

Schoolgirl 1331

Chapter 1331 I'm Happy You're Still Alive

Even Lin Shuya who had been guessing what Yun Jian was thinking was stunned. Once she snapped out of it, however, she scoffed and waved her hand at the crowd. "I think she just wants to hog the limelight. Hmph! The two of them must have planned this. If you don't believe me, just watch!"

Lin Shuya who suddenly thought of such an explanation blurted it. As she spoke, she was convinced that it must be the reason why Yun Jian was dashing toward the only girl in the shooting range. She had most probably talked about it to the girl standing at the shooting range and their goal was to seek attention in school; they were pretending to be mysterious and cool, like they were not from earth.

"Bunch of lunatics. They think we can't see past that? That they're directing and acting the drama on their own. Hah, they really think we're all fools..."

As Lin Shuya uttered the last word, she turned to look at the large group of students who had come with her only to see them suddenly widening their eyes. Alarmed, she turned back around and saw the shocking scene...

Initially, Lin Shuya and the other students had thought that Yun Jian was only brandishing the knives for show. After all, no one would dare kill someone so boldly in school.

The students who were there thought that Yun Jian was only putting up an act with her knives when they heard what Lin Shuya said, so they were misled by the latter and thought that Yun Jian was really just a b*tch who wanted to seek attention in front of the whole school.

In spite of it, this was the scene they witnessed when they turned around.

Yun Jian had two daggers in her hands respectively as she sprinted for the girl like a bolt of lightning. Despite her steps on the ground, they did not make any noise. The daggers Yun Jian held had their blades pointed to the ground as she gripped them in a reverse twist.

So fast that one could not visibly react to her, Yun Jian had sprinted toward the girl and come behind her within five breaths. The girl showed no sign of turning around.

The crowd who stood farther away watched in bated breaths.

"Oh my god, is she killing someone in our school? She's crazy for daring to kill someone in a military school!"

"Hurry and get the teacher! There's going to be a casualty!"

People began to cry for help and yell when they realized that the situation was not right. However, it was too late. Yun Jian had already gone to the girl within moments and swung the two daggers she held down toward the girl's back that was against her.

"Oh my god!" There were already people among the crowd who covered their faces.

There were more boys than girls in the military school, so the guys who were there did not cover their eyes but watched on in astonishment.

There were less than three centimeters between the daggers in Yun Jian's hands and the girl's back now.

"Ah!" The girls farther away began to scream as they trembled.

It was then the girl who stood before the shooting target suddenly placed the unloaded rifle toward her back. The rifle the girl had been using for training stopped Yun Jian's daggers in their tracks within three centimeters.

Taking in the familiar technique, Yun Jian wore a slight smile. She tilted her body and threw herself forward, doing a somersault in the air and kicking the stomach of the girl who had now turned around.

The girl took three steps back when she was kicked by Yun Jian but did not lose her balance. When she saw Yun Jian, there was a hint of tears on the corner of her eyes. She paused for several seconds, holding back her tears, and said, "I knew it. You'd be able to stay alive and keep our promise with your ability!"

"I'm happy you're still alive." Yun Jian smiled as well with wet eyes but did not let her tears fall.

The odd conversation between the girl and Yun Jian bewildered the students who stood farther away even more.

Chapter 1332 A Reintroduction, She's Mu Ying

What about staying alive and keeping their promise?

They were both well and breathing-and standing before each other! Also, how did their impressive skills just now come about?

Lin Yuan, Lin Shuya and the other students who witnessed the scene from afar were all baffled.

What was going on?

Lin Shuya had no idea but she was well aware that she was truly shocked when she heard the strange conversation between Yun Jian and the girl. By the time she recovered from the surprise and came back to herself, she resented Yun Jian even more.

She was disgruntled that her peers standing around her were all looking at Yun Jian and the girl, so she began to yell again, "Don't you guys be deceived by the two of them. They must've planned it before this and purposely made odd comments and acted strangely in front of us. Hmph, who knows what they're trying to do!"

