Chapter 1191: The Unique Aura of Wizard Lord Wu

The elders of Wu Clan were pedantic. Basically, they were about as bad as the old people in Country Z on earth. They might even be worse than the older generation of Country Z in certain concepts.

Although Wizard Lord Wu was higher in status than the clan leader and was the most powerful presence in Wu Clan, there would always be people who thought that they could chide her from an elder's point of view.

In addition to Yun Jian looking younger, these Wu Clan elders felt like they were her teachers and should guide and teach her. Some pedants among them even thought that the young ones would understand what they said now in the future and would repay them with gratitude.

This was what the elder just now had thought. The elder who called Lan Su indecent just now had no last name. Wu Clan members called her Elder Kong and her name was a single word—Kong.

Elder Kong had berated Lan Su in that tone because she felt that she was doing it for the latter's sake. What she had forgotten was that she was assuming her ideology as the absolute correct truth and completely denied Lan Su's individual thoughts.

Elder Kong was even thinking that she could have not chided Lan Su like an elder but she was doing it all for the girl's own good. She had said what she did so that Lan Su would understand how nice and thoughtful she was being when Lan Su found out that what she said was right in the future.

What Elder Kong did not know was that this was exactly the type of person Yun Jian was the most put off by.

Elder Kong had stepped out to reprimand Lan Su with the intention to look good in front of Wizard Lord Wu. It was just that she had assumed Yun Jian would approve of her method, not knowing that the latter abhorred actions like this.

Therefore, Elder Kong turned around to nag Yun Jian instead after hearing what the latter said, "Wizard Lord Wu, you're the savior of Wu Clan and our clan's future!"

"But what I said is for Lan Su's sake. Wu Clan women should follow their duties. Losing one's chastity before marriage... If it were Wu Clan girls who were assaulted by Murong Clan, that could not be helped..."

"Lan Su, however, has broken the rules of Wu Clan herself. According to the clan rules, she should—"

"Shut up! Old hag, speak another word and I'll turn you into a dead woman the next second!" Yun Jian snapped and pulled out her butterfly knife with the Deicide Blade, brandishing it in front of Elder Kong.

"Hah, don't think that I won't kill you just because you're Wu Clan's elder. Don't forget that I don't even remember what Wu Clan is! It's not just you. I'll take out anyone in Wu Clan who dares defy me!"

Yun Jian was brazen—audacious. Her words and tone did nothing to conceal that.

She held the knife pointing it at Elder Kong.

That was right! No one could defy her and no one was qualified to reprimand her! No one had the right to run their mouth off in front of her.

This was the reverence of Wizard Lord Wu!

Perhaps they had spent the last hundreds and thousands of years too leisurely that Elder Kong had long forgotten about Wizard Lord Wu's domineering sense back then.

It was exactly because of her prowess that she was haughty! Anything she said was the edict in the whole of Wu Clan and Yulong Mainland!

Everyone in the hall was suddenly shocked by Yun Jian's action, especially Elder Kong. If Wizard Lord Wu from hundreds and thousands of years ago were before her, she would not have dared chide her but she thought that the current Yun Jian was someone she could control.

Elder Kong was wrong.

The moment Yun Jian pointed the Deicide Blade at Elder Kong, the latter nearly fell to her knees.

It was at the same time the rest of them truly felt Wizard Lord Wu's intimidation. It was an aura no one could replace!

Chapter 1192: The Identity Reveal of the Four Guardians

Elder Kong had initially thought that since Yun Jian was Wizard Lord Wu, she would definitely take their past into account. Moreover, she was from Wu Clan, so Yun Jian would surely not treat her aggressively even if she did say something that crossed the line.

She was wrong, though. Yun Jian could not even recall what Wu Clan was right now. Asking her to take their past as Wu Clan into account was simply impossible!

She had helped Wu Clan destroy Murong Clan not to revenge for Wu Clan but for Lan Su! If it were not for Lan Su, she would not even do anything!

Elder Kong had thought that Yun Jian cared about Wu Clan but when she realized the point earlier, Yun Jian was already sneering at her. Elder Kong could not help gulping.

