

Schoolgirl 1451

Chapter 1451: Haunted House Horror. Calm as She Is

Even the woman could not take it. She was holding her daughter who was at the age of 12-13 and it was soon their turn to enter the Sagawa Hospital.

The woman was already nervous yet she heard Yun Jian's nonchalant words. The sudden burst of frustration had nowhere to go, so she nagged Yun Jian openly. It was just that Yun Jian ignored her.

"Hey, we're meeting again! Haha! It seems that we're quite fated huh!"

When the line got shorter and shorter, a flippant voice of a guy sounded from the back. Yun Jian could recognize someone by their voice; she did not even have to turn her head to know who it was behind them.

It was the guy who tried to flirt with them in the milk tea parlor earlier.

Zhou Dongxun looked at Yun Jian, Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan happily, not expecting to bump into them again so soon. Everyone there was slightly antsy about entering the haunted house but as a real man, Zhou Dongxun thought that he should act braver in front of the girls, especially since the girls might run into his arms when they got scared inside the scary haunted house.

The thought of it thrilled him, so he tried talking to Yun Jian and the girls even more boldly, "I'm not making it up. They really don't let girls go in alone. The Sagawa Hospital isn't like other haunted houses. It's the scariest hospital themed haunted house to date. It's said that someone's been scared to their death on the spot before! That's why girls need to be accompanied by strong guys."

Zhou Dongxun was not actually lying. Yun Jian had caught sight of the warning from the notice farther away and pressed her lips together.

"Can you take us in then? Take us in and we'll split up once we're inside," Wang Cancan turned to ask Zhou Dongxun.

"Sure! We have five of us here and three of you. We can team up and enter together!" Zhou Dongxun agreed readily as his eyes kept flitting to Yun Jian.

Yun Jian did not speak this time.

Zhou Dongxun was the most popular guy in Longmen City's Er High School. Needless to say, plenty of girls were after handsome guys like him—like the two girls who had been following them around, they were Zhou Dongxun's suitors.

It was unfortunate that the two girls looked average and had only hung out with Zhou Dongxun and friends usually by putting on thick makeup.

Hanging around outside, egoistical guys like Zhou Dongxun liked having girls around them all the time. Even when they did not like the girls, having them around meant they had an audience to act cool and brag to.

It was just that Zhou Dongxun currently had better candidates—Yun Jian and her friends. Not only were the three of them prettier than the two girls he had taken out, one could just keep looking at how beautiful they were.

This made Zhou Dongxun imagine how he would appear like a hero to save the damsel in distress when Yun Jian and her friends got afraid and wanted to bury themselves into the floor when they were in the haunted house later.

Ah! Just thinking about it excited Zhou Dongxun! Showing off his manliness by boasting that he was not scared of any ghosts in the haunted house was just so fun!

Since Zhou Dongxun was the most popular guy in Longmen City's Er High School, the two girls who came with him were dressed fashionably with thick makeup even though they looked rather plain.

Both of them wanted to attract Zhou Dongxun's attention, not expecting the guy to invite Yun Jian and her friends along. It caused the two girls to feel incredibly jealous.

One of them who had red lipstick and wore a thick layer of foundation told Zhou Dongxun indignantly, "Dongxun, why'd you ask them to come with us? They look real timid, like they're going to scream the moment they go in. What if they get too scared and dare not move in the haunted house? They'll slow us down!"

"Wang Qiaoyu, you can go alone if I hear another word from you!" Zhou Dongxun snapped at the girl.

"Dongxun... you—humph!" The girl named Wang Qiaoyu was angry but said nothing more.

It was soon Yun Jian and her company's turn to enter the haunted house.

It was clearly stated that girls had to be accompanied by strong men to enter the haunted house here.

Zhou Dongxun's group which consisted of five people was made up of two girls and three guys, so the three guys were barely considered "strong men".

Usually, a group of four to six would go together, but Zhou Dongxun's group of five and Yun Jian's group of three equaled eight of them. Despite that, the crew of Sagawa Hospital let them in after thinking about it and gave out two sets of tools to the group—two flashlights and two shields.

Yun Jian took a flashlight and gave a shield to Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan.

All eight of them then walked in the dark entrance of the haunted house.

The haunted house took over three floors of the basement and the whole set-up was built in a hospital theme.

Once they went in, it felt chilly. Zhou Dongxun and his friends shuddered before they slowly made their way forward.

Yun Jian strolled leisurely, like she was taking a walk in the garden of her own house. It surprised Zhou Dongxun and stirred a disgruntled comment from Wang Qiaoyu, "Hah! Acting all cool and mysterious, let's see how much longer you can keep this up for!"

