

Schoolgirl 991

Chapter 991: Alluring Demon's Here—Ms. CEO

What Ge Xuan said felt like tidal waves that washed over Shan Tiansheng and friends. It was nothing a regular person could empathize with.

Out of instinct, Shan Tiansheng and the guys had thought that Yun Jian was here with her elder brother Ge Xuan to join the fun and watch the race. When Ge Xuan exaggeratingly told them about what happened previously, however, their jaws dropped like they had seen a ghost.

All of them were racers, so they were well aware of the importance of being physically fit as a qualified racer.

What about Yun Jian here? Well, she had gotten much more filled up compared to when she was just rebirthed. She was as thin as a stick during that reborn period. Although she had put on more weight now, she was shapely and in a regular size where she looked great both with and without clothes.

She looked rather skinny, however, and that raised doubts with Shan Tiansheng and others. Moreover, racers were usually males.

Professional car racing was flirting with death, so people who usually involved themselves were guys. Not only was Yun Jian thin, she was a girl. It sounded like a joke for a girl to race.

When they heard what Ge Xuan said, they did not think that it was a joke or feel funny anymore.

“Oh my gosh! Xiao Xuanxuan, your little sis is amazing!” Shan Tiansheng’s reaction was the most intense as his arms flailed in a dramatic manner looking at Yun Jian.

After that, he patted his chest and told Ge Xuan, “Haha, I’ll see if I can pull some strings and get it done for you. If it can’t work, I won’t be able to help it...”

“Mn, no problem. I appreciate that you’d help my sister out. Bros for life!” Ge Xuan gave Shan Tiansheng’s chest a punch and laughed heartily.

“Heh, alright. Little girl, let’s go! I’ll drive you guys to the circuit and we’ll head over to the circuit earlier!” Shan Tiansheng called Yun Jian a little girl without much thought and laughed as he spoke.

Yun Jian did not mind it even though it sounded odd to her ears for the guy to call her a little girl.

The racetrack was not far from where they were. Shan Tiansheng took them to the destination shortly with his car.

The organizer of the racetrack had prepared cars for the race, and Shan Tiansheng was driving a van where he could pick up more people at a time.

Just as they entered the racetrack, the group was astonished by the merry and busy atmosphere they were greeted with. Whether it was the bleachers or the circuit, it was almost a dozen times larger than the ones in Longmen City. The scale was much more massive.

“Let’s take a seat over there! The race hasn’t started yet!” Shan Tiansheng led the group to the bleachers once they were inside.

“You guys head there first. I have something else to do,” Yun Jian said and pressed her lips together as she waved her phone at them.

“Huh? Little girl, what other matters could you have?” Shan Tiansheng was puzzled. Yun Jian was not familiar with the place, what could she possibly need to attend to?

“Sister Jian!” A crisp, mature female voice rang suddenly when the guys were curious about what matter would require Yun Jian’s attention.

Hearing the voice, Yun Jian turned around knowing that Alluring Demon was here.

Alluring Demon had seen her current appearance as she had met her not too long ago, so it was not surprising that the former could recognize her now.

The person coming toward the group was an alluring and sensual-looking woman—Alluring Demon.

She came to Yun Jian briskly but when Shan Tiansheng and others caught a clear look of her, they were stunned, even their breathing paused.

“Dime—Dime And Prime’s CEO? A-are you one of the organizers of this race? What brings you here?” Shan Tiansheng was dumbstruck.

The others were shocked as well when they managed to react.

Why was Dime And Prime Company’s CEO, Alluring Demon, here? She also called Yun Jian... Sister Jian?

Chapter 992: Let’s Race. A Comeback

Alluring Demon was hot, to put it simply. Her flawless figure was voluptuous and tantalizing; in addition to her sultry face, her charm was out of the world no matter how one saw it.

Unlike Snake.Lizard’s coquette, Alluring Demon was exactly like her name—an alluring she-devil.