Lin Shuya's accusation successfully made the girls around her yell in agreement. They, too, thought that Yun Jian and the girl must be purposely seeking attention and that made them incredibly envious. Now that Lin Shuya started the instigation, Yun Jian and the girl who had a sense of femme fatale in her looks swiftly became the public enemy of the girls there.

O) One

Despite that, Yun Jian and the girl who stood much farther away did not care. "Let's go to the dorm building. There's no one there." The girl who stood in front of Yun Jian put the rifle back on the long table at the shooting range and led Yun Jian away.

There were too many people here and it was an inconvenience to bring certain things up.

"Mn." Yun Jian nodded before she turned to Lin Yuan who was not too far from her. "You can go to the cafeteria first."

"Huh-oh, okay." Lin Yuan nodded after she snapped out of the surprise.

Yun Jian did not even spare Lin Shuya and others a glance after she spoke as she and the girl walked farther away from them.

"Hey, you..." Lin Shuya wanted to go after them with the crowd but Lin Yuan stopped her.

"What do you want? My friend's having a talk. Are you trying to invade their privacy by going after them? My grandfather is a lawyer and I'll sue you, try me!"

By stopping Lin Shuya and others, Lin Yuan managed to get Yun Jian and the girl some personal time.

Lin Shuya wanted to follow the pair initially but when she heard Lin Yuan say that her grandfather was a lawyer, she was intimidated and stomped her foot on the ground, giving up on her intention.

In front of the dorm building.

Since the military training for freshmen would begin today when the students came to school and it was not held in the school, the students had yet to move in the dorm. Therefore, there was no one here at the building and it was so quiet that one could even hear the insects.

Yun Jian and the girl stood staring at each other.

"SG, I thought I wouldn't see you again in this lifetime," the girl said, breaking the silence first.

"Me too." Yun Jian's voice was a little hoarse but there was no change in her expression. Even when she was emotional, there was no hint of it visible on her face.

"Actually, I didn't die then. But you could consider me dead too," the girl said before cracking a grin at Yun Jian. "I think we should reintroduce ourselves first. I'm Mu Ying. MY is just my initials back in the organization."

Yun Jian smiled at Mu Ying. "Yun Jian, my name."

Chapter 1333 Mu Ying's Background

Mu Ying flashed a smile and reeled it back in as she scanned Yun Jian from head to toe then said, "You're... Very skilled! I'm afraid I can't last three blows from you now. To be able to become the only one who accomplished all of An Hun Group's missions and left its control, you didn't disappoint me!"

Mu Ying was only nine years old and had spent only several years in An Hun Group when she died. Even then, someone who had grown up in that environment would not be someone simple.

"Talk about yourself." Yun Jian crossed her arms in front of her and squinted at Mu Ying.

It was then Mu Ying flashed a smile before saying seriously, "I did die back then but I was lucky. Before my body was thrown to feed the dogs, my mind and thoughts were taken away by a crazy professor."

"Perhaps you'd understand it better this way. It means that the current me is still me. My thoughts and way of thinking are still the old MY but this body isn't mine."

"My body was already devoured by the dogs and this current body belonged to a little girl."

"The crazy professor's transferred my brain capacity to the little girl who had died back then and resurrected me."

"The purpose of him saving me was to let me pretend as the little girl and keep her family company. Heh, don't you think I'm lucky? The crazy professor's the only scientist in the world who's mastered transferring someone's consciousness to another person through the brain and I'm his first successful experiment."

"It was too bad that he passed away the second year I came to this body while I'm happy right now since I have a new family with this girl's identity."

Mu Ying summarized her background.

Although Yun Jian was surprised that there was someone who could transfer a person's consciousness to another person who was dead and make the latter become someone else, it did not seem as unbelievable when she herself was reborn.

"Unbelievable, right? Haha! But I didn't stop training after I became the girl. I applied for Min City's military school for senior high, not expecting to see you again here!"

Mu Ying told Yun Jian about what she had gone through but she did not ask about Yun Jian, not that she dared either. The lesser she knew about Yun Jian's background, the safer she was. Mu Ying had spent some time in An Hun Group, after all, and knew as much. Moreover, she did not want to be involved in the assassins and secret agents world she used to be in her past life. As for why Mu Ying kept training herself, she was influenced by the concept of the survival of the fittest in her previous life—she wanted to become strong; another reason was because her current family—her grandparents, parents, and even relatives were all in the military!