As soon as she said that, a woman sprang up from a big bathtub filled with blood right before them.

“Ahh! Arghh!”

No one was expecting to see a woman covered in blood standing up from the bathtub that looked like it was empty. Zhou Dongxun, Wang Qiaoyu and the others shrieked at the sight of the woman.

Out of the corner of their eyes, they saw that Yun Jian was not frightened by the woman drenched in blood at all. Instead, she went over to her and scrutinized her before cracking a grin.

“Not enough blood. It’d be more convincing if the blood flows from the top of your head. It’s easy to see that it’s the crew with this makeup technique. Oh, you could put a fake cleaver on your head too— doesn’t look perfect without a prop.”

Chapter 1452: Like She’s Really Been There

What Yun Jian said shocked the female ghost who popped up who was also part of the crew. Usually, students at Yun Jian’s age would have reacted as violently as Zhou Dongxun, Wang Qiaoyu and group when they saw a ghost covered in blood springing out from the bloodied bathtub. Even Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan who came with Yun Jian could not help screaming when the ghost appeared out of the blue.

One of the important factors the Sagawa Hospital was able to be so terrifying was because the crew made realistic ghosts. The special effect makeup transformed them into zombies and the undead. The crew who acted as zombies would even chase the visitors around in the haunted house like actual zombies to make it realistic.

Furthermore, the Longmen City stop of Sagawa Hospital was a large-scale haunted house set-up in the national tour. There were tens of medical scenarios, abandoned hospitals, gory situations, and psychotic doctors, nurses and hospital directors.

The zombies were scattered around and the routes were like a maze. There were also traps and secret passages. One had to be highly alert during the game because the ghosts would spring up anytime and the zombies were rampant.

The female ghost who hid in the bloodied bathtub was only a start.

In spite of it, that itself had already terrified the group. Zhou Dongxun and the other two guys who wanted to show off in front of the girls were screaming together with the girls.

The fact that Yun Jian was not afraid of the female ghost and had even gone up to complain about how her disguise was not scary enough had slightly lightened up the mood when Zhou Dongxun, Wang Qiaoyu and their friends, as well as Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan, were scared witless. They managed to recompose themselves immediately.

Because of what Yun Jian said, the worker who was acting as the female ghost in the bathtub was completely stunned.

After all, the instinct of girls who came to the haunted house and saw a ghost was either to scream, panic, or hide behind men for protection. This girl had just come to her and told her that there was not enough blood and the makeup technique was exposing her disguise?

She was not behaving like how a girl should be! This shocked the worker who was acting as the ghost.

Even when Zhou Dongxun, Wang Qiaoyu and their friends knew that the female ghost standing in the bathtub was disguised by a worker, they still did not dare go over to Yun Jian. Instead, Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan who recovered from the fear went to stand beside Yun Jian.

“You... Are you crazy? We’re h-here... in the haunted h-house for the thrill. You pointing it out is just spoiling the fun!” Wang Qiaoyu cried aloud like she had caught Yun Jian’s mistake.

She disliked Yun Jian, so when there was a chance to berate the latter, she took it.

“What are you saying?! What right do you have to criticize Yun Jian? I’ve mentioned it when we came in, we split up once we’re inside the haunted house. You’re with your group and the three of us are in our group. We don’t stay together!” Wang Cancan shouted at Wang Qiaoyu, Zhou Dongxun and their friends seeing that Wang Qiaoyu was obviously hostile toward Yun Jian and pulled Yun Jian and Lu Feiyan aside.

They had just started walking away when Zhou Dongxun asked them to stay, “Hey, hey, don’t! Let’s go together! My friend didn’t do it on purpose. I’ll scold her!”

He turned around and berated Wang Qiaoyu. It did make the latter shut up but she was only more resentful of the three girls.

Wang Cancan wanted to leave with Yun Jian and Lu Feiyan but the darkness that loomed forward and the zombies—who were actually the crew—that might pop up anytime made her pause and stick with Zhou Dongxun.

The group continued on their way with Zhou Dongxun asking Yun Jian, “Aren’t you scared at all?”

“Why should I be? This haunted house isn’t even on the level of Fuji-Q Haunted House. Fuji-Q Haunted House wasn’t scary to me, so how could this one scare me?” Yun Jian replied indifferently.

Despite that, it held a different meaning when it went to Wang Qiaoyu and others’ ears.

Fuji-Q Haunted House was recognized as the world’s scariest haunted house.

“You’ve been to Fuji-Q Haunted House? Hah! Can you stop talking to us like you’ve been everywhere? Stop acting like you’ve really been there!” Wang Qiaoyu who was annoyed snapped back at Yun Jian.