Her pseudonym was Alluring Demon and she went by the same name usually too. She did not use a first or last name but anyone in the business knew that she was Alluring Demon. The CEO of Dime and Prime Company was simply known as Alluring Demon.

Shan Tiansheng and the others studied at the local university there, so they had relevant general knowledge. The CEO of Dime And Prime Company, Alluring Demon, was always making public appearances as well; even if one had never met her, one could see her on Country M’s international news headlines. They had also heard that Dime And Prime Company was one of the biggest organizers of the international race held tonight.

Hence, it was already an admirable composure from Shan Tiansheng and the rest when they did not faint from the shock upon recognizing Alluring Demon after she appeared and watching her go to Yun Jian addressing the latter as “Sister Jian”.

Since Shan Tiansheng and others were together with Yun Jian, Alluring Demon turned slightly to the former and nodded at him when he exclaimed as he stared at her.

There was no doubt that Alluring Demon was the most successful example of a female entrepreneur. Shan Tiansheng and his friends had discussed her a long time ago and seen her as their idol.

When Alluring Demon nodded at Shan Tiansheng, he felt the electrifying thrill of being noticed by his idol.

Ge Xuan who stood there watched the entire scene in surprise as well. How did his younger sister know Alluring Demon, the CEO of Dime And Prime Company?

Alluring Demon was at the top in terms of status and authority! As for Yun Jian? She was only Ge Xuan's younger sister to Shan Tiansheng and his friends. At most, she was a student who came from some unknown poverty-stricken place in Country Z.

How did these two people who had shared nothing in common know each other?

While Shan Tiansheng, Ge Xuan and their friends were dumbfounded, Alluring Demon came to Yun Jian.

"Sister Jian," she greeted Yun Jian again.

"Mn." Yun Jian nodded slightly. She then winked at Alluring Demon and led them toward the bleachers. "Let's take a seat over there."

"Sure." Alluring Demon obeyed easily.

Watching Alluring Demon go with Yun Jian, Shan Tiansheng actually went to sit at the bleachers with Yun Jian even though it was already time for him to go to the tracks.

This was Alluring Demon! The CEO of Dime And Prime Company Alluring Demon! Their idol!

After spectating the race from the bleachers for a while, it was soon time for Shan Tiansheng to go as his race was coming up.

Alluring Race suddenly stood up and turned to Yun Jian. Her tall height emphasized her coquettish sultriness. She faced the girl and asked her, "Sister Jian, what do you think about racing together?"

Two years ago when Yun Jian was still Slaying God, she frequently raced with Alluring Demon. Back then, the latter was famed in the car racing sphere. That was also one of the reasons Shan Tiansheng saw Alluring Demon as his idol.

It was just that Alluring Demon had never raced again after Slaying God disappeared later.

People in the racing sphere guessed the reason that made Alluring Demon stop the thrilling activity that she loved the most but none managed to find out.

Now, the CEO of Dime And Prime Company, the once remarkable racer, was asking Yun Jian to race with her? W-what?

Shan Tiansheng who had not gone far yet, and Ge Xuan who was still rooted to his spot, were stunned.

Chapter 993: Just A Coincidence. Let's Have The Time Of Our Lives

Fortunately, no one around them recognized Alluring Demon. Otherwise, her popularity would have made the racers present go berserk in cheers and exclamation.

The racer Alluring Demon who was once famed had now retired from the scene.

When she was a racer, it was also when she started managing Dime And Prime Company.

Racers wanted to compete with Alluring Demon but those who got to do it were rare and few in between. Moreover, those who had raced her before would never get a second chance to do it. Despite that, there were still plenty of people who wanted to race with the ever famous Alluring Demon.

There was one exception, however.

As long as that person appeared, Alluring Demon would race her until the end of the world. Both of them could race a hundred or a thousand times and not get tired of it.

Other than said person, Alluring Demon had never invited someone to race her. That was why Shan Tiansheng and his friends were so shocked.

As for the person who qualified to race Alluring Demon over and over again, no one had ever seen her face. All people knew was that the person had long silky hair and was a female. Every time she appeared in public, she wore a mask and only showed her big inky eyes.

