Chapter 6

Name : A Sensualist's Sin Author : Rosemead

Turn off

When Yang Yu finished running, wearing a vest, sports shorts, swinging wet hair to the aunt's home, the three sisters were stunned. Yang Yu gently threw sweat, the action was so handsome, full of man's taste.

Yunxi, the third cousin, was looking at the cousin who made her blush. Although the second cousin didn't care about it on the surface, she still took a sneak look in her eyes. Although she was pursued by many people, her male charm attracted her.

Even my aunt is about to be rejuvenated in the second spring. For this boring husband, the family suddenly has such a handsome man, and it's the man who is a teacher in the village who is more proud and happy.

"Xiaoyu, hurry to wash and drink porridge, and then go to school with three younger sisters. You happen to go to the same school, and you don't know which class you teach. If only Yunxi were your student." She said with a smile.

"Everyone teaches the same and studies so badly. Anyway, I don't expect her to get into any high school. I've thought about it. I'll come to the field to help after the high school entrance examination." My uncle has always been unable to speak well. As a farmer, how could such a beautiful little aunt marry such an uncle? Yang Yu couldn't understand.

"No! I'm going to high school. " Yun Xi pouts her mouth. She doesn't want to be like Zhang Hua next door. It's a good flowering age. She runs to the fields every day, mud all day.

Yang Yu didn't hear about it. He went to the backyard directly. When he ran just now, he suddenly found a black mark on the palm of his left hand, which can't be rubbed off. Now he just wants to go to the backyard to wash it off, but it still can't be washed off. The mark didn't exist before going to bed last night, and it will be here tonight. He only shook hands with the old woman, right?

The more Yang Yu thought about it, the more wrong he was. He thought that it was not a corpse poison. His luck was not so bad. After washing for a long time, I didn't care. I took off my vest and trousers and began to get wet.

My cousin is facing Yang Yu. Yang Yu's figure and back are fully visible. She is broad and strong. She is the type of man Yuanxi likes. Although the eldest sister is twenty-one years old, and there are countless men chasing her, but in this village, she has no one to look up to. She has been single all the time. Unexpectedly, her father wants to marry her to the stupid dog next door. She is not willing to kill her, let alone agree to give her first time to such a man. It is absolutely impossible.

If only Yang Yu were not my cousin, elder sister Yuanxi could not help feeling in her heart.

After dinner, the third cousin took her cousin to school.

On the way, Yunxi's three younger sisters didn't know how happy they were. They just said a few words and looked at each other. The love sinus immediately sprouted in their hearts and grew up crazily.

As for Yang Yu, the maturity of his cousin and the cleverness and shyness of his third sister are two extreme girls he likes. No matter who you are, Yang Yucai's cousins are the same. And the second cousin, who had seen it last night, was strong and shrewd enough, although she did not belong to the other two in appearance. In a short time, Yang Yu did not dare to offend.

"Are you going to school with your cousin after school?" Yang

Xiyun asked softly.

Yang Yu smiles and looks at her cousin. Her chest is not as big as her cousin's, her buttocks are small, her body is thin, and she looks like she is still developing.

The school is located in the middle of the valley. It has to go through half a village and climb up the mountain road to get there.

Yunxi is very smart. She doesn't take Yang Yu to the main road. She knows that the girls and young women in the village will come up to seduce her cousin. At that time, she doesn't know who she will be in. So she takes Yang Yu to the orange garden in the former mountain. Although the road is a little far away, she will never meet anyone. In this way, she will have more opportunities to get along with her cousin.

After the orange garden, the school is in front of us.

This school is really dilapidated. It's just a teaching building with only two floors. There's a building behind the teaching building. It seems that there are some people living in it. It's estimated that it's the teachers and canteen of the school. Then it's a playground. There's nothing in the playground. It's yellow mud.