Chapter 1453: Less Talk, More Work. Her Guts

Wang Qiaoyu was skeptical about Yun Jian having been to Fuji-Q Haunted House. After all, that was considered the world’s scariest haunted house. Usually, one would need both wealth and guts to go to a large-scale haunted house adventure like it.

The Sagawa Hospital was perhaps already enough of a horror and was considered the scariest mobile haunted house, but it was a mobile one after all with its setting and props created for temporary use.

Fuji-Q Haunted House was different.

It utilized a local abandoned hospital and used the hospital setting as well, but what was different was that its location was legitimately an abandoned hospital. With the matching theme, the realistic atmosphere was unlike the one Sagawa Hospital gave off since the latter was built from scratch in each of its stop.

There were people scared to actual death in Fuji-Q Haunted House each year. Despite the risk, there were still a lot of them who signed up to go.

Putting aside if Yun Jian dared go or not, Yun Jian's dressing did not look like she was rich since Fuji-Q Haunted House was located overseas. That was why Wang Qiaoyu dared talk to her like that.

"It's not important whether I've been there or not. What's important is that I now know that you mustn't have been there." In the dark, the corners of Yun Jian's lips could be seen ticking into a smirk as she held the flashlight.

It was quite indirect. If one listened to it properly, she was saying that Wang Qiaoyu was naïve.

Wang Qiaoyu was the kind of girl who slacked in school and hung out with delinquents and guys, smoking and drinking, thinking that she was the coolest and the best person in the world.

That was why she growled once Yun Jian spoke. "You—"

"Do you want to die? Do you know who I am? My older brother's in the top gang in Longmen City, Falcon Hall. He's a gangster! You better watch out or I'll teach you a lesson!" Wang Qiaoyu threatened Yun Jian instantly.

The older brother Wang Qiaoyu mentioned was not her biological elder brother. It was just an older guy she got to know outside of school. Creating ties and pretending to be related was something trendy among people like Wang Qiaoyu.

"Wang Qiaoyu! I'm not asking you to hang out with us anymore!" Zhou Dongxun snapped at her before Yun Jian replied.

It had been a chore for him to ask Yun Jian and her friends to stay with them but with Wang Qiaoyu constantly picking a fight, what if the three girls did not want to hang around them again?

Wang Qiaoyu shut up the moment Zhou Dongxun snapped at her. She wanted to woo the guy, so what he said was impactful to her. It was just that she resented Yun Jian even more this way.

The group had moved past a long stretch of route and come to a new room. The new room was set as a mortuary. Once they got here, Wang Qiaoyu and her friends who had been talking tensed up and got too scared to move forward.

Although they knew that this was a haunted house, they were still scared.

There were three beds with three people lying on them respectively covered with a white cloth that greeted the group. The background was painted in a terrorizing manner that one would feel the chills flashing the flashlight at it.

The group was scared into halting their steps as they dared not go on because nobody knew what was lying on the three beds. Moreover, there was no light here and they could only depend on the flashlights to illuminate their surrounding.

“L-Let’s... g-go! C-come w-with me!” Zhou Dongxun ushered shakily. Just as he turned to tell Yun Jian, “Don’t be scared, just follow me...”

There was no one there.

“Ah, she—” Wang Qiaoyu’s alarmed cry rang.

It prompted Zhou Dongxun to turn back to the front and see that Yun Jian had walked over to the beds somehow without a sound. She flipped one of the white cloths that was covering the corpse open, shocking and draining colors off everyone’s face...

Chapter 1454: Yun Jian Scares the Zombie Away

Regular girls would not dare stay in the haunted house’s morgue for too long. Some would even cling to their boyfriend’s clothes and bury their head in their boyfriend’s arms before delicately whining something like “It’s too scary, sob... I don’t want to come to a haunted house ever again.”

What about Yun Jian?

Zhou Dongxun, Wang Qiaoyu and others did not dare move forward because they were scared but Yun Jian walked over directly and flipped the white cloth open without a word.

Usually, the most terrifying thing when one passed by the morgue was the three beds and the corpses under the white cloths that had suddenly come alive. The horror made everyone’s heart lurch as they would be scared witless!

Not only was Yun Jian unafraid, she went over and pulled the white cloth off on her own!

The scene made Wang Qiaoyu scream. Even Zhou Dongxun’s face fell from the shock.

Under the white cloth laid a berserk zombie. Needless to say, any active ghost in the haunted house was actually a disguise by the crew. Despite that, this particular zombie was incredibly real. Not only was the special effect makeup realistic, the face was pale like the dead with bulging eyes. Just looking at it was already terrifying.

“Hiss... Hiss...” What was more frightening was that the actor had played along to make low hisses like an actual zombie.

