

《Sweet Daily Life With Rich Fool Husband》

Chapter 37

After a series of examinations, the doctor made a diagnosis: "Mrs. Jiang, your husband's illness is not a day or two, and the oil has dried up. Do you know?"

Su wanwan took Jiang Chengzhan and Xu Hongmei to listen to the doctor's diagnosis, "every organ of the human body is like those machines that keep running. They all have a service life and will stop working one day.

That's what the old man's disease is like. What the doctors can do now is to delay the expiration time of those machines as much as possible, but they can't make them work again like new machines. "

Su wanwan understood that Mr. Jiang was more than eighty years old after all. To put it bluntly, that is to say, his life span is up.

It's good for him to survive until now when he thinks of his young wife's death, his old son's death, and his only beloved grandson in his old age.

Thinking of his thin appearance just now, I felt uncomfortable.

She had only her father before, and had never experienced the birth and death of such relatives, but she knew that her grandfather was the one who loved Jiang Chengzhan the most in the world. If even he left, Jiang Chengzhan would be a lonely family.

Jiang Chengzhan was very anxious when he heard the doctor's words: "what should I do? Will my grandfather die? Doctor, you must have a way. We have money. We have money. You must save my grandfather."

The doctor looked at him in embarrassment: "I really tried my best. Now I'd better take care of myself as much as possible."

Jiang Chengzhan took Su wanwan's arm and said, "wife, please tell the doctor quickly and let him save my grandfather."

"Let him save my grandfather."

Su wanwan felt sad, but on the surface, she even pretended to be calm. She took his hand to comfort him and said, "don't worry, the doctor will try his best. Don't worry, don't worry."

Jiang Chengzhan saw Su late a few seconds, suddenly left her to go out angrily, "I go to see my grandfather."

"Ah, zhanbao --" Su wanwan looked back at the doctor, a little embarrassed, bent down and nodded his head, turned and ran after him.

"Zhan Bao, don't worry. Don't worry." Su wanwan catches up with Jiang Chengzhan and grabs him by the arm. "It's normal for grandfather to be old and not in good health. Don't worry."

When Jiang Chengzhan enters the ward, the old man just wakes up and looks at Jiang Chengzhan with turbid eyes. It takes a long time for him to react that he is his precious grandson.

In fact, when his son was still alive, he found out that he was sick. But at that time, his son was seriously ill, and his grandson had no foundation, so he had to hold on.

The company has always been managed by his son. He has let go for many years. Seeing his grandson take over the company, he is doing well. He thinks he can finally breathe a sigh of relief.

Go underground early to meet the old lady. She has been waiting alone for decades.

But

The only baby grandson also had a car accident. How can he accept it?

The company really has no energy to deal with it, so it can only give it to the younger son, hoping that the grandson will live well.

He was just waiting for his grandson to get better and be strong enough to protect himself.

Unfortunately

The old man stretched out his hand and motioned Jiang Chengzhan to go. He didn't know what Jiang Chengzhan was thinking and stood in the same place.

Su wanwan's heart is sour. He sees the old man pushing Jiang Chengzhan: "my grandfather calls you."

Jiang Chengzhan then went to the bedside, took the old man's hand and squatted down. His voice was sandy and dumb, "grandfather."

Su wanwan turns around and presses her eyes. She always feels suffocated in the room.

The old man holds Jiang Chengzhan in one hand and points to Su wanwan with the other hand. Su wanwan hesitates for a moment and goes over to seize the old man's hand.

The old man laughed and was very pleased. He struggled to say, "it's too late..."

"Ah," Su wanwan moved forward to listen to the old man.

The old man continued to say that his speaking speed was very slow. He felt that every word seemed to be overdrawn his life: "grandfather didn't read the wrong person. You are a good girl. You have done well this year. Grandfather knows..."

"Don't say it, Grandpa," sobbed Sue, trying to stop him.

The old man shook his head. "If I don't say it again, I'm afraid I won't have a chance. You let me finish."

Jiang Chengzhan lowers his head and wipes his eyes with the back of his hand. Su can only let the old man finish his words.

Mr. Jiang: "a year ago, you told me that if you have a mouthful, you won't starve Chengzhan and will take good care of him. You did it. You are a good daughter-in-law of the Jiang family."

Su wanwan felt that she was going to be unable to hold on.

The old man said to Jiang Chengzhan, "Chengzhan, do you hear me? My grandfather has chosen a good daughter-in-law for you. You must take good care of her in the future, you know?"

Jiang Chengzhan nodded hoarsely, "well, I know."

The old man took a deep breath, "my grandfather wanted to wait for you to have a child, and he wanted to have a look at my great grandson. Alas, in fact, it's just like that. I've tried my best to you, and you'll live a good life in the future."

After finishing this time, he gasped for a long time before he made a voice again,

"evening, you go to the door to guard, I want to say a few words with Chengzhan alone."

"Oh," Su wanwan nodded stupidly, released Jiang Chengzhan's hand and stood up, "then you say."

