

Schoolgirl 181

Chapter 181: Computer Access: Hacking

Listening to Lawson and Yun Jian's conversation, Miss Maqi and the other students could not even say a word.

In the end, the teacher could only watch as Lawson led the group to Yana High School's computer room.

As a Country Y native, Miss Maqi was not opposed to trivial matches between students of the two countries.

Hence, the entourage headed for the computer lab.

Yun Yi walked beside Yun Jian while Chen Xinyi was on her left.

"Xiao Jian, do you know how to use a computer?" Yun Yi approached his younger sister and asked in a lowered voice, feeling unsettled by this issue.

"Yun Yi, don't worry," Yun Jian answered with a half-smile and crescent eyes without explaining it.

Yun Yi did not press further after that despite still being incredibly anxious.

Since that week he returned home to celebrate their mother's birthday, his younger sister began to act more and more unlike herself. It was also undeniable to him that he was more fond of her now.

Country Y's Yana High School was a high school of international prestige, as both junior and senior high school education was provided. In addition, computer classes were one of the lessons offered in the school's syllabus.

When the group of students came to the computer lab, even the wealthier students who had computers at home were amazed by the rows of computers installed in the room.

There were so many computers here!

They could not help gasping as they had never seen a room with such a great number of computers. Yun Jian was the only exception who remained unfazed when she saw the rows of computers.

Computers were beginning to be widespread in 1998's Country Z. Some elite schools in Country Z were already popularizing computer classes.

Currently, computer lessons in Longmen City were still a short distance away from becoming mainstream, although the city was still rapidly developing.

"Humph, you Country Z brats, what bumpkins!" Lawson could not help mocking with a chuckle when he saw their reaction.

In spite of it, he muttered those words under his breath and gave up being derisive after realizing that no one was bothered.

The computer lab here was open to all, so the computers were constantly powered on.

It was a convenience to the students and teachers as they could use them anytime if they needed to.

Since the computers were turned on at all times, the students and teachers did not have to wait for the buffering time for the computers to be ready.

Lawson side-eyed Yun Jian and spoke in extreme contempt. “Hah, go on.”

Ignoring his jab, Yun Jian took her seat in front of a computer whilst everyone else watched.

Lawson followed and sat in front of a computer that was next to Yun Jian’s.

“What are we contending?” Yun Jian held the mouse and gave it a scroll, giving the keyboard two taps, as she turned to ask Lawson.

“See who is faster at gaining control of the other’s computer.” Lawson chortled.

Controlling access to someone else’s computer was a hacking technique.

Currently, Lawson was cackling to himself. He was far better than everyone else in computing because he had an uncle who was a hacking expert. His uncle was working in one of the top ten multinational enterprises, Dime and Prime Company, and was in the technical department.

Lawson had learned a considerable amount of hacking techniques from his uncle, such as skillful tasks like gaining access and manipulating someone else’s computer.

Therefore, he proposed this challenge to compete with Yun Jian! This was because most people did not even know how to use the program that controls someone else’s computer, let alone actually controlling the computer!

Nonetheless, what no one knew was that the Dime and Prime Company that Lawson’s adored hacking expert uncle was working at, was an entity handled by Yun Jian’s underling, Alluring Demon.

As for the technical department that his uncle was working in, it was the department that Yun Jian had stolen one hundred million US Dollars from after hacking the system in just thirty seconds.

Chapter 182: Preening. Controlling The Intranet

“Pfft, stop being such a bully! You thick-skinned foreigner! You’re clearly only contesting us against something you’re good at!” Someone could not stand it and shouted at Lawson.

“What is it? No one from Country Z knows such simple computer programming?” Lawson was not fazed by the taunt as he boldly parried them.

Lawson’s friends rallied around and cheered for him, making Country Z’s students fume.

All of them were rather certain that it was impossible for Yun Jian to know how to hack a computer. Only a hacker knew how to gain access and manipulate other computers!

“Of course I know how to.” Yun Jian smiled softly despite everyone’s anxiousness.

“Haha, I’ll start first then.” Lawson said, eager to show off his “talent” and relish in the admiration of others.