Basically, Mu Ying's current status was like a princess in a military family. It simply would not do if she was not trained when she grew up in a family like this.

Yun Jian liked people who did not press for her current identity like Mu Ying. She smiled at the latter. "Let us put away the past and get to know each other again then."

She sincerely stuck a hand out in front of Mu Ying and introduced herself once more, "I'm Yun Jian, from Zhe Province's Longmen City. I'm 16 this year and I'm in Freshman Class (2)."

Mu Ying was quite moved by Yun Jian's words.

Life was unpredictable. Back when they were in An Hun Group, they survived with the determination of dying; to be able to leave An Hun Group was an utmost luxury to them back then.

Mu Ying held Yun Jian's hand tearfully and introduced herself again, "I'm Mu Ying. I stay in Min City and I'm in Freshman Class (9). It's great to know you!"

The most beautiful friendship in the world was not made up by promises but recognizing each other in a glance out of a sea of people and knowing that they were your truest friend in this life, surpassing the limitation of life and death.

Chapter 1334 Military Training in the Wild

Yun Jian went to eat in the cafeteria with Mu Ying after the talk with her.

What happened in An Hun Group in the past did happen but to Mu Ying, she was no longer the girl back in the organization and she would work hard to forget that girl in the past

-because right now, Mu Ying had a happy family of her own.

This meant that Mu Ying and Yun Jian's lives were different now.

Mu Ying went to the cafeteria with Yun Jian for lunch.

Meals were different for junior and senior high schools. Dishes for lunch were fixed for junior high school while students swiped their prepaid cards and ordered what they wanted in senior high school.

Although this was only the first day of school, the homeroom teachers had already distributed the cafeteria prepaid cards to the students when they were in class earlier.

After lunch in the cafeteria, Yun Jian parted ways with Mu Ying and went back to her class.

"Yun Jian, over here!" Before Yun Jian could reach Freshman Class (2)'s door, Lin Yuan was waving fervently at her not too far away.

Their homeroom teacher, Mr. Chu, led the class with all the students gathering at the classroom door holding their own suitcases and backpacks.

Yun Jian smiled at Lin Yuan and entered the classroom to hook her black mini backpack over her shoulder, pulling her suitcase with another hand, to assemble with her classmates at the door.

Mr. Chu stood right in front. When he saw that most of the students had come back from lunch at the cafeteria, he told them, "The bus picking you guys up for the training camp in the wilderness will be here soon. I'll brief all of you the rules of the military training." "This year's military training for your batch is the strictest we have over the years and it's done in the wild. It'll be practical, basically, and the particulars will be explained by specific trainers when you get there."

"You'll get your own tents later and whether it rains or shines, you'll all be staying in a tent for the following month!"

Frankly, this was a training to cultivate the student's wilderness survival skills.

Once Mr. Chu finished, the students around him groaned miserably.

"Oh my god, military training in the wild? Are they trying to tire us out and kill us?" Lin Yuan lamented right away.

After that, she turned to Yun Jian and asked in astonishment when she saw that the latter did not look the slightest bit scared, "Yun Jian, aren't you afraid? I heard that we might come across venomous snakes and wild beasts when we do the military training in the wild."

"Should I be afraid?" Yun Jian replied softly as she turned to glance at Lin Yuan.

"Pft, someone really thinks she's invincible just because she's become the center of attention just now! Tsk, tsk, better not wake up in the night crying and wailing 'mommy, I wanna go home!'"

Lin Shuya who heard them from a short distance away quickly mocked Yun Jian. She was completely skeptical about the ability Yun Jian had shown in public earlier.

It was not just Lin Shuya. There was probably none among the others who had witnessed the exchange between Yun Jian and Mu Ying who believed that it was actually their real ability.

After all, it was the first time for the freshmen to attend a military school. Prior to this, everyone came from regular junior high schools. No one had intentionally trained either.