It was simultaneously when Yun Jian turned and trained her sharp gaze at Elder Kong. Looking at the latter and speaking, Yun Jian's message was to Elder Kong and all the other pedantic elders behind her.

"Lan Su is under me. From now on, if I find out any of you dare be rude to her verbally, I'll kill you!"

When Yun Jian said that, it sounded like killing someone was a piece of cake to her.

Did these old women think that she had to listen to them because she was from Wu Clan? Even if Yun Jian was really from Wu Clan and was on the same side as these old ones, she would still kill them if they dared go against her!

The elders who heard Yun Jian quivered from fear. No one would doubt the truthfulness of her words because she was Wizard Lord Wu.

This was how haughty the then Wizard Lord Wu was too!

“Yun Jian...” Seeing how Yun Jian had stepped in front of her and defended her without any hesitation, Lan Su was so moved that she almost forwent her cool image and rushed to hug the former.

“You old hags, I’m the one who took her virginity. Lay a finger on my woman and I’ll make sure of your death within seconds!”

Due to Yun Jian’s overpowering presence, Ya Dang was unable to find his opportunity to speak up. Now that Yun Jian stopped talking, Ya Dang finally found a chance to go grab Lan Su’s hand and growl at Elder Kong and others.

Holding Lan Su’s hand, Ya Dang did not care about the crowd around them. He kept his grip and proposed to Lan Su, “Hey, you have to get married to me now. This Wu Clan rule of yours states that you Wu Clan women will have to marry anyone who took your chastity, right?”

Ya Dang did not sound like he was proposing—more like he was forcing marriage upon Lan Su.

As he spoke, he yanked off the skin mask he wore and held Lan Su’s head to kiss her in front of everyone.

Ya Dang stroked Lan Su’s lips after the kiss and laughed when he saw her dazed face. “Haha, your good name is tainted by me now. You have to marry me!”

Yun Jian who stood nearby smiled while Si Yi who stood next to her wrapped her into his arms discreetly.

Despite that, the senior elders startled on the spot when they saw Ya Dang pull off his face mask.

Previously, Si Yi had revealed his true face when he and Yun Jian went through the marriage pact and was discovered to be Lord Divinity. Now that Ya Dang pulled off his mask and revealed a cool looking face that could stir a commotion in Yulong Mainland and the admiration of girls, the elders were stunned.

Elder Kong gasped directly, “You...you’re one of the four guardians of Lord Divinity...Ya Dang!”

Chapter 1193: Going Back to Country Z. Are You Going Back With Me?

Anyone in Yulong Mainland knew that Lord Divinity had four guardians. Lord Divinity himself was powerful while any one of his four guardians could easily intimidate a throng of people as well.

People from Yulong Mainland had once heard that Lord Divinity was the highest presence in Deity Continent. Other than that, the latter had four guardians and the prowess of these four guardians was only after Lord Divinity as well. It was not just in Yulong Mainland, any one out of the four of them could easily quash a whole land even in Deity Continent.

It was therefore clear to see Elder Kong clamping her mouth shut when she was about to mock Lan Su for finding a nobody as her partner when she saw Ya Dang revealing his true face. She had thought that Lan Su had given her chaste self to some guy who came out of nowhere only for said guy to turn out as Lord Divinity's guardian!

According to rumors, other than Lord Divinity himself, his four guardians were the next in command of Deity Continent. If Lord Divinity had not done anything, his four guardians could make decisions on behalf of him!

Moreover, each of them was capable of devastating destruction!

One of the four guardians in Deity Continent, Ya Dang, who was rumored to be hot-tempered, was actually the man who took Lan Su's virginity!

Forget about Wu Clan's rules then. Wu Clan members would be putting Ya Dang on the same pedestal as they had with Lord Divinity; how would they dare fault Lan Su? It would be a joke!

Elder Kong shuddered. She was inwardly rejoicing that she had fortunately not say anything that was unsalvageable. It was at the same time she felt her throat constrict suddenly.

The next second, she was being choked by an invisible palm.

"Cough... Cough..."

The others were shocked about Elder Kong being hauled up in the air but were horrified to find Si Yi grabbing her with his mental power a short distance away sporting a scowl.

