

She is a ceo Chapter 241

“I’ll help the reason!” Robert, who had always been very mild-tempered, now frowned tightly, which showed that he was also really angry, and he continued.

“Julia isn’t just your daughter, she’s mine too! Do you think I don’t want to protect her? But when you think about the events before and after, do you think it’s right? Julia and Arthur got together without any warning. Although they were a couple, they respected each other like guests. Julia’s child was born a full month premature, but the body is healthy and rosy. Do you think it is normal? If it were you, would you also look into something? Don’t shelter Julia just because she’s our child. Think about why he does so!”

Kayla suddenly didn’t know what to say, while Arthur was secretly praising. It turned out that Robert was the most penetrating person, and saw things clearly from the very beginning.

“I don’t want to suspect my daughter of anything, but how do you expect me to understand that an entertainment magazine distributed in Athegate can appear on our family table the next day?!” Robert continued to chide his wife.

Kayla pursed her lips and didn’t say anything. Julia indeed took the magazine to her. Her husband was right. If Julia hadn’t left the house, how could she buy that magazine?

“You think I don’t want to defend my daughter, but what do you want me to defend!” Robert’s long-suppressed emotions were all vented today.

Arthur originally asked him to come back to control Kayla’s temper, but did not expect to end up in a rage. He rushed to Robert’s side and gently reassured.

“Robert, don’t be angry. The context of things still needs to be found out. Kayla, I’m really not afraid of you saying I’m selfish, but the baby’s DNA must be tested. It’s not only for me, for Julia also.”

“What’s good for me?” Arthur had just finished his words but heard the cold whisper from the stairs, and the three people turned their heads to see Juliana descending the stairs with aplomb.

“Julia, did you hear the noise?” Kayla looked at her daughter and said. Just now Juliana was breastfeeding the baby, so she didn’t inform her immediately about Arthur’s arrival. Now she appeared and should have heard their conversation.

“Well, you guys were making so much noise that people could hear it outside the house, not to mention me.” Juliana walked down the stairs. Her words were for Kayla but she stared at Arthur.

When he saw Juliana, Robert’s anger was extinguished. In fact, he loved his daughter more than anyone else. That was why he never mentioned those things in front of her. Thinking that she might have heard all of his words just now, Robert felt very uncomfortable in his heart and felt sorry for her.

“Julia, is the baby asleep?” Seeing Juliana coming downstairs alone, Arthur asked with concern, but what he got was indeed Juliana’s sneer.

“Don’t pretend to care about the baby,” Juliana said coldly, “you don’t think of him as a son anyway.”

Arthur stared at Juliana. For the first time he had a sulking feeling for her. He came all the way all for her, but now Arthur clearly understood that Juliana simply did not take into account his feelings.

Thinking of what Lucia once said that not whoever suffered was justified, Arthur now knew it well.

“Julia, why do you talk to Arthur like that?” Robert just now still had some guilt for his daughter. Now with her attitude to talk to Arthur, he can not help but feel upset.

“If Arthur didn’t have any good will for you or the baby, why would he have waited outside the delivery room for eight hours!”

“That’s what he’s supposed to do!” Juliana stubbornly said to Robert, and the next moment she saw that Robert’s face was red, and he seemed to be very angry.

Kayla noticed her husband’s emotional surge and immediately went to his side to pull him away a bit and said to Juliana, “Julia, just don’t make your dad angry.”

“When did I make him angry? Now it’s Arthur who has a problem with me. He’s helping him instead of helping me, so I’m the one who should be angry!” Juliana said with a cold voice.

Robert heard the words and became angry instantly. He raised his hand towards Juliana and wanted to slap her, but he did not expect that Juliana was not afraid but also let her face closer to him.

“Go ahead. Just beat me! It’s best to beat me to death!”

Kayla, who had never seen Juliana and Robert quarrel with each other in such a way, was so anxious that tears came down from her eyes.

“Juliana!” just when the atmosphere was deadlocked, Arthur shouted and let them stop talking instantly.

Juliana turned her head reluctantly to Arthur, and with just one glance, her heart beat wildly.

Arthur had never looked at her with such a sullen look, and Juliana could even feel the intense disappointment and anger in his heart.

Did ... she go too far?

With fear, Juliana began to introspect irrepressibly.

“That’s enough!” Arthur said angrily and his voice was loud.

“Juliana, have you done?”

“I ...” Juliana’s voice had lost control, and after saying one word, she didn’t say anything else.

“I do not know why you want to do this,” Arthur said with disappointment “But all the way, I do everything for you, and you know it. Today I could have been straight to your parents, but I do not want to hurt you, but this is not the reason for you to be reckless and capricious!”

Juliana’s lips were tightly closed and her eyelids trembled slightly as she looked to her parents and saw the same doubt in their gaze.

Straight for what?

Kayla remembered what Sophie had reminded her of and asked Juliana in a mute voice, “Julia, what does Arthur mean by that? Are you hiding something from me and your father?”

Juliana didn’t dare to make a sound.

Arthur now saw it through. His tolerance will only let Juliana go farther and farther in the road of paranoia, so he continued to say.

“Julia, for you, I broke up with Lucia. For you, I separated from Teddy, and even after all that happened, I am never willing to suspect you of anything. Because we are like brother and sister, grew up together, I always believed that you would not lie to me, would not take advantage of me. But today I realize my tolerance for you has exceeded the boundaries too much. Although we are childhood friends, you can't manipulate or control the direction of my life!"

"Arthur, what do you mean by that ...," Juliana forced herself to make a sound and asked Arthur sheepishly.

"Today is the twenty-fifth day after you gave birth to the baby. You have recovered from childbirth enough. Tomorrow, take the baby back to Athegate with me for DNA testing. The results will speak for itself! Arthur said in a cold voice and had decided not to indulge Juliana anymore.