“Ah! Aghh! It’s a zombie! A zombie!” Wang Qiaoyu gripped her clothes and stumbled back, nearly falling on Zhou Dongxun.

The moment Yun Jian pulled the white cloth off, the zombie pounced at her making terrorizing sounds. Zhou Dongxun was already blanching at the sight with his feet glued to the floor; his plan to be a hero saving the damsel in distress had long been tossed to the back of his head.

“Ah! Xiao Jian!” Lu Feiyan cried.

Instead, it was Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan who had forgotten that this was a haunted house—perhaps because of the realistic zombie—as they dashed to Yun Jian to try and save her without a second thought.

A member of the crew was obviously acting as the zombie but it was so realistic that he had convinced all of them there that he was a real zombie.

At least, Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan actually thought that they had seen a ghost, forgetting that they were in a haunted house, and could only think of saving Yun Jian.

Yun Jian merely squinted at their effort.

“C-careful...” Zhou Dongxun wanted to become the hero but he was too scared. He could not lift his feet up as if they were stuck to the ground.

The zombie was to be blamed. It felt too real. Zhou Dongxun could feel the fear even just by looking at it, forget saving the girl.

All these had happened only within five seconds.

Farther away where everyone could see, the zombie threw itself to Yun Jian right after she flipped the white cloth off. The scene shocked everyone there but it was not the most baffling yet.

Just when the zombie was going to reach Yun Jian, Yun Jian grabbed the zombie’s collar accurately without even looking up and dragged it to the side.

The zombie slumped on the floor before it scrambled off hastily, running away after a glance at Yun Jian like it had seen a ghost.

It was apparent that the zombie was played by a male worker—yet Yun Jian was so strong that she had dragged the male worker off to the side!

Furthermore, others who entered the haunted house were chased after by the zombies but why had it become the zombie being scared away when it came to Yun Jian?

Zhou Dongxun and his friends had never seen something like this and were baffled.

Chapter 1455: Scaring the Ghost Into Refusing to Work

“Xiao Jian!” Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan had already rushed to her with Lu Feiyan grabbing her hand and crying aloud, “Are you okay?”

“Why would the haunted house zombie attack someone? Why haven’t I heard of it?” Wang Cancan asked in surprise from where she stood next to Yun Jian.

“The reason Sagawa Hospital is so famous is because its haunted house setting gives the tourists the most realistic scare. The most the crew acting as zombies will do is touch us and scare us. They won’t actually hurt us.”

It was only after the crew worker acting as the zombie got scared off by Yun Jian that Zhou Dongxun recovered from the shock just now. He waited for a while, making sure that there would not be two other zombies springing out from the other two beds, before he went to Yun Jian and told her.

As he spoke walking, he smiled at Yun Jian when he reached her and saw her turning to glance at him. Despite that, Yun Jian was not looking at him. She continued turning her head and landed her eyes on Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan.

“Let’s go. Hold on to my clothes if both of you are scared,” Yun Jian said and continued toward the haunted house’s walkway.

“Hey, aren’t you waiting for us?” Zhou Dongxun yelled at Yun Jian when he saw her going away with Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan without looking like she was going to regard the rest of them.

“No need for that,” Yun Jian answered curtly without even sparing Zhou Dongxun who was behind her a glance and left with Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan in a wide stride.

Zhou Dongxun had wanted to go after them but his friend grabbed him and commented, “Dongxun, you fool. Can’t you see that the girl doesn’t want you to follow her?”

Zhou Dongxun could only watch as Yun Jian slipped away in front of him.

With Yun Jian leading the way, Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan had nothing to say even when it was scary and frightening.

After that, once there were groups of zombies or ghosts that appeared, they would be shocked and some had even fled hugging their heads from what Yun Jian said or did.

“No way! Yun Jian, you’re too good! You’re like a superwoman! You’re not scared of any ghost, demon or monster! You’re my idol! Wang Cancan gestured wildly before she told Yun Jian.

Wang Cancan had always hoped that she could become a superwoman but she knew that it was only a fantasy. However, Yun Jian’s amazing response just now caused Wang Cancan to think as if she had seen a superwoman and she felt her heart trembling from it as well.

“Yun Jian! Yun Jian! You’re my idol from now on!”

When Wang Cancan said this, all three of them were already seated in a café.

There was a café latte in front of Yun Jian. Her slender finger was hooked against the handle of the coffee cup as she smiled.

“Hey, hey, did you guys hear it? The Sagawa Hospital Haunted House at Dynamall’s basement is stopping visitors right now. Even those who have bought tickets are being stopped!”

“What the heck? Why? What happened?”