No one knew who she was, only that she was Alluring Demon's permanent racing partner. Wherever she was, Alluring Demon would be there as well. The most mysterious aspect of the person was that her racing ability was higher than Alluring Demon's! They were barely on the same level.

All the people in the racing sphere knew about such legendary person was that she had long hair and Alluring Demon called her SG.

After SG gained fame on the racetracks, countless paparazzi and reporters wanted to dig into her background but they found nothing ultimately. No one knew who SG was!

Nevertheless, countless racing fans had already taken SG as their idol.

It lasted until SG disappeared and Alluring Demon retired from the racing scene, breaking many racing fans' hearts back then.

What people could not figure out, even when they racked their head, was that the two letters were the initials of a name on the international chart—Slaying God!

Alluring Demon had left the racing sphere for a long time. When she stood up and invited Yun Jian to race, Shan Tiansheng straightened up his back automatically. Ge Xuan's eyes brightened up as well.

They were surprised and bewildered because no one had ever received an invitation from Alluring Demon other than the legendary SG. If Shan Tiansheng and Ge Xuan were asked to believe that Yun Jian was SG... That was not possible!

It must just be a coincidence! Perhaps it was because Yun Jian was really brilliant?

“Sure! We haven’t raced for two years. Let’s have the time of our lives today!” Yun Jian said with smiling crescent eyes.

Yun Jian had not planned to race initially. She came to Country M to check how Dime And Prime was doing. She was the director of the company, after all. It would be irresponsible to not ask about the company even though it was now ran by Alluring Demon.

Two years? Hold on... SG who raced with Alluring Demon disappeared two years ago too! Then Alluring Demon stopped racing altogether. Those who had raced with her could be counted in one hand as well...

In that case, Yun Jian who had raced before with Alluring Demon could be the legendary SG who Alluring Demon could not even compare to?

How was that possible? Yun Jian was SG?

Huh... Shan Tiansheng, Ge Xuan and their friends could not help being stunned as they thought about it.

Chapter 994: Returning To Racing, Starting The Match

While Shan Tiansheng and others were consumed with their thoughts, Yun Jian and Alluring Demon had hopped off the staircase of the bleachers to the ground effortlessly.

Yun Jian’s agility, once again, flummoxed Shan Tiansheng and the others. Shan Tiansheng, especially, had forgotten that he had a race to join upon witnessing the scene.

“Xiao Xuanxuan, what’s the deal with your baby sis? She knows the great Ms. CEO from Dime And Prime Company! And it looks like she’s pretty skilled too from how she jumped off the steps just now!” Shan Tiansheng sighed and asked with pursed lips.

“What are you thinking? No matter who she is, she’s my little sister!” Ge Xuan said and rapped Shan Tiansheng’s head for good measure. He paused before continuing to say, “Xiao Jian is truly an impressive girl. She’s currently serving as an Advanced Special Forces soldier under my dad’s troop.”

Shan Tiansheng was from Country Z but he was neither from Longmen City nor Zhe Province. He had no idea about the military and was understandably clueless about Team Monarch. One thing that he knew, however, was the Advanced Special Forces. Those who could make it into the ASF were undoubtedly the best of the best.

Hence, when Ge Xuan finished his sentence, Shan Tiansheng went to him and wrapped an arm around his shoulder before he exclaimed in bewilderment, “Wha—what? The Advanced Special Forces? Your sister? Holy moly...”

Shan Tiansheng was dazed despite speaking. He then snapped out of it.

“Wow, Xiao Xuanxuan. I didn’t expect you to find yourself an ASF little sister! This is shocking! Your sister is actually an ASF soldier...”

While Shan Tiansheng rambled, Ge Xuan swept his bro’s arm that was slung on his shoulder off with one hand. He was going to reply but the broadcasting speakers blared into life.

“Oh my god, is that Ms. CEO of Dime And Prime Company, Alluring Demon, who’s retired from the racing scene previously making a comeback? My eyes aren’t playing tricks on me, are they?”