After closing the door, Su wanwan stood at the door and left his time for his grandparents and grandchildren.

Xu Hongmei hasn't come from the doctor's office yet, so it's estimated that there won't be any reversal.

The old man's illness is not a day or two. It seems that his time is coming.

Thinking that no one will protect Jiang Chengzhan in the future, and that the company is still controlled by Jiang Yushen, Jiang Chengzhan may still be silly. Su wanwan's heart seems to be twisted by something.

All this had nothing to do with her. She just crossed over and became his wife by mistake.

But this year, she can say without scruple, is the happiest year in her life.

"Oh, isn't this my beautiful nephew's daughter-in-law?" All of a sudden, a sadistic voice comes. Su wanwan, who is lowering her head to think about something, is scared to death.

"Why, the old man is not in good health. He has moved out to hide himself. Now he's pretending to be a filial son and a virtuous grandson?"

Jiang Yushen looks at Su wanwan's eyes, angry, want to infringe the obscenity of the idea to show very thoroughly.

A woman's long skirt outlines her slender waist, soft and resilient.

She is very beautiful, with bright red lips and picturesque eyes. Her face is as white as snow, delicate and moist. People want to take a bite when they see her.

Before, in order to satisfy his craving, he hooked up with Su Xiaoxiao, but after playing for several times, he got tired of it and always felt that the taste was wrong.

If you can replace Su Xiaoxiao in your arms with Su wanwan and let him ravage him, he thinks it's worth dying.

Hate teeth itch in the heart, constantly swear, sooner or later to get the little girl.

The man looks at her straightforwardly, Su wanwan is not stupid, so red fruit's eyes, how can she not feel.

But there was a patient living in the room. She didn't want to say anything more. She just gave him a hard look and pushed the door open.

Jiang Yushen and Xu Hongmei stand outside the door, two people look at each other, are secretly planning how to get the company's shares.

Xu Hongmei saw her son's squinting face and hated her teeth. She said in a low voice, "you are still in the mood to miss that girl. Your father is dying."

Jiang Yushen said: "it's not normal for him to die in his eighties!"

Xu Hongmei really wanted to give him a slap: "tell me what you have done this year. The company is not decent, and the family is not well managed. What should we do in the future?"

Jiang Yu took a deep look at the ward and said, "you don't have to worry about it. I have a way."

Xu Hongmei looked at him suspiciously: "what can you do?"

"It's not like last time..."

Silent for a few seconds, she warned like to say: "you don't give me to play the trick last time, the police are now chasing tight, if you find the witness, you will be finished, you know, you, fortunately I have been prepared to send people abroad."

Jiang Yushen said impatiently: "what, I used to wait for Su to go out late and fool around, but I can't catch the handle, but I ignore that fool. I don't believe that fool. He only knows Su late and doesn't look straight when he sees other pretty girls."

Xu Hongmei understood, "I think it's OK. I'll see how Su can make trouble at that time. As long as they two quarrel, we'll take the fool back. It's not up to us in the future."

When Su wanwan came in again, the old man was already asleep. Jiang Chengzhan sat on the chair beside him, holding the old man's dry hand on his forehead and holding his head down in silence.

Unable to see his expression, Su wanwan came up to him, put her hand on his shoulder and pushed, "Zhan Bao..."

Jiang Chengzhan raised his head. His eyes were red, as if he had just cried. Su wanwan felt tight in his heart and comforted him: "don't worry, grandpa is old. Let's go out and let him have a good rest."

Jiang Chengzhan shook his head and obstinately said, "no, Zhan Bao wants to accompany his grandfather."

Su wanwan's tone of discussion said: "zhanbao, let grandfather rest. If you look like this, grandfather will be sad."

Jiang Chengzhan let go of his grandfather's hand, but suddenly hugged her, head close to her chest, as if seeking comfort, did not say a word.

Su wanwan looks down at the top of his hair. The man's silent look is really sad. He just feels depressed.

She raised her hand and gently fell on Jiang Chengzhan's head and rubbed it, "zhanbao, don't be sad, Grandpa will be better."

I don't know how long it took for Jiang Chengzhan to leave her body, stand up and look at her grandfather again before he went out.

After the old man got sick, Su had to make delicious food and send it to the hospital almost every day. Jiang Chengzhan was not in a good mood after going to the hospital every time.

Xu Hongmei invited them back to their old house several times, but Su wanwan refused.

I don't know what the hell Xu Hongmei is up to. Now Jiang Chengzhan is stupid and has no chance to wake up. She doesn't want to take Jiang Chengzhan into the tiger's mouth.

Maybe it was a month after Jiang Chengzhan was affirmed by the doctor that he could not be better, and the old man's condition was stable.

One afternoon, Xu Hongmei took her niece to Su wanwan's home.

※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※※

In fact, it wasn't the old man who didn't protect Jiang Chengzhan before. It was the old man who really had no energy.

Here comes the beauty trick. Jiang Chengzhan, are you afraid?

Su wanwan pinches his waist; How dare he!