Si Yi wore a dark glower, throwing Elder Kong out after he picked her up telekinetically.

As Elder Kong was already old, being flung off like that by Si Yi and crashing into a bench not too far away in the hall caused her to spit blood after she landed with the bench shattering.

Si Yi's abrupt action drained blood off everyone's face but none dared step out to fault him. His deep voice laced with an inexplicable sense of murderous intent rang then, "Wu Clan has no need to exist in this world if anyone dares seek trouble in the night again!"

Si Yi grabbed Yun Jian's hand and left with that.

The rest of Wu Clan members were left wondering—why was Lord Divinity this enraged?

No one would be able to guess that it was because of what happened tonight that had interrupted a certain young man's plan of completely becoming one with a beauty.

Nevertheless, those who were around dared not cause any more trouble. There were still Ya Dang and Mo Sen around and no one doubted Wizard Lord Wu's words either.

Even with Elder Kong, she was lucky to still be breathing because Si Yi had mercy on her.

Wu Lan finally breathed in relief for Lan Su. She was not a good mother, not even brave enough to step out and admit that the latter was her own daughter.

As Yun Jian was pulled away by Si Yi and was almost leaving Wu Clan's hall, she paused and turned back to tell those in the hall, "I'm going back to Longmen City tomorrow."

She was informing them, not asking for their permission.

Yun Jian then looked at Lan Su, pressed her lips together for a pause, and asked her, "Do you want to go back with me?"

Chapter 1194: Lan Su's Decision. Returning to Earth

Yun Jian's decision to go back to Longmen City was not made in a haste. From the moment she stepped foot in Yulong Mainland, her goal had been simple and clear—she wanted to find out who the mysterious person manipulating Inferno Ring behind the curtain was.

The culprit of her younger brother's tragic death in their previous life had yet to be annihilated. Of course, this was only one of the reasons.

From her younger brother being harmed in their past life to the numerous assassination attempts on her recently, everything hinted that this was not as simple as one thought.

That was why Yun Jian planned for a trip to Yulong Mainland.

In spite of it, she was clear that the world would not host so many coincidences. It was impossible for her to simply run into the mysterious person during her trip in Yulong Mainland this time.

Before she left, she had privately asked Wu Lan to help her look for the mysterious person's whereabouts, as well as another person—her teacher in her previous life, the elder whom she did not know his name.

It was this elderly man who taught her things like hypnosis in her past life that she had managed to survive the dog-eat-dog world.

Very much earlier on, Yun Jian had heard that the old man came from Yulong Mainland. Since she was here now, she hoped that she could meet the teacher who had done her a great favor in her previous life.

"I..." Lan Su paused and stayed silent.

"I'll..." She bit her lips; just as she was about to speak of her decision, Ya Dang who stood next to her grabbed hold of her hand and told Yun Jian on behalf of her, "Young madam, look at how homesick she is. Surely she wouldn't want to go back to Longmen City in the meantime."

As Ya Dang spoke, he exaggerated his feigned carefree expression on his cool looking face and chuckled before continuing smoothly. "Young master's already agreed to me staying in Yulong Mainland for a while. I'll take good care of her. When Wu Clan is doing better, I wouldn't let her keep staying here even if she wants to."

Ya Dang gave Lan Su's supple cheek a pinch and laughed heartily.

Lan Su who heard the man's easygoing speech looked up at him emotionally. She did not even realize that her hand was somehow held in Ya Dang's as she was simply too touched that the latter had spoken her mind for her.

After another two seconds, Lan Su breathed out and told Yun Jian, "Yun Jian, I want to stay in Yulong Mainland. At the very least, I can't leave right now. Murong Clan is uprooted. Now is the best time for Wu Clan to rise again!"

"Mn, I'll wait for you in Longmen City." Yun Jian nodded with a smile. She would never stop others from doing what they wanted; she had always been supportive toward people she regarded as her own like Qin Yirou and Yun Yi no matter what they wanted to do.

