

Schoolgirl 1351

Chapter 1351: I'll Eat You up if You Don't Wear It

Announcing that Yun Jian was already his woman right in front of everyone, that they were legally married, pleased Si Yi incredibly much.

If Ya Dang or Snow Eagle were here, they would probably grumble, "So this is what you're like, young master." It was just that both of them were not here. Ya Dang was in Yulong Mainland while Si Yi had asked Snow Eagle to stay in An Hun Group to do his work.

"Have you looked enough?" Si Yi asked when he saw that the instructor was still going through his and his Xiao Jian's marriage certificate.

The instructor was taken aback and tossed the certificate back to Si Yi.

Country R's marriage certificate was not exactly a marriage certificate but a marriage registration. There were a lot of variations in forms of the marriage registration but they generally looked similar but was unlike the marriage certificate in Country Z that was a red booklet. In Country R, females could get married once they reached 16 years of age too.

Si Yi did not even look as he caught the marriage certificate that the instructor tossed back and pocketed it. He kept his deep eyes on Yun Jian all the time, unwilling to even shift his gaze away for a moment.

Before he pulled Yun Jian to the forest, Si Yi said something that left a lot to the imagination—"You'd have to make up for the ticket after getting onboard."

When Si Yi said that, Yun Jian had pinched his trimmed waist gently. Her action looked like a public display of affection to everyone else—oh, a legal one at that.

"Oh my god, Yun Jian already has such a handsome boyfr—no, no, husband! They're so sweet, I'm so envious! And Yun Jian's husband has caught the marriage certificate without even looking just now. He must be pretty skilled too! A match made in heaven! Ugh, they're made for each other!"

The whole thing was already envy evoking yet Lin Yuan had to shout it out, making the others listen even if they did not want to. The girls, especially, were frenzied with envy. Lin Shuya was so envious that her nails were digging into her palms from how hard she was clenching her hands.

"Shuya, come here for a minute." It was then a lackey of Lin Shuya suddenly popped her head next to her ear to whisper something.

Lin Shuya's lackey was also Yun Jian's classmate, Xiang Chishi. She was also dying with envy but dared not do anything herself, so she inched closer to Lin Shuya and whispered a whole lot to her.

Toward the end, Lin Shuya grinned with crescent eyes and nodded, speaking softly that only her and Xiang Chishi could hear, "Humph, Yun Jian thinks it's her man? Men, all of them get bored and like new things!"

Si Yi hugged Yun Jian for quite some time in the forest before releasing her and told her, "I'm going back to An Hun Group in a while. I won't be able to leave for a long period going back this time, so come to me if you miss me."

It was not a request but an assured statement.

"Who's missing you?" Yun Jian gave Si Yi a light push and was going to turn and leave when Si Yi grabbed her wrist and pinned her against the tree to kiss her passionately.

"Xiao Jian, where's your ring?" After kissing, he realized that Yun Jian was not wearing the ring they brought back from Yulong Mainland.

No jewelry or accessories was allowed during the military training, so Yun Jian had kept it.

"In my bag," she answered after pressing her lips together.

"Mn," Si Yi hummed before he suddenly smirked. "If you don't wear it the next time, I'll eat you up."

He spoke with the smirk and even groped Yun Jian on a certain soft area.

Chapter 1352: Shooting a Frog and Scaring Lin Shuya

Si Yi took advantage and groped Yun Jian a few more times since the latter was distracted until it was futile even when Yun Jian had patted his hand to stop him.

If they were not in a forest but on a bed, Si Yi probably would not be able to hold himself back. He was unable to settle with the thought that they had already gotten their marriage certificate but had not yet consummate their marriage.

"Yun Jian's been gone for so long. I heard the drillmasters saying that the forest here isn't exactly safe. There was the wild boar attack when we came too. Do you think they'll run into any danger?"

Lin Yuan talked a lot with Mu Ying on the field but it was actually the former talking on her own. Mu Ying was only listening, occasionally making a reply or two.

As Lin Yuan spoke, she suddenly thought of dangerous events and straightened up promptly to turn and ask Mu Ying. Once the thought popped in her head, she realized that there were quite a lot of wild animals in the forest. No one could guarantee that there would not be any feral animal running out from there.

"Oh no, will something happen to them? Mu Ying, let's ask the drillmaster to look for them?" Lin Yuan got up from the ground in fright.