The host of the international race was supposed to be mature and composed but from the gasp coming from the speakers—it was only understandable how much of an exhilaration Alluring Demon’s comeback to the car racing sphere was.

The gasp from the speakers was a female voice. Due to Alluring Demon’s comeback, the voice sounded incredibly surprised. Not long after the female voice blared through the speakers, a man took over the woman’s microphone and it was another host’s excited voice that rang aloud.

“After two years, our best racer, Alluring Demon, Ms. CEO of Dime And Prime Company, proudly returns to car racing!”

“Coming up next, our brilliant racer, Alluring Demon, will be going against a girl from Country Z who goes by the name Yun Jian. Let us welcome them with the warmest applause!”

Both the male and female commentators were Country M locals and spoke in English—not that it would pose a problem to Yun Jian and Alluring Demon, or Ge Xuan and Shan Tiansheng who had been residing in the same country. English was not an issue to them.

The hosts were obviously milking Alluring Demon for her popularity. The atmosphere had not been the most enthusiastic but once they mentioned that the spectacular racer, Alluring Demon, was making a comeback, the tens of thousands spectators screamed in cheers from the bleachers.

The night was easily brought to its climax.

Chapter 995: Daydreaming. A Terrifying Scene

“Oh my god! Alluring Demon’s coming back to racing! I’m not mistaken, right? Ahh! I’m her biggest fan!”

Someone from the bleachers was already grabbing their companion’s shoulders, laughing and shaking the poor person in a frenzy from sheer thrill.

“Alluring Demon’s back!”

The racetrack was in high spirits and the atmosphere reached its peak of excitement instantly.

Other than talking about Alluring Demon, people were also commenting on Yun Jian.

“Who’s the girl named Yun Jian? What’s she got to race with Alluring Demon? I’m not accepting anyone to do that aside from SG last time!”

“Yeah! Who’s that Yun Jian? How is she actually racing against our respectable Alluring Demon? She should leave racing once and for all!”

“That’s right! Yun Jian, leave racing once and for all!”

After the waves of admiration for Alluring Demon, another voice of opinion crested asking Yun Jian to leave car racing.

In truth, after SG raced Alluring Demon back then, any other racer who competed against Alluring Demon would be berated and insulted by fans of both SG and Alluring Demon. They would be lambasted, asked to leave car racing and claimed unworthy to be a racer.

Similar insults were hurled about recklessly.

Right now, the one at the height of it, being asked by the spectators to leave racing—Yun Jian, was wearing the racing helmet to prevent accidents. Said helmet could save the racer's life during unforeseen accidents, so legitimate races asked for their participants to put them on.

"Sister Jian, make sure to go easy on me later. I haven't done this for two years, so don't go all out on me. Save me some pride! Hah!" Alluring Demon threw a coquettish wink at Yun Jian and teased her with a chortle.

The race was international, so the organizers had prepared the sports cars. The quality of the cars was most certainly assured, and to be fair, both sports cars prepared by the organizers were the same brand and the same model.

This meant that racers could only rely on their skills to win when the cars they drove were the same.

"We do our best," Yun Jian said with a smile.

"Haha! Let's go! We can get ready at the circuit now!" Alluring Demon was not ruffled. Instead, she barked a laugh and drove the Bentley sports car the organizers provided with Yun Jian, slowly making their way to the tracks from the inspection point.

It was until Yun Jian and Alluring Demon drove away from the inspection point that some staff standing there gossiped in disdain.

"Pft, who did the girl think she is? Do their best? Did she really think she'd win Alluring Demon? Did she think she's SG?"

"Alluring Demon's just being tactful and she thought that she's a divine racer and would win her?"

"She's daydreaming!"

While the staff talked about Yun Jian and Alluring Demon, they saw two Bentley sports car bolting off from the starting line with a loud roar from the press of accelerator once the referee fired the gunshot.

One would only have to look at the car's color if one wanted to differentiate which Bentley Yun Jian was driving. She took the black one while Alluring Demon drove the silver one.