Lan Su was moved by Yun Jian's reply. Holding Ya Dang's hand, she promised Yun Jian, "Don't worry, Yun Jian. I just need a semester—no, a summer break and I'll make Wu Clan rise again! I'll go back to Longmen City for you after that!"

“I’ll be waiting.” Yun Jian beamed with her eyes that glinted with a cryptic glimmer.

It was faith, and her promise with Lan Su.

That night, Si Yi slept with Yun Jian in his arms but did nothing else.

The next morning, Yun Jian, Si Yi and Mo Sen went back.

Since Si Yi did not lose his spiritual power, Lan Su did not have to send them from Wu Clan to the portal that connected Yulong Mainland and earth.

It was not difficult for Yun Jian to come here from earth. Wu Lan would inform Yun Jian once she had news and the latter would surely come to Yulong Mainland again as soon as she could. Therefore, even if Lan Su was a little reluctant to part, it was not hard to bid goodbye.

As for now, the three of them had gone through the stone tunnel on earth and exited the cave with the trap mechanism. Just as they came out, they discovered that Lin Xiaochu, Lin Meiyuan and their company were still around.

Lin Xiaochu and Lin Meiyuan had even ran over to greet Yun Jian when they saw her exiting.

Chapter 1195: Are You Leaving? Friendly Ning Xia

“Hey, you guys are finally back out here. I’ve been waiting for you for so long!” Lin Meiyuan ran to Yun Jian first before Lin Xiaochu did and wanted to hook arms with Yun Jian like they were close friends.

With Lin Meiyuan’s attitude toward Yun Jian previously, anyone could see that she wanted nothing more than for Yun Jian to die immediately.

It was all different now.

As Lin Meiyuan ran over wanting to hook arms with Yun Jian, the sense of motive was blatant on her face.

Yun Jian could not help the sneer on the corner of her lips when she saw Lin Meiyuan dashing for her and avoided the latter’s arm-hooking discreetly the next second. That caused Lin Meiyuan to glare daggers at her.

After her glare like she wished death upon Yun Jian, Lin Meiyuan put on a friendly façade instantly and went closer.

“What’s the matter? It’s only been days and you don’t know me anymore?” Lin Meiyuan asked as she twirled her hair flirtatiously and winked at Mo Sen who was nearby.

Si Yi’s gaze and tactics were brutal. Moreover, he was Yun Jian’s man. Yun Jian’s previous action of slaughtering the pack of wolves had also horrified Lin Meiyuan, thus she dared not provoke her.

Yun Jian had looked incredibly savage when she slaughtered those wolves! No regular girl was like her.

This point alone was enough to make Lin Meiyuan stay away from Yun Jian’s man.

Despite that, Mo Sen turned his head away once Lin Meiyang threw him a coy look. The sculpted jawline that was revealed felt composed and austere, and kept Lin Meiyang at arm's length.

Seeing Lin Meiyang's attempt, Yun Jian could not help scoffing. She did not plan to linger around either, and made to move with Si Yi and Mo Sen.

"Let's go," she uttered softly and went ahead with Si Yi by her side as well as Mo Sen behind them.

The three of them were about to make their way toward the exit tunnel of the catacomb.

"Are you guys leaving already?"

This time, the voice that was stopping them was not Lin Xiaochu or Lin Meiyang, the two women who wanted to act friendly with her after knowing what she was capable of. It was Lou Guodong, the archaeologist who had kindly helped Yun Jian and Si Yi previously.

"Mn." Yun Jian nodded but did not say more.

"Have a safe trip. We'll meet again if fate decides so!" Lou Guodong cupped his palm over his fist toward the three of them professionally.

"Thank you." Yun Jian smiled back and left with Si Yi and Mo Sen.

"Hey, hey, are you guys just leaving like this? You—" Lin Xiaochu wanted to chase after and stop Yun Jian but she was stopped by her senior Hu Qirui who she had always liked.

Ning Xia stood thinking for a moment before she dashed to Yun Jian and retrieved a handkerchief she treasured from her pocket. It had two mandarin ducks playing in the water embroidered on it. She passed it to Yun Jian and caught her breath before speaking sincerely, "This is for you. I embroidered it myself. I wish you both eternal happiness!"