"It's normal for girls to be scared during the military training in the wild! Haha, I can lend you my shoulders to lean on if you want!"

A cheerful guy walked over and patted his shoulder, speaking in feigned generosity.

Chapter 1335 The Military Training in the Wild Officially Begins

"You, Xu Haocheng? You want to take advantage of our girls? Shoo, off you go!" Once the cheerful guy finished talking, a guy who was lean and quite good looking came from the side to push this cheerful guy named Xu Haocheng away.

"Sh*t, you're freaking asking for a beating..." The guy named Xu Haocheng fell into a banter and play fighting with the lean and good looking guy swiftly. Although the students in class did not know each other before today, they only took a short time to be able to mingle and joke around together.

Lin Yuan, for example, had only known Yun Jian for the first day but chatting with Yun Jian came easy to her.

"Are you guys even listening to me..." Lin Shuya stomped her foot angrily when she saw that everyone was talking amongst themselves without regarding her.

Her voice grew muted ultimately. In a while, however, she suddenly smirked like she thought of something and wore a triumphant grin.

"Hey, Shuya, didn't you tell us during lunch at the cafeteria that your elder cousin is a senior in the sophomore year? The school's invited him to come back in advance to follow the team and go with us to the military training in the wild, right?"

"You should already know what the training camp in the wilderness looks like now, right? Tell us! Will it be dangerous when we train out there in the wild?"

"And, and your cousin must be amazing? Otherwise, the school wouldn't have invited him to come back and take the team, right?"

Right after Lin Shuya smirked in arrogance, a girl who stood beside her and had decidedly become her lackey talked about what the former was feeling so proud of aloud.

No one knew about it before this, so when the news was dropped, everyone looked at Lin Shuya with an astonished gaze.

Lin Shuya preened at the sight of everyone looking at her in shock. She glared at Yun Jian who stood next to her before beginning to boast, "My cousin is one of the few best sophomores in our military school and he's trained in taekwondo, free combat and judo since he was young."

Lin Shuya looked toward Yun Jian again as she got here, trying to catch a glimpse of surprise on the latter's face, but she was disappointed. Yun Jian kept a flat look of indifference as if nothing could bother her; there was not even a minute change in her expression, forget that she would be astonished by what Lin Shuya said.

Lin Shuya was only more enraged about it. From the first time she had met Yun Jian, the latter avoided her and caused her to run into a fat guy reeking of sweat, and now she maintained a poker face that looked so high and mighty that it was infuriating.

Lin Shuya felt that she had to claw at Yun Jian's face or she swore she would write her name backward!

While Yun Jian was unfazed, it did not mean that the others were equally unaffected. When they heard Lin Shuya say that her cousin knew taekwondo, free combat and judo, that he was basically well equipped, they could not help exclaiming whoa. Some of the guys had even cried comments like "that's so cool".

Yun Jian merely arched a brow without being too concerned about it.

"The bus is here! The bus is here! Keep up, everyone. Get ready to board!" Mr. Chu came over and did a headcount of the class before waving for the students to move toward the bus.

There was one bus for each class. The military school was quite wealthy and generous.

When the students arrived at the training camp in the wild, it was already 3pm in the afternoon. It also meant that the military training in the wild had officially begun!

Chapter 1336 Everyone's Here, the Facilitating Seniors

The training camp in the wild, or the outdoor training camp, sounded pretty good but the actual place of the outdoor training camp was a remote mountain area of a farming village in Min City. The village name was Banqiao Village and the trip there from Min City's military school required around two hours.

Since a bus had more students in addition to its bigger size, something dangerous could possibly happen if the driver drove too fast. Considering this, the driver drove slowly and safely.

When Yun Jian and the rest arrived at Banqiao Village, it was already 3pm in the afternoon.

The venue of the outdoor training camp was a small forest on a hill while the bus could only drive them to Banqiao Village. To reach the venue of the outdoor training camp, they had to go past an uneven rocky road and walk about half an hour from the village to the isolated training ground. They were in no hurry to depart as they got out of the bus.

Banqiao Village was a village with relatively more elderly people.