“Heh, you had no idea! I have firsthand news! I heard that there was a girl who scared the crew acting as ghosts in Sagawa Hospital! A few of them were said that they didn’t look anything like the ghosts they’re trying to be and were criticized! In the end, the workers refused to work and went on strike to stop working!”

“Goodness, where does the girl come from? How is she so aggressive? This is shocking! People are almost scared to death by the ghosts in the haunted house yet she scared the ghosts into refusing to work!”

Chapter 1456: Senior Duan Ming. Is There a Problem?

Perhaps such an incident was too rare that it was already being passed around by the patrons in the café. The crowd who sat together began discussing but made similar comments, mostly regarding the same thing—that was a teenage girl entering Sagawa Hospital just now and scared the crew acting as the ghosts that they now refused to work.

Currently, the visitors who had bought tickets could not even enter Sagawa Hospital because its crew was protesting to work.

It was great, really. Without the crew acting as ghosts or zombies, the visitors would not be able to experience the realistic horror even if they got to enter the haunted house. If they insisted to go in, Sagawa Hospital's reputation might even be ruined for good. That was why they stopped opening to the public temporarily instead.

After all, Sagawa Hospital was a globally famous haunted house. Maintaining its reputation was far more important than making less ticket money from hundreds of visitors.

The conversations around them were all caught by Yun Jian but she merely squinted at that.

Wang Cancan who had picked up a cup of coffee and was slowly bringing it to her lips to take a sip spat out the coffee she drank when she heard what everyone was talking about. Luckily, she ducked her head in time when the coffee was about to spurt out of her mouth, so it was sprayed to the ground.

What were they saying? The person whom they said to have scared the ghosts was Yun Jian! Was that person not her? Who else could it be other than her!

Wang Cancan sprang up from her seat in astonishment like she had seen a real ghost.

"Eh, the person they're saying, isn't it Xiao..." Just when Lu Feiyan was going to utter Yun Jian's name, an unfriendly holler came from the back before she could finish her sentence.

"Lu Feiyan? Wang Cancan? Heh, it's you cowards?"

A loud voice of a girl came from behind them. Her tone sounded hostile, like Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan owed her hundred thousands of yuan.

Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan turned around when they suddenly heard the familiar voice. Yun Jian sat across both of them, so she was able to see the girl standing behind both her friends clearly.

The girl was quite pretty with a small face, big eyes, and tall nose. Her features were prominent. She looked like a docile goody-two-shoes but such a pretty girl had uttered something so spiteful just now.

It made Yun Jian arch a brow.

"Chen Limei? Why are you here?" Wang Cancan was turned halfway and could not help yelling when she saw the girl's face.

"Hah, why can't I be here when you're here? You said you wanted to visit the Sagawa Hospital last week. You wouldn't be hanging around here because you dare not go to the basement, would you? You made yourself sound so impressive last week but look at you now! Are your legs already shaking before you go in?”

“Oh yeah! The person accompanying me to visit the haunted house today is Senior Duan Ming! Ahaha!”

As soon as the girl named Chen Limei finished speaking, Wang Cancan raised her voice. “You asked Senior Duan Ming to visit the haunted house with you?!”

Yun Jian saw Wang Cancan’s eyes glowing—one of admiration—when she mentioned Senior Duan Ming.

Chen Limei jutted her chin and pointed it at Wang Cancan, glancing at Yun Jian rather arrogantly out of the corner of her eyes. “Yes. Is there a problem?”

Chapter 1457: Saying She’s Scared. Too Cool

Chen Limei was Wang Cancan and Lu Feiyan’s schoolmate. Initially, she and the two of them stayed out of each other’s way; they did not get along and would not interact with each other usually.

The issue was that both Chen Limei and Wang Cancan secretly liked Senior Duan Ming. The two girls were classmates while Senior Duan Ming mentioned was a sophomore.

Because of Senior Duan Ming, Chen Limei and Wang Cancan’s classmate relationship grew worse that they had even gotten into a fight in class once.

Wang Cancan and Duan Ming were in the same junior high school and she had liked Duan Ming since the first year of school but she dared not confess. When she finally got into the same senior high school as the guy, Chen Limei began pursuing him.

Although Duan Ming had had several girlfriends before, Wang Cancan liked him still, because she felt that he was only fooling around with those girls.

Just last week, Wang Cancan got into an argument with Chen Limei, where the latter challenged her to visit the Sagawa Hospital that had just landed in Longmen City recently. Wang Cancan agreed easily, refusing to back down.

Their grudges began like this.

Wang Cancan did not expect to run into Chen Limei here and worse, that she had boldly asked Senior Duan Ming out.

“You...” Wang Cancan was going to retort when Chen Limei bragged proudly, “Senior Duan Ming and I... went out yesterday too. Ahaha, My Senior Duan Ming got a room in a hotel and we’ve already...”