"Heh, and I'm staying in Ning City, Zhe Province. I don't know if you're far from me but I stay by the beach. If you guys are traveling for the summer break, you can come visit the beach where I stay. We have seafood too!"

Ning Xia told Yun Jian her home address as she spoke.

Chapter 1196: Can We Go On a Summer Break Trip?

Ning Xia looked at Yun Jian with immense sincerity after supplying her address, as if waiting for the latter's response.

Yun Jian blinked. After a two-second silence, she smiled and answered softly, "Sure."

If Qing You who had been working for Yun Jian were here and witnessed the scene, she would definitely have gasped. Slaying God, the best in the international secret agent chart, had actually agreed to an invitation by someone she met during a trip?

Yun Jian had wanted to reject Ning Xia but her reason for agreeing was simple. She saw the gratitude in Ning Xia's eyes—gratitude that she had saved her life.

There was also another reason. Yun Zhu had previously mentioned that he wanted to go to the seaside for summer break because he could have fresh seafood there.

Ning City was a coastal area, meaning that it was close to the sea, and it had an island that was a haven for beach vacation.

That was why Yun Jian did not reject Ning Xia after hearing what she said.

Moreover, it was known that she had saved Ning Xia. Back in Hasa Village's inn, a group of thugs had come to rob them and abduct women in the night. They were mainly there for the women as women were gems in an impoverished place like Hasa Village; many men could not afford to get married.

If it had not been Yun Jian's butterfly knife that struck the thug who was about to take Ning Xia away, there was no doubt that the latter would have been abducted by them. The consequences that awaited Ning Xia—if Yun Jian had not gone to rescue them, even the inn owner, Zatana's daughter, Elisha, would have been taken turns by the bandits for sure. Ning Xia would have ended up like Lin Xiaochu then.

Lin Xiaochu was no longer a virgin. A delinquent girl like her had long tasted the forbidden fruit when she started dating a long time ago. After that, she did it with every boyfriend she had. Since Ning Xia was more familiar with Lin Xiaochu and they were roommates in their university dorm, Lin Xiaochu had told her about it like she was showing off.

Ning Xia was different, though. Her family was stricter with her in things like this and she was more old-fashioned as well, believing that girls should only give their chastity away on their wedding night after they got married.

Therefore, Ning Xia would probably have killed herself if what happened a few days earlier, how the bandits had taken their turns assaulting their victim, happened to her. She was simply the type of woman who would rather kill herself than to suffer such abuse.

To Ning Xia, Yun Jian had saved her life. She thought that Yun Jian was the kind of person who held herself high and mighty, so when she heard that the latter agreed to travel to her hometown, she was delighted.

She had even exchanged contact numbers with Yun Jian and asked her to definitely pay a visit to her home if she was free and that she would be a good host to Yun Jian.

Yun Jian left the place in Ning Xia's grateful gaze and rushed back to Longmen City in Country Z through the night.

After Si Yi sent Yun Jian to the airport, he went back to An Hun Group with Mo Sen. After all, the management of a large organization required time and effort.

When Yun Jian returned to Longmen City in Country Z and went back to Ge Junjian's house, Yun Zhu skipped over with Duan Li and Duan Ya.

Yun Zhu asked curiously after the three of them looked around Yun Jian and did not find Si Yi, "Where's Si Yi-gege?"

"He isn't back yet." Yun Jian pinched her younger brother's cheeks that had obviously rounded and could not help asking, "Have you been good recently?"

Little Yun Zhu nodded his head fervently. "Of course, I've been very good! I'm a man now!"

As he spoke, he looked at Yun Jian hopefully. "Jiejie, can you take us on a trip during the summer break?"

Chapter 1197: Grocery Shopping Before the Holiday

Summer breaks were the period of time students looked forward to the most because it was a two-month break, enough for students to drown themselves in the delight of a holiday and feel like they were not students but instead, free birds.

No one could restrain them, no one could make them go to school, and no teacher could order them to do things that they did not enjoy doing.

Little Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya who finally made it to the summer break really wanted to have a good time relaxing.