Yun Jian crossed her arms without touching the computer, answering Lawson, “Go ahead.”

Lawson put his fingers to work, typing furiously on the keyboard.

The speed of his operations was not speedy but the students could not deny that he did know a thing or two.

After thirty minutes, Lawson finally devised a program through his computer and clicked “Yes” on the screen’s popped up window connecting the other computer’s ID.

The computer in front of Yun Jian was remotely controlled by Lawson.

Lawson then opened a paint tool in the computer, the computer in front of Yun Jian mirrored the operation. When Lawson drew a pig’s head on the canvas, the same pig head appeared in Yun Jian’s computer.

When the students saw it, they were astonished that Lawson really did master the hacking technique and manipulated Yun Jian’s computer. When he drew a pig head on his computer, the computer in front of Yun Jian followed exactly what he was doing!

To hype Lawson up, his mischievous friends clapped fervently.

“Lawson, good job! You’re the pride of Country Y!” A playful boy cheered.

Students from Country Z wore a long face. While they acknowledged that Lawson was skillful, they could not help being angered.

Lawson and his friends were blatantly making fun of them who were from Country Z! They were deriding that they were pigs!

“That’s all?” Yun Jian arched her brow, her melodious voice waltzing across the room which snapped Lawson out from his smugness.

“What do you mean?” Lawson was offended as he provoked, “Show us what you know then!”

Lawson was certain that even if Yun Jian knew how to work a computer and had used a computer, she would never know how to hack like he did. This was hacking after all.

Did she know how to? How could she know that?

Even for him learning from his uncle, he had spent five years before reaching his current achievement in hacking.

Hacking was not easy to learn!

While Lawson inwardly sneered at Yun Jian, the latter was placing her fair fingers on the keyboard.

Then, her fingers moved lithely across the keyboard like they were dancing.

She had only pressed three keys on the keyboard before her computer that was hacked by Lawson returned to its original state. Then, the speed of her fingers tapping the keys grew faster and faster.

It took merely ten breaths when an urgent beeping noise rang, “Beep! Beep! Beep!”

Greeting everyone's eyes were all the computers in the computer lab that were controlled by Yun Jian's computer.

Ten seconds! She had gained access to all the computers in ten seconds!

Everyone stared at Yun Jian in horror.

Before their shock could subside, a teacher ran in through the door, exclaiming in standard English, "Oh my gosh, what's wrong with the school's intranet? Why have all the school's computers lost control?"

When the people in the room heard it, they turned to Yun Jian who was seated leisurely in front of the computer in bafflement.

Chapter 183: An Easy Win And A Plot

The teacher who ran in was teaching a computer class to her students next door when all the computers had suddenly malfunctioned. Each computer had a black screen flickered on and no matter what they did, they could not recover them.

The teacher had thought that it was the system in her room that posed the issue, but when she hastily checked around the whole building, she realized that all the computers were the same.

The broadband of the self-access computer lab that Yun Jian and the rest were currently in controlled the school's intranet. That was why she came here.

Consequently, the teacher did not know that her words sounded like a thunderbolt to those in the lab.

"No, it's impossible! How – how could this be..." Lawson stood up with a bitter chuckle as he shook his head.

How could it be possible!

Even his uncle, a notable hacking expert, would not be able to control all of Yana High School's computers in a mere ten seconds!

Ten seconds! It was so short!

Lawson suddenly recalled a person whom his uncle used to tell him.

It was an international top hacker whose identity was unknown but was remarkable in the hacking sphere. As long as that person had access to a computer, they could do anything! That person could easily break the security system of even a prime multinational company and completely melt down the company's programs in less than a minute.

From memory, Yun Jian's skill actually resembled an eighty percent similarity to the person mentioned by Lawson's uncle!

"You! You!" Lawson suddenly pointed at Yun Jian before he shook his head. "Impossible, how could you be that person..."

Lawson's odd behavior startled the people in the lab while Yun Jian narrowed her eyes and rested her chin on her palm, gazing at Lawson with an unnerving smirk.

Lawson deflated immediately and he became quiet.

Those around them were shocked again, looking at Yun Jian with a terrorized gaze.