Yun Jian's class had arrived earlier, so they needed to wait for the other freshman classes to arrive at the village before the trainers could lead them into the mountain. Prior to that, the school had to distribute camping food and tents to the students for them to take into the forest.

Yun Jian and Lin Yuan sat on a cement stone in front of a house in Banqiao Village after they got out of the bus to rest. After they waited for about ten minutes, they saw a slim girl with a slight allure in her sultry looks and was dainty like a princess come down from another bus.

It was Mu Ying.

Mu Ying went toward Yun Jian upon seeing her and sat down as well when she saw Yun Jian and Lin Yuan sitting on the cement concrete.

"We're going into the mountain a while later." Mu Ying had both hands against the cement as she turned to look at Yun Jian with a smile.

"Don't you miss it?" Yun Jian smiled.

There was once when An Hun Group threw everyone to the Amazon Rainforest without providing them anything back when they were still in the organization. For six whole months, they were required to fend for themselves in Amazonia.

They had to find things to eat on their own and had to fight poisonous snakes and wild animals barehanded if they could not find any tool when they encountered them!

Those six months was the worst time Yun Jian had in An Hun Group but it was also the period her abilities and skills improved the most.

The Amazon rainforest was a perilous forest in this world with so many species that regular people would not be able to survive over three days upon entering! Yun Jian had fought against the adversity in such a place and survived for six months there.

This military training today was nothing much to her in comparison. Even then, Yun Jian would treat it with all of her passion.

"Yingying!"

When Lin Yuan wanted to perk the mood up since the atmosphere dampened slightly as Yun Jian and Mu Ying chatted softly, a guy's voice rang.

Yun Jian looked up slightly to see a guy who looked the part dressed in a military uniform walking over to them. He looked around 18-19 years old and was coming toward Mu Ying.

Mu Ying ducked her head after a glance up at the guy and asked monotonously, "Why are you here?"

"The school's uninvited me to come back early to lead the team. Accidents could happen easily when freshmen like you come for outdoor training camp without any foundation," the guy explained.

He chuckled dryly, his smile a little wry at Mu Ying's attitude toward him.

He paused seeing Yun Jian and Lin Yuan who sat next to Mu Ying and introduced himself to them, “Hi, I’m Leng Hanzhe. I’m in the last year of high school, so I’m your senior.”

The guy who called himself Leng Hanzhe then pointed to several other guys who stood around him and introduced them. “They’re all like me, seniors who the school’s invited to come back in advance to facilitate your training camp.”

Chapter 1337: If She Can’t—Trash

Leng Hanzhe knew Mu Ying as he was the son of long-time friends of Mu Ying’s parents. He had liked Mu Ying since he was a boy and had been by her side protecting her.

Around eight to nine years ago, Mu Ying was involved in a car accident and had been declared dead but Leng Hanzhe remembered that a crazed professor came and claimed that she was not on the day of her funeral.

That day, the burial ceremony did not happen and a few days later, Mu Ying was revived. It was just that since then, Mu Ying’s eyes were cold and icy. Even her gaze on Leng Hanzhe was impersonal without any warmth.

Until today, Leng Hanzhe liked Mu Ying secretly, but when he talked to her, her replies were always distant like a stranger.

Back to the reality, a feminine silhouette flashed into sight suddenly when Leng Hanzhe pointed at the facilitating seniors from sophomore and senior years who were here with him.

Lin Shuya ran to a guy standing beside Leng Hanzhe who looked rather thin on the outside but was actually healthy and muscular like she was flying. She held the guy’s hand in front of everyone and greeted joyfully, “Cousin, you’re finally here! Heh!”

She was very loud when she said that, as if she wanted everyone in the world to know that this guy was her cousin.

The other students were quickly attracted by Lin Shuya’s loud voice, especially when she had flaunted her cousin just earlier. Her elder cousin was an expert who was well trained in taekwondo, free combat and judo! Of course they were turning around to take a look at the guy when they heard Lin Shuya.

Because of that, Lin Shuya turned to Yun Jian triumphantly, thinking, ‘You got nothing to say now huh?’ She tipped her chin arrogantly.