Now that Yun Zhu saw Yun Jian coming home from traveling, he could not help looking at her hopefully. He had asked about Si Yi-gege earlier because he wanted the latter to take the three of them out. He knew that Si Yi-gege pampered him the most—not even his jiejie coddled him like Si Yi-gege did!

If Yun Zhu wanted to go on a trip, Si Yi-gege would surely agree to take him! Furthermore, Duan Li had asked their classmate, Xiao Hui. Xiao Hui said that Si Yi-gege pampered Yun Zhu so much because he wanted to court his sister. Xiao Hui had even said that as long as he helped Si Yi-gege with it, his Si Yi-gege would treat him even better.

Yun Jian no idea that her own younger brother had completely sold her. Once she heard that the three kids wanted to go on a trip, she got down to look at Yun Zhu and nodded.

"Okay. Where do you want to go, Xiao Zhu, Chessie and Yaya?" Yun Jian asked.

"Yay! We can go on a trip! We want to have a holiday at the beach! Jiejie, we want to go to the beach! There'll be a lot of seafood there. We can go swimming too, and there'll be sand. We can catch crabs on the beach. Xiao Hui from our class has been and he said that it'd be a lifetime regret if we didn't go to the beach!"

Little Yun Zhu clapped his hands innocently, unable to control his thrill.

"What do you mean lifetime regret? You're still young." Yun Jian tapped Yun Zhu's lips softly and told him that it was an inauspicious thing to say.

Yun Jian knew Yun Zhu quite well. Knowing that he wanted to go to the seaside, it was actually a good choice that she had promised Ning Xia before this. At least they would have a local guiding them when they arrived at the destination of their trip; it would be a lot more convenient because one could easily take a wrong turn when one was unfamiliar with the places they traveled to.

There was nothing like the GPS in this era yet and cellphones could only make calls or send messages. The most it could do was offer a game of Snake.

In the end, they discussed it with Qin Yirou and decided to make it a family trip. Ge Junjian would apply for a work leave and go with them. The time was fixed at a week later because that was when Ge Junjian would have time for his work leave.

Si Yi was unable to come since he was busy but he did say that he would try his best to make it and ask for Yun Jian to take the three kids there and have fun first.

The week passed in a blink of eyes and they came to the day before they departed for the trip. As it would be a journey of a ride from Longmen City to Ning City, Yun Zhu, Duan Li and Duan Ya were excited this night like they were going on a spring outing the next day, pulling Yun Jian to go to the grocery store.

“I want to get three bags of chips!” Yun Zhu was currently standing by a rack in the grocery store. He could not reach the height where the chips were, so he stood on his tiptoes and asked for Yun Jian to help him.

Just as Yun Jian turned around, she saw an ostentatiously dressed woman in her thirties to forties walking over and shoving Yun Zhu away with her seemingly perfect proportions before sweeping the last five bags of potato chips on the rack into her shopping cart.

The woman had even thrown Yun Zhu a glare, grumbling under her breath, “Move aside, whippersnapper!”

Chapter 1198: Pushed My Brother and Slung Accusations

Little Yun Zhu almost lost his balance when he was shoved by the woman, who was already in her middle age but insisted to dress flamboyantly like a young girl in her twenties, using her body.

Fortunately, Yun Zhu had a fast reflex and grabbed the merchandise rack instantly, saving himself from plopping down on the floor. However, the action had accidentally swept bags of potato chips in other flavors on the rack to the floor; some chips had even bounced back from the momentum of Yun Zhu’s motion.

The next second, a big pile of packaged potato chips fell to the floor noisily.

The woman was taken aback. Pushing her cart and seeing Yun Zhu whom she had shoved and tripped so many bags of chips off the rack, she kept grumbling about him, “Oh dear, what’s wrong with you whippersnapper? W-Whose child is this? Why are you so careless? You dropped so many bags of chips. You need to pay for them!”

As she spoke, it was like she was scared of being implicated, so she hurried away to avoid being suspected, stopping a short and fat female employee in the grocery store uniform with large nostrils.

“Here, look. Look at this boy, I don’t know whose kid this is, but he messed this place up! So many bags of chips! They aren’t that expensive but it wouldn’t do good that he’s making a mess here?”