Finally, Lawson cast his eyes down, as if all his pride sank with him. When he looked up at Yun Jian again, his earlier pressurizing gaze was no longer there.

“You win,” he told Yun Jian.

Lawson’s surrender made Country Z’s students cheer in excitement.

As an internationally prestigious school, their trip here in Yana High School was to gain knowledge. It was just that the students of the school had never shown regard to these peers. This was because they considered the latter to only be looking up to them, as they were educated from a school of higher standards.

In spite of it, what Yun Jian did just now had thoroughly claimed their school, and even all of Country Z’s nationals’ pride.

Country Z was not at all futile.

“Jian Jian, you’re awesome!” Chen Xinyi gave her a big thumbs up as she pranced to Yun Jian.

Yun Jian replied with a soft smile.

What Yun Jian did not expect, however, was Lawson and his friends to respect her after she showcased her computer skills by hacking the school’s intranet.

Though she was not surprised, as the world leaned toward the survival of the fittest.

In the following days, Yun Jian and her peers studied and attended classes with the students of Yana High School.

This was the program. They were here to experience the foreign school life.

At the same time, all of them spoke English. Although Yun Yi, Chen Xinyi, and the others were not the most accurate in their pronunciation, they could make simple interactions with the students in Country Y.

Soon, it came to the end of the one-week study trip.

To bid farewell to their Country Z friends, Miss Maqi organized a small farewell party at a karaoke venue.

Miss Maqi booked a big karaoke room and everyone was currently gathered here.

Yun Jian sat on the side while Chen Xinyi took center stage singing into a microphone.

No one saw Liu Xiuxiu who sat in the corner with an eerie grin. She poured a packet of powder into a glass of wine and gave it a stir.

A malicious plot was thus born.

Chapter 184: A Scum’s Scheme. Bottoms Up!

Adding the ingredient to the red wine, Liu Xiuxiu poured a second glass and did the same to it. After that, she feigned hesitation and lingering around where she was.

“Xiuxiu, don’t just sit there. Come have fun with everyone!” Out of kindness, Tong Yulan came over to call her when she saw her sitting in the corner alone.

Currently, Yun Jian was the limelight, catching the attention of all their peers.

On the contrary, Liu Xiuxiu looked relatively lonely as she sat in the corner.

With pure kindness, Tong Yulan came to pull her into the fun, not knowing that Liu Xiuxiu had been waiting for her to do so.

“Yulan, I...” Liu Xiuxiu glanced toward Yun Jian with a fake awkwardness and told Tong Yulan with slightly teary eyes, “I was unreasonable to both of them a few days ago. I regret what I said. You know that I have a sharp tongue but I didn’t mean it, I’m actually soft-hearted...”

Tong Yulan knew that it was because Liu Xiuxiu had argued with Chen Xinyi a few days ago. Now that Yun Jian was so popular among their peers and she was Chen Xinyi’s best friend, Liu Xiuxiu must have felt embarrassed to go and join the rest.

“Xiuxiu, it’s fine. The juniors are very nice. I talked to them just now too. Go and apologize, they’ll forgive you for sure!” Tong Yulan said supportively, thinking that Liu Xiuxiu genuinely wanted to make amends with Chen Xinyi and Yun Jian.

Liu Xiuxiu inwardly rolled her eyes in disdain at Tong Yulan, grumbling to herself that Tong Yulan actually dared become acquainted with Chen Xinyi and Yun Jian behind her back.

Nonetheless, she acted innocent. Blinking to squeeze some tears out of her eyes, Liu Xiuxiu said, “Yulan, hmm, I have two glasses of wine here. Send them to both the juniors. If they agree to drink it, I’ll go and apologize personally,” Liu Xiuxiu said and pushed the two glasses of wine to Tong Yulan.

“Don’t tell them that I’ve poured them this wine. I’m worried that they wouldn’t drink it if they knew it was from me,” Liu Xiuxiu said, afraid that Tong Yulan would carry out her request.

“Because I think that the chance of them forgiving me when I apologize will be higher after they drink the wine, don’t you think so, Yulan?”

Tong Yulan was utterly tricked. She thought that Liu Xiuxiu was sincere in wanting to apologize.