Mu Ying caught the hem of Lin Yuan's clothes to pull her back to sitting on the ground and replied flatly, "Don't worry. The sky would be falling if this sorry excuse of a forest is too hard for her to handle."

Lin Yuan breathed in relief after hearing what Mu Ying said. "Huh, I see. I'll stop worrying then!"

“Pft, the sky’s falling or else it’s not a challenge for her? She’s Team Monarch’s Slashing God but that doesn’t mean she’s indomitable. She’s not god! You shouldn’t be making up bluffs so carelessly!” Lin Shuya who sat nearby mocked when she heard Mu Ying.

Lin Shuya still held a prejudice toward Yun Jian even after knowing that she was Slashing God from Team Monarch. It was just that she dared not mock her as openly now as she did prior to this.

What Lin Shuya said was ignored by Mu Ying and Lin Yuan.

After sitting for a while, Lin Yuan suddenly spotted two silhouettes leaving the forest. When she saw that it was Yun Jian, she let out a sigh of relief and tugged the corner of Mu Ying’s clothes. “Look, Yun Jian’s back safely!”

“Mn.” Mu Ying nodded.

Just as she looked up, she saw two other people walking toward Yun Jian.

Yun Jian had just exited the forest with Si Yi’s company when she felt a girl dashing for her. Needless to say, the girl was Lin Shuya’s lackey, Xiang Chishi.

Xiang Chishi came over to hold Yun Jian’s wrist like she was close to Yun Jian, planning to pull her aside, as she said, “Yun Jian, you’re Slashing God, right! I admire you so much, my friends too. Can you come greet my friends?”

As she spoke, she wanted to pull Yun Jian away but before her hand could reach Yun Jian, Yun Jian side stepped and avoided it, rejecting her coldly, “I can’t.”

Xiang Chishi was startled, not expecting Yun Jian to reject her so directly.

On the other side, Lin Shuya’s goal was to flirt and hook up with Si Yi. She was speaking normally but her hands were going for Si Yi. “Hey, handsome, are you really married to Yun Jian? How did you guys get married? Can you...”

Lin Shuya had thought it through while she talked. Puberty had treated her chest well. She planned to push herself in front of Si Yi and brush her breasts against his arms. As long as it was a man, no one could take such an advance.

Imaginations were usually more pleasant than the reality. Lin Shuya did not even get to approach Si Yi, not even touch a corner of his clothes, and Si Yi had coolly kicked her off without sparing her a glance. With slightly furrowed brows, he spat through his thin lips in hatred, “Scram!”

This was not all. What scared Lin Shuya was that Si Yi had pulled out a silver pistol from the holster at his waist and aimed it at her.

“Stay away from me or this is how you’ll end up!” Right after what Si Yi said and while everyone else was shocked that he had brandished a pistol, he suddenly fired a shot at the field not too far away from Lin Shuya.

A croaking frog that was passing by died from the gunshot and its splattering blood splashed on Lin Shuya’s face and body. The suddenness of the situation ran a shudder through her and she screamed.

It was not just Lin Shuya as others were also terrified.

Chapter 1353: The Night Before the Outdoor Survival Activity Begins

Lin Shuya convulsed from the intense shock of being abruptly kicked by Si Yi and having the frog's blood splattered on her.

If she and the other girls had been envious of Yun Jian being together with Si Yi, they were now fearful and horrified by him. He had actually used a gun!

Lin Shuya was only playing a coy little trick but he kicked her and threatened to kill her! Yes, the guy looked cool but how could he be so coldblooded as well?!

The patrolling instructor saw what happened and rushed over to stop Si Yi, afraid that the latter would really kill someone in public.

“Hey, hey, don't you know that it's illegal to own a gun? Hand me the gun right now!”

The instructor could only act according to logic since he did not know who Si Yi was.

As for Lin Shuya and Xiang Chishi, both of them were almost hugging each other from the terror. It was not just the two of them, the guys who were around were quivering in fear as well.

Si Yi looked away. He had his arm around Yun Jian and without a glance at the instructor, he stuck a hand in his pants pocket to pull out another leather booklet that was not the marriage certificate to toss to said instructor.

It was at night but there were bonfires in the vicinity, so the students could all see the big words on the cover of the leather booklet—Gun Permit.

Yun Jian raised her brow at the sight. He even applied for Country Z's gun permit?

When Si Yi came to Country Z in the past, he had never cared about it. He could just leave the country after committing a crime. Based on his identity and status, the police would end up without any news even if they went after him.