“Impossible! Senior Duan Ming will never do something like that with you! You’re lying!” Wang Cancan growled back before Chen Limei finished her sentence.

To Wang Cancan, Senior Duan Ming was her everything. She had liked him since first year of junior high school and it had already three years since then. It was not like she had never interacted with Senior Duan Ming throughout the three years but each time, he was gentlemanly. He was not someone to toy with women like what Chen Limei said!

“Hahaha!” Chen Limei was only more gleeful seeing Wang Cancan’s reaction.

Yun Jian was just seated across Wang Cancan, so she could see both girls clearly when Wang Cancan turned to face Chen Limei.

“Humph, Senior Duan Ming will go to the haunted house with me later anyway. You girls must be cowards huh? I don’t think you’d even dare enter Sagawa Hospital, right? Hahaha!”

Chen Limei had no idea that Wang Cancan had already gone to the haunted house with Yun Jian and Lu Feiyan. When she spoke, her tone was mocking.

When Chen Limei saw Yun Jian who sat opposite of Wang Cancan and Lu Feiyan looking pretty like a fairy, she was immediately disgruntled and wore it on her face.

In the past, Chen Limei was that fairy when she stood in a crowd. The moment she laid eyes on Yun Jian’s beauty, though, she had to admit that she could not be compared to Yun Jian.

“Oh, who’s this? Wang Cancan, your friend? Hah, she looks thin and weak. Is she going to Sagawa Hospital too? That’s a haunted house, though. It’s very scary. I think girls like her would have shaky legs like wobbling jelly before they even enter the haunted house, yeah? Hahaha!”

Chen Limei pointed at Yun Jian. Due to both Yun Jian looking prettier and that she was Wang Cancan’s friend, Chen Limei had no hint of friendliness toward Yun Jian. Any word leaving her lips was mockery and sarcasm as she poured whatever came to mind.

“You’re here? We finally found you! I thought you’ve left when you left the haunted house yourselves without waiting for us!”

“Cough, Yun Jian, do you know that the haunted house crew refuses to work after you scared them in there? I think you might be the only one visiting the haunted house who could shock the workers acting as ghosts! Hahaha! You’re way too cool!”

Chapter 1458: Stirring up Troubles. Her Brother’s Here

While Chen Limei doubted Yun Jian’s ability, Zhou Dongxun, who had gone to the haunted house together with Yun Jian and girls, spoke up abruptly from his group of friends.

Yun Jian arched a brow.

Chen Limei assumed that Yun Jian had nothing to say when she did not retort her instantly. She thought that it was certain Yun Jian was scared of entering the haunted house!

However, Chen Limei had miscalculated. Her assumption was completely wrong. She was still dazed when Zhou Dongxun spoke.

What? What happened? Who scared the crew? The haunted house crew did not want to work now?

Yun Jian? Was Yun Jian... her?

Chen Limei did not know Yun Jian’s name prior to this since no one introduced them. Her eyes slowly trailed after the voice, from Zhou Dongxun who had appeared suddenly to Yun Jian whom he was looking at.

Shock, astonishment and horror erupted altogether.

“What do you mean she scared the haunted house crew? What are you trying to say...” Chen Limei hesitated and asked softly when she saw Zhou Dongxun who had suddenly come over as well as the group behind him.

Chen Limei had a sense of premonition because she saw the other patrons in the café shifting their gazes to Yun Jian with widened eyes like they had seen a ghost after hearing what Zhou Dongxun said about Yun Jian.

“Pft, it’s just a petty matter. Do you have to be so alarmed? Yun Jian? Hmph, she scared away all the Sagawa Hospital crew and they didn’t want to run the haunted house now!”

“There are a lot of tourists coming from other places looking forward to experience the haunted house. This is all Yun Jian’s fault! Hmph! I knew that people like her are out to cause troubles to others. Pft, revolting!”

Wang Qiaoyu was only more dismayed at Yun Jian from how she resented her earlier. She had already persuaded Zhou Dongxun not to go to Yun Jian anymore but? Once Zhou Dongxun came out and heard that the haunted house crew refused to work, being scared into running a strike, he looked for the girl like a frenzied dog right away.

It only made Wang Qiaoyu hate Yun Jian more. Seeing Chen Limei asked about what happened just now, she was the first to step up and explain. Her tone was accusatory and ironic, and she was only answering to make Chen Limei hate Yun Jian too.

Chen Limei had called Yun Jian a coward for not daring to visit the haunted house. What Wang Qiaoyu said brought nothing but shock and terror to Chen Limei.