“Sure! Xiuxiu, it’s set then!”

Assuming that Liu Xiuxiu was changing for the better, Tong Yulan accepted the two glasses of wine and ran to Chen Xinyi and Yun Jian.

With an evil smirk, Liu Xiuxiu fished out her phone from her pants pocket and sent a text, “Are you ready? I’ll ask them out later and you guys catch them at the door! Capture them immediately!”

Yun Jian had long felt a pair of watchful eyes trained on her and Chen Xinyi from the corner, until Tong Yulan brought both of them red wine.

“Hey, you girls must be tired, right? I’ve poured you some wine. Have some!” Tong Yulan’s guileless front made it hard for one to reject.

Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi picked the glasses up, as the latter emptying its contents.

When the glass came to her lips, Yun Jian froze for a bit as a gleam flashed across her sharp eyes. There was a tiny smirk on her lips before she gulped down the red wine as well under Liu Xiuxiu’s heated stare.

Chapter 185: Play With Her. Caught

The red wine was drugged.

Yun Jian could sniff it.

As Slaying God in her previous life, she had consumed all sorts of poison and had already built up an immunity to toxins.

In addition, Yun Jian had already discovered that the state of her current body was now in the same capabilities of her past life. She had found out when she was still in Xinjiang Town.

Nonetheless, the drug in the wine was not potent. It would only make one drowsy and lethargic, but it was ineffective against Yun Jian without a doubt.

Yun Jian did not think that Tong Yulan had plotted to make her and Chen Xinyi drink the wine.

Through the corners of her eyes, she espied Liu Xiuxiu who had been observing them from a corner nearby.

Hah, it seemed that someone was on a suicide mission. She would play with her then.

The farewell party went on. After asking Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi to drink as per Liu Xiuxiu’s request, Tong Yulan skipped to the latter.

“Xiuxiu, they drank it. Can you go apologize now?” Tong Yulan naively thought that Liu Xiuxiu would really do what she said.

“Mm, Yulan, thank you!” Liu Xiuxiu pretended to be grateful and lowered her voice to further request Tong Yulan, “Yulan, it isn’t the best idea for me to apologize in front of everyone. Can you ask the two of them outside? When we make amends, we’ll come in together. What I did wasn’t good to begin with, I’d lose face if everyone finds out...”

“No problem!” All Tong Yulan could think of was Liu Xiuxiu apologizing to their juniors and how she had contributed to rekindling this bond. She gave the latter an ‘OK’ sign and ran to Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi again.

Yun Jian had already seen Tong Yulan and Liu Xiuxiu’s interaction then but she kept quiet.

On the other hand, Chen Xinyi was rather limp and weak now. She was flushed and a little tipsy as she had the wine just now.

“Can you two come out with me? I have something to tell you personally.” Tong Yulan looked excited when she scampered over.

She was eager for Chen Xinyi and Yun Jian to go out with her and meet Liu Xiuxiu. Then, Liu Xiuxiu would apologize to them and all of them could be friends.

“Huh? Oh... sure!” Chen Xinyi agreed at once as she could still comprehend Tong Yulan despite being a little intoxicated.

Yun Jian agreed as well.

Opening the door of the karaoke booth, three of them headed out.

It was normal for someone to go to the washroom in the middle of the party, so the exit of the three girls did not garner too much attention. Yun Yi took a glance at them but did not sense any oddity either.

After all, he would never expect someone to plot against his younger sister. Furthermore, said person would also require the capability to harm her since she was exceptionally skilled!

Liu Xiuxiu, Yun Jian, Chen Xinyi, and Tong Yulan had only taken two steps out of the karaoke place before a few big burly men charged toward them.

“You...” Tong Yulan was alarmed but her mouth was covered by the men at once.

Her exclaim thus was lost in the bustling and boisterous karaoke scene.

The men easily tied the three girls up and muted them with black tape over their mouths, successfully abducting them.

Yun Jian did not resist, pretending to have been drugged and was weak and pliable. She let herself be brought away along with Chen Xinyi and Tong Yulan who were panicking.

Chapter 186: Are You Sure? Untying The Ropes

The men were obviously seasoned, most probably criminals for similar jobs, as they were experienced.

