dropped down dead, Yun Jian caught the pistol that fell from his loosened grip and scoffed, “Weak.”

Hu Qirui and others who saw the scene from afar nearly died from the terror.

Chapter 1147: She’s Abducted, Save Her!

When the bandits saw Yun Jian kill their accomplice who held the gun, they stepped back like they were planning to back down. The two outlaws who had caught Lin Xiaochu and Elisha had already left with the few bandits who were waiting at the door first when they heard the situation go awry.

After abducting Lin Xiaochu and Elisha, the few bandits had planned to leave together with their partners in the house only when the latter had gotten what they wanted. It was when three of their accomplices had died that they decided to retreat knowing things had gone wrong.

As for Lin Xiaochu and Elisha, their mouths were covered by the bandits who captured them, so they were unable to even make a hum when they witnessed the frightening scene earlier.

Lin Xiaochu, especially, had almost thrown up from her mouth being covered by a bandit with hairy arms. She had also seen Yun Jian’s shocking moves just now. The girl was savage!

Lin Xiaochu had always been proud of the fact that she, Hu Qirui and their group were members of their university's Taekwondo club. She was unafraid of being robbed in this trip at all firstly because they knew Taekwondo and Lin Xiaochu thought that she was pretty capable while Hu Qirui was already a third Dan black belt! Secondly, she purely felt that there would not be any outlaw despite how unlawful and perilous the place was.

In spite of it, not only had she miscalculated, she had even assumed Yun Jian to be a young girl who knew nothing. What Yun Jian had just shown, though, shocked her. How Yun Jian had killed someone looked like she was just doing something ordinary.

Was... was this a skillset a teenage girl should have?

While Lin Xiaochu was shocked, the others who were in the house dropped their jaws, especially Hu Qirui and his group. He had thought that Yun Jian would avoid the bullet or grab the bandit's pistol. It did not cross anyone's mind that she would break and bend the bandit's wrist with just one kick and make him shoot himself!

"Xiaochu! Let Xiaochu go!"

By the time they snapped back to reality, the outlaws had begun to retreat outside. Those who had Lin Xiaochu and Elisha had already gone into a van that was simultaneously starting its engine.

The rest of the bandits who were left to cover for their partners were speedily moving to the door to retreat as well once they saw what Yun Jian did just now. They did not want to die! This little girl was a nightmare! She was not human!

The next second, however, they heard Yun Jian's voice ringing from behind them like it came from hell, "I said that not one of you think about leaving here alive."

Following Yun Jian's voice was a series of gunshots.

Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

There were five remaining bandits in the house and Yun Jian had killed all five of them within seconds using the pistol she had snatched. There was not even time for the outlaws to react to it.

Yun Jian did not even look when she fired the five shots but each gunshot went right into the bandit's temple!

Perhaps it was due to Yun Jian's terrifying action that Hu Qirui and others who were in the inn were stupefied again. They were thoroughly astounded by Yun Jian's marksmanship.

It was at the same time that the van outside the inn sped off like it was flying.

Yun Jian casted her eyes down and turned around, the pistol glided off to the floor following her lax hold as she went upstairs, extending a hand to yawn.

"Ya Dang, clean up the place," Yun Jian said and headed upstairs, obviously not planning to care about what would happen next.

The shorter and ugliest guy among Hu Qirui and his friends panicked when he saw Yun Jian going upstairs.

“Xiaochu is abducted by those bandits. Hurry up and save her!”

Chapter 1148: Ridiculous. Not a Kind Soul

This guy who was shorter and the ugliest among the three guys spoke as he darted to the staircase to stop Yun Jian when he saw her going upstairs.

This was Duan Tianyou. He was this anxious upon seeing Lin Xiaochu being abducted because he liked her. Despite that, he ran over to stop Yun Jian because he knew that he was not adequately capable and had seen how skilled the latter was.

“Tianyou, this has nothing to do with her. She was already kind enough to help us tackle the outlaws in the inn just now. We’ll go save Xiaochu ourselves!”

Hu Qirui frowned. He had no idea how they were going to do that or where the bandits had taken Lin Xiaochu and Elisha to but he could see that Yun Jian was unwilling to get involved. After all, they were just passing travelers to Yun Jian; they merely came from the same home country as she did. There was no need for her to risk her safety for them. It was normal.