In spite of it, he no longer did that. For her, he stopped killing people in Country Z and had even applied for a gun permit now to bring along his pistol. After all, Yun Jian had a life to live in Country Z. Qin Yirou, Yun Yi, and others were all in Country Z and she would not be able to keep living with them if something did happen.

It was apparent how much changes Si Yi had done for her. He was the head of An Hun Group yet he had born all the troubles just for Yun Jian.

If they were not currently in Country Z, Lin Shuya would definitely end up like the frog.

When the instructor caught the gun permit, his eyes widened.

“This... uh...” The instructor looked up at Si Yi before he flipped through the gun permit he was holding with a slight shake in his hands.

“This is a genuine gun permit. You...” What the instructor said shocked the students.

While they had seen the words “Gun Permit” in bold just now, it was still shocking to hear their instructor’s verification. This meant that it was legal for Si Yi to have a pistol.

Lin Shuya and Xiang Chishi froze in fear, looking like they were scared Si Yi would actually shoot both of them.

Si Yi ignored everyone’s reaction. After he put his pistol back to the holster, he hugged Yun Jian again in front of everyone. At the same time, his deep voice rang, “I’m leaving. If someone bullies you, kill them. I’ll take care of it for you no matter what happens!”

Yun Jian replied with a soft hum right after Si Yi spoke.

A regular person would never be able to produce a gun permit, so this implied that Si Yi was no regular person!

Even the drillmaster was currently a little stunned. The others were as well even when Si Yi had taken the gun permit back from their instructor and left the place.

“Eh, Yun Jian, you’re wearing a ring? It’s so pretty!” Lin Yuan suddenly ran to Yun Jian and lifted her hand to check her ring finger, crying out in delight.

Si Yi was the one who wore the ring for her, purposely choosing her ring finger. Yun Jian reeled back her gaze from where Si Yi had left and smiled. “Mn.”

“Okay, okay, go back to your tents and sleep. It’s alright now, everything’s fine. Those who are joining the seven days of outdoor survival activity, especially, hurry up and rest!” the drillmaster urged.

All the students then went back to their tents.

The night passed without any other incident.

Chapter 1354: A Competition With Woolim Military School

The next day was sunny as usual with the southern sun rising earlier in summer. The break of dawn in the east was around 4:20am in the morning and the sky would brighten up completely in less than 20 minutes.

Yun Jian woke up at 4:30am. The air at this time was the freshest where one would feel thoroughly refreshed and rejuvenated with a deep breath. Pulling the zipper, Yun Jian came out of her tent and did a light stretch.

The other students were still sleeping in the tents around her. Their wake up time was set at 6:30am and those who were joining the outdoor survival activity would be sent to the activity location by the school bus at 7:00am.

“Yun Jian, you’re up early,” Drillmaster Zhou said with a smile after he came over from the side and glanced at Yun Jian.

“It’s not that early.” Yun Jian smiled and wore her white canvas shoes to get up and go to the forest.

“What are you going to do, Yun Jian?” Drillmaster Zhou was surprised.

“Morning workout,” Yun Jian answered with a stretch of her body and jogged toward the forest.

Drillmaster Zhou who stood rooted to the spot chuckled and shook his head complimenting, “What a great potential...”

It was already 5:30am by the time Yun Jian came back from her morning run. The students had yet to wake up while a few instructors were already up and sitting on the grass.

Drillmaster Zhou waved at Yun Jian when he saw her. “Hey, Yun Jian, you’re back? The other students will only wake up an hour later. Come, let’s have a chat.”

Yun Jian wiped the sweat dotting her forehead and went toward the instructors before she plopped herself down on the grass, turning to look at them.

“The students who aren’t participating in the outdoor survival activity today will end their military training in advance, so they were asked to submit the memo of whether they’re joining the activity last night.”

“There’s a total of 15 classes in a year and the number of students participating can’t even make up one class. How are we supposed to compete with Woolim Military School from An Province?”

One of the drillmasters slammed a bunch of memos on the ground and gritted through his teeth.

Yun Jian asked with an arch of her brow, “Our school’s competing with another province’s military school in this outdoor survival activity?”

Drillmaster Zhou answered her directly, “Yes, the competition will be which school has more students passing the outdoor survival activity. I’ll talk about it in a while.”

Yun Jian pressed her lips together and ceased asking.

Mu Ying woke up at 6am while the rest of the students woke up at 6:30am.