Once they sped off the starting line, Alluring Demon's silver sports car led the match. The scene only served to encourage the staff who thought that Yun Jian was being overconfident. However, the gossiping stopped halfway as the staff looked so shocked in the next second that their jaws nearly dropped.

A terrifying scene was happening right in the circuit...

Chapter 996: Alluring Demon Was Surpassed

Before Yun Jian and Alluring Demon stamped down on the accelerator and shot off with their cars, the spectators were going berserk on the bleachers. Similar sentiments like “Alluring Demon for the win! Yun Jian get out of racing!” could be heard thundering the venue.

Faced with such vehement cheers, Ge Xuan who was standing there and Shan Tiansheng who had yet to make a move to get ready for his race took in the situation with an appalled expression. After all, Yun Jian was with them.

Ge Xuan, especially, who treated Yun Jian like his actual younger sister, looked the most horrified at the unexpected backlash Yun Jian was receiving from the spectators. There was no way he felt alright as an older brother when his sister was being hurled insults and curses to ask her to get out of the racing scene.

Other than that, he was worried sick for Yun Jian. Alluring Demon was once the racing champion. Aside from the legendary SG, she had never lost to anyone! Under such circumstances, Ge Xuan’s worry was warranted. Yun Jian was skilled in racing, and Ge Xuan had firsthand experience about it, but to compare to Alluring Demon...

At the same time, the Bentley sports car Yun Jian and Alluring Demon drove bolted off the starting line. It was in a blink of eyes that the silver Bentley Alluring Demon drove charged out of the line in lead.

That caused the cheers and screams in the venue to roar into a new height.

“Ah! Alluring Demon for the win, Yun Jian get out of racing!”

Ge Xuan clasped both his hands together. Listening to everyone else around him lambast Yun Jian in such words, as a brother, he was really... For the first time, he felt helpless.

Just when Ge Xuan looked up slightly from hanging his head low, a terrifying scene greeted everyone at the venue.

Both sports cars had sped to a turn respectively. As they were about to make the turn, the black Bentley that was lacking behind suddenly swerved and hit the accelerator pedal the moment Alluring Demon’s silver Bentley was starting to brake.

It was usually unrealistic to overtake someone at a turn because of how dangerous it was. Even if it was regular driving, cutting someone at a turn was a risky move. Moreover, this was a race where they were going full speed; to not hit the brake at a turn but stomp down on the accelerator to speed up, Yun Jian was one of the very rare few who did it!

The spectators gripped the railing from the insane act as they lifted themselves up and widened their eyes in witnessing the shocking scene.

Was she trying to kill herself?

Tss!

The black Bentley Yun Jian was driving could be seen speeding up like a gust of wind when it made the turn. The car passed the silver Bentley that was slowing down in the shortest time but the highest speed.

Once the overtake was done, the black Bentley Yun Jian drove sped off to another turn and disappeared before everyone's eyes only to appear in the gigantic screen at the bleachers next.

Silence—pin-drop silence.

Then, the spectators' shrieks and cheers roared into life.

"Oh my god! She... she passed Alluring Demon? H-how's that... possible?"

"Alluring Demon's never been surpassed except by SG but today..."

The voices asking Yun Jian to leave racing vanished into thin air, replaced by frenzied shouts. Whether it was the staff who mocked Yun Jian for being arrogant, Shan Tiansheng, Ge Xuan, or the spectators at the bleachers, even the racers in their rest rooms, had all widened their eyes.

The scene put them in disbelief! Alluring Demon was surpassed!

Chapter 997: Has She Gone Crazy? She's SG

While the spectators squealed and shouted in ecstasy, Yun Jian was already leading ahead in her black Bentley against Alluring Demon. The latter did not back down without a fight either, hitting the accelerator to catch up with Yun Jian after she went way past her.

A wild thrill thrummed in Alluring Demon currently. She felt like she had found her earliest happiness in car racing and the initial passion she had for it. She was reminded again how it was the most exhilarating to race with SG—no exception!

Alluring Demon was over the moon.