While Hu Qirui did not like Lin Xiaochu, it was impossible that he left after the latter was abducted with her whereabouts unknown since they came on this trip together. He was surely going to save the girl.

“Hu Qirui, have you lost your mind? Didn’t you see how intimidating those bandits were just now? They had a gun! Are we not on a suicide mission to go save her ourselves?”

Although Duan Tianyou liked Lin Xiaochu, he treasured his life more, so he growled at Hu Qirui. After that, he turned back to Yun Jian. “You killed so many of the bandits just now. Since you’re capable of it, why aren’t you going to rescue them?”

Duan Tianyou made it sound like it was a matter of course for Yun Jian to save his friend.

Yun Jian’s lips quirked upward when she heard Duan Tianyou’s righteous and entitling words. It was a mocking smirk that she wore.

She then flattened her lips and retorted, “I do have the ability to save her but why should I do it?”

This had nothing to do with her.

Yun Jian was not blindly nice. Even Elisha who was on a friendly talking term with her was abducted, she was not going to rescue her. She was not recklessly taking this risk when she would not be benefitting from the matter.

It was not that she was cruel. In her world—or perhaps as a secret agent, it was self-defense to stay out of trouble. Who would know if what happened today was a trap?

Yun Jian would never do something that would not benefit herself.

Rendered speechless by what Yun Jian said, Duan Tianyou was astounded. Yet because he was worried about Lin Xiao chu's safety, he was only frozen for a moment before he continued replying to Yun Jian shamelessly, "Because we're from Country Z! Your fellow countryman is in danger now and you're watching her die when you're capable of saving her! Why do people like you even exist in this world?"

Duan Tianyou argued anyway.

Yun Jian chuckled and retorted, copying what he said, "Why do shameless people like you exist in this world too?"

She paused and flicked her wrist, flashing the butterfly knife she had collected back from the dead bandit just now. She flicked the knife with ease and pointed the blade at Duan Tianyou, announcing arrogantly but deservedly so due to her ability, "Looks like you don't mind losing your life to my knife. I'd gladly do the job then."

Yun Jian was about to flick the knife and make the move when Duan Tianyou scrambled away to the side, shouting as if he was recalling how Yun Jian had killed those outlaws just now, "No, no—no! I'm wrong! I'm wrong! I won't ask you to save her! I won't ask you to save her!"

Chapter 1149: Asking Her to Help. I Agree

Taking a glimpse and seeing Duan Tianyou scurry to the side like a toadying dog upon seeing the butterfly knife in her hand, Yun Jian could not help scoffing coldly and planned to head upstairs.

Just as she was about to do that, she heard two kneeling thuds sounding from the floor of the first floor behind her. She casted her eyes down and squinted, turning to see the inn owners, who were Elisha's parents, getting on their knees before her.

The name of Elisha's father was Zatana and her mother was Aveir. Both of them were down to earth, lawful citizens of Country A.

Yun Jian raised a brow at the sight of them kneeling in front of her without a care for their image before she heard Elisha's father, Zatana, making a hard kowtow toward the middle of the stairs where Yun Jian was. He was heard speaking at the same time, in Country A's language that Hu Qirui and friends could not understand.

"Elisha is the only daughter to my wife and I. She's our life! Young lady, I know that you're capable but you don't want to get involved."

"My wife and I are old. We can't lose our daughter! I'd like to ask for your help to save her!"

"I know that this request is too much to ask for and I can see that you're used to that butterfly knife."

"If you agree to our request, I'll give you our family heirloom that's been passed down for generations! It's a dagger that's incredibly sharp. One who owns it can cut anything with it!"

"Its blade can cut through steel, easily chopping metal pieces into shreds like it was slicing tofu!"

"As long as you agree to save our daughter, I can modify it into a butterfly knife and give it to you!"

Zatana spoke sincerely and was unlike Duan Tianyou who sounded like he was ordering Yun Jian. Zatana had kneeled before Yun Jian and was exchanging his family heirloom for the favor.

Hearing what the man said, Yun Jian was tempted. As an assassin or a secret agent, there was no doubt that the idea of possessing a divine weapon was tempting.

In spite of it, Yun Jian had only heard of the knife that Zatana mentioned. The current technology standard could yet produce a knife so sharp but there had been someone who had dug up an incredibly sharp knife from the ancient ruins and it was said that the knife could cut steel as easy as slicing tofu.