The students who were not joining the outdoor survival activity were getting ready to head back to school and go home for a rest after ending their military training while those who would go on to join the activity were staying.

After sending the students who did not want to join the outdoor survival activity off at 6:30am, there were only 30 students left from the freshman year—which also meant that these 30 students were willing to participate in the outdoor survival event.

As these students were sent to a seaside not too far away from Min City, Drillmaster Zhou mentioned that they would have to compete against students from Woolim Military School of An Province’s Zhima City and the location was set at an uninhabited island.

The desert island was huge with dangerous animals in there. Drillmaster Zhou would give each student an SOS button before they entered and once the button was pressed, the troop would know that the particular student had given up competing and would send a helicopter to take them away. One was allowed to give up in the middle of the competition.

Yun Jian and others met Woolim Military School's freshmen at Min City's seaside after they got out of the bus and before they entered the desert island.

Some students from Woolim Military School began to bluster when they saw Yun Jian and peers who were from Min City Military School looking thin and weak. One of them had even snorted, "Pft, look at them! There are so many girls too and they want to compete with us men from Woolim Military School? Jokes on them!"

Chapter 1355: The SOS Signal. Might Be a Fool

A lot of playful guys from Min City Military School had backed down and did not join the outdoor survival activity this time. Instead, it was a group of girls riding to the challenge.

Lin Shuya, Xiang Chishi and Wen Peiling were all here. Yun Jian and Mu Ying went without saying while Lin Yuan decisively wrote on the memo that she was joining on the night they had to state whether they were participating in the event, so she was here too. There were several girls from other classes as well.

Despite that, there were still more guys who came.

Leng Hanzhe and Han Ming were participating without a doubt. As for guys from the other classes, there were a scattered few signing up too.

The girls were not exactly the majority since there was only a handful of them in the military school.

In comparison to Woolim Military school, however, the boys from Woolim looked fierce with how robust and well-built they were while there were only one or two girls among them.

Min City Military School's boys were indignant when they heard what the guy from Woolim Military School said.

"Just you wait. We'll win for sure!" one of the guys from Yun Jian's school shouted back from being riled up.

For a moment, the atmosphere on both sides tensed.

"Alright, alright, stop arguing, everyone. Friendship comes first and competition comes next," Wen Peiling stepped up to say genially.

No matter how chaotic the scene was or how aggressive people were quarreling, Wen Peiling could always flash an easy-going smile.

Yun Jian raised a slight brow at that.

All of them went on the ship to the uninhabited island being led by Woolim Military School's instructors as well as Drillmaster Zhou and other Min City Military School instructors.

Yun Jian sat in the cruise ship with her eyes closed for a break.

After a while, a loud argument broke out abruptly from the side and the sheer volume made Yun Jian open her eyes. Her ears were greeted with grating squabbling as two girls were fighting.

“You stepped on my foot just now. What? Hah, it makes me wonder why girls from Woolim Military School don’t even know how to apologize. Do I have to teach you? B*tch!”

This was Lin Shuya, Yun Jian could recognize it straightaway.

“You—you... I’m telling you, I’ll ask people to beat you up to death if we aren’t in the middle of the military training right now. Try me!”

This came from one of the girls in Woolim Military School.

“Weiwei, stop fighting. Let’s not argue with uncultured Min City Military School students!” Another girl from Woolim Military School quickly pulled the girl who was quarreling with Lin Shuya away.

This girl who was squabbling with Lin Shuya was named Xu Wei. Xu Wei had only stopped fighting Lin Shuya when her friend forcefully dragged her away but before she left, she shouted at Lin Shuya, “Just you wait. I’ll stop using my name Xu Wei if I didn’t make sure you’re dead!”

Wen Peiling was startled by what Xu Wei said and she hurried to pull Lin Shuya away.

“What kind of person is this...” Lin Shuya whined again.

Yun Jian casted her gaze down and was going to close her eyes again when she saw Drillmaster Zhou beginning to distribute the SOS transmitter to every student.

There was a button on the SOS transmitter where the GPS would be activated with a press of it. If a particular student no longer wanted to stay in the competition, they could press the button to surrender and quit the competition halfway through. The helicopter would fly according to the GPS location shown by the SOS transmitter and pick up said student.

When Drillmaster Zhou passed the SOS transmitter to Yun Jian, she did not accept it. “I don’t need it.”

“Each student has one. Take it and do with it what you will,” Drillmaster Zhou said with a smile.

