

She is a ceo Chapter 179

Finally, Juliana stopped crying. She buried her head into Arthur's chest. Instead of sensing the pain that Arthur suffered, she said in a happy voice, "Arthur, thank you."

With Juliana in his arms and listening to her gratitude, Arthur did not respond. He looked up to the sky and it was spitting, and soon drizzling.

When Arthur agreed to keep the baby, Juliana acted totally differently. She pretended not to see the helplessness in his eyes, talked excitedly about how to set up the nursery on the way, and wanted to call her parents to tell them the good news.

Speaking of parents, Arthur's heart was heavier. He knew better than anyone else that Lucia was seen as his wife by the Davies family, not to mention Theodore that had been admitted as a Davies. Arthur really didn't know how to deal with it.

But when he saw Juliana smiling beside him, Arthur realized that maybe he was her last hope after she was gang-raped. If he left her at this point, what would happen to Juliana?

When Juliana returned home in the afternoon, she was busy informing her parents of the good news.

Arthur listened, only nodded and said yes like a puppet. He forced himself to be joyful.

Juliana leaned against Arthur, looking up at his bewildered expression, and when she looked down, a smug smile touched her lip. Everything was going well.

Kayla who was overjoyed contacted Sophie in the USA just after hanging up with her daughter.

"Sophie, we're finally in-laws!" Kayla said excitedly as soon as the call was answered.

“Kayla, what are you talking about?” Sophie, who was awakened by the phone call at 2 a.m., was confused.

Kayla said, “Sorry, I forgot it’s late at night in New York, but I’m so excited. I never thought Julia and Arthur would really get together like we wanted, and now they even have a baby, what a gift! ”

The word ‘baby’ sobered Sophie up and she instantly got up and awakened Edwin beside him, Edwin opened his eyes and looked at Sophie and asked in a deep voice.

“Sophie, what’s going on? Who’s calling at this late hour?”

Sophie covered the microphone, turned her head to look at her husband with mixed feelings in her eyes, and answered in a deep voice, “Kayla said Julia is pregnant ...”

“That’s a good thing ...” Edwin said as he rubbed his eyes and sat up, “When did Julia have a boyfriend?”

Sophie looked at her husband, not knowing what to say, when Kayla’s voice rang again, “Sophie, are you still there?”

“Yes, go ahead,” Sophie responded while putting the speakerphone on. It was better to let Edwin listen to it himself.

“Now that Julia has Arthur’s baby. We should work together to get their wedding done as soon as possible. Where do you think the wedding should be held? I think it’s better to ask them what they want.” Kayla was thinking about the future excitedly.

Edwin's eyes widened as he listened. When he was about to say something to Kayla on the phone, Sophie gestured for him to keep silent and said, "Let's discuss the other day. There's no rush. I'll have a talk with Arthur first."

"Great, Arthur must be overwhelmed by the excitement of being a father for the first time. When I called just now, he was so happy that he only answered yes. Let me know if anything happens. Sorry to disturb you at this late hour. Goodbye," Kayla said considerately.

"OK, we'll talk about it afterwards," Sophie responded, and hung up the phone.

As soon as she hung up the phone, Sophie met her husband's furious stare.

"What the hell did Arthur do?" Edwin was furious after he figured out the whole picture. Arthur had gotten Julia pregnant? What about Lucia? What about his adorable grandson, Teddy?

"I'm also confused now," Sophie, who knew the situation better than Edwin, said calmly, "I'll take the earliest flight back home tomorrow and ask him myself!"

On the third day, Sophie returned to Athegate, and once she arrived at the villa, she saw Juliana who was full of happiness.

"Sophie, did you hear the news?" Juliana asked with a sweet smile, and of course she knew Sophie already knew.

"Well, Julia, how are you feeling now?" Sophie asked about Juliana's health first, even though she knew things weren't that simple.

"It feels good that I'm going to be a mother," Juliana said happily as if she were to stand up and spin around.

“What about Arthur? Why isn’t he at home looking after you?” Sophie asked Juliana as she narrowed her eyes.

“There is urgent work in the company and Arthur rushed over to take care of it,” Juliana replied with a smile.

“Good, then you have a good rest. Take care of yourself. I’ll go and tell Arthur I’m back.” Sophie found an excuse and told Juliana to take a good rest before heading to the company to settle the score with Arthur. Juliana stood at the door and waved goodbye to Sophie happily while thinking in her mind, ‘Go ahead. Go talk to him. You’ll get an unexpected answer from him.’

As soon as Sophie appeared in the Branch of Davonnis building, as Arthur’s mother, she received greetings from the staff.

“Mrs. Davies?” Kyle was stunned to see Sophie appear on the top floor.

“Where’s Arthur?” The more Sophie thought, the angrier she became.

Kyle sensed that Sophie was angry and hurriedly led her towards the office. He pushed open the door, let her in and quickly excused himself to avoid being implicated.

Arthur was working on a document that needed immediate approval, and when he heard the footsteps, he thought it was Kyle and asked him in a cold voice, “Why do you come here?”

Sophie frowned, walked to his desk and slammed it, bellowing, “Arthur, what the hell have you done?”