The school consists of primary school and junior high school, but the total number of students in the school is less than 200, with an average of only about ten students in each class. Therefore, the two classes are mixed together. There is only one independent class in the third grade of junior high school, with only five classes in total, and the teachers are half in each class. In addition to the students in this village, there are also several villages next door. They all climb mountains to go to school.

There are fewer teachers in the countryside. There are less than ten. No one from the city will come at all. So Yang Yu is a special case, and even the school has printed the word "welcome" at the door.

Yunxi went to his class, Yang Yu went to the teachers' office, all six teachers in the school work here. Yang Yu knocked on the door, with a please come in, Yang Yu politely walked in.

"Who are you looking for?" In front of an old man with presbyopic glasses, seeing such a handsome young man, he asked. Yang Yu glanced at the office. In addition to the bad old man, there were three female teachers sitting. They all had their own characteristics.

He has short hair, crisp face and cold face. He is about the same age as Yang Yu. One is mature and feminine. He looks a little older and is a mature woman. The other is smaller than Yang Yu and looks old and strange. It gives people a very open feeling.

When Yang Yu came in, the three female teachers looked up almost at the same time. The teacher with short hair looked down, but the mature woman looked at Yang Yu. With a smile, Yang Yu went up and said, "you are the headmaster. I am Yang Yu, the new teacher of the report." "Oh, you are Yang Yu, but I'm looking forward to you. We were just discussing when you would come." All of a sudden, the old man was happy.

"Headmaster, it's whether the seminar will come or not." That Gu Ling's strange female teacher returned her mouth and took a look in front of Yang Yu: "ha ha, it's really a handsome guy. Li Ruoshui, I won. I'll take the apple."

That mature female teacher Li Ruoshui shook her head, very helpless, took out a big and red apple and threw it in the past: "plug your mouth."

But who knows, the female teacher took the apple, but handed it to Yang Yu: "for you, but you have to tell us first, have no girlfriend?"

Yang Yu's heart is full of joy. You sent it to me by yourself. Don't blame me for not being happy. But on the surface, he still pretends to be very gentle and gentlemanly: "thank you for your apple, but you still keep it for yourself." The girl hit the wall on the spot and made others laugh.

Then Yang Yu took out the teacher qualification certificate, degree certificate and the report certificate issued by the county and handed them to the president. The president looked at them and was happy: "finally, a talented student has come to our school, East China Normal University, Department of mathematics, you see, this is the highest degree of our school."

"The headmaster is flattered! I'm just a kid who just graduated. I don't know anything. I hope you can give me more guidance. " Yang Yu's basic politeness is good.

Hearing this, the short haired girl also raised her head and took a look at Yang Yu. Just then, Yang Yu also took a look. They had a pair of four eyes. Suddenly, they felt that both sides were smiling.

"Here, let me introduce you. This is Li Ruoshui, a beautiful teacher in our school." The principal said.

When Yang Yu looks at it carefully, she is still a real beauty. Her mature beauty is different from that of her cousin. She is more feminine. She is the kind that makes men fascinated. Frankly speaking, she has the flavor of fox spirit.

Then one by one, Zheng Xinyi, who was very clever and strange, was like a Post-Zero girl. She was lively and ahead of her mind. She was not afraid of anything. She often told dirty jokes in the office. She was the most open-minded female teacher, mainly teaching in primary schools.

Then it introduces Leng Xiaoxue, the queen of ice and snow. Leng Xiaoxue is cold from beginning to end. She usually doesn't fit in well with others and doesn't like to talk. She has a chill in her heart, and no one in the village dares to chase her.

In addition to these three people, there are three female teachers who have already gone to class. Yang Yu found out that except for the old man, the principal, the other six teachers are all female teachers. This makes Yang Yu happy. Isn't it a little green among the flowers.

At this time, the door was opened and a man came in. Yang Yu fixed his eyes and said in amazement, "is it you?"

The man frowned and immediately remembered. He was equally surprised and said, "it's you!"