The men easily tied Yun Jian’s hands and feet as she did not put up a fight.

Due to the tape on their mouth, all three girls were unable to make a sound.

As they were captured and taken out of the karaoke place along the way, no passerby would help them even if they saw them. After all, no one wanted unnecessary troubles.

After seizing the girls, the men threw them into a van and drove off.

The abduction seemed stealthy and untraceable but it was actually filled with loopholes.

“Mm! Mm! Mm!” Tong Yulan’s eyes were widened in terror. She was horrified.

She was only taking Chen Xinyi and Yun Jian to find Liu Xiuxiu at the entrance so that the latter could apologize to the younger girls. What was happening now? Why were they kidnapped?

Tong Yulan was naïve. She was also foolish. She had yet to connect all the dots.

“Shut up!” Seeing that Tong Yulan was struggling ceaselessly, one of the men shouted at her in Mandarin.

These men were from Country Z as well.

The shout intimidated Tong Yulan. She had never encountered a scene like this. Panicking and petrified, tears streamed down her face.

Chen Xinyi, on the contrary, did not make a sound. She did not look panicky nor terrorized. As for Yun Jian, she was ideal, not at all appearing like she was abducted. She instead seemed to just be driven around.

After making countless turns, the van finally stopped at a dark vacant wilderness.

“Take them down here!” The man who had shouted at Tong Yulan just now seemed to be the leader as he ordered the rest around.

Yun Jian, Chen Xinyi, and Tong Yulan were then jostled off the van and made to stand in a row.

The leader of the thugs picked at his nose and gave a wave, causing the two gnarly men beside the girls to tear off the tape covering their mouths respectively.

“You... Who are you people?” Tong Yulan asked in a terrified sob with bulging eyes.

“Who are you people? Hahaha! People who will screw you!” The burly man cackled lewdly as his gaze roamed over three of the girls in a suggestive manner.

Yun Jian, Chen Xinyi, and Tong Yulan were pretty. They had a sense of delicateness to their features and each was a beauty in their own way. Moreover, they were lean and shapely.

Just looking at them was enough for the men to feel an itch.

“You – you can’t do this. We bear no grudges...” Tong Yulan was already sobbing.

“No grudges? Haha, girlie, you’ll have to blame yourself for believing others too easily! You weren’t part of our plans but since you’re here, it’s your unlucky day!” the burly man who was the leader said while he unclasped his belt.

What he said was worth pondering. Their initial victims were only Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi but to prevent Tong Yulan from informing someone, they could only capture her too.

“Bro, the camera’s ready.” A man who squinted his eyes lustfully told the burly man from the side as he, too, scanned the girls like a predator.

“Haha, you record the process. I want the middle one. You guys take care of the other two!” The burly man stared at Yun Jian and removed his belt as he walked over to her.

He looked absolutely depraved.

There was no doubt that Yun Jian was the prettiest and stood out among the three.

“Are you sure you want me?” Yun Jian raised her brow and questioned back after she heard what the burly man said.

The man was taken aback, not expecting Yun Jian to be unafraid when she caught in this predicament. However, he did not think much of it. He went to her with a crude grin. "Beautiful one, it's you, you can't get away! I have my eyes on you today, it's your..."

Before he could utter the word "honor", he stopped dead in his tracks.

The man had already taken off his pants and was only wearing his underwear now.

The reason that he froze in his steps was that Yun Jian was now standing up and playing with the rope that tied her hands and feet.

"You! How could you untie the ropes..." The burly man and his accomplices were all dumbstruck.

Chapter 187: This Is His End, Severed Members

No one had seen when Yun Jian's wrists flicked behind her back as a blade appeared in her hand. With a slice at the ropes, the flimsy material broke.

"You mean this?" Yun Jian stood up with a savage smirk, holding with one hand the ropes that had tied her but were cut off in a slash.

"You guys tied it too loose so it snapped," Yun Jian blinked and said with a raise of her brow.

She then tossed the ropes to where the men were.

"Too loose?" How was that possible! The burly man gasped.

He had purposefully checked for the tightness and secureness in the car before leaving, in fear that they would break free of the restraint. Even a bull would not be able to escape the binding, what was more, Yun Jian was drugged. So how did she do it!