Yun Jian took the SOS transmitter then but tossed it into the sea outside of the cruise ship without looking at it. This would mean that she had no way out, not even qualifying to quit the competition before it was done.

The guys from Woolim Military School started to whistle in provocation. There was a guy who teased, “Whoa, this girl’s pretty fierce but her decision isn’t quite brilliant, haha!”

“She threw the SOS transmitter away. I’m afraid she’s a fool!”

Chapter 1356: Entering the Forest of the Uninhabited Island

“Our classmate isn’t for you to comment on even if she’s a fool! Trashy Woolim Military School!” Something must have snapped in Lin Shuya at this time as she barked back at the guy on behalf of Yun Jian.

The sole reason she had done it was because Min City Military School was currently pitched against Woolim Military School. It was one thing for her to fight with someone of the same side and another thing for her people to fight with outsiders.

“What are you talking about, woman? Watch out before I hit you!” The guy from Woolim Military School got up and waved his fists at Lin Shuya once he heard her.

A guy was stronger than a regular girl, after all, so Lin Shuya shrunk back in fear at the threat.

Crack!

Just as the guys from Woolim Military School laughed at Lin Shuya’s cowardice, Yun Jian’s hand that was resting on the armrest clenched in exertion out of the blue.

Everyone turned to look at the sound only to see Yun Jian’s clench of hand on the armrest had directly broken the plastic structure!

Although the armrest was made of plastic, it was pretty large in size, so an average strength would never be able to break it. Despite that, Yun Jian looked thin and weak, petite like she did not eat much and had no energy; once her hand made a light clench, though, she broke the plastic armrest off directly!

How much strength did she have?

The Woolim Military School boys who had been cackling and mocking felt their breaths catch in shock at the unexpected sight.

“Goodness! Mother of pearl! This—she’s not a human!” a guy from Woolim Military School yelled the moment he witnessed the scene.

Yun Jian had only thrown the armrest to the floor and rested the side of her head on her palm before saying in slight annoyance, “You’re very noisy.”

Hearing what she said and having watched what she had done, the boys from Woolim Military School clamped their mouth shut instantly and timidly.

The sight only made the guys from Yun Jian’s school guffaw.

“Oh my, that felt great! Yun Jian, you’re amazing! We have your back!”

Similar sentiments were voiced continuously but Yun Jian had only turned way to rest with her eyes closed.

When things quieted down, someone among the bunch of guys from Woolim Military School yelled at Yun Jian, “It’s not nice for a girl to be so rough. No one will want you when you grow up!”

“I do, I do! She’s so pretty! I want her!”

Worse, someone asked Yun Jian, “Hey, girl, be my girlfriend if we win this competition, okay?”

It stirred commotion once again but no one from Min City Military School spoke up for Yun Jian. Lin Yuan had wanted to snap at the guy on behalf of Yun Jian but Mu Ying stopped her.

When they arrived at the desert island, the instructors reminded all of them again and again before finally checking that each student had sufficient food for seven days in their military rucksack before watching them enter the dense and uninhabited forest.

Each student had brought sufficient food and necessities as it would be dangerous for them to enter the forest without bringing anything since they had no practical experience prior to this. Other than that, the instructors had also prepared a military dagger each for the students for self-defense purposes.

All the students from Woolim Military School and Min City Military School walked together when they had just entered the desert island's forest. The sun shone bright in the sky, so it did not feel eerie even when they were deep in the forest.

As Lin Yuan trekked along, she turned to look at Yun Jian then at Mu Ying and asked as if influenced by the environment, "Mu Ying, how was it when you and Yun Jian were in the Amazon jungle last time? Can you tell me about it?"

She blinked her eyes curiously as she spoke.

The guys from Woolim Military School who had no idea about the situation and heard that the two girls had been to the Amazon rainforest looked over, scanning Yun Jian and Mu Ying like they were assessing them.

Chapter 1357: Feel Free to Go, It's a Swamp

"Please, you sure? Two girls in the Amazon forest? Are you kidding me? Do you have passports? Can you leave the country? I don't buy it!"

One of the Woolim Military School guys who had been leading his peers to provoke others and looked like a delinquent was the first to yell before he looked at Yun Jian and Mu Ying skeptically.

The disbelief on his expression was palpable to everyone there.

"Yeah, I might believe it if it were a guy but kill me and I still won't believe it when it comes to you two skinny girls!"

Standing next to the delinquent-looking guy was another guy who was closer to the former as he voiced his support and cackled in chorus.

