

She is a ceo Chapter 143

Juliana stopped crying as if she had lost her voice. She looked up at Kane, with sadness in her eyes.

“Julia?” Kane’s heart contracted and his voice trembled.

After staring at Kane for a while, Juliana finally unclenched her fist. In her palm was the pink and white pregnancy test, which showed two red lines. In Juliana’s eyes, it was a horrible thing to see.

Staring at the pregnancy test for a while, Kane finally realized what it was. With his eyes wider, he blurted out, “Julia, are you pregnant?”

Kane was as shocked as Juliana who knew the test result at noon. However, the reason why Kane was so shocked was different.

He was shocked because Juliana was pregnant with his child.

All of a sudden, all sorts of feelings surged through him.

Kane stared at the pregnancy test and didn’t know what to say.

He had never expected that Juliana would be pregnant with his child after having sex with him only once!

Seeing the shocked look on Kane’s face, Juliana thought that he was disdaining her. That was why she didn’t want to tell Kane about it. But she had no one else to turn to in Athegate. She could not let Arthur know she was pregnant. Poppy was untrustworthy. Her parents didn’t know she got raped. So, she could only ask Kane for help.

“Kane, am I a cheap woman?” Juliana choked with sobs and said hopelessly, “I’m pregnant with a bastard. I don’t even know who is the father!”

When Juliana said these words, hate overwhelmed her. She really wished she could open her belly and kill that bastard immediately!

“Julia, you...” Kane realized that Juliana had misunderstood him, but he couldn’t explain. He was shocked, but he didn’t disdain Juliana. A mixed feeling of guilt and joy was rising up inside him. It was his child!

“Stop it,” Juliana sat up straight and stopped leaning against Kane. She slammed the pregnancy test on the table and said coldly, “I want you to help me find a reliable private clinic. I wanna have an abortion!”

“You can’t!” Kane blurted out as soon as Juliana finished speaking. Juliana looked at him in confusion.

“Why can’t I?” Juliana widened her eyes. She couldn’t believe that Kane would say that.

Kane got nervous. He turned down her request subconsciously without considering Juliana was unaware. Seeing her glaring at him, he made up an excuse quickly, “It’s not good for your health. All private clinics are unreliable.”

“What should I do? Go to a large-scale hospital to have a check-up?” Juliana lost her reason and said angrily.

As a logical thinker, he began to make plans in his mind after he knew what was going on. The priority now was to keep the baby!

Kane didn’t love Juliana, though he had a soft spot for her. He was born in the countryside and had traditional family values. This was his first child, and he would try his best to protect it!

“Julia, calm down. You just got pregnant. Do not rush to have an abortion. Though you are right, your health matters more. You suffered a lot before. If you got into an accident because of an abortion, how should you explain it to your parents?”

As a lawyer, Kane knew what to say to hold Juliana up. Juliana once told him that her parents cherished her very much, so it was appropriate to mention them currently.

As expected, Juliana regained some cool after hearing Kane’s words.

Juliana, who had never dated any boy, got raped and pregnant, was at all sea for what to do.

“What should I do now?” Juliana had no choice but to trust Kane.

“If you are afraid of being found out, we can go to Luawell for a checkup. Let’s set out this afternoon,” Kane suggested at once.

Juliana frowned and asked, “What should I do after that?”

“We’ll talk about it after the checkup. You just need to find some excuses and deal with Arthur. I will take care of the rest.” Kane reassured Juliana.

Juliana thought for a while and finally nodded. She knew she got the right person for help, so she looked at Kane and said sincerely, “Thank you.”

Hearing it, Kane felt as if his heart was cut by a knife, but he had to pretend to be cool and said, “You’re welcome.”

At four o'clock in the afternoon, Arthur received a call from Juliana.

On the phone, Juliana told him she wanted to travel to Luawell where pink peach blossoms bloomed. Arthur agreed immediately and proposed to go with her. But Juliana refused his proposal. So, Arthur could only let her go alone.

After packing up her luggage, Juliana went to the train station to meet Kane. They went to Luawell together.

On the train, Juliana was staring blankly ahead. Kane felt bad. But it was hard for him to say any words of consolation with other passengers around. So he could only endure it through the trip.

As soon as they arrived in Luawell, Kane took Juliana to a five-star hotel near the harmony hospital. In a bad mood, Juliana didn't have dinner. Kane worried that she would be starving, so he asked the hotel staff to send the food to her room, but Juliana didn't want to eat it.

"Julia, you should eat something. You are not alone now." Kane was worried and showed his concerns for Juliana and her baby when he saw that Juliana didn't eat anything.

Juliana was sensitive and felt that Kane seemed concerned about the bastard in her belly. She looked up at Kane.

As the look in Juliana's eyes changed, Kane realized he said something inappropriate, then he explained, "I have made an appointment with the doctor. You can have a checkup tomorrow morning. Maybe you can have an operation after that. If you don't eat something, I'm afraid you can't withstand it. Julia, don't make me worry too much, okay?"

Juliana's eyes twinkled. She seemed to be persuaded. After hesitating for a while, she picked up the fork and grabbed a bite. Seeing that, Kane felt a bit relieved.