“Han Ming, this is your younger cousin?” A guy standing next to Lin Shuya’s elder cousin asked him after he glanced at the girl with a chuckle.

Han Ming was the name of Lin Shuya’s elder cousin.

“Yeah!” Han Ming patted Lin Shuya’s shoulder and barked a laugh, looking high in spirits like he was a winner in life.

Yun Jian and Lin Yuan who were standing at the side were blatantly ignored.

Yun Jian was dressed regularly today and she was sitting on the concrete with her head lowered, not letting anyone see her face, in order not to have any limelight on herself, so she was naturally overlooked.

It was then a farmer ran over limping from afar to the instructors who were standing not too far away from Yun Jian and cried for help, "Sir, sir, help! A wild boar as huge as two people has charged out from the mountain and we've never seen a wild boar so big! A few villagers were injured by it. Sir, help us..."

There were troops stationed in Banqiao Village all year long, so the villagers frequently went to the soldiers when they ran into troubles.

The instructors hurried toward the farmer when they heard him. One of them turned to Leng Hanzhe with his brows creased. "Hanzhe, you facilitators come along too. With your current abilities, all of you should be able to help a little!"

"Yes, sir!" Leng Hanzhe and the other guys answered.

The other students were alarmed hearing that there was a wild boar as big as two people.

"Yingying, I'll get going and come back soon," Leng Hanzhe turned to tell Mu Ying.

When Leng Hanzhe and the others turned to go after their instructors, a melodious voice of a girl rang, "I'll go too."

The facilitating seniors and the other students were taken back and turned to look at Yun Jian who spoke.

"You're a girl. Stay where you are. This isn't what you can handle," Leng Hanzhe said glancing at Yun Jian.

"Exactly. Stop trying to steal attention. Hah, people like you—" Lin Shuya seized the chance and quickly added to criticize Yun Jian.

Before she finished her sentence, Mu Ying suddenly got up and spoke haughtily, "It's just a wild boar and you guys say that she can't handle it? She could easily live up to six months in the Amazon rainforest when she had no tool and had to depend on her bare hands. If she can't handle a mere wild boar, all of you here are just trash!"

Chapter 1338: Are You Still Not Leading the Way?

Since Mu Ying was revived by the crazy professor after the car accident eight to nine years ago, she had been aloof and impassive in front of Leng Hanzhe and others. Sometimes, she would be found sitting in a corner with her head down and her inky eyes staring at the ground; no one could figure out what she was thinking.

After that, she remained strange and reserved in front of others, and was already considered responsive to Leng Hanzhe.

What Mu Ying said after hearing Leng Hanzhe and Lin Shuya doubt Yun Jian's ability was basically the most she had spoken throughout these years, so Leng Hanzhe and others were stunned. What bewildered them even more was what Mu Ying had said.

"What? Yingying, what did you say? She...she's lived for six months in the Amazon rainforest without any tool?"

Leng Hanzhe was stunned, Lin Shuya was stupefied, and the other students were frozen. The instructors who had ran in the direction of the wild boar with the farmer halted their steps as well.

Everyone stared at Yun Jian in bafflement as they took in her thin and slim figure.

The Amazon rainforest was a forest with the most species in the world. At the same time, it was the habitat of many dangerous living creatures. Just thinking about it was enough to know how dangerous it was that if a regular person were to go there, they probably would not even last three days—forget six months.

For six full months, it was not like one could countdown the days staying in the forest and avoiding dangerous species. One had to eat and face the threat of poisonous snakes and wild beasts every day too.

Yun Jian had lived there for six months?

"How's it possible? How could she possibly stay in the Amazon rainforest for six months? How old is she... Besides, she..." Lin Shuya wanted to find words to retort Yun Jian's strong capabilities but as she spoke, she became slightly incoherent.

"Cous, say something... You wouldn't even dare go there even when you're an expert in taekwondo, free combat and judo, right? She's just a girl. How could she possibly..."

Lin Shuya did not want Yun Jian in the limelight and was anxious to find anything to deny that Yun Jian was impressive, even getting her cousin, Han Ming, involved in the topic.