The first guy was Wu Bukui and the latter was Ma Xiaoyao. These two guys were known for being skilled but did not exactly have the best character among the freshmen in Woolim Military School.

Wu Bukui, especially, had taken advantage of many girls when he gained their admiration for his outstanding performance during the military training. In his own words, he wanted to sleep with all the pretty girls!

He found Yun Jian attractive when he laid eyes on her just now.

As guys, they were the most competitive during adolescence and wanted to prove themselves to be better once they heard that a certain guy was better than them. What was more, this was a girl. They would deny it no matter what if it was a girl who was better than them, unless the girl could convince them otherwise.

Lin Yuan had just wanted to ask Mu Ying about it, not expecting the guys from Woolim Military School to respond, so she stomped her foot angrily.

Mu Ying completely disregarded the guys, like she did not hear them, and answered Lin Yuan, "That was a very long time ago. I spent half a year in Amazonia with Yun Jian. When we went there, forget food, we don't even have a knife with us. Where wild animals are plenty in the Amazon jungle, I met a pack of panthers once I went in..."

Mu Ying suddenly turned to ask Yun Jian, "Yun Jian, what's the first animal you met after you got in the jungle?"

Mu Ying's question to Yun Jian felt reminiscing of their past dangerous adventure. It was both terrifying and nostalgic.

"Cobras, about hundreds of them," Yun Jian replied with a press of lips and her eyes on the ground.

"Hahaha, panther pack and cobras, eh! What a joke!" Once Mu Ying and Yun Jian finished talking, Wu Bukui, Ma Xiaoyao and the rest of the guys from Woolim Military School began to guffaw again.

Just when they continued taking two steps forward, Yun Jian suddenly looked up and yelled, "Stand right there!"

Everyone halted their steps, shocked by Yun Jian's loud voice. She had cried loud and clear, surprising Wu Bukui before he snapped back to reality.

"What the heck? Pretty girl, you lost your mind?" Wu Bukui shouted back.

"Move forward and it's a swamp. You can all forget about living once you step into the swamp," Yun Jian said impassively.

"Hahaha! A swamp huh? The path in front of us looks normal. Are you kidding us? Or are you obsessed with seeking attention? Is this all you people from Min City Military School can do?"

This time, it was the girl, Xu Wei, who had argued with Lin Shuya earlier who mocked Yun Jian. Obviously, she was disgruntled that Yun Jian seemed to have hogged all the attention of the guys in her school.

"Feel free to go if you want." Yun Jian did not even look at Xu Wei as she crouched slightly to pick up a big stone from the ground and threw it to the front.

The path that looked smooth like it was an ordinary way suddenly collapsed and "swallowed" the stone entirely.

Xu Wei who wanted to mock Yun Jian further was shocked. The other students quickly stopped themselves and paled from the terror. The ground that looked no different than other surfaces was really a swamp!

Yun Jian was right!

If it were not for her, all of them would have... Once they thought of the possibility, all of them gulped.

Chapter 1358: Inviting Danger

Xu Wei and Wu Bukui looked appalled. Xu Wei, especially, since she was the loudest in doubting Yun Jian just now; when Yun Jian told her “feel free to go if you want”, she was already planning to pick up her foot and step forward, thinking how could the ground be a swamp when it looked flat and who was Yun Jian trying to fool?

Before Xu Wei could move forward, however, Yun Jian had thrown a huge rock to the front and the ground that seemed nothing out of the ordinary swallowed the rock.

It was a swamp! This was what a swamp was! Yun Jian was right!

If Yun Jian had thrown the stone into the swamp just one moment slower, Xu Wei would be doomed once she set foot on the swamp!

Everyone was instantly frightened.

A student from Woolim Military School had even cried, “How is this possible? Didn’t the drillmasters say that there won’t be any danger? How come there’s a swamp here? This is impossible, this—”

“Anything’s possible. This forest isn’t as simple as it seems. Leave now if you can’t take it.” Yun Jian threw the Woolim Military School student who was causing a ruckus an icy glance.

It made the student shudder before he yelled, “I’m not going on with this! This is toying with our lives!”

He pressed the button once he yelled, choosing to quit the competition. It was too dangerous here! They could die here anytime!

Within ten minutes, a military helicopter arrived and took the student away.

There were several more guys from Woolim Military School who voluntarily quitted the competition but no one from Yun Jian’s school opted to do the same.