The spectators on the bleachers were beyond themselves in excitement.

Although the race between Alluring Demon and Yun Jian was an impromptu slot-in, no racer opposed to the arrangement when they got to watch Alluring Demon's comeback.

What everyone could not have expected was Yun Jian leading some distance away in the front since the start! This was after Alluring Demon bolted off the starting line in lead too.

When Ge Xuan saw Yun Jian passing Alluring Demon, it was like he saw hope. He was buzzing with emotions.

"Yun Jian for the win! Yun Jian for the win!" Ge Xuan could not help shouting as he kept his eyes on the race.

Two cheers later, he realized that no one around him cared. They had even glanced at him coldly when they heard him.

That did not stop Ge Xuan from cheering. He nudged Shan Tiansheng's stomach with his elbow and forced the latter to cheer with him. Sometimes, the power of several people could affect the bigger crowd.

Ge Xuan's cheers enlivened the atmosphere.

Eventually, there were a few cheers alongside Ge Xuan when Yun Jian's car went past Alluring Demon. The spectators were divided into two troops. People roared and shouted from the bleachers, bringing the spirit in the racetrack to its highest point.

It was during then someone pointed at the large screen and shouted, "Guys, look! Over there!"

The person's voice was swiftly drowned by the cheering of the tens of thousands spectators on the bleachers, but everyone there saw the shocking scene.

Yun Jian and Alluring Demon were approaching the finishing line with their sports cars. Even though Alluring Demon was still lacking behind, she was right after Yun Jian's black Bentley.

As it looked like Alluring Demon's car could possibly pull ahead of Yun Jian's car in speed—and everyone's heart was lodged in their throat from the thrilling suspense, the black Bentley hit its brake out of the blue.

The sports car had been speeding in a terrifying 200km per hour velocity, so the abrupt braking would halt the car and the person inside before throwing them out due to sheer momentum.

"Has she gone crazy?" A member of the audience shrieked in terror.

It was at the same time a baffling turn of event took place.

The moment the black Bentley sports car halted, it tilted to the left. Simultaneously, the car skidded and spun from the momentum and was flung away in double the speed of its original highest velocity.

Everyone's heart almost dropped at the sight. Was the car going to be flipped upside down? They could not help thinking...

As soon as the thought entered their head, they saw the black Bentley Yun Jian drove bounced toward the finishing line like a released spring after it was flung away. Once the car reached the finishing line, it whirled on the spot in rounds before stopping in a harsh jerk.

Yun Jian... won.

Alluring Demon reached the finishing line about ten seconds later than her.

In spite of it, no cheer was heard from the crowd. Shock was no longer a word to describe what they currently felt. Why was the method that the black Bentley used just now so familiar?

"It's SG! I've seen the technique when SG raced before! She's SG! She's SG!" Someone who snapped out of the stupor blurted right away.

It made everyone sprang up in surprise. Yun Jian was SG? She was actually SG!

Chapter 998: Two Years Of Hiatus. The Thronging Of Reporters

Those who looked down on Yun Jian just now—the spectators on the bleachers who heard that Yun Jian and Alluring Demon were racing each other and insulted her to leave car racing, the staff at the inspection point who said Yun Jian was daydreaming for wanting to win Alluring Demon, or just Ge Xuan, Shan Tiansheng and others, all of them widened their eyes in shock as they watched the scene in complete bafflement.

The place was silent as everyone maintained the same expression—stunned. They were all in a stupor. No one had a regular straight face at that point of time, especially those who were disdainful about Yun Jian from the beginning; they were in a much bigger shock than others.

Had they seen it right? That girl who did not look like she was even 18 years old was actually SG?!

What had just happened disallowed anyone from not believing it, though. This was an international race and those who were present were fans of racing—ones who had spectated countless of races. Many of them were fans who used to watch SG race, so they were considerably familiar with her techniques. What Yun Jian had just shown was a frequent technique SG engaged during the last stretch in her race back then!