"You girls should stop making things up. The Amazon rainforest isn't somewhere you can go just because you want to go. You probably don't even have a passport at this age?"

"You can't get out of the country without a passport and I don't think you guys have ever gone out of the country before huh? Best not to make up nonsense..."

Han Ming had a strong urge to boast as well because he did not want nor could he take someone being better than him—especially when said person was a girl.

Everyone seemed to be struck by realization when they heard what Han Ming said. Mu Ying must have been fantasizing and boasting about Yun Jian just now.

How old were they? They probably did not even have passports. Moreover, they were regular students who had just graduated junior high school. Where would they find the time to spend six months in the Amazon rainforest? More importantly, would a sane person be so crazy to go to Amazonia alone? That was absolutely unrealistic!

Yun Jian did not care about what her peers said as she went straight to the farmer. Mu Ying was too disdainful to say more and followed Yun Jian while Lin Yuan paused in surprise before she spread her long legs to keep up with the two of them.

“They’ve made it up huh? Hah, imagining herself to be so good and have stayed in the Amazon jungle for six months? Who doesn’t know how to do that?! Please... Anyone who believes that is a fool...”

Lin Shuya thought that Yun Jian and Mu Ying had gone off to the side in embarrassment because she and her cousin had exposed them. Just as she thought about it, she saw Yun Jian going to the farmer who was standing beside the instructors.

Yun Jian grabbed the farmer’s collars and pulled him out, telling him icily in front of everyone, “You’re here to ask for help but you were distracted by irrelevant things for one full minute. If it were me who’s attacking your friends, I could’ve already killed them a thousand times within this minute. Are you still not leading the way?”

Chapter 1339: Move Away if You Don’t Want to Die

Yun Jian was indirectly berating the farmer for swiftly forgetting his friends who were still in danger over something else.

The others were surprised. All of them thought that she would try and explain Lin Shuya and Han Ming’s accusation and skepticism. After all, teenagers were vehement about being refuted.

Yun Jian did not do so. Not only that, she went to grab the farmer’s collar and reprimanded him simply.

The farmer was startled before he snapped back to reality. His friends were still in danger. He scratched his head and quickly led the way saying, “Here, over here!”

Yun Jian let go of her grip on the farmer’s collar and followed him without even looking at the senior trainers and students behind her.

Mu Ying followed Yun Jian’s pace while Lin Yuan jogged up to them with a cry of “I’ll go too”.

“We’ll go too!”

Standing on the spot, the senior instructors from multiple places across the country paused in shock that they were less aware than a new freshman girl. The wild boar attack was still ongoing but they had stood rooted in surprise just because they heard something astonishing.

The senior instructors went after them, so did Leng Hanzhe and his friends.

“Hey, I’m going too since all of you are going...” Lin Shuya was still unwilling to see Yun Jian getting everyone’s attention, so she gave chase after a few hesitant steps.

Since so many people were going and their instructors were there too, the danger would not come to them no matter how risky it was. With this thought in mind, the students ran over from where they had been standing.

There was a hill nearby Banqiao Village where the deeper part of it was the forest and the outside of it laid a flat pane. The place was usually peaceful as farmers gathered from the village and went into the forest to chop some wood.

Right now, there were over a dozen farmers here with a hoe in their hands each. Right across them stood a fat gigantic wild boar the size of two adults as it grunted dully like it was going to pounce at the farmers at any given time.

The wild boar was grey in color and was completely different from domesticated pigs. Domesticated pigs were not aggressive while wild boars would attack people.

If one looked closer, there were already people who were injured among the dozen of farmers.

“Why isn’t Lao Wang back yet? We can’t hold it any longer!” the farmer whose stomach was rammed by the wild boar just now and was curling up from the throbbing pain yelled.

“What do we do? This boar is too strong. The dozen of us can’t take it down!” another person cried.

Upon scrutiny, this wild boar the size of two grown men had suffered a light injury as well. Its stomach was slashed and blood was oozing out of the wound.

“Why is this animal so tough to tackle? We can’t even hold it down!” someone shouted resentfully.

“Grah!” It was then the wild boar growled and began to launch its last attack on the farmers.