The men had obviously believed that the girl was drugged. Even if they were as powerful as bulls, they would still be in a weakened state. Why did Yun Jian appear to be unaffected by the spiked wine?

"It's now time to settle our scores." Yun Jian cracked her knuckles, making crisp and clear sounds from her bones.

It made the men anxious.

"Hah, so what when you've broken free from the ropes?" The men quickly realized that Yun Jian was just a small girl.

So what if she was not drugged? So what if she had untied herself from the restraint?

Could a big group of men like them not handle a girl like her?

The burly man thought to himself, reveling in the fact that he would earn a handsome commission when he passed the video to Liu Xiuxiu after he had his turn with all three girls.

What could Yun Jian do despite untying herself?

"Pretty little thing, come over to me yourself if you're clever. I'll make sure to give you lots of love. Otherwise, I'll make you regret ever being born!" The burly man rubbed his hands together and cackled.

He had no idea that his words had crossed Yun Jian's boundary.

Yun Jian was never a merciful soul.

The burly man's crude words toward her was something she could not accept. More crucially, did he say he'd make her, Slaying God, regret ever being born?

Heh, it had been a long time since she heard something so funny.

The last person who had said the same thing was sent to hell such a long time ago that the weeds at his grave were probably one foot tall.

Yun Jian promised to lower her profile if they were in Longmen City or the school, but now that they were out of Country Z, she could not guarantee her caution to stay low.

"Hah." Yun Jian scoffed. The belligerence that erupted from her chilled the burly man to his core.

Through the man's ego, however, he stood his ground without budging, tipping his chin superiorly.

After the scoff, Yun Jian suddenly headed toward the man. Her stride was slow but it gave those watching goosebumps.

The burly man could not help swallowing. "You – what are you doing..."

"Since you like to do this so much, let me give you a hand!" Yun Jian narrowed her eyes as she came to the front of the man before she suddenly picked up her pace.

While the man's eyes were flitting around in a panic, she kicked him up into the air as a flying dagger flashed a gleam.

The sudden brandishing of the blade shocked everyone.

In the next second, the burly man's shrill cries were heard. "Ah! Ah! My – my..."

When the other men turned around, they saw him holding his groin with scarlet blood staining his pants.

The men could not help clamping their legs together.

Yun Jian's devilish warning drifted into their ears. "This is your fate for coming after me! Who else wants to give it a try?"

Chapter 188: Can't Be Too Naïve. Countering The Scum

The dagger that Yun Jian threw had struck the burly man's members!

She has severed his possibility of producing any kids!

The men who were with the burly man looked at Yun Jian in terror. The lustful covet in their gazes were gone, replaced by dread as if they had seen the devil.

No, Yun Jian was the demon herself!

No one dared disbelieve what Yun Jian said.

“We’re wrong! We’re at fault! Please, spare us!” The one who was the first to beg for mercy was the man who was responsible for recording videos with the prepared camera.

Once he pleaded, the underlings of the burly man followed suit.

They were not fools. The burly man did not even have a chance to struggle when Yun Jian had kicked him flying and cut off his members with a toss of her dagger just now. They were not going to wait until they met the same fate before begging for mercy.

Yun Jian ignored the men and turned to untie Chen Xinyi and Tong Yulan who was staring at her in terror.

Having been kidnapped the last time and probably because Yun Jian was around, Chen Xinyi was not as afraid. It was Tong Yulan who was stupefied after being untied. After all, it was her first time to witness Yun Jian’s skill.

After freeing the girls, Yun Jian stood herself before the begging men. At that moment, she did not look like an average middle schooler. Instead, she felt like a supreme king.

“You guys were on his side just now. Why shouldn’t I treat all of you like how I did to him!” Yun Jian was exuding hostility and rage, speaking as she pointed at the burly man who had fainted after rolling on the ground in pain.

Instantaneously, she raised a hand and another blade appeared in her palm.

While the group was surprised that she had manifested another dagger like a magic trick, the men could not help clamping their legs together tighter, recalling what just happened.