“What?! She—she went to the haunted house and scared the crew into refusing to work? You—are you joking?”

“Isn’t Sagawa Hospital the scariest hospital themed haunted house on Guinness World Records? How is it possible that she scared the workers into going on strike to stop working? Shouldn’t the workers who acted as ghosts scare her to death instead...?”

Chen Limei froze on the spot, looking no different from a dazed fool.

The patrons in the café were baffled too, especially those who had gossiped about Yun Jian just now.

Wang Qiaoyu did not expect that what she said not only did not direct hate to Yun Jian, the others were impressed by her ability instead. She was disgruntled.

When she was about to speak, she saw a guy dressed in a gangster manner—distressed jeans and fashionably glittery shirt as if it could blind someone—entering the café. The guy was in his early twenties and had golden blonde Mohawk hair so bright that it stung the eyes.

Wang Qiaoyu’s eyes shone the moment she saw the guy. She quickly waved at him and called out loudly, “Ge!”

This was the guy she had acknowledged to be her brother. He was also the one who was in Longmen City's top gang, Falcon Hall, and Wang Qiaoyu's confidence to brag! Her older brother was here and he could teach Yun Jian a lesson for her!

Chapter 1459: What's Yours and Your Superior's Serial Number?

Wang Qiaoyu felt like even the air she breathed out was more superior now. She lifted her hand that was holding her phone up high and waved it at the guy who had just entered through the café door.

"Ge! I'm here!" Her shout caused the whole café to look over. Feeling such attention, Wang Qiaoyu was not shy and had, instead, looked up proudly at the guy with the blonde Mohawk hairstyle.

The guy was walking like a thug. There was a bounce and a dip in his gait, each step of his was like a local thug teasing the women that others wanted to beat him up just from watching him.

"Qiaoyu-mei, why did you ask me to come?" The guy acted like he was better than everyone else; he glanced at Wang Qiaoyu and asked with a swagger.

He also had both his hands in his pants pockets, as if there was no one else in this world who was better than him.

Yun Jian sat on her spot, recalling that Wang Qiaoyu had boasted in the haunted house about her brother working under Falcon Hall, as she listened to the girl call out for her brother.

Yun Jian would free up some time to go back and visit Falcon Hall but there was not much under her attention now because Xu Zetian was capable. Falcon Hall was currently the top gang in Zhe Province and Xu Zetian also had the assistance of Han Biao, the boss of the ex-top gang in Zhe Province.

For now, Yun Jian was really the boss by title as she did not have to do a thing.

Perhaps it was because the Mohawk guy Wang Qiaoyu called out for was a member of Falcon Hall, Yun Jian looked up to take a glance at him.

"Hmph, ge, you have no idea! Someone bullied me in the haunted house just now!" Wang Qiaoyu spewed nonsense right as she opened her mouth.

"Who bullied my Qiaoyu-mei? Step out right now!" the Mohawk guy yelled looking at Wang Qiaoyu. Anyone with a little power during this time typically felt that they were more superior.

"It's her, it's her! She bullied me! Ge, you've got to get even for me! Flash your status and squash her! Scare her to death!"

Wang Qiaoyu and the Mohawk guy kept flaunting their "sibling relationship". Whatever that left their mouth, there was no doubt they were picking on Yun Jian.

"She bullied you? Okay, Qiaoyu-mei, ge will seek revenge for—" The remaining of the sentence was stuck in the guy's throat as he was stunned the moment he saw Yun Jian's gorgeous face.

What a—what a beautiful girl!

The Mohawk guy nearly drooled, not even hearing Wang Qiaoyu's repeated "ge".

“Zhang Zhuti!” It was until Wang Qiaoyu yelled the guy’s full name that he snapped out of his stupor.

“H-huh?” The Mohawk guy, Zhang Zhuti, reacted in a daze.

“Ge, she bullied me!” Wang Qiaoyu whined at Zhang Zhuti softly like she was trying to get his attention back.

It was just that Zhang Zhuti’s eyes were already trained on Yun Jian, replying Wang Qiaoyu perfunctorily, “Huh... oh, oh.”

“You’re under Falcon Hall?” Yun Jian asked in front of everyone looking at Zhang Zhuti with a quirk of her cherry lips.

“Huh? Oh! Yes, that’s right!” However loud Zhang Zhuti was when he came in, however servile he was now, as he answered Yun Jian’s question.

As he spoke, he slightly regained his confidence. He was filled with a deep sense of pride whenever he mentioned that he was from Falcon Hall.

“Who are you under? What’s your serial number? What’s your superior’s serial number?” Everyone then saw Yun Jian’s smile flatten as she suddenly asked in a cold expression.