This woman in her flashy outfit told the employee as if she was the right one here. She had to emphasize “they aren’t that expensive”, adding that in to let others think that she was rich.

When Yun Zhu almost fell, Duan Li and Duan Ya had dashed over to help him up. Yun Jian who had been farther away came around as well.

She had seen the entire situation, especially the scene where the woman pushed Yun Zhu, saw the boy accidentally sweeping the potato chips off the rack, and ran to complain about him to the grocery store employee, accusing him of mischief, to avoid being implicated.

Yun Jian repressed her impulse to pull out her butterfly knife and stab the woman to death. She went over while the woman was still yapping in complaint to the grocery store employee, making the latter want more than nothing to chase Yun Zhu, the “troublemaker”, out of the place.

The woman dressed ostentatiously glanced at Yun Jian, not knowing that Yun Jian and Yun Zhu were related, and continued grumbling about the boy to the female employee.

“Jiejie,” Yun Zhu called innocently looking at Yun Jian.

Jiejie? Once the woman who was making accusations heard Yun Zhu’s term of address toward Yun Jian, she froze and saw Yun Jian come up to her.

Without saying anything, Yun Jian grabbed the woman’s head and hurled her toward the rack violently. There was a loud clank from the rack since Yun Jian had crashed the woman’s head with it. Needless to say, the woman’s forehead must be in excruciation from the swing.

“Ah! Argh!” the woman screeched.

The female grocery store employee was dumbstruck as she watched Yun Jian attack in shock. The other customers, who were around and halted their steps to listen to the woman complain about Yun Zhu, gasped when they saw Yun Jian going up and grabbing the woman’s head to sling it toward the rack without a word.

They continued watching as Yun Jian let go of her grip and threw the woman on the floor. She looked at the woman coldly and sneered, “You pushed my brother and you slung accusations? Think I can crash you on the rack and kill you right now?”

Chapter 1199: A Mop—Can She Catch It?

What Yun Jian said, in addition to her action, startled everyone around her. Was that really what a teenage girl could do?

When Yun Jian grabbed the woman’s hair and mercilessly swung her head toward the rack, the passersby wanted to scream. A teenage girl like Yun Jian was actually doing something so terrorizing in public. It baffled them.

The female grocery store employee who the woman had pulled over just now was frozen in place, feet unable to move. She could feel the pain from just watching the scene just now; what was more, Yun Jian had grabbed the woman to crash her without any forewarning!

It was by the time the employee snapped out of her daze that she realized things were going wrong. She ran for the grocery store entrance and cried for help frantically, "Security! Security! Emergency! Come quick!"

The woman who had shoved Yun Zhu and accused him disdainfully nearly choked from the pain of being slammed against the rack and tossed on the floor.

"Argh! Ahh! How dare you hit me! Ah!" She rolled about when she landed on the floor, her entire body wheezing in pain.

As she thrashed around, she felt for her forehead that Yun Jian had just crashed against the rack, feeling some liquid drop from there. When she looked at her hand after feeling for her forehead, she nearly passed out.

The woman had even forgotten about standing up as her growls came immediately, howling and shrieking, "Ah! Blood! Blood! Arghh!"

After the loud cries, she snapped her head to Yun Jian resentfully—her piercing gaze looked like she wanted to rip Yun Jian into shreds—as she kept screaming, "Murder! She's trying to murder me! She's a murderer! She's killing people for no reason!"

As if the woman thought that she had not caused enough of a scene, she began screeching and yowling.

The crowd shuddered and dared not step forward at the sight of the blood. Some of them did not even dare chance a glimpse at the blood on the woman's head.

Life was improving in 1999 as people gradually grew richer. A usual small bleeding cut on the finger from the knife would have frightened most of them—and this woman's forehead was slammed against the rack by Yun Jian, her skin splitting open and sputtering blood.

It seemed that the woman quickly realized that she was in danger as she began yelling, "Where is your moral, your conscience? She hit me just now and all you do is watch!"

"I'm dying! I'm going to die. There's so much blood! Hurry up and send me to the hospital!"