“No, no!” The man who handled the camera just now shouted and slyly thought of an idea to get himself out of the plight. He shouted at Yun Jian, “As long as you let us go, I’ll tell you who set you girls up!”

Yun Jian had long known who was behind it, but to let the innocent Tong Yulan understand the whole picture, she feigned oblivion, asking instead, “Who is it?”

“It’s – it’s a girl named Liu Xiuxiu!”

As expected, Tong Yulan jolted when she heard the truth personally, recalling the past happenings.

“It’s Xiuxiu, how could it be her! Why is she setting us up!” The color drained from Tong Yulan’s face immediately.

Yun Jian only wanted to let Tong Yulan know that one must not be so naïve in this world, lest she not even realize that she was deceived by someone around her. She had never thought about consoling Tong Yulan or doing anything similar to that nature.

She looked at the men with a smirk and said, “It’s not like I can’t let you guys go. As long as you do something for me.”

...

In the karaoke, Yun Yi was pulling on his jacket anxiously to go on a search for his younger sister. He had asked a girl to check the female washroom after seeing that Yun Jian had not been back after so long only for her to say that it was empty.

Returning to the booth after confirming Yun Jian and the girls were caught, Liu Xiuxiu who had pretended to come back from the washroom wore a smirk.

“Beep, beep...”

Her phone flashed.

Liu Xiuxiu opened the message and saw the text she received, “It’s done. The video is recorded too. It’s absolutely obscene! We filmed all three of them, is that scandalous enough?! Heh heh, we’re in room 3011 in Ligue Hotel. You can come here to take the video now!”

Chapter 189: Try Laying A Finger On His Person

Liu Xiuxiu stood up immediately when she saw that the dirty job was done. She left the karaoke with a sloppy excuse and headed to the hotel mentioned in the text.

Currently, Liu Xiuxiu was only thinking about the task being accomplished. She did not even consider the reason why the men wanted to pass her the video recording at a hotel.

With glee, she went on her way, already impatient to see the video of Chen Xinyi who dared shouted at her. She also could not wait for Yun Jian, who was offensively pretty, being taken turns by the men, as well as the aftermath when the video was spread.

Liu Xiuxiu was not even aware of the trauma an incident like this would bring to an ordinary girl, given it became a reality. She was perhaps doing it only for the temporary high of revenge.

Standing before room 3011 of Ligue Hotel, Liu Xiuxiu knocked on the door with a thrill.

The door opened at once.

“Come in, the video is inside,” the man who came to open the door told her indifferently.

Without any skepticism and even assuming that this exchange was supposed to be dealt in secret, Liu Xiuxiu stepped in and closed the door herself.

Right after she entered, the man covered her mouth and called out toward the room. “Bros, come out. This girl caused our boss to lose his members and almost made us go through the same sh*t. We’re all douchebags if we aren’t screwing her until she’s crying and begging us for mercy today!”

A row of men who were only wearing their underwear walked out from the inside of the room, staring at Liu Xiuxiu in both lust and anger. They were the burly man’s subordinates.

“Mm! Mm!” Liu Xiuxiu whose mouth was covered shook her head vehemently with widened eyes filled with terror as she stared at the men who were closing in on her.

She finally had a taste of hopeless despair.

The room was swiftly filled with the men’s vulgar cackles and the girl’s hopeless cries and pleas.

Outside, Yun Jian, Chen Xinyi, and Tong Yulan watched Liu Xiuxiu enter the room before the uninhibited sexual moans and blood-curdling shrieks sounded from it.

“Have we... gone... over the line...” Tong Yulan was shaking with a lowered head, she was terrified. Everything that happened tonight would be impossible to wipe away from her mind for the rest of her life.

“Over the line?” Yun Jian raised a brow and chortled coldly. “If you don’t go over the line, that person doomed in the room right now would’ve been you.”

Without further elaboration, Yun Jian left with Chen Xinyi, leaving Tong Yulan who was at a loss wearing her ashen face.

...

In an unnamed country in the south, Si Yi with his right-hand men, Ya Dang and Mo Sen, were checking into a hotel.

They were preparing for their expedition to the catacomb tomorrow.