As racing fans, there was no way they would recognize it wrongly. After the lapse of silence, everyone broke into hoots and hurrahs.

The appearance of SG was even more exciting than the comeback of the top racer, Alluring Demon! What had shaken them most about today was that SG who was famed in the car racing field in the past but had never shown her real face was actually a young girl!

If SG was this young right now... how old was she two years ago? 13? 14?!

Goodness! Everyone choked in surprise from the deduced truth.

At the same time, the car door to the driver seat of the black Bentley sports car that was parked at the finishing line opened. Yun Jian's flawlessly delicate and pretty face was revealed to the spectators on the bleachers.

"SG! SG! SG!"

Someone shouted fervently from the bleachers, stirring the crowd and rousing the atmosphere to several hundred times more heated than earlier.

Yun Jian frowned a little at the united cheers but her delicate features only served to excite the crowd even more.

Tss!

Not too long later, Alluring Demon's silver Bentley sports car hit the brakes at the finishing line as well. She came out of the car looking incredibly cool and flung the door of the sports car closed.

She chuckled easily and went to Yun Jian. Running a hand through her hair from the top, she told Yun Jian while she walked, "Sister Jian, your technique is still as amazing even when you haven't raced for two years! Haha!"

"You've improved," Yun Jian commented with a squint.

She had never given compliments just to butter someone up. Anything that came out of her mouth was the absolute truth. Alluring Demon's racing skill had indeed improved. If it were two years ago, she would have been left way behind her.

"Hah! Of course!" Alluring Demon did not shy away from the praise either. Instead, she admitted it with grace.

While they talked, both of them left the circuit shoulder to shoulder. Once they stepped out of the tracks, a large group of reporters swarmed them with their cameras, rushing toward Yun Jian simultaneously.

"Hello! Are you SG who's suddenly disappeared two years ago? Do you know that Alluring Demon's left the racing scene too after you went missing? Can you explain why you'd leave racing back then?"

"Will you be returning to the car racing? Why haven't you shown your true face before this?"

Chapter 999: Pursued By The Reporters. Her Gaze

The reporters were like a colony of bees. If the security from the organizers had not stopped them, they would probably be pouncing at Yun Jian and asking her all sorts of questions now.

Fortunately, organizers had security in place to control the scary mob of reporters in international races like this. After all, the reporters could not overwhelm in order to gain first-hand headlines. In the past races, any racer who was slightly famed would be mobbed by these frightening reporters.

In order to do as much crowd control to the group of reporters now, the organizers had sent security guards to hold them back. Nonetheless, there were simply too many of them. Even with the security team deployed, not all the paparazzi could be stopped.

The area was as close to chaotic as it could get but the commotion felt like nothing had happened to Yun Jian. She merely squinted.

"Hi! Hello! Can you answer my question? Will you come back to car racing as SG still?"

"Do you think..."

As fervent as the threats thrown to ask Yun Jian to leave car racing from the bleachers were in the beginning, the current mannerism of these reporters was several hundred times more fanatic than those people.

"Sister Jian, let's leave through the racetrack's backdoor," Alluring Demon told Yun Jian in a bare whisper and a nod after shuffling close to her.

"Mn," Yun Jian nodded and hummed a reply.

"Are you leaving, SG? Will you be returning to racing? You..." The reporters panicked when they saw Yun Jian turning without leaving them a word.

Ignoring them, Yun Jian turned slightly and paused, leaving the reporters with the view of her back. Her pretty lips were tugged into a smirk as a glint flashed in her eyes. In the next second, her melodious voice rang.

“I’ll only answer one question from you.”

She took a pause before her voice sounded steadily. “What does it have to do with all of you whether I race or not? Are you my parents? Why do you care so much?”

Yun Jian was not the slightest bit tactful or polite in what she said. The reporters had thought that she would actually answer something decently but her words practically meant that...

She was indirectly calling them reporters busybody!

Although her words were unpleasant—nothing of how a girl should behave, the racers farther away could not help feeling like applauding and cheering when they heard Yun Jian’s answer.