Yun Jian did not expect Zatana to have it at home.

The reason Zatana did not bring up his family heirloom before this, at all, was because he was scared of the bandits coming to rob it. He could no longer help it now as Elisha was his only daughter. If he had to watch her get abducted and not know whether she would be sent back, he would rather give his family heirloom to this young girl.

Even before he made the decision, he had felt that the force of his family heirloom dagger matched this young lady with an intimidating presence!

“What’s the stupid Country A old man rambling on about? Did he think she’ll save the girl just because he got on his knees?”

“She didn’t even want to save Xiaochu when I asked her to. Would this old man be able to convince her? Pft, dream on!”

Duan Tianyou was unable to ask Yun Jian for help and could not understand Country A’s language but he could sense that what Zatana was telling Yun Jian while kneeling down was none other than asking her to save his daughter.

Hu Qirui and his other friends thought that Yun Jian would not agree either.

It was at that moment that they saw Yun Jian smiling and replying to Zatana in Chinese, “I agree.”

Chapter 1150: How? Looking for a Needle in a Haystack

Zatana actually knew a little bit of Chinese but it was not by chance that he spoke to Yun Jian in Country A’s language. It was because he did not want Hu Qirui, Duan Tianyou, Ning Xia and their friends to find out about his family heirloom.

In reality, Zatana was the smartest out of the present bunch. He knew how to catch Yun Jian’s attention and make a condition of exchange with what she would want.

As for Duan Tianyou, he was basically in the dumb*ss category for this matter. He was well aware of Lin Xiaochu’s attitude toward Yun Jian earlier and had still forced Yun Jian to save her in a threatening tone. No matter who it was, they would never say yes to Duan Tianyou and agree to save the girl.

Right now, Duan Tianyou who was confident that Yun Jian would not agree to this Country A local and save his daughter was hearing the girl say yes. He and his friends could not help being caught in surprise.

“Ya Dang, Lan Su, you both stay here. I’ll be back shortly,” Yun Jian spoke to Ya Dang and Lan Su who were standing on the second floor without looking at them.

“Sure!” Ya Dang answered on behalf of Lan Su and took her hand to go to their room.

Yun Jian had already turned to go back downstairs.

“Do you have a car?” Yun Jian asked Zatana after coming down to the first floor.

Duan Tianyou snapped back to reality after Yun Jian’s question. She had actually agreed to save this Country A old man’s daughter!

“What’s the meaning of this? You’re not saving your countryman but you agree to save this foreigner’s daughter?” Duan Tianyou questioned Yun Jian.

It caused Yun Jian to side-eye him and retort mercilessly, “He promised me one million Chinese yuan and will be serving me the rest of his life to repay the debt. Are you doing the same? If you become my servant, I’ll save your friend for you too.”

Yun Jian lied without batting an eye.

Zatana could understand a little Chinese and knew that Yun Jian must have said that realizing he did not want to expose the existence of his family heirloom, so he threw her a grateful look.

“You... you’re asking for too much! One million yuan? You could let that roll off your tongue? I think you’re money-crazed!” Duan Tianyou shouted at Yun Jian, blanching upon hearing what she said.

Yun Jian ignored him and went around him.

Zatana helped his wife up from the floor and quickly went after the girl to keep up with her.

“We’ll go have a look too,” Hu Qirui told the other guy and was going to run after Yun Jian when he paused abruptly. After a slight hesitation, he turned to Ning Xia who stood nearby—his gaze on her grew gentle as he told her, “Stay here and don’t go anywhere. We’ll be back soon.”

Knowing that she would only be a hassle if she went along, Ning Xia nodded.

Hu Qirui and the other guy then ran for the door. When Duan Tianyou saw that Hu Qirui went out ignoring him, he scoffed but followed them.

All of them, including Yun Jian, were at the door currently. Yun Jian ignored Duan Tianyou and his friends who came out with her as her purpose was only to save Elisha. Whatever happened to Lin Xiaochu was none of her business.

“What do we do? You killed those guys just now and the rest of them left with Xiaochu.. Who knows where they’ve gone to! How are we supposed to find them? It’s like looking for a needle in a haystack!” Duan Tianyou began to yap as he came out.