Yun Jian was unfazed at the woman's wails as she took two deliberate steps toward her. This woman had no mercy on Yun Zhu just now.

Just as she went forward, another voice that sounded more frantic rang, "Mom?"

Turning around, Yun Jian saw a girl who resembled the woman and was equally dressed like a moving parade run toward them.

Anyone with eyes could see that it was Yun Jian who did this to the woman. The girl who was around Yun Jian's age could care less about reasoning the situation as she grabbed a mop from the side and charged for Yun Jian.

"Ah! How dare you hit my mother! You..."

Yun Jian was quite close to the woman just now, so her attack had been fast and effective. The crowd had only assumed her to be a regular girl—perhaps one who was simply more savage.

This girl who was pouncing had a weapon in her hand, though—even when it was just a mop!

The crowd thought that Yun Jian's pretty face would definitely be busted if the mop hit her. She was no secret agent or assassin. How could she possibly catch this mop that was coming her way so fast and furious?

What happened next dropped their jaws...

Chapter 1200: Only the Secret Agents and Assassins Could Do It

This girl was extremely merciless. What she saw was her mother on the floor with a split forehead bleeding profusely while the latter kept wailing about being in pain and dying.

She did not care who was in the right or if her mother had done anything wrong. She was in her youth and was popular with the boys in school since she looked quite pretty, getting along with the guys who were involved in gangs.

As she listened to the delinquents boast about how intimidating they were, she thought that she was really being protected by some invincible thugs. Hence, whether it was in school or outside, the girl thought that the guys would have her back even when she was the one who offended others.

This shaped the girl's arrogant and b*tchy attitude that she would scowl immediately and declare a fight, sometimes bringing a group of guys to beat just one girl up, if there were girls in school who dared criticize her, even when it was a joke.

Despite that, the girl thought that her behavior was attractive to the guys and did not think it as shameful. Growing up in such an environment, this caused the girl to grab the mop and dash for Yun Jian disregarding who was in the wrong when she saw her mother bleeding on the floor.

The girl was already charging for Yun Jian swinging the mop, screeching as she ran, "Go to hell! Die for hitting my mom!"

In the midst of her growls, she had reached Yun Jian with the mop, swinging it down toward the latter's head while the crowding grocery store customers anticipated yet were frightened to be greeted with gore.

Just a few seconds ago, the female employee who had ran off came back hastily with a few security guards only to see the girl swinging the mop toward Yun Jian.

The watching crowd gasped and someone even exclaimed, "That girl is doomed! Oh my, look at the mop. Unless she's capable like the secret agents or assassins in the movies, otherwise... What a waste of her pretty face..."

Someone else gasped and pointed at Yun Jian right after that person spoke, "Look! That—"

The others trailed their gazes toward said direction and saw Yun Jian standing still. The girl was already swinging the broom down toward her head.

Just as the mop was about to slam Yun Jian's head right in the center from the top, Yun Jian who kept her eyes in front suddenly stretched her left hand—without even glancing at the mop's plunging direction.

It was like she had eyes on the top of her head as she stretched a left hand and accurately caught the mop that was being swung down at her ferociously right before everyone.

The mop that was being raised and swung down possessed a powerful momentum but Yun Jian did not even spare it a glance as she caught it blindly. The action stunned the customers who were watching the scene and the female employee who returned with several security guards.

While they were surprised, Yun Jian had already yanked the mop, pulling the astonished girl who was holding the other end of it toward her as well. The girl did not have a stable footing, so she fell down after a stagger when Yun Jian made the abrupt jerk.

Yun Jian's foot was already on the handle of the mop then. The next second, a loud crack was heard as she easily stepped it into half.

The girl's hand was under the other end of the mop handle, so it felt like a torture to her when Yun Jian stepped on said mop handle.

"Ahhh!" The girl's screech resonated in the grocery store as she wanted to pull her hand back but Yun Jian's forcefulness did not leave any room for her to do that.

Yun Jian's nonchalance and intimidating ability terrified anyone who was watching.

"O-only secret agents and assassins in movies could do that! This girl is s-so—so...skilled..." someone could not help gasping.