“F*ck, we’re doomed!” someone cried in despair but gripped the hoe in his hand tighter.

“Move away if you don’t want to die. I’ll take care of this!” Just when these farmers were helpless, a melodic voice of a girl sounded.

Chapter 1340: No Blood on the Blade

It was as if the crisp girly voice was enchanted because it dazed the people there. All of them retreated to the side and made way hearing the voice.

At the same time, a figure weaved through the farmers like a bolt of lightning and sprinted for the wild boar as big as two adults farther away.

“Goodness, it’s a young lady! She’ll die! There are so many of us and we can’t even tackle the wild boar!”

“Young lady, come back quickly! Come back!”

When the dozen of farmers saw that it was a teenage girl, they cried in panic.

Farther away, a group of people rushed over hastily. It was the trainers, Leng Hanzhe, Lin Shuya, and others.

“She’s lost her mind! The girl must’ve gone crazy! Save her! Quick, follow me and save her!” One of the instructors dashed to the wild boar first when he and his colleagues saw the actual size of the animal. All of them looked extremely grim.

These instructors were senior instructors from all over the country and were different from average trainers. They reacted promptly and ran toward Yun Jian.

“Hmph, that’s for showing off! I think she’d better be killed by the wild boar. How shameless of her to put our instructors in harm’s way!” Lin Shuya huffed without thinking.

“Ming, keep your cousin in check. Don’t crap about things!”

Leng Hanzhe heard Lin Shuya cursing Yun Jian and knew that Yun Jian meant differently to Mu Ying. He was also closer to Han Ming since they were friends and student body members of Min City’s military school.

As Lin Shuya was Han Ming’s younger cousin and Leng Hanzhe did not know her but was familiar with Han Ming, he turned to tell the latter straightaway under such circumstances.

“Hey, Zhe, that’s her mouth. I can’t interfere with that...” Han Ming waved weakly at Leng Hanzhe.

Slap! Before Han Ming finished his sentence, a sharp slap was heard.

It was Lin Shuya who was slapped and being thrown on the ground from the force of it.

Leng Hanzhe and Han Ming could not even react in time. By the time they realized it, Mu Ying was already warning Lin Shuya seriously, “I have blood on my hands. If I hear another word of dismay about her from you again, I don’t mind accounting your death under myself!”

Mu Ying had killed plenty of people. While it had yet to reach 1% of Yun Jian’s total kill, she had still lived up to nine years old in An Hun Group. It meant that she had spent four years in the organization.

How could she kill any fewer people when she had lived in An Hun Group for four years?

Mu Ying was a year and a half older than Yun Jian in her previous life but the body she currently was in was younger than her, ending up the same age as Yun Jian right now. Otherwise, Mu Ying should already be 18 and a half years old according to her true age.

The strength that Mu Ying slapped Lin Shuya with intimidated the latter but she was angered. She was just about to stand up and scold Mu Ying that it was futile for the latter to bluff her when she was frozen in fright by a silhouette farther away.

Yun Jian pulled out the regular butterfly knife from her mini backpack in front of the instructors, farmers and the students who caught up later. Holding the butterfly knife in her palm, she ran agilely toward the wild boar.

The wild boar dashed toward Yun Jian upon seeing her as well.

The two figures that were running toward each other made the rest who were watching from afar hold their breaths. All they saw was Yun Jian running past the wild boar so fast that they could not capture it with their naked eyes.

Before all of them could see what she was doing, she had gone past the wild boar and stood behind it before she kept the butterfly knife that stayed clean of blood back into her backpack lightly.

Everyone was flummoxed. The wild boar was not killed yet. Why was she...

“Grah!” the wild boar moaned suddenly and collapsed to the ground where everyone could see just as they thought of that.

By the time they managed to react, their eyes were wide like saucers.

Her knife and her speed were much faster than the speed of the wild boar’s blood spurting from being stabbed! The blood did not even stain the blade where it cut the boar! How fast must she be with the knife in order to achieve this?! Was she... really just a regular student?

The senior instructors who wanted to go after Yun Jian and stop her halted their steps abruptly from the shock. The others were more than baffled as well.