These racers had been constantly miffed by the reporters but standing among the sea of paparazzi, they could not lash out even when they loathed their interrogation. What Yun Jian did had thoroughly vented that anger for all of them.

As Yun Jian turned to leave after that, the reporters froze—a surprise that they did not go after her.

The reporters who were rooted to their spots had all seen Yun Jian’s gaze and were currently too shocked to do anything.

The girl’s gaze felt so icy... like they would die on the spot if they dared go after her.

The spectators were stunned when they saw the reporters stay put in their stupor and actually did not pursue Yun Jian after receiving the girl’s icy gaze.

Everyone was baffled.

Each time a racer completed their race, these reporters swarmed them like they had gone berserk just to get their hands on the latest dig. Yet today, all of them were intimidated to standing still in their spots by Yun Jian’s gaze!

Chapter 1000: Are You SG? Yun Jian Admits It

While the reporters were too stunned and intimidated to go after Yun Jian, she was already led away by Alluring Demon and left through the racetrack’s backdoor.

“Haha, those annoying paparazzi kept pestering you just now, Sister Jian. I was usually the target. But Sister Jian, your glare just now probably terrified all of them!”

Alluring Demon took Yun Jian through the backdoor of the racetrack to an open space where there was only a light source illuminating the surrounding and guffawed in a carefree manner.

It was nothing like Alluring Demon’s sensual image.

Although Alluring Demon had a seductive appearance, that exterior was only a façade to the outsiders. She was never the bewitching seductress when she was with Yun Jian.

“Mn.” Although Yun Jian had only hummed flatly with a nod, the small curl of her lips was evident that she was responding to Alluring Demon’s comment.

Yun Jian had always been one to speak whatever that came to mind, so to be honest, it gave her a headache to face those reporters. It would be fine if she kept quiet but once she spoke up, it scared the reporters away easily.

“Yun Jian!” The voice of a guy rang loud and clear when Yun Jian and Alluring Demon got to the door of the racetrack.

From where they were at the entrance of the racetrack, the enthusiastic cheering from the bleachers inside of the venue could still be heard. It was telling that yet another exciting race had begun.

Even though it was not as thrilling as the one between Yun Jian and Alluring Demon, they could feel the simmering of ecstasy from the spectators.

In comparison, the entrance of the racetrack felt a little lonely. There was only a light source around the area that lit up the place and it felt rather abandoned.

Despite that, Yun Jian did not share the same sentiment. She twirled slightly to the source of the voice and saw Ge Xuan waving his hand at her. Coming with him were a few of his friends like Shan Tiansheng who was walking in front.

That guy’s race was coming up but he looked like he was far more eager to come see Yun Jian than to get ready for it.

Yun Jian halted in her track when she heard Ge Xuan. Alluring Demon who saw her stopping paused as well.

“Phew! Yun... Yun Jian... You...” Shan Tiansheng was still panting when he ran over to them. Taking in a deep breath, he quickly adjusted his emotions.

“Yun Jian, are you really SG?” It was only then he voiced out the question Ge Xuan and others had been meaning to ask as well.

It was just that Shan Tiansheng paused after the question and backtracked. “No, I don’t mean anything else. It’s because I admire Alluring Demon and SG so much that I—”

“I am,” Yun Jian answered frankly.

Faced with the reporters’ interview earlier, Yun Jian did not answer whether she was SG or not, so Shan Tiansheng and others had gone after her just to receive an ultimate reply—yes or no.

Although they were somewhat ready for it, they were still dumbstruck when they received the answer. Ge Xuan, however, pulled Shan Tiansheng in naturally by his shoulder and said in a boasting tone, “That’s only expected of her. I finally know why Master Corinton calls her S now and why he’d want to become her disciple...”

“What? Master Corinton? Xiao Xuanxuan, you mean the ever famous top engineer of the world, Master Corinton? Master Corinton wants to seek apprenticeship under Yun Jian? Wha...”

Shan Tiansheng and others had yet the chance to hear this from Ge Xuan, so they were baffled when they were told now.