When those who chose to give up left, Yun Jian turned to tell the others, “Those who can’t stand me and don’t believe me, we part ways here. I don’t have the duty to take you guys along. All the best.”

Yun Jian waved for Mu Ying and Lin Yuan the moment she finished talking.

Xu Wei dared not say more even when what Yun Jian said obviously meant them. The students from Woolim Military School wanted to go with Yun Jian but were unable to forgo their pride, so they made their way toward the left being led by Wu Bukui.

The students from Min City Military School stood still.

“I’ll stay with Yingying.” This was Leng Hanzhe’s intention.

“Let’s go together. We can only win by working together and it’s quite dangerous here. I think Yun Jian’s more knowledgeable in terms in outdoor survival, so we’ll have her do us a favor and lead the way. It’s for the glory of our school too,” Wen Peiling spoke up immediately after Leng Hanzhe.

“You can follow me but you’re not allowed to doubt my judgment or you leave.” This was Yun Jian’s principle as she stated it coldly without an expression standing before everyone.

“She’s just a little better and she really thinks she’s—” Lin Shuya was a little pissed and started muttering when Wen Peiling covered her mouth at once.

“Alright, we listen to Yun Jian from now on. Anyone who has an opinion or thinks they’re more capable, go on your own!” Leng Hanzhe was the oldest out of the group, so his words were somehow authoritative.

No one actually dared say another word and all of them trekked toward the opposite direction of where Woolim Military School students had left in.

After walking for about half an hour, there were cries for help that grew louder from behind them. It was audible that it was Woolim Military School students who were sprinting toward them as they cried for help, causing Leng Hanzhe and his schoolmates to frown.

“Ah! They’re catching up! So many snakes! What do we do! I don’t want to stay in this stupid place anymore! It’ll kill us! Argh!”

“F*ck, run! Hurry and run!”

Had the students from Woolim Military School invited danger over? Yun Jian furrowed her brows.

Chapter 1359: Her Composure in Chasing the Snakes Away

There was no change in Yun Jian’s expression except a gleam that flashed across her eyes. In contrast, the students from her school tensed up once they heard approaching shrieks from Woolim Military School students.

“W-what’s going on... What’s happening?” Han Ming looked terrified when he snapped his head to Leng Hanzhe and asked anxiously.

“It’s... It sounds like they’re being chased by snakes. Run!” Leng Hanzhe did not look good either but he was already the calmest one in reaction compared to those around him.

“S-snakes? I’m the most scared of snakes! Ahh!” Lin Shuya’s legs nearly gave out and caused her to fall to the ground. She turned pale immediately and wanted to be the first to run off.

“It’s snakes. You can’t run.” Yun Jian crouched on the ground and placed a palm on it to feel the vibrations coming from afar.

“Yun Jian, are you trying to get us all killed?! You already said it’s snakes and you don’t allow us to run!” Lin Shuya could barely suppress her fear as she went berserk with the urge to run.

It was then she heard Leng Hanzhe. “Listen to Yun Jian! Whoever runs now, there’s no need to stay with us for the next seven days!”

Leng Hanzhe’s order frightened Lin Shuya even more, so she dared not run anymore.

“Since it’s snakes, let’s go up the trees!” Xiang Chishi who was with Lin Shuya suddenly suggested.

Listening to the approaching footsteps of Woolim Military School students, everyone was already quivering in fear, so they looked for big trees when they heard what Xiang Chishi said. Even Lin Shuya who would never climb a tree to take care of her image was scrambling up a tree now.

By then, Yun Jian had lifted her hand off the ground and straightened up.

“Snakes can go up trees too,” she said.

This reminded the students who were already on the tree. That was right, snakes could go up trees as well. What—what were they going to do? Were they really dying here?!

No! They did not want to die...

It was at the same time they heard Yun Jian speaking calmly, “Take out papers, books or anything flammable with you. Snakes are scared of fire and smoke. With fire comes smoke. They won’t dare come over once we have a fire lit.”

The guys were struck with realization once they heard Yun Jian. The students took out books and papers from their military rucksacks and piled them up the fastest they could before Yun Jian fished out a lighter, lit it, and threw it to the pile altogether.

Simultaneously, they saw Woolim Military School students running toward them with tens of snakes slithering behind them. When the Woolim Military School students came to the bonfire, they jumped over it while the slithering snakes seemed to realize something and turned away immediately to flee like they had ran into some sort of enemy.