“Beep, beep.” Mo Sen’s laptop made two blinks before he picked it up and placed it in front of Si Yi.

“Someone is harming her?” There was a frown on Si Yi’s handsome face when he read what was on the laptop screen.

He was not around but what Yun Jian had been doing recently was all within his knowledge.

“Yes, but she’s severed that person’s member,s and that girl received her karma as well,” Mo Sen reported without emotion.

Si Yi stood up suddenly. Rage consumed him when he heard that someone was trying to harm Yun Jian just now.

“Only severed his members? Send someone to kill that group of men. As for the girl... sell her into prostitution. Since she likes it so much, let her be there for the rest of her life!”

How dare they try to lay a finger on his person!

Chapter 190: Returning To Country Z And Finding Lu Haoze

Liu Xiuxiu who was currently wretched to rock-bottom right now did not know that there was a more fatal storm awaiting her.

All this was due to her impulsive grudge, spurring the irrational decisions and getting on the wrong people’s nerves.

On Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi’s way back to the karaoke, they met Yun Yi who was anxiously looking for them outside.

Both of them had been gone for over an hour but no one in the karaoke realized it. As Yun Jian’s elder brother, Yun Yi was reluctant to disrupt the merry atmosphere of the group. Moreover, he was worried about his sister since this was a foreign country and not Longmen City, so he went out alone to look for her.

It was then he met Yun Jian and Chen Xinyi walking shoulder to shoulder on the pedestrian walkway.

Yun Yi ran over, his tall build blocking the girls.

“Where have you girls gone just now?” Yun Yi panted. It was obvious that he had been searching for them for some time as he tried to catch his breath while asking the girls in worry.

“We thought that the karaoke was too noisy and kinda boring, and we’re going back to Longmen City tomorrow, so we thought to come out for a stroll, right, Xinyi?” Yun Jian had discussed and agreed on the excuse with Chen Xinyi earlier, knowing that Yun Yi would worry if he knew the truth. Therefore, the lie came out smoothly when she spoke now.

“Right – right!” Chen Xinyi was still not quite used to lying but she chorused what Yun Jian said.

Not noticing the latter’s reaction, Yun Yi was only breathing in relief when he found both girls.

He then told Yun Jian seriously, “Xiao Jian, you can’t just go out on your own without saying a word. I’ll be worried. At least let me know when you’re heading out next time!”

Met with Yun Yi’s genuine concern, Yun Jian felt warmth enveloping her as she nodded. “I know.”

Yun Yi replied with a nod as well before the three of them went back to the karaoke.

Liu Xiuxiu did not return throughout the night.

It was imaginable just how harrowing the night had been for her.

Until the next evening when they were taking the flight back to Longmen City, Yun Jian and her peers did not see Liu Xiuxiu. Miss Ding mentioned her, however, explaining that her parents had picked her up during the night as something had happened to her.

The teachers were not able to speak much about what happened to her.

In addition, Liu Xiuxiu did not have much of a presence. Other than Yun Jian, Chen Xinyi and Tong Yulan who knew the truth, no one else was interested in the girl’s whereabouts.

Before they boarded the flight, Lawson and his playful friends came to bid farewell to Yun Jian.

He declared confidently, “I, Lawson, will win you the next time!”

Yun Jian approved someone forthright like Lawson, someone who would never play a trick or scheme behind his opponent’s back.

She merely replied to him with a squint, “I’ll be waiting.”

The moment they stepped into the plane bound for Country Z, it marked the end of the week-long study abroad trip.

The students had learned a lot, struck with enlightenment during the days they studied in Country Y.

Upon their return to Longmen City, the school had given Yun Jian and her peers a few days off school so they could readjust themselves. Therefore, Yun Jian made a beeline between the military training camp and her house during the leave.

She found Lu Haoze as well, the boy who knew that she had employed hypnotism.

Lu Haoze was a sophomore, and the high school that he studied at was the same one that Yun Jian's cousin, Qin Fenger attended.

During school dismissal of Tanxi Senior High School on a Friday, Yun Jian stood at the school gate with her arms crossed in front of her chest. Her pretty face and slim figure attracted plenty of eyeballs.

In spite of it, she was waiting for Lu Haoze.