The others who heard the question were shocked and at a loss. What did Yun Jian mean by that?

Zhang Zhuti was the only one who jolted out of his lustful state when he heard her as he questioned back in surprise right before everyone else, “Who are you?! How do you know that the Falcon Hall members have serial numbers?!”

Chapter 1460: How Do You Know My Serial Number?

Zhang Zhuti asked loudly, going from a lecherous expression to physically and mentally tensing up as he spoke.

Falcon Hall and Gu Sha Mercenaries had similarly begun assigning a serial number to each member.

Each member of Gu Sha Mercenaries had a serial number. The first was Yun Jian and the number was based on one’s capabilities, accomplishments and contributions.

Previously, Yun Jian had started the serial numbering for Falcon Hall as well with the same rules.

Falcon Hall did not state that its members must not disclose their serial numbers to outsiders but the members with serial numbers toward the end were usually reluctant to bring it up. Only those with serial numbers that were at the front were willing to share.

In spite of it, those people with smaller serial numbers were commonly mature and composed. They were mostly personal picks by Yun Jian or Xu Zetian too since smaller serial numbers meant that they were elders in Falcon Hall.

This caused a phenomenon that those with smaller serial numbers would not boast about it while those with bigger serial numbers were too embarrassed to flaunt it, resulting in outsiders not knowing that Falcon Hall had a serial numbering system.

Wang Qiaoyu had already wanted to mock Yun Jian to her heart's content hearing how the latter was making things up only to see Zhang Zhuti was actually intimidated when he heard what she said.

Not only had Zhang Zhuti paled in fear, he questioned how Yun Jian knew that Falcon Hall members had serial numbers.

"Ge, what are you going on about with her? Falcon Hall has serial numbers for its members? Why haven't I heard you mention it before?" Wang Qiaoyu asked when she caught up to what was happening.

Zhang Zhuti told her everything, especially what he got to brag and be pleased about.

Back then, the reason Wang Qiaoyu took Zhang Zhuti as her brother was because he was so good at blowing the trumpet that he sounded like he was invincible. Wang Qiaoyu ultimately thought that Zhang Zhuti was really that great, so she was eager to create that sibling bond with him.

Whatever Zhang Zhuti could boast about, Wang Qiaoyu had heard it from him. There was nothing about any kind of serial number, thus she asked.

Yun Jian, Lu Feiyan and Wang Cancan were still seated while Yun Jian looked at Zhang Zhuti coldly.

Zhang Zhuti was at a loss from the question.

"Uh... What do you mean? What serial numbers... I don't know anything..." It was only then Zhang Zhuti was aware of his slipup and tried to get himself out of it.

Needless to say, Zhang Zhuti's serial number must be way behind while the image he had created in front of Wang Qiaoyu was almighty—there was nothing he could not do.

If he did state his serial number, the image he had built up would be bullsh*t. He was just an errand boy in Falcon Hall.

Before Zhang Zhuti could finish, he was cut off by Yun Jian again. Her tone was not exactly friendly when she spoke looking at him, "Falcon Hall has assigned a serial number to each of its member. There's no way you'll be missed out. If you refuse to tell us, I can find out with your name."

What Yun Jian said shocked everyone, especially Zhang Zhuti. He froze before barking a laugh.

"Pft! You want to find out my serial number with my name? Are you kidding me? How? You think people from Falcon Hall will care about you? Find out my serial number huh? Haha! Who do you think you are?! The boss of Falcon Hall? Hah!"

Zhang Zhuti was laughing loudly. As he did, Wang Qiaoyu laughed with him. Her current favorite thing to do was to laugh at Yun Jian.

The mocking laughter did not seem to affect Yun Jian as much. She picked up her phone and called Falcon Hall's headquarters landline before stating Zhang Zhuti's name directly.

“Hahaha! Ooh, she’s making a call. Wow, who’s she calling? Thinking of checking my brother’s... what’s that? Some kind of serial number? Hahaha!” Wang Qiaoyu was having the time of her life laughing at Yun Jian.

Before she was done laughing, however, Yun Jian suddenly listed a number, “113905.”

“What? Are you crazy? Is this a landline number? Haha...” Wang Qiaoyu laughed.

“Sh*t! No—this is impossible! How do you know my serial number?! You...” Just when Wang Qiaoyu was going to guffaw, Zhang Zhuti cried aloud with a shocked scowl.

“Because I’m also from Falcon Hall,” Yun Jian answered with a smirk and squint.

“Then what’s your serial number?!” Stunned, Zhang Zhuti questioned Yun Jian as if to confirm that she was not lying.

Yun Jian’s squint deepened slightly as she took a pause before her cherry lips pulled into a smile. “My serial number is... 1.”