Everyone wore an alert and fearful expression. Yun Jian was the only one who crossed her arms and watched the snakes leave standing right behind the bonfire.

The students on the trees climbed off after they made sure the snakes actually left. Xu Wei, Wu Bukui and others who led their schoolmates toward another direction earlier breathed in relief. Yun Jian’s schoolmates, on the other hand, were impressed by Yun Jian’s composure despite the emergency.

She was calm and composed, not at all panicked and anxious.

They then recalled that Mu Ying had mentioned her and Yun Jian surviving in the Amazon rainforest in the beginning and the first creature Yun Jian had encountered upon entering the Amazon rainforest was snakes. The method of chasing the snakes away just now was exactly part of outdoor survival’s general knowledge.

This meant that...

“Yun Jian, have you really spent six months in the Amazon jungle?” Leng Hanzhe looked at Yun Jian with a slight frown.

The question caused everyone to turn around and train their eyes on Yun Jian like they were trying to get an answer by staring at her.

Chapter 1360: Sleeping on the Tree. Shuya’s Missing

Leng Hanzhe’s question piqued everyone’s curiosity.

Feeling the blatant gazes on her, Yun Jian did not shy away from the stares but met their eyes openly instead. She smiled, her cherry red lips ticking up in the corners, and answered amidst everyone’s anticipating gaze, “Does it matter? You believe what you want. There’s nothing for me to say.”

Yun Jian turned to call Mu Ying and Lin Yuan after that and led the way forward.

“Hey, Yun Jian, wait for us!” The others rushed to follow seeing that the three girls were leaving—even students from Woolim Military School kept up in fear.

No one cared about their pride at this moment because it was not as important as their life. Following Yun Jian could at least guarantee that they stayed alive!

Wu Bukui, Xu Wei, Ma Xiaoyao, and the remaining Woolim Military School students hurried after Yun Jian, going whichever way Yun Jian was going.

Yun Jian did not try to throw them off and abandon them either.

They went from morning, to afternoon, till evening. The desert island was chilly at dusk. There was no sign of life around them and wild animals could be heard growling occasionally.

The students sat huddled together looking rather shaken.

“The firewood’s here. It’s all here.” Listening to Yun Jian, Leng Hanzhe arranged for several guys to collect the firewood and heaped them together.

“Mn.” Yun Jian took a glance and told Leng Hanzhe, “Use it sparingly. The fire stays until the sun rises in the morning. Pair everyone up to stay guard at night.”

She then scanned the students who were setting up their tents in the area and went to a tree. With a light bounce from her step on the ground, she sprang up the tree speedily and lay on a strong looking branch.

“Yun Jian, what are you... doing?” Wen Peiling who saw it asked Yun Jian with a surprised gape of mouth; there was also a sense of bewilderment in her gaze.

“Sleeping,” Yun Jian replied and closed her eyes.

“Sleeping on the tree? Please, does she think she’s filming an action movie?” Lin Shuya scowled, unable to hold back her arrogance.

Wen Peiling tugged Lin Shuya’s sleeve the moment she said that.

“Shuya, don’t be like that. Yun Jian’s saved us twice! She’s our savior!” Wen Peiling soothed Lin Shuya on her shoulders.

Lin Shuya replied indignantly, “Senior Peiling, you’re always so kind...”

Yun Jian did not hear what they said as she closed her eyes to rest right away.

The next three days, they took shelter at the same spot. The guys went to the beach to catch fish and collect firewood in the day and lit up a bonfire in the night to prevent wild animals from coming close when no one paid attention.

The fourth day, a group of them picked some fresh mushrooms and were about to cook them to eat when Yun Jian stopped and nagged them.

The fifth morning, Yun Jian was woken up by screams. She opened her eyes, hopped off the tree, and saw Wen Peiling and a few other girls screeching in horror. The others all looked panicky.

“Shuya’s missing? Shuya’s missing! ...”

“How could a person go missing out of the blue?” someone asked with colors drained off their face.

“Ah, I remember. I saw her going to the beach alone yesterday evening and I asked her what she’s going to do. She ignored me and I remember I that I went to sleep first...” a girl said shakily.

It was indescribably terrifying when someone in the team went missing in an eerie forest like this.

“What do we do? What do we do?” Some girls were at a loss for words.

“Don’t panic. We’ll go to the beach to look for her.” Leng Hanzhe was anxious as well but he calmly gathered a few guys to go look for Lin Shuya at the beach